Dear Camden Planners,

Young children find sandpits an inspiration for their early years learning about our planet and its environment. At a time when children are increasingly left with little or no understanding beyond virtual worlds accessed on digital devices, it would seem wrong to turn the Cantelowes Park sand pit into a padder tennis court. It would also seriously damage the aesthetic appeal of the park.

I therefore object to this planning application. Please find another space for the tennis courts. At the same time, for health and safety reasons you need to extend the fencing around the playground to the sandpit area as well.

Yours faithfully,

Dr Alan Nicol
