Job Title: Health Improvement Practitioner

Job Grade: Level 3 Zone 2

Salary Range: £36,984 - £42,526

About Camden

'Camden is building somewhere everyone can thrive, by making our borough the best place to live, work, study and visit. Because, we're not just home to UK's fast-growing economy. We're home to the most important conversations happening today. And we're making radical social change a reality, so that nobody gets left behind. Here's where you can help decide a better future for us all. The Health Improvement Practitioner role supports children, young people and their families to improve their health and wellbeing through direct delivery, staff training and support to schools and early years settings.

About the team/service

The Health Improvement Practitioner role is part of Camden Learning and based in the Camden Health and Wellbeing Team which is commissioned by Public Health. The team offers a two tiered approach, comprising both universal health improvement to children and young people in Camden as well as more targeted interventions to groups considered at higher risk

About the role

The Health Improvement Practitioner role will develop, deliver and evaluate health improvement interventions with children, young people and families that aim to prevent obesity and address other Public Health priority areas such as immunisations, food poverty, smoking prevention and breastfeeding. The post holder will also work on whole setting interventions in schools and early years settings.

About you

- The successful candidate should hold either a degree in a relevant subject or have equivalent knowledge and experience working in a public health role with responsibility across Public Health priority areas such as healthy eating, physical activity.
- They will have a good understanding of public health priorities and how to evaluate, monitor and report on health interventions that show demonstrable improvements to health outcomes.
- The post holder will have a proven track record of successfully working within an early years settings, schools and the private and voluntary sector to improve health outcomes of children, young people and their families and to facilitate a whole setting approach to health and wellbeing.

Work Environment:

The main base of work is the office, though the post holder may be expected to work agilely including home working and working from other settings when required. Much of the work will take place in the community at settings such as children's centre, nurseries and schools.

People Management Responsibilities:

No line management responsibilities

Relationships:

The post holder will work closely with the Integrated Early Years' Service, LBC partners, NHS partners, community and voluntary organisations as well as Camden primary, secondary and special schools, After School Clubs, Youth settings and colleagues within Camden Learning and Camden Council.

Over to you

We're ready to welcome your ideas, your views, and your rebellious spirit. Help us redefine how we're supporting people, and we'll redefine what a career can be. If that sounds good to you, we'd love to talk
