Aesthetically considered, it seems to me a sympathetic design which would not have a detrimental impact on the existing terrace nor on the surrounding area. The idea of neighbours working together is an approach worth encouraging and a way to avoid the higgledy-piggledy aspect of modernisation in some areas. More importantly it is the only affordable way for an increasing number of families to stay in the area. Two schools in the immediate area have/are about to close and the loss of young families throughout Camden is changing the demography of the borough to the detriment of its schools, businesses and reputation as a vibrant residential borough.
