2024/4815/P	Jeremy austin	29/11/2024 12:01:15	OBJ	The Magdala reopening has undoubtedly been a success, enhancing the area for locals and the experience of visiting Hampstead and the heath from outside the area. Although it has once again become a much-loved community asset, the lack of a function room means the area is very much lacking a place of a decent size to have many of the community and private events that were so popular at the time. My children both enjoyed community events there and still retain the friendships they made with other children in the community. This development was not agreed in the first instance and should not be given permission now. It is depriving our area of a much-needed space.
