Information about the existing use(s)
Please explain why you consider the existing or last use of the land is lawful, or why you consider that any existing buildings, which it is proposed to alter or extend are lawful
As set out at Section 55(1) of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990, planning permission is only required for proposals which constitute "development", which includes operational development and making a material change of the use of land. The proposed amalgamation of two units is a non-operational development. The proposed amalgamation is therefore not a material change of use and should be considered lawful, as it does not constitute development.
