Hello

I live at 1A Mornington Place NW1 7RP, opposite this property, and am concerned that the addition to the first floor may block light from my front rooms [on ground and basement floors]. When I purchased my property, which is also ground floor only, I was told that this would never be allowed to be changed on either my property or on 13A.

Would this affect the planning decision. Is it possible to see drawings of how this addition would affect the light?

Grateful for your comments.
