Subject: Tree to be felled in garden

We have recently moved house to 16a, Savernake Road NW3 2JP. We are in the ground floor garden flat and there is a tree in the corner of the garden, leaning over at an angle towards the flat. It is much too big for a garden of this size and it appears to have rapid growth. I think it is a common ash which has seeded itself there at some point. I feel that it is necessary to have it removed as trees of that variety grow to enormous sizes. Could you please advise me about what permission I need to seek in order to have this tree removed? Thank you for your cooperation. Jean Donington (Mrs)
