I have only just heard from a neighbour that a license has been requested for staging and shows to be put on in St Giles square where I live for three months form next month !

My balcony and lounge and study (I work from home) are right over the area and no one has consulted me about this. There is no notice downstairs either. I can't get onto your portal so I hope you will accept this as a formal complaint about the process where we as neighbours were not consulted and most specifically I object to ANY staging or performances being held in St Giles square where I live and work. It makes the latter impossible and completely contravenes my right to the quiet enjoyment of my living area and balcony.
