Dear David Fowler,

This planned redevelopment in Museum Street is more ugly and overpowering than any of the other buildings which have already been allowed to attempt the ruin of the unique charm of Bloomsbury. I cannot imagine why anyone should want to inflict this on the area's residents and visitors and I wish to register my objection. I couldn't forgive myself if I didn't do something to try and stop it; I think we owe it to the people who come after us to try and preserve the beauty in the world. This building, on this scale, in this location, would be a cause for shame.

Yours sincerely,

A.Barrett
