As a long-term resident of Camden and Camden-Islington borders I strongly object to these plans to install a wheel etc in Camden Lock. Camden lock and market has already been ruined by commercialisation. Nothing but a soulless tourist attraction, littered with greed and crassness I know how much it has been ruined already and turned into a soulless shopping mall, because me and my friends made Camden in the early 1990s. There is no community benefit to this wheel, just as there has been no community benefit to the over-commercialisation of Camden market and lock. I cannot bear to go to the area any more - an area that was so special - because it is nothing more than a crass tourist attraction cum shopping mall thanks to greed and poor development decisions
