Good evening,

My colleague and I attended last night after we were contacted by our CID department. They had received an enquiry on behalf of another force requesting assistance with an allegation of sexual assault against a female. The incident did not take place in your venue, however it is common practice to obtain as much CCTV as possible with allegations like this.

We were made aware that The Flask does not have CCTV in the pub. Whilst it is not conditioned, in today's climate we would like to see CCTV installed. There is an initiative in Camden that focuses on violence against women and girls, we were wondering if you would be open to installing CCTV in the venue and possibly offering up some conditions around its use.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Kind regards,
