420mm Height

 \bigcirc

This fountain was erected in c. 1870 by the Whiting sisters in memory of their mother Mrs Francis Whiting, of nearby Mecklenburgh Square. It was designed by the architect Henry Darbishire. The marble statue depicts the biblical figure of the Woman of Samaria. \bigcirc

 (\mathcal{N})

The fountain was restored in 2024 by Heritage of London Trust with the support of The Jones Day Foundation, Mr Roger Cline and WC Bars.

350mm Width

HERITAGE of LONDON TRUST	Heritage of London Trust	Proposed etched stainless steel plaque
	Guilford Place Drinking Fountain	Drawn by: CC July 2024