Explanatory Note Pursuant to Regulation 5 of the Town and Country
(Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (England) Regulations 2002

An appeal may be brought on any of the following grounds—

- (a) that, in respect of any breach of planning control which may be constituted by the matters stated in the notice, planning permission ought to be granted or, as the case may be, the condition or limitation concerned ought to be discharged;
- (b) that those matters have not occurred;
- (c) that those matters (if they occurred) do not constitute a breach of planning control;
- (d) that, at the date when the notice was issued, no enforcement action could be taken in respect of any breach of planning control which may be constituted by those matters;
- (e) that copies of the enforcement notice were not served as required by section 172;
- (f) that the steps required by the notice to be taken, or the activities required by the notice to cease, exceed what is necessary to remedy any breach of planning control

Not all these grounds may be relevant to you.

There are restrictions on whether you can make your appeal on ground (a) if you have also made a related retrospective planning application.

Where an enforcement notice was issued before 25 April 2024, no appeal under Ground (a) may be made if the enforcement notice was issued within the time allowed for determination of the retrospective planning application.

Where an enforcement notice is issued on or after 25 April 2024, no appeal under Ground (a) may be made within two years of the date on which the related application ceased to be under consideration.

If you appeal against the notice on Ground (a) "That planning permission should be granted for what is alleged in the enforcement notice, or that the condition which is alleged not to have been complied with should be discharged" there is a fee payable under Regulation 10 of the Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications, Deemed Applications, Requests and Site Visits) (England) Regulations 2012/No.2920 for the deemed application for the planning permission for the development alleged to be in breach of planning control in the enforcement notice.

The fee is payable twice to the "London Borough of Camden", as the Local Planning Authority.

It is the Council's understanding that you are unable to appeal under Ground (a) and therefore there is no fee payable. However, if you disagree with this assessment and if you wish to appeal under Ground (a), the fee payable to the "London Borough of Camden" should be submitted at the same time as the appeal form is submitted.
