

An architectural line drawing of a house's exterior elevation. The house features a gabled roof with horizontal siding. A small square window is set into the roof slope. A large chimney with two pots is located on the right side of the roof. The main floor has a large multi-paned window with a central arched section. To the left of this window is a smaller six-pane window. A front door with a transom is visible on the left side of the main floor. A porch or extension is visible on the right side of the house. The drawing is a black and white line art, with a dark green ground plane at the bottom.
