I support Lost River Westbourne walking trail, through a series of cast bronze glyphs and wooden bollards with QR codes linking to further information on the Redington Frogna Association website.

To raise awareness and learn about what's under foot whilst walking and quenching a thirst by taking a gulp of water from a bottle, we're thinking about the surroundings, Running through future climate change developments, guided by stories of what's underneath the City; What a fabulous experience for strollers gaining a greater sense of their favourite place. Imagining the thoughts of the complete whole geographical area as a picture that so inspired our greatest English artists to paint and paint, and paint. All-in-all, casting a wonderful experience for foot-travellers.
