Dear Sir or Madam,

I am writing to express my concern about the planned erection of a 40m ferris wheel in the heart of Camden Town.

While this installation would likely attract even more tourists to the area I am not convinced existing roads and public transport would be able to cope with this increase, given that crowd control measures are already in place on weekends at Camden Town station. Pickpockets would have a field day. The 40m structure would also deny local residents privacy by allowing those on the wheel to look into residents' windows.

Has an impact assessment on the listed buildings in the regent's canal conservation area taken place?

With very best wishes
