The road used to have bollards in front for many years and now the pavement is dangerous for cars crossing over. I know before parking was not allowed in this area and now sometimes car passes over and blocks the pavement since about two years. It is illegal to cross over raised kerb and this kerb is not lowered to be used for cars all the time I live here. I never seen before people use this as parking until last three years and then problems with walking there start and pavement is always cracked.
