

Specification:

Group of Beech

To reduction to previous most recent reduction points.

To thin the crown structure by 30%

All works for general maintenance and to improve light filtration and to keep the trees at a relative size for the urban location

