Dear Development Team

I am in favour of the plans to bring back to life the old buildings in Camden Lock Market. This will mean that Camden residents will be able to visit more interesting buildings from the past and this will also help families who want to show their children the history of Camden Town and the railways.

Would be a great place for young people and families to understand about the history of Camden Market.

The big wheel plans will make the Camden Market a really interesting place to visit and help people have fun as they learn about the area.

Regards

Shahin Ullah
