2023/5103/P	Susan Smith	29/01/2024 17:56:22	SUPNOT	I look forward to this project going ahead. I feel the positives vastly outweigh any short term inconveniences of the works that need to take place. To bring a part of history back to life where we can all be a part of is something to be supported. All ages can benefit, children to learn in an interesting way, adults both local &amp; tourists will enjoy exploring the tunnels &amp; will be spend time socially there as well. Very importantly the whole area has suffered since covid with so many premises closed down The area needs help with revitalisation &amp; I feel this project can only enhance the area financially &amp; visually

2023/5103/P	Andrew Jones	29/01/2024 14:19:27	SUPPRT	I welcome the proposed development of these existing historic tunnels into a world class attraction that will bring great interest and benefit to London and this specifically.
2023/5103/P	Phil Nash	29/01/2024 14:06:10	NOBJ	I think this estimated £140 million into restoring the Tunnels, to preserve the part they played in history and give them a renewed sense of public purpose as an open-to-all experience is an amazing thing to do and will provide a new lens on some of the important history of the country. I understand that this would also reinstate the deepest licensed bar in London, as an existing feature of the Tunnels dating back to the 1980s which would be an attraction in and of itself. On top of this the economic benefits to an area still rebuilding from the pandemic would be huge.
