Dear Jessica,

The Bloomsbury CAAC objects to the application for a new lighting system at 19 Bedford Square. Although I understand this is to be an exhibition space, it remains a Grade I listed building and the lighting proposals are extremely invasive and inappropriate for a building of such high significance. Indeed some of the visualisations show the lighting to become essentially the dominant feature in the room. There is no public benefit to justify the harm caused.

We therefore object to this application.
