Description of the Proposal

Please note in regard to:

- Fire Statements - From 1 August 2021, planning applications for buildings of over 18 metres (or 7 stories) tall containing more than one dwelling will require a 'Fire Statement' for the application to be considered valid. There are some exemptions. View government planning guidance on fire statements or access the fire statement template and guidance.
- Permission In Principle - If you are applying for Technical Details Consent on a site that has been granted Permission In Principle, please include the relevant details in the description below.
- Public Service Infrastructure - From 1 August 2021, applications for certain public service infrastructure developments will be eligible for faster determination timeframes. See help for further details or view government planning guidance on determination periods.

Description

Please describe details of the proposed development or works including details of proposals to alter, extend or demolish the listed building(s)

This summary is to accompany a Grade II* listed building planning application to install a blue heritage plaque on the Dyott Street side of Parnell House. The bicentenary plaque is to commemorate Billy Waters, a musician of national renown in the first quarter of the 19th century, whose home was on what is now Dyott Street.

According to the Historic England (list entry number 1378865) Parnell House, Streatham Street, is a Grade II* listed property, built in 1849 by Henry Roberts as a block of artisans flats. Please refer to the History & Heritage section of this application for further details.

Dyott Street (formerly Church Lane and later George Street) is part of the old St Giles Rookery, which was knocked down to make way for Parnell House and other developments. Probably the most famous person from the St Giles Rookery was the musician Billy Waters, who lived on Church Lane with his wife and two daughters.

Has the development or work already been started without consent?

Are the proposals eligible for the 'Fast Track Route' based on the affordable housing threshold and other criteria?

Yes

No

Do the proposals cover the whole existing building(s)?

Yes

No

Where proposals only affect part(s) of building(s), please provide details (e.g. 'Rear Ground Floor', 'Unit 1 - 1st-3rd Floor')

The exact location for the bicentenary plaque to Billy Waters would be the exterior wall of Parnell House, on the Dyott Street side. The West front side elevation, like the front, has 7 brick columns each with seven brick panels between the ground floor and first floor windows, There are 6 window Bays on each floor, and the plaque will be placed on either

- 1) The fourth brick column between 3rd and fourth ground floor windows

The height of the plaque from ground level will be approximately 292 cm, and not only will be aesthetically pleasing to the eye, it will also be able to be clearly read while being out of touching distance from the general public.

The plaque will be attached to the wall by two 7cm screws on the back of the plaque (see diagrams included). Two small holes will be drilled into the mortar area of the brick work of the exterior wall. An adhesive will be inserted into the holes to keep the screws permanently in place. This is how the plaque will be affixed guaranteeing no part of the original brickwork will be affected. Images of the plaque including dimensions have been incorporated in this application.

Existing materials and finishes:

Parnell House is a 5 storey apartment block situated in central London, a stone's throw away from New Oxford Street. The façade of the property can be seen from both Dyott Street to its west side elevation, and Streatham Street which has the entrance to the south side of the building. The entrance is designed as a stucco doorway surround with architrave, console-bracketed cornice and pediment. The property exterior is decorated with reddish brown brickwork with magnolia stock and rusticated stucco on the outside of the first and second floors and stucco dressings. Throughout the building there is fireproof construction of brick load-bearing walls and arched hollow-brick floors. Looking at the property's exterior walls from either Streatham Street or Dyott Street, each side elevation has six bays with 5 windows each floor from the ground level up. The (ten) windows on the ground floor and first floor are square-headed recessed sash windows, with stucco lintels in form of gauged flat arches. They are also designed with stucco recesses. The windows on the 2nd 3rd and 4th floors are framed by bracketed brick cornice and there are end Stucco sill bands. Both exterior walls have thirty windows i.e. six on each floor/storey from ground level to the top floor.

Proposed materials and finishes:

The plaque is made of aluminium and will be painted blue with white lettering. As explained, it will be affixed to the exterior wall of Parnell House (Dyott Street side) by two screws at the back of the plaque which be drilled into the cement between the reddish brown brickwork. The two small holes in the cement/mortar to hold the plaque in place will be change made to the existing property.
