

RECIPIENT_NAME	ACTUAL_RIFULL_RESPONSE_TEXT
steve lee	14-MAR-13 the fox is an important building for many, losing it would impact a lot of people's lives.
Alexander Ord	12-MAR-13 I oppose this application for the redevelopment of The Intrepid Fox site.
Miss Katrina Pereyra	12-MAR-13 I oppose the plan
Miss Rachel Ceney	12-MAR-13 OBJECTION OBJECTION OBJECTION !!! Stop pulling down our best metal bars in London, it's the only place me and my partner go when we do visit London. Why let history repeat on its self again for this pub, it's not fair on the staff and owner too !
clare hindhaugh	12-MAR-13 Why are we moving the Intrepid Fox again. it was put here in the first place because of redevelopment.
Miss Beth Charley	12-MAR-13 Keep the Intrepid Fox! It is a brilliant pub and much needed social hang out for an underrepresented social group in London.
Mr Ross King	12-MAR-13 I oppose
Mr D Palmer	12-MAR-13 The Intrepid Fox is a landmark destination that attracts people from far and wide into the area; to lose this would be highly detrimental.
Miss Michelle Stannard	12-MAR-13 I love the Intrepid Fox pub, it's the only one of its kind in London. Don't take the heart of rock and metal away from London! We need somewhere to go to and this pub needs to stay! Build your houses elsewhere!!!
Mr James a Feeley Bishops	12-MAR-13 I often commute to London with friends just to see a band at this pub. It is a beacon amongst the community you have neglected for so long!
Mr Mark Parrott	12-MAR-13 The Intrepid Fox is a unique establishment and its brand has a long running history within the rock music scene. Not only is it the heart of a strong and large community but also attracts countless tourists year after year. It adds character and colour to the area, which the area has lost so much of since the cross rail development began.
Miss Laura H R Durrant	12-MAR-13 please don't destroy one of my favourite pubs in the whole of London! to accommodate for more people we don't have room for! its ridiculous
Mr Alan Duval	12-MAR-13 The Intrepid Fox is a London landmark.
Mr Martyn Trigg	12-MAR-13 Save the Fox
Mr Karl W Van-Den-Bergh	12-MAR-13 The intrepid fox is a well known and popular establishment, a great place to socialise and one of the best venues in London, taking it away would be detrimental to the area as a whole.
giada zammiti	13-MAR-13 this pub is a part of history of London, don't turn it into houses
Richard J Harris	13-MAR-13 I object to the proposed closure of The Intrepid Fox in order to build housing on its site.
Mr Nathan NJ Marzan	13-MAR-13 The Intrepid Fox is an iconic establishment that provides a much needed focal point for the alternative community it serves.
Ms Maria Davies	13-MAR-13 Save the Intrepid fox!
	13-MAR-13 No to the loss of the bar- Intrepid Fox.

Mr Duncan J Popham	13-MAR-13	The intrepid fox provides an invaluable cultural venue giving character to an otherwise bland area of london Almost every city and town across the country is under the process of loosing every last remaining peice of character it has. I know this building well, and the surrounding area having gone to university just around the corner and lived in London for 12 years. I still regularly visit this pub on trips to visit friends - it will be very sad to see it go, it is a hub of alternative culture in the area and the building itself is one of the few interesting features left as one moves out of the bloomsbury area and towards the never ending stream of commercial chain stores along oxford street.
Mr Jonathan Whyte	13-MAR-13	I strongly object to this.
Miss N Fanaken	13-MAR-13	I object to redevelopment of Intrepid fox site
Ms Clare P MacMullan	13-MAR-13	Shouldn't be closing something that is near and dear to the local community.
Mr Adrian Oteng-Owusu	13-MAR-13	OBJECTION
Mr Alexandre Fourmy	13-MAR-13	This is too much of a cultural bedrock for people to have it replaced with housing.
Lexi Wolfe	14-MAR-13	leave the bloody pub alone.
luke boucher	14-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a vital part of Camden's music history, it would be destroying our culture if it was demolished
Mr Rhys Stevenson	14-MAR-13
Mr Mudassar Baig	12-MAR-13	London has already lost many of it's points of subculture, particularly in this area... The Fly, Club Sin, The Astoria and The Mean Fiddler. Losing the Intrepid Fox is just one step too far
Mr Peter Trebelev	12-MAR-13	Leave the Fox alone! This is a travesty. I am opposed to demolishing this brilliant pub and icon of London. I'm bitterly disappointed that this is even being proposed.
Miss Louise Brader	12-MAR-13	This area is a cultural hub. It would be a shame to loose it!
Arabella Rodrigo	12-MAR-13
Mr Will F Attard	12-MAR-13	This would be a heavy blow for so much London counter-culture Objecting to the intrepid fox site being demolished to make housing estate.
Mr Richard Cook	12-MAR-13	I object to the development of one of London's landmark and now increasingly rare alternative licensed venues.
Charlotte Brennan	12-MAR-13	No more flats! Soho is turning into a neighbourhood of flats and boring eateries. SAVE THE INTREPID FOX. More cool Bars in Soho and the surrounding areas.
Ms Susan C Diamond	12-MAR-13	Stop closing down london's music history and heritage !!
Miss Rachel E Parsons More	12-MAR-13	Do you plan to bulldoze every independent club/venue in Camden? We don't need more shops or boutiques, we want a place to party!
Ms Mika Armfield	12-MAR-13	As a former resident and regular traveller to London, I would like to make an OBJECTION to these plan as I consider THE INTREPID FOX an essential landmark of London for tourist and locals.
Mr Daniel Garcia	12-MAR-13

Mr Tom Stevenson	12-MAR-13	The Fox is an institution and will prove next to impossible to replace. Housing developments are fine, but it's unnecessary to sacrifice some of London's most distinctive sites for them. This building is central to a huge country wide community. It is one of a dying breed of truly iconic Bars within London. It encourages a certain type of tourist to visit London, Centre Point and Soho it's self. I imagine it employs a great number of bar staff that would struggle to find employment in other bars where their appearance would be a problem to closed minded employers. In short, The Intrepid Fox is a cultural, social and business necessity within the alternative community and should not be destroyed.
Mr Robert P Cathcart	12-MAR-13	Thank you for your time.
Miss Stefanie J Curran	12-MAR-13	Strongly object. The Intrepid Fox is a highlight of one of my trips to London.
Miss Natalie Jackson	12-MAR-13	It's already outrageous that we've lost the Astoria, pulling down the intrepid would mean destroying more of London's diverse culture. This is the only rock/alternative venue in central London and it needs to stay!! There is enough history in the area, there is no need to build ghastly buildings over what we already have. A historic venue has already been demolished, no more.
Miss Temuri M Stuart	12-MAR-13	Save the Fox!
Mr Scott Elliott	12-MAR-13	It's a bad idea. I like that bar.
Ms Cheryl Brown	12-MAR-13	It's part of the cultural makeup of the area.
Mr Nico Nel	12-MAR-13	Camden has lost too much already. Please don't take the Fox away as well.
Mr Kris KA Adams	12-MAR-13	OBJECTING TO NEW DEVELOPMENT OF HOUSES, MUST STAY A VIBRANT MUSIC BUSINESS
Ms Leilani Mason	12-MAR-13	Objection to redevelopment of Intrepid fox site.
Mr Francois Maillot	14-MAR-13	Please do not develop so the Intrepid Fox can stay open. I used to live in London and often visit. My friends are regulars there.
Mr al duncan	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is part of the soul of Tottenham Ct Rd. It makes no sense destroying it!
Miss Vicki Thompson	12-MAR-13	The loss of the Intrepid Fox would be a disaster for Music. It would be a dear shame, and a severe blow to the London rock scene to lose this venue. Several existing venues have vanished to be "redeveloped" into yet another coffee shop chain, or block of flats. As such, the city is losing its cultural identity, and its great rock heritage. I therefore strongly object to these redevelopment plans and would like to voice my concerns on the matter.

		Despite the great plans being bandied around about turning the area into a centre of Music and The Arts, it seems upsetting and greedy of the developers that demolishing one of the main institutions of the area (The Intrepid Fox Public House) and building flats in its place is part of their great plan. I would like to know exactly how 8 newbuild flats in this prime West End location, in keeping with the other plans for the area, could ever be described as "affordable housing", and how long before some kind of deal is done to rake more money from the building? We have already lost the Astoria, the LA2 and Metros to Crossrail, and there may be other venues or well known establishments under threat. I would like to know how they can justify closure/demolition of venues and bars that made the area what it is - the music hub of Central London - to somehow "improve" the area when it was these very places that made it what it is, and/or carried on the legacy. Then replace it with shiny new buildings with no character, soul or history to maintain a false image of what they are selling these pl
Mr Peter Davis	10-MAR-13
		I strongly object to the redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox site. It is a landmark of London. It provides a unique pub experience for a large section of the community who enjoy rock music and culture. It is easy to see the strong attachment people have to this public house, since people went to the trouble of relocating it to the present site after it was first ousted from its original location. This does not happen to ordinary pubs. This one is special and needs to be preserved.
Mr Alex Young	12-MAR-13	I have no objection to the offices being converted to housing and feel they would benefit from the Intrepid Fox being preserved.
Miss Kirsty Ellinor	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is an important and wonderful drinking establishment where I have had many good nights. It's hard to find such a lovely joint with such great music in central London. To destroy it would be inhumane.
Miss Anisa Malik	12-MAR-13	The music scene at the moment needs its venues so us music lovers can enjoy new bands and the artists can promote their music, it's the only way to keep the music scene alive for the moment!
Miss Sarah Wicks	12-MAR-13	I object to the development of the area around Centre Point to be turned into residential housing
Mr Rob RR Raymond	12-MAR-13	Disgrace
Mr Graham Wales	12-MAR-13	Don't bring down this bar!!! One of the very best places in London for metal, rock, etc.

Please do this. Please knock down the Intrepid Fox. Please put another nail in the coffin of British History. Please destroy another component of that 'thing' that makes us British, gives us the right to hold the 'Music Center of the World' title and proves our individuality and diversity. Please take away anything, any place, any idea, any institution that does not allude to the pursuit of financial gain no matter the cost.

Am I appearing to be idealistic?

Of course I am! With out that we just become concrete people trudging between our concrete jobs and our concrete homes (sparkling though that concrete might be) living our concrete lives with no hope or joy or happiness.

Mr James Bowyer	23-MAR-13	Please do not take this away from us. Please listen to Patrick Begent. Don't dismiss his and our hopes to the Developers' quest for more and more money. There is always another way! Dont get rid of the intrepid fox!! we dont need more offices in London! if you continue to get rid of what makes London
Miss kirsty brown	12-MAR-13	unique,London will just become another faceless city! You can keep the fox by not developing the lower floors of Centre Point House for residential especially as, during the current climate, commercial properties are unused all over London. You just have to look through buisness premises for sale adds to see that. If people need commercial property, it seems a much better idea to refurbish existing premises and therefore regenerating areas rather than creating new potential
Philip Smith	12-MAR-13	social wastelands. This development will destroy a valuable cultural site, one of the key venues that showcase and support the unique and diverse demographics that makes London a unique city.
Mr Robert Jones	12-MAR-13	The venue has a global reputation and is one of the last remaining venues of this type in central London The Intrepid Fox is a treasured hang out for music lovers! It's a fantastic place for people to meet others who are like minded in their music interests! Why yet again does the government want to piss off society by introducing even more housing which isn't going to be affordable for your average working class citizen
Miss Jennifer Ireland	12-MAR-13	anyway! I cannot fathom it!

I've been informed to "A possible Rumour" that the Intrepid Fox is going to be demolished? I would like to make a point that "In my opinion" this would be a tragic loss as the Intrepid Fox has been around (okay not on its current site) for many a year, it's not JUST for metal and goth fans but you will find an abundance of different cultures who visit, even office people in their later ages, okay the only strange rule is no ties allowed, that's great as it helps everyone to be on the same level and everyone talks to everyone else, it was already closed down from the previous location, and in my opinion it is at home where it is,

I can only ask you not to dispose of it but to help it keep its history

Mr Stu Appleton Zulu Piercir 12-MAR-13

Although I am against the proposed closure and demolition of The Intrepid Fox, if a suitable new venue is found by the acquiring company within a short distance from its current location then I believe many people's objections would be softened or 'withdrawn'.

The issue is, that if no suitable new venue is found and there is no view to relocated The Fox (the second time this has happened) then this will not sit well with the rock and metal community that have been going to the pub, at both locations, for many, many years.

Mr Jay Binstead
Elizabeth Cook

12-MAR-13

12-MAR-13

No! We do not want this! Intrepid Fox must stay!!!

Destruction of yet another vital premises in the TCR area. An always thriving and well run bar that hosts guests from around the world under common interest. It would be utterly shameful to see this proceed.

Mr Joseph Booth

12-MAR-13

This is a fantastic, world famous, community pub which adds character to the area. Losing this pub will take away part of the identity of Denmark Street as a music hub in London and will move it one step closer to a generic high street which dismisses any attempt by local businesses to make a living! we already have enough chain businesses in Oxford Street and the surrounding areas! It would be another blow after losing The Astoria, one of London's best music venues!

Please don't destroy another part of London's music heritage.

Mr Jamie Sprunt

12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox is more than just a pub for some. I've attended a church there and it has helped me and people I know personally in giving us a community.

Mr Sadiki McLeod-Bakker

12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox has long been a focal point for the alternative community within London. Indeed, it has attracted international visitors. The availability of a live music scene is an important cultural and financial asset to any town.

The Intrepid Fox can pull in an audience from miles around. But it isn't just this venue that benefits.

Local restaurants, bars and shops will all profit from a greater number of people visiting the area - people who might not have gone otherwise.

Mr Adam LV Collett
Mrs Michele Brindicci
michaela fuller

12-MAR-13

12-MAR-13

12-MAR-13

FUCK OFF THAT'S NOT RIGHT

just stop it

Awful idea to get rid of an establishment so intrinsically connected to the London culture scene. This just highlights why they gave it to Liverpool last time...

Mr Thomas Johnson
Miss Amy Walker

12-MAR-13

12-MAR-13

I object to this application

This is the second time the Intrepid Fox will have had to close just so it won't look out of place with other building developments. The Astoria had to close in this area, and now

Miss Catherine Cooke
Miss Miss A Davis

12-MAR-13

12-MAR-13

this. Not good enough. It shouldn't have to close.

Don't redevelop the Intrepid Fox!

The Intrepid Fox is a hub for alternative London culture, and by destroying it the council will be showing true disregard for diversity of culture, and shouting about its real interest in making as much money as possible. In the last decade, London had lost almost all of its Rock/Alternative heritage, with numerous venues being forced to close or relocate. Most rock clubs are now sadly, a distant memory. And London is clearly becoming a sanitised, big business-low culture area geared towards tourists, while neglecting locals. Granting planning permission for the Fox to be destroyed will be the final nail in the coffin, and a travesty for the London rock and metal scene. I am writting ot comment on the redevelopment of this site.

Ms Karen Williams

12-MAR-13

The demolition of the Intrepid Fox bar should not be allowed. It is about all that is left in the Tottenham Court Road area that hasn't been demolished for Cross Rail and after the loss of the Astoria, is probably the only World famous rock venue left in Central London.

The demolition of Fox would be a great loss to the whole of London, if not the country as it is a tourist destination as well as a much loved bar for regulars such as myself

Mr vishal vashisht
Mrs Alessandra Cornwall

11-MAR-13

12-MAR-13

Iconic venue in London, it would be a shame to see gone!!

There is no other place like this! Where will the loyal customers go? It's been here for ages and houses instead would just be ridiculous. The Intrepid Fox is fun and different and brings some individuality to the area.

Miss Yazzmin Newell

12-MAR-13

		A much loved and well frequented bar shouldn't be lost to a greedy developers lust for more cash. London is becoming a sterile, indenti-kit city with nothing to tell one town from another...have you heard that London was once a thriving, trend setting city? If we continue to keep closing down places like the Fox London will become just another retail dump.
Mr Steve Gray	12-MAR-13	the only rock bar i london i visit when i`m in london so they can`t
Mr mats ms stromlid	12-MAR-13	close my bar. we rockers need this place
Mr Matt Denny	12-MAR-13	OBJECTION As a Camden resident, I am opposed to the planned redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox. This was one of the few premises in the area not to be affected by the cross-rail redevelopment, many others of which have since been demolished. At the time that crossrail got the go-ahead, it was expected that at least some of the musically and historically significant premises in the area would survive, with the Intrepid Fox being one of them. However, this recent proposal undermines the previously stated intention to retain at least
Mr Siôn D Philpott-Morgan	12-MAR-13	some such premises.
R Voorn	12-MAR-13	Don't close this as well!!!
		I object to the Intrepid Fox being closed down to be redeveloped for housing as I am a regular user. It is bad enough for pubs closing down because they cannot afford to survive without being redeveloped. This isn't just a run of the mill pub, both the building and the people that go there have character.
Ms Janet Brown	19-MAR-13	If the country stopped letting more and more people into this already overcrowded country and deported all the illegal immigrants, then you wouldn't have to build so many houses and flats.
Miss Justine Marzack	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a central point of London's alternative and underground life. Intrepid Fox is the best bar in London; an important centre for a whole community. We do not need more apartments for the rich, or coffee shops.
Miss Elaine Taylor	12-MAR-13	I object profusely to this planning application. The area is too built up as it is. The pub on the site is popular with an international clientele of famous rock stars. To destroy it
Mr Malachi MD Whippy	12-MAR-13	would damage the area. A longstanding favourite place to meet and relax - one of very few like it in the London area.
Ms Lara Jolley	12-MAR-13	It should stay! A longstanding favourite place to meet and relax - one of very few like it in the London area.
Ms Lara Jolley	12-MAR-13	It should stay! The Intrepid Fox is an institution which has been a focal point for music culture for decades. It must not be forced to close like
tim Whitcher	12-MAR-13	so many other similar venues.

Mr Wesley M Dean	12-MAR-13	The location as is currently brings much more to the area than an equivalent area of flats and conventional restaurants would. To change this area, you'd be losing The Intrepid Fox, the highlight and liberation of its area, alongside the musical themed area by Denmark Street. This is the only bar in London I love and feel accepted as an Alternative individual. It has become a tourist attraction to all who dress gothic/metal and deserves to be preserved. It has earned it's fame for its unique atmosphere and diversity, so I don't want to see it go. I have spent years there, have fond memories there and most importantly, I have always met great like minded people there, including the staff. Keep it and keep the culture who treasure this place, and continue to bring those around the world a great place to enjoy something different to the horrible, generic pubs that are
Ms Kitty Manniquinette	GW 12-MAR-13	infested on every street!
Mrs j todhunter	12-MAR-13	Please do not close this pub. I object!!! Please do not tear down this great pub. It would be a crying shame and would be well missed!
Miss Toni A Sulland	12-MAR-13	This building provides an excellent social and community meeting environment that would be detrimental to the area to loose
Kerim KUMAN	12-MAR-13	OBJECTION Camden was saved from development because people didn't want it
Mr john k habbershaw	12-MAR-13	The The Intrepid Fox pub is iconic and worldwide famous. To demolish it would be cruel, ignorant and unfair.
Miss Indre Kazakeviciute	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is an important piece of London
sheena muir	12-MAR-13	The intrepid is a landmark for the area and really needs to be preserved.. Knock down a Starbucks or something faceless and
Mr Gavin J Townsend	12-MAR-13	soulless instead.
Mr Peter Nickson	12-MAR-13	Don't move Intrepid. We have too many restaurants and shops around that area - why do we need more?
F Hill	12-MAR-13	Strongly object to demolishing the Intrepid Fox, such an iconic pub
Miss Nicola Packer	12-MAR-13	I do not wish to see this pub destroyed, it is one of only a few left for alternative people to go and enjoy themselves.
Mr Ross Knight	12-MAR-13	I strongly object to the proposed demolishment of the intrepid fox. The Intrepid fox has been a long standing environment where a particular culture can get together and celebrate not being the "Norm". Tearing this down to no doubt, be replaced by a faceless chain of boring restaurants, void of personality, would be an actual tragedy. With the loss of the Astoria years back it would be a shame to see another, well run, much loved venue dissapear and leave the fantastic people who regularly visit without a decent place to drink and hang out. Don't do it,
Mr Oliver Smith	12-MAR-13	Save the Fox
Miss Ann Larkman	12-MAR-13	Massive objection!

		An excellent alternative venue and a tourist hotspot, this bar has an international following. Don't destroy another landmark please.
Mr Dominic Cahillane	12-MAR-13
Dr Anna Clark KCL	12-MAR-13	Object to the re-development Please don't diminish the central london alternative scene further. i have never seen this venue less than half full, even on a weekday evening! It is a great site for tourists, too, who love this side of London culture. thanks!
Miss Bonnie Baker	12-MAR-13	I object to these development plans and wish the Intrepid Fox site to remain as is.
Dr Mike J Licudi	12-MAR-13	The fox is classic, memories for thousands over the years!
Mr lance b scorpio retail	12-MAR-13	Leave it be The Intrepid Fox is a truly unique site, it would be a terrible shame if there were no way to work around the building with the new plans.
Mr Jonathan Kewell	12-MAR-13	I Strongly object to this proposal!
Ms Bonita Nichols	12-MAR-13	I object most strongly to the redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox site.  This venue is iconic and has an individual character which should be preserved for the greater good of the area for the benefit of Londoners and tourists alike.
Mrs Jayne Davies	12-MAR-13	Important cultural landmark and meeting place in London's capital. Encourages diversity and choice in this great city.
Mr ben allen	12-MAR-13	This is a historical music pub which has already been moved once.  It's part of Soho and it's history and it would be sacrilegious to let yet another venue be destroyed for housing or crossrail.
amy little	12-MAR-13
Mr MICHAEL mmg MCGONI	12-MAR-13	theres enough houses in the world. stop people having so many babies and well be fine!!
Mr James Shanks	12-MAR-13	This is merely a profit driven decision, housing right next to the new tottenham court road station with cross rail is simple profiteering and would not enhance the area at all.
Miss Ellen Power	12-MAR-13	The intrepid Fox creates a community for like minded individuals and is an attraction to the borough.
Mr Robert Baker	12-MAR-13	The area has had enough change recently with the demise of the Astoria and Mean Fiddler.
Jamie JBS Smart	12-MAR-13	dont close the fox/denmark street. Local favourite. The intrepid fox has been and hopefully will continue to be the only place left in central London i can go and have a drink without feeling like i'm being accused of something.
Mr Barney N Rolls	12-MAR-13

Mr Thomas Holmes	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a renowned bar for all hard rock and heavy metal fans. It is a bar known for its polite staff and great atmosphere. Many fans and bands from all around the world often consider it a pilgrimage to travel to this bar in order to gain that experience. For this bar to be torn down would be a travesty. The Intrepid Fox has been moved around Central London a few times. There's a history behind the name and it's the only rock/metal pub/club left in Central London, pulling all sorts of crowds day after day for a beer after work, for a free gig or simply to chat and listen to music.
Carl Casagrande Mrs Joanne Raw	12-MAR-13 12-MAR-13	It's ridiculous this proposal and I OBJECT to it. You must not demolish The Intrepid Fox !!! This would destroy a local community who meet and socialise at a subcultural bar and music venue! Don't sanitise the last remaining true area of the West End! If this was a church or mosque there would be no way it would be considered - the Intrepid Fox is the musical equivalent to a church!! It was uprooted and moved from Wardour street a few years back,
Mr Stu New Miss Caroline Gomes	12-MAR-13 12-MAR-13	please don't let it happen again!! OBJECTION!!!!
Mr Carl Guyenette	12-MAR-13	No. Just stop it. The Astoria is gone, don't let The Intrepid Fox go too. These are important cultural centre points; more than you would believe. Spend some time there, you'll see what I mean. I object to the demolishing of The Intrepid Fox. The Intrepid Fox is by far the best bar in London. It is iconic, superbly located and always brimming with people. It's where every pub crawl and bar night ends, and where I always bring visitors to the city. Seeing it go would be a great shame, and would not instil me with goodwill regarding the company
Ms Angela Branaes	12-MAR-13	proposing this change. This venue helped my band out so much, would be a massive loss if you got rid of it. A metal bar in the centre of London is
Mr Gordon GD Duncan Mr Ross RA Altringham	12-MAR-13 12-MAR-13	amazing, don't get rid of it. The Intrepid Fox is a fine establishment. The first bar my friends in London took me to was the Intrepid Fox. The music was great, the ambiance awesome and I just loved it. Over the years I have met many people who have visited London and went to the IF. I have lived in London many times and return to the IF each time. It would be such a shame to change it. You can build houses anywhere - leave this bar alone. There are too many people who love it and it's now a part of our history. I am writing from Las Vegas, USA. I am Australian, but also a British Citizen. I will continue to spread the word to stop these plans.
Chelise Simmons	12-MAR-13	Thank for reading.

		Surely the focus of two major Olympic ceremonies being British Music Culture has proved that our iconic venues are a part of a
Ms H Hugges	12-MAR-13	tourist package vital to London's prosperity.
Mrs Harriet Fry	12-MAR-13	No, this pub is great and well enjoyed by many!
Mr thomas p thorne	12-MAR-13	we need good music venues not housing you've already destroyed the area enough with your crossrail project. this has got to stop. You are seriously destroying a once thriving alternative scene. Demolishing legendary venues like The Astoria, The Black Gardenia, The LA2, Sin and more you have essentially destroyed a community in its entirety. The Intrepid Fox, along with the 12 Bar and the Crobar are the last stands in an area of London that was one of the main epicentres for the rock and alternative scene. Take this away too? It will be the last nail in the coffin for the culture and business of Soho and surrounding.
Miss Nicola M Wyatt The Alt	12-MAR-13
Annie Bezuidenhout	12-MAR-13	OBJECT to this development I object to you knocking down the interpid fox a local for metalheads in london
Mr ben Gillie	12-MAR-13	Objection to the demolition of intrepid fox
nikki nf barr	18-MAR-13	no way. i love visiting Camden and the intrepid fox is a great place full of wonderful people, there's plenty of places affordable housing can be offered and/or built. losing attractions to the area will loose more money for the area and damage smaller business'.
Miss Lisa B Harley	12-MAR-13	OBJECTION
Miss Timarah Willson	12-MAR-13	It would be a crime to lose the fox
Mrs judy buckingham	12-MAR-13	The Fox is a cornerstone in a unique environment that's sadly a dying breed. We live in a country with wonderful influences from various cultures and lifestyles, the Fox is one such influence, please do not get rid of this landmark.
Mr Martin Rasmussen	12-MAR-13	Please keep this historic and important pub in place!
Miss Helen Howard	12-MAR-13
		I object to the plans to redevelop the site of the Intrepid Fox.
Miss Emma Woodman	12-MAR-13	This is a tourist attraction and institution in the alternative scene.
		The Intrepid Fox is a landmark of the local area and as such I think it should be saved and not taken over by social housing sal lephard	12-MAR-13	unless a suitable local premises can be found nearby This bar is one of a kind, a great place to take friends to and just generally different! Getting rid of it would be getting rid of a fantastic place to be.
Miss Robyn G Sweeney	12-MAR-13	OBJECTION!!!!
Miss Danielle Malin	12-MAR-13	Objection to redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox Public House
Mr Craig D Thomson	12-MAR-13	Save the Intrepid Fox!!!
Mr Flavio Manganelli	12-MAR-13	Please do not remove this establishment it is of great cultural significance and an important music venue
Mr zac brandon	12-MAR-13

Mr drew a.l dorrington	12-MAR-13	Please do not demolish my beloved Metal Pub. It has been a place of sanctuary for me and many friends over the years. Please foind it in yourself to sease this nonsense and keep culture an history alive. old and new. The fox is part of london, my past, my youth....
Mrs louise Absher Amanda Garrison	12-MAR-13 12-MAR-13	leave it alone, find some were else 4 ur damn houses Save this great venue. The Intrepid Fox is a London institution, and offers so much more in terms of tourist attraction, and social community than residential housing ever could.
		The bar has a warm, open, welcoming atmosphere, and is regularly full of good natured people brought together by their love of music. I'm an accountant, i don't dress in black tshirts or a leather jacket, but i love heavy metal and have always felt welcome at the Intrepid Fox.
		I've no doubt that turning the site into residential space will serve to create the type of properties that only benefit the wealthy and price the working classes out of affordable London housing.
Mr Luke Shaller	12-MAR-13	London is one of the greatest cities in the world precisely because it is full of institutions such as the Intrepid Fox. This area has already seen many legendary music venues closed due to the Crossrail development (the Metro club for example), but where that could be viewed as a necessary evil in order to progress a travel infrastructure project that will benefit millions of Londoners, a redevelopment solely into residential housing Objection! I am mainly objecting to the fact that you keep trying to bring down independent bars/pubs like this one.
		Why don't you make room for housing by trying to demolish a weatherspoons; At least that way they can just go down the road or catch a bus to another of the same generic pub.
Mr Samuel T Cross	12-MAR-13
Miss Sarah Cutmore	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is an institution for alternative music and shouldn't go the way of the Astoria and other alternative venues.

The current location of "The Intrepid Fox" bar has significant historic and cultural relevance. London has been stripped of Rock and Heavy Metal venues over the last few years, including the legendary Marquee club and the Astoria Theatre which was demolished to make way for a crossrail station. Both of these were situated in Charring Cross Road and no equivalent alternative has been supplied although promises were made by government that this would be addressed. This has meant all suitable venues in London are situated in North London meaning anyone situated south of the river Thames has longer and more expensive travelling to suitable equivalent venues, and having to leave early to get the last trains home.

The Intrepid fox has been historicity relevant to the Rock/Alternative scene in London, being first situated in Soho and moving to the end of Denmark street (Tin Pan Alley - a major historic landmark for musicians all over the world). Its history has been associated with major label artists for the last 25 years. The sad fact is that the venues, bars and sites left in Lc

Mr Andrea AM Marcucci 12-MAR-13

Mr Craig Jewkes 12-MAR-13

We do not need to lose any more social hubs for more housing/office blocks
These types of amazing bar are few and far between in London, so taking away our rarely found bar will have a negative affect. Who'd miss a normal nightclub? No body as there are many to pick from. Leave the Fox be and utilise the plentiful disused office blocks or uninhabited properties.

Regards

Mr sergio Delnevo 12-MAR-13

Mr Scott Sbh Hill 12-MAR-13

Sergio
Do not shut down the intrepid fox! It is an amazing place and the community will suffer!
Notify of committee date please.

Miss Bernadette Darlow 12-MAR-13

Miss Casey-Jayne Richmon 12-MAR-13

Miss Natalie L Walter 12-MAR-13

Miss Natasha Rand 13-MAR-13

Mr Stefan Siwak 13-MAR-13

Joe J.L Le Long 13-MAR-13

Mr Nafe Pilcher 13-MAR-13

The Fox can't be lost! It's a place of culture and family! People love the fox!!!
Develop elsewhere where a favourite place won't be destroyed!!
Objection
Please don't kill the heart of the city this place is just one of the places that make London great.
Fundamentally opposed to this proposal. I speak on behalf on the entire rock community in London, this is a cultural and social landmark. Furthermore, the location seems unsuited for housing.
Don't close the Intrepid Fox! People want it there. So it shall stay!
Please do not close this pub!!

Mr Seamus Gray	13-MAR-13	Don't kill off another bar camden council you've already started taking our trees.
		This establishment is one of the few live venues for rock and metal based music in central london. It attracts tourists and locals alike. Denmark street and the surrounding areas are loosing the musical entaglement that gave the street the name
Mr barnaby judge	13-MAR-13	tin pan alley, please do not let this happen
		It would be a disater to see the Intrepid Fox go.
		Such an important venue for bands and a great place for rock/metal fans to attend.
Mr Chris C Ready	13-MAR-13	Somewhere I always attend when visiting London.
Mr exel r ate work	13-MAR-13	save the fox
		I am writing to object to the plans to demolish the Intrepid fox as it is, quite frankly , a fantastic bar and the atmosphere it brings has created many fond memories and new friends over the years. Not to mention it is on of the few remaining
		"rock" themed pubs and destroying it would anger the entire scene. Plus it feels like drinking in a pirate ship, I mean seriously, where else can you feel like that? It's an utterly
Mr Daniel Cumber	12-MAR-13	fantastic pub and on in which i hope to continue my adventures. The Intrepid Fox site should not be turned into housing
Caroline Fisher	12-MAR-13	provision.
Ms Alice Reid	12-MAR-13	Leave it as it is!
Miss Sofie Broadhurst	12-MAR-13	Objecting to the demolishion of the Intrepid Fox pub only. coming to London this is one of the best Rockbars in town....I always go there when I visit the city.It would be a shame to see it go!!!
Mr Dirk Bruinenberg	12-MAR-13	Please stop this from happening!!!
Mr John Doyle	12-MAR-13	objection
		The Intrepid Fox pub is really important to the local community and should not be forced to leave for affordable housing in a
Mr Simon Edwards	12-MAR-13	non-residential part of the area.
		The Intrepid Fox is a beloved and vibrant venue that embodies the diversity and excitement that make London worth living in.
		In recent years we have already seen the Astoria and Mean Fiddler venues demolished to make way for Crossrail. London cannot afford to lose yet iconic source of alternative music and
Mr Kier Marston	12-MAR-13	culture. This is a shameful move and should not go ahead.
Kalikah Stephens	12-MAR-13	It's a brilliant place and shouldn't go
Mr Chris S France	12-MAR-13	This would be an absolute travesty

This is one of London's most iconic rock and metal destinations. First you allowed the Astoria to die, and now the Fox... and don't even get me started on Camden Market the other year.

London is one of the world's leaders in culture and arts. Destroying this legacy will leave you with a sterilized city, devoid of young talent who will have gone elsewhere. It's not as if our town isn't big enough - housing can be built in plenty of other places without having to put people out of work and angering all the Fox's longtime supporters.

Mr Daniel Mallaburn	12-MAR-13	I urge you to reject this planning application. The alternative music scene is just one of London's many faces, and as such deserves to be supported.
Mr Matthew Haworth	12-MAR-13	This is an outrage. An amazing place and a hub for social activity. Not just well known, but famous in the 'alternative' scene. Please don't push out this iconic bar... again!
Ms Catherine Phillpotts	12-MAR-13	It is not a suitable location for residential development. Also, this development threatens the existence of the Intrepid Fox. I object to anything that will affect the existence of the Intrepid Fox as pubs of this kind are few and far between. The reason London is a popular tourist destination is in part due to it's pubs and clubs.
Mr michael cooke	12-MAR-13	Please do Not destroy this bar, i have been attending this venue for the last 2 years. In its time it has brought people from all over The world through its doors and also to The area where it Is situated. It will be a great shame for it to be destroyed.
Mr Simon J Pollard	12-MAR-13	We don't need more flats in central London, culture brings in revenue and visitors
Mr Jake c Roberts	12-MAR-13	I always go for a beer or 2 when I go to london in the fox I'd hate to see it go!
Tamsin Barnard	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a World Famous London Pub, that has already suffered from being moved & it should not be closed simply to give wealthy Land owners more money!
Miss Sophie Walker	12-MAR-13	I strongly object to its closure & hope that this will be stopped.
Mr simon baurley	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is one of very few alternative bars left in London that allow people to listen to rock/ metal music free from criticism or judgement and meet others with the same interest.
Mr Mike Dring	12-MAR-13	It would be a travesty to remove such a popular venue for the sake of replacing it with yet another chain shop/ restaurant.
		please do not pull down the fox it is a great bar
		It's a great bar for tourists and local alike, Central London needs it to stay!

I fail to see the merit of destroying one of the landmark pubs in the area for the sake of 'affordable', no doubt eye-sore housing.

There are countless places where such housing could be built, without removing one of the few truly unique pubs in London.

Mr David Campbell FCBI	12-MAR-13	I can guarantee you that the housing built there will be marred by the brush of destroying the Intrepid Fox.
Mrs sarah simmons	12-MAR-13	One of the few alternative places left with live music with friendly staff and customers
Mr Pascal Schwindling	12-MAR-13	Do not close the Intrepid Fox, one of the best london pubs has to be alive.
Mr benjamin matthews	12-MAR-13	Knocking down a Thriving business - to build "affordable" housing in central london, is moronic.
Mr Craig McFarlane	12-MAR-13	Please accept this as my objection to the planned demolition of The Intrepid Fox public house
Mr Barnaby Hampton	12-MAR-13	I object greatly to this planning proposal as it would destroy a most valued pub
Lukas Holcek	12-MAR-13	we love Intrepid ! We're closing far too many good important cultural hubs in London to mindless property development and gentrification that prices Londoners out of London.
Mr James Whitworth	12-MAR-13	Leave the Fox alone! OBJECTION - famous bar in London - known the world over - Londons biggest attraction is its history and diversity - don't
Barry Spencer	12-MAR-13	destroy part of that The Intrepid Fox is world famous and it would be a huge loose to London - for the second time!
Mr Thomas Barrett	12-MAR-13
Matthew Jones	12-MAR-13	You've got to be fucking kidding!? The intrepid fox has been one of londons best pubs for years, it would be a crime to demolish it to make more empty flats that
Mr Andrew Newton	12-MAR-13	no one can afford. Dont do it!!! the intrepid fox has been a place of sanctuary for hundreds of people all over the world its the best rock and roll heavy metal pud in london and has already had to be moved
Miss dianah d al-khatib	12-MAR-13	once...
Otto Burnham	12-MAR-13	I OBJECT to the redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox!! The Intrepid Fox is unique venue, there is nowhere else in
Mr Philip Tysoe	12-MAR-13	London like it. The Intrepid Fox is a historical landmark of the alternative
Mr Flavio Zanrosso	12-MAR-13	London scene and should be preserved. The Intrepid Fox is a cultural landmark / icon for so many, irrespective of its not insubstantial architectural merit, please
P Kynaston	12-MAR-13	think carefully, once these places are gone, it's forever.

		The Intrepid Fox is a renowned venue that is visited by rock and metal fans from all over the country. It is one of the few places in London that caters for this taste in small venue live and DJ music and would be sadly missed if demolished. Please don't take away a popular venue for a genre of music, style and character that is sadly under represented. The demise of the Intrepid Fox would be a sad loss and attraction for London's night life especially where being replaced by unaffordable housing in an already built up area
Mr Florian Lamotte	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a gathering ground for people of all ages, ethnicities, cultures and social backgrounds; and despite being eradicated from its original site, it still represents an important piece of London's musical and cultural history. Please don't take it away from us.
Miss Irene Ferraro	13-MAR-13	I strongly object to this application. Intrepid fox should not be turned into housing for the overly privileged poor. The intrepid fox is an important venue for all the gremlins and nightcrawlers of london and surrounding areas.
Mr Hannu Soini	14-MAR-13
		Music and The Intrepid Fox have been the heart of that area for many years now. You are tearing out passion and expression for more corporate buildings. Like there isn't enough of them in London! This site needs to stay and no doubt the residents and regulars at the bar will petition heavily for this.
Miss Pandy McCarthy	12-MAR-13	It's really sad what they want to do with that great bar. It's a unique place for unique people. It's a place what holds memories. Not only Londoners love the place but it's famous worldwide. It's nice to see that there is still hope for the younger generation to listen to quality live music in this place and make new friends. It's a place where the only thing matters it's music and it brings the people together.
Miss Ildi Kovacs	12-MAR-13	I object this planning application. Do not take away a successful music venue. I am a Music and Live event management student, therefore it is in my interest, and my fellow students interest also to save venues such as this.
Miss Polly Wickham	12-MAR-13	To Whom It May Concern

LEAVE THE INTREPID FOR ALONE AND ALIVE!!

Please

Mrs Naia Banks	12-MAR-13	Kind regards
Miss Emilia Szmigielska	12-MAR-13	Ridiculous idea and I object. The fox is an amazing venue that is very popular for the alternative/metal scene in London. This is one of the only good venues left in Central London. I'm sure there are other places that can be taken down just for the sake of building new flats.
Mr Luke Reid	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox MUST STAY!
Mr Eric EDB De Bernardi	12-MAR-13

Miss Alexandra King	12-MAR-13	This is a one of a kind pub in London where so many people come every week from both near and far to share the music and atmosphere. It would be a terrible thing to deny such a strong and widespread alternative community this establishment. to whom it may concern, I strongly object to any plans that would see the closure of the intrepid fox pub which, besides being my favourite pub in London is a unique venue that offers a real diversity and a welcome alternative to Central London nightlife. This is the sort of venue that should be protected because it is also home to a community of Londoners whose musical preferences are not widely catered for in Central London and it's location on the edge of soho at the end of Denmark street is perfectly in keeping with the musical history and heritage of this part of our city. The uniqueness and the history of this world famous pub is treasured by many regulars and this should be acknowledged by the council which presides over many a cultural treasure within it's boundaries - the intrepid fox undoubtedly being one of these treasures! thanks
Mr Mark M Bactor	12-MAR-13	mark bactor
Astrid Poncin	12-MAR-13	Objection
Peter Lally	12-MAR-13	Don't turn everything into flats, or London loses its character. There is a historic pub on this site which is much loved by the people of London present and past and it would be outrageous to knock it down.
Mrs Rachel Downton	12-MAR-13	leave the fox where it is. we don't want to homogenize london. with the death of the fox will go the last vestige of alternative soho
pete valente	12-MAR-13	I shocking proposal for an iconic London venue.
Mr Michael Lemmens	12-MAR-13	I object to the redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox site. This pub is visited by people not only all over the UK on a regular but the world too.
Mr Stephen J Thompson	12-MAR-13	Hence I'm sure it brings in lots of tourists as well as being a proud sign of diversity in such as central location.
Juan Echeverria	28-MAR-13	We love the Intrepid Fox, please don't tear it down along with our hopes and dreams. :( please do not shut the fox, it is one of the best bars in london, and denmark street has a vast amount of history in it, shaping the current international music scene.
Hamish S Gill	12-MAR-13	No no no no no.
Miss Jessica James	12-MAR-13	Keep the Fox!
Ms Nina Koritchneva	12-MAR-13	Close down such a popular venue where I can meet like minded people?
Mr Anthony Lloyd	12-MAR-13	Madness. Utter madness!

The current location of "The Intrepid Fox" bar has significant historic and cultural relevance. London has been stripped of Rock and Heavy Metal venues over the last few years, including the legendary Marquee club and the Astoria Theatre which was demolished to make way for a crossrail station. Both of these were situated in Charring Cross Road and no equivalent alternative has been supplied although promises were made by government that this would be addressed. This has meant all suitable venues in London are situated in North London meaning anyone situated south of the river Thames has longer and more expensive travelling to suitable equivalent venues, and having to leave early to get the last trains home.

The Intrepid fox has been historicity relevant to the Rock/Alternative scene in London, being first situated in Soho and moving to the end of Denmark street (Tin Pan Alley - a major historic landmark for musicians all over the world). Its history has been associated with major label artists for the last 25 years. The sad fact is that the venues, bars and sites left in L

Mr Jeff Barber	12-MAR-13
Mrs Jasmine Kirby	12-MAR-13	Objection The intrepid Fox is an integral piece of London's history and it would be awful to destroy what little we have left in this area. The expansion of the underground station has meant that many venues, tourist attractions and London's diverse music scene facilitators (such as the Astoria, The Mean Fiddler and SIn) were destroyed and I believe it is an outrage to continue to do
Miss Sophie Neal	12-MAR-13	so.
Ms Birgit Gebhardt	12-MAR-13	Objection. This is one of the last remaining independent music venues in Central London and should be protected.
A Higgs	12-MAR-13	I've only been to the Fox a few times, but its amazing there. To shut down such an amazing, social, friendly pub is wrong. Alternative people don't have many places to go as everything is full of 'mainstream' people, this place must stay! The Intrepid Fox is one of my favourite bars in London, my friends love it, and I even perform comedy there. I fully object to the plans to convert this building.
Mr Michael Perry	12-MAR-13
Miss Jeanette C Kendall	12-MAR-13	I object to the Intrepid Fox being closed down.

		I would like to raise an objection to this planning application, as I believe the demolition of the Intrepid Fox would be a terrible mistake. The Intrepid Fox is a very unique bar and venue, unmatched by any other in the city (let alone the borough of Camden); its demolition would be an irreplaceable loss to the Camden community. Furthermore, it caters to a certain taste and aesthetic incomparable to any other venue in London; many people regularly travel across the city for the sole purpose of visiting their beloved bar - a phenomenon I have witnessed over the past 8 years of frequenting this establishment. Its closure and demolition would not only leave a gaping hole in the life of the aficionados of this subculture, for whom the venue plays a primordial role in meeting similar-minded people, but also deprive London and the Camden community of a unique element of its cultural history.
Miss L. M. Randisi	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a landmark pub and part of the historic nature of Denmark Street. Too many of these kind of iconic venues are being closed down. It was a real shame when the Fox was moved the first time but the best part of the move was the new location in the heart of the music centre. We need to start protecting these iconic venues or London will quite simply become generic and boring.
Miss Melanie Stungo	14-MAR-13	Please do not tear down the Interpid Fox Pub!!, it is the one true remaining Rock pub in London which means alot to alot of people!!
Mr Jamie Coffey	15-MAR-13	Objection to the demolition of the Intrepid Fox
Miss Cynthia CA Anatole QS	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a London institution! Only this month I have had 7 visitors from Newcastle come down and this was the focal point of their visit. Within the rock fans world it is without peer across Europe. If this was The Ivy, Ronnie Scotts or The Dorchester it would be unthinkable to even consider closing this bar, for any development. The Intrepid Fox pub is our Ronnie Scotts!!
Mr Steven Hemsley	12-MAR-13	Please do not close down 'The Intrepid Fox'. It's an Icon building &amp; historic Gig venue. This is hugely popular &amp; just can't be destroyed. I frequently visit &amp; there will be a huge hole if it goes.
Mrs Wendy Maisey	12-MAR-13	Please re consider or work round it another way. Thank you.
Miss Lydie Greco	12-MAR-13	OBJECTION
Miss Katie BE Sheddock	12-MAR-13	This can't happen!! So many people love this place. Please don't kill one of Londons best venues.
Miss isabella rr javor	12-MAR-13	It should stay. End of.
Miss scheherazade s naceur	12-MAR-13	OBJECTION
Mrs Helen Terry	12-MAR-13	please do not shut this club down, there are plenty of other places for developing properties. its hard to find a place quite like this and i have many good memories stemming there.
Mr matt westacott	12-MAR-13

		Losing the Intrepid Fox would be a disaster. It is an iconic pub in the Rock Scence in London and only one of a few still remaining. It would be a disaster to lose it, considering we lost the Astoria and Astoria 2. Equally i have friends from Sweden who travel over on a regular basis and the Intrepid Fox is always
Mr Finbarr Carroll	12-MAR-13	on their list of places to visit.
Miss rebecca jezzard	12-MAR-13	i oppose this
Miss Nicola D Berry	12-MAR-13	You can't do this! over development losing important social beneficial uses
Ms saskia sdj de jager	12-MAR-13	prejudice comprehensive development of an area The Intrepid Fox is an important location for music lovers and
Miss Birthe Frauendienst	12-MAR-13	tourists alike. Please do not close it!
		 I live in Cardiff and come from there purely to visit this bar at times. You have no idea what this place means to a lot of people. By destroying it, you are in effect stamping out the rock culture in the area and ridding it of yet another outlet for people who love the culture to express themselves. The excuse of housing doesn't wash. There are derelict and unused areas everywhere begging to be developed that people don't care about, why demolish a popular bat that people do? Supporting culture and diversity means supporting ALL areas.
Miss Kat Parsons	12-MAR-13	Keep the Intrepid Fox as it should be.
Miss George M Murison	12-MAR-13	no way to redevelopment, keep the fox The Intrepid Fox is a unique type of bar which should be preserved. I am against the demolition of this special and
Miss Lisa Grainger	12-MAR-13	individual bar.
Mr Cameron FH Mackie	12-MAR-13	Dont shut the fox
sergei sizov	12-MAR-13	Leave the interpid fox alone you bastards!!!!
		 I am very upset that the public house/music venue The Intrepid Fox is facing closure, yet again, from building works in this area. It is a vital part of an incredibly lively subculture, that London in
Miss Laura Small	12-MAR-13	it's &quot;diversity&quot; should be helping to support. I Object to the Intrepid Fox Itself being redeveloped into Housing - However I do feel that that it would be sutable for the rest of the building behind the Intrepid fox i.e above the crossrail office and foodstore.
		 I do agree however with the plan to Renovate the Facades including the windows of the Intrepid fox itself, such that they are cleaned up and more in keeping (style of the rest of the building. I also agree with the change of use of the tower from offices to Laurence E Gosden	12-MAR-13	residential.

The city of London is already demolishing many of it's venue for live acts to play, The Intrepid Fox being one of the few in Westminster.

I work in Soho, which is a lively place for media creation, and as I work in audio I come into contact with many other media production company. Many people within these organisations spend many of the free weekend evenings in the Intrepid Fox, it's one of the few place with an alternative vibe. It has a character of it's own and has well known in the rock community.

Westimnster would become soulless without it and it's vital that it stays

Mr Joseph D Richardson So 12-MAR-13
Miss Detroy Cixxi 12-MAR-13

Nooooo leave the Fox alone!

This pub must remain standing and open! There are not enough good places in London which cater for the alternative music scene. I'm sure you can find somewhere else to build on!

Miss Becky Clark 12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox is a statement, a lifestyle and the only place Metal- and Alternative- fans can call "Our pub".

Mr Bjørn Lund 12-MAR-13

This pub must not be closed down!

Completely object to a project that is going to destroy such a great venue. Myself and many other friends come to London primarily for this venue.

Would be an abomination to see such a reputable venue / bar dissapear from the map.

Mr Alex Ridley 12-MAR-13
Mr Mikko Nahkuri 12-MAR-13

Supporting Intrepid Fox.

Centre Point & The Intrepid Fox are London landmarks. We have lost so much heritage, history and local colour already and need to stop and keep this landmark building for it's intended use and the world-renown entertainment venue and public house in the same form which is currently is in. As a visitor to central London I want to see the Intrepid Fox endure. Please do not break what we hold dear in our hearts for someone to get a little more money in their hand.

Mr Dean Thirkettle 12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox is culturally iconic, unique, and adds a colourful and welcome distraction to an otherwise grey concreted area.

Mr Matthew MRD Brandwoor 12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox is an essential venue for the Alternative community.. there are plenty of other housing developments, this one is not essential.

Ms Claire Cozler 12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox is fabulous, iconic & a breath of fresh air amongst the plastic chain pubs that ihabit our towns & cities. Turning it into houses would be tragic.

Mr David Field 12-MAR-13
Miss Nathalie C Khachadouri 12-MAR-13

Save the Intrepid Fox!

This bar is thriving and culture in a commercial-hideous part of London.

Miss Stephanie Harrison 12-MAR-13
Robert Duly 12-MAR-13

OBJECTION

Robert Duly	12-MAR-13	OBJECTION
Rachael Bates	12-MAR-13	Save the Intrepid Fox! Please don't get rid of it. I strongly object to this proposition. The very notion of 'affordable' housing in the West End of London is laughable (affordable to who exactly?)  The West End is not a residential area and to add this type of housing in the area will stick out like a sore thumb.  Although I'm sure it may not be readily apparent, the prices this accommodation will sell for are yet another example of the working class being overlooked by the middle class for their own gain. There is no way anybody but for the middle class can afford properties like this.
Mr James Beckett	12-MAR-13	It a great place to go and be social. It Will be a great shame that this focal point goes as there will be no place in London to go, I know this is not everyone cup of tea and the music isn't to everyone taste. Thank you for hearing my objection and hope in due course everything goes ok
Mr Danny M Keehan	12-MAR-13	It is not a housing area, and should not be a housing area.
Mike Victor	12-MAR-13	I object to this proposed application as I enjoy this pub.
Joanna Milne	12-MAR-13	No, too many restaurants and cafes round that part of london and not enough bars like the intrepid fox.
Mr Tim N Fitzgerald	12-MAR-13	I object to the closure and conversion of the Intrepid Fox site as it is a valuable community focal point,too many live music venues are being lost to corporate greed.
Mr Desmond Scanlon	12-MAR-13	We want to save this extremely precious music venue
Miss Jennifer Saul	12-MAR-13	The extension of the tottenham court road station has already taken away several alternative bars/clubs. Its not fair to take away the last one. Camden town is too far for me and the fox is my main pub. Stop taking the piss and just leave something for the people! there's no way this housing will be 'affordable' to any regular person! I don't feel that somewhere that people go to relax and hang out with friends should make way for this!!!!
Miss Lucy J Barnes	13-MAR-13	I object to the proposed development.
Miss Bernadene Varty	13-MAR-13	This should be a listed area of public interest not destroyed!
Miss Stephanie Pajak	12-MAR-13	The decline in niche live music venues is unacceptable. The Intrepid Fox is one of the finest surviving that serves the south of england and it's closure would be an irreplaceable loss. I live nearly 70 miles from the venue and still use it as it is one of the few that hosts bands of note and has a reputa to parallel Camden Underworld and The Brook.
Mr Julian M Miles	12-MAR-13	Don't close it!
Mr Johnny Bedini	12-MAR-13	Leave it alone the intrepid fox is one of the coolest places left
Miss Tammy Rowles	12-MAR-13	stop talking culture away
Miss Nayiri Yardim	12-MAR-13	Save the Intrepid Fox! The Intrepid Fox is a local landmark that people from all over the world come to vist. To tear it down for 'affordable Housing' is a crime
Mr Ross A Flanagan	12-MAR-13

Mr Jamie Smart	12-MAR-13	Save the Intrepid Fox!
Miss Fiona E Howard	12-MAR-13	Why do this ? there is surely no need to do this? it will a great shame is this venue has to close.
Darren Kirby	12-MAR-13	blah This place is part of the tourist attraction which is steeped in history that is Denmark Street.  Denmark street is full of Rock history and tourists from all over the world come to see it. They also go to the intrepid fox which is The best as well as main Rock bar in London.  People go there as part of the rock n roll history. Not just tourists. The rock loving people of london see this as their home (and there are many). If this were closed and turned into housing that only the rich could afford, then it shows that you value the needs of the Few over the needs of the many!!
Mr william brannan	12-MAR-13
Mr owyn om mcGann	12-MAR-13	Please do not take away one of the best pubs in london again it is a great place that lots of people enjoy drinking there
Mr owyn om mcGann	12-MAR-13	Please do not take away one of the best pubs in london again it is a great place that lots of people enjoy drinking there intrepid fox is unique, a social landmark, it would be a unfair against the many in favour of the few to turn this into another generic housing complex., People can easily get accomodation elsewhere, this can't easily exist elsewhere and still be central and fulfil the criteria of being a convenient meeting-up spot for friends living all over London that do NOT want generic trendy
Mr Daniel DJ Venter	12-MAR-13	dime a dozen establishments. Why would you even consider this? Not only is it home to all fresh and upcoming music talents, but it also keeps young teenagers off the streets and gives them a place to socialize.
James Bright	12-MAR-13	This is a culturally significant venue and must stay..
Mr justin d kelso boa constru	12-MAR-13	The intrepid fox is fantastic and invaluable cultural venue, moving it would be a disaster residents and a valuable economic source for the area would be lost as it draws a crowd from near and far.
Miss Emma Costerton	12-MAR-13
Miss Christine Shanks	12-MAR-13	We need to keep the intrepid fox  As the Intrepid Fox is a music venue for many alternative-genre musicians, converting the pub to houses will negatively impact the livelihoods of these musicians, as well as depriving the local alternative community of a place to socialise. If you take this bar away from people u will be removing a big part of history!! The Intrepid Fox is a legendary watering hole and should not be turned into housing!
Emily Marston	12-MAR-13
Miss Josey Grimshaw	12-MAR-13
Mr Leigh Morris	12-MAR-13
Miss Claudia Glazzard	12-MAR-13	My favourite place to go in London

Mrs Vicki J. McKay	12-MAR-13	We don't want to see this change of use go ahead. Please reconsider. If this plan includes the demolishing or shutting down of the Intrepid Fox, I strongly oppose. 'Affordable housing provision' sounds like a weak attempt to pretend that something humanitarian is being done. In reality given the location, this will immediately become profitable housing for the rich, pushing the historically cultural aspect of this road back down to Denmark street - especially given the other recent developments around Tottenham Court Road station and the demolition of the Astoria.
Mr Matt Connatty	12-MAR-13	Given the potential profits for the involved private companies, the only way this can be stopped that I can see is by denying planning permission. I have no objection to the Centre Point tower itself becoming residential.
Miss Rebecca A Brazil	12-MAR-13	Objection
Mr Terry Wyatt	12-MAR-13	Why are we losing ANOTHER music venue?
Mr Mark A Hinch Private	12-MAR-13	Please do not destroy this amazing venue. It's the reason I keep coming back to London.
Mr philip cook	12-MAR-13	this bar has such much meaning and heratich to the people that go there, not to mention that it has actuly become a torist hot spot if you like rock n rock / hard rock
Mrs maria lardi	12-MAR-13	this is wrong. let people enjoy the area with its historic barks and historic places for gathering. do not take this from the people. no more developments are needed in busy areas that people have lived with experiences and memoirs
Ms Irene Doolan	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is known far and wide within the rock music world, entertaining both locals, musicians, and well known rock bands, as well as providing revenue from the many tourists who frequent the place. I cannot stress enough how well-known this venue is! To have it close, due to your proposals will be of detriment not only to the regular patrons of the bar, but to the wider rock world fan-base as a whole. I therefore ask you to reconsider your proposal, and place my objection to your plans. Stop closing beloved bars and venues. Maybe close some of the countless sainsburys/tesco/waitrose "local" stores
Mr Russell T Martin	12-MAR-13	for a while.
Karmen BS Butler	12-MAR-13	This area has undergone (and continued to undergo) a massive amount of development. While I support the rejuvenation of this areas, it has had an adverse effect on the alternative music subculture in London, with the Intrepid Fox remaining as one of the last footholds in central London.
Miss Robyn D Skinner	12-MAR-13	I object to all of the plans above - Centre Point is a key business location and the Intrepid Fox site is a key music venue which is dearly important to many subcultures in London.
Miss Georgia-Kate Baines	12-MAR-13	The Fox is such a pillar in the local community and so diverse. Why shut down a successful pub?

Mr Kerryan Dawson	12-MAR-13	It is a disgrace to turn The Intrepid Fox into flats, there is too much social and musical value, vital to the musical economy of London in this historic venue.
Miss Jane Kelly	12-MAR-13	Please do not demolish the Intrepid fox, this is one of the best pubs in London. It's unique style and character make it a valuable location.
		There is no demand for housing in this area. Additional residences will add to the already congested nature of the area, bringing additional traffic, which the road systems will struggle to cope with.
		In addition, there are no amenities or services in the area that will adequately serve this new population.
Ms Sophie Pert	12-MAR-13	Even if housing were required in this area, I am not satisfied that adequate provision has been made for affordable housing.
Mr kasey kf fremaux	12-MAR-13	this is a great place to meet people who share the same love for music fox is an icon for metal people get rid of it would unfair on all the regulars
gideon g durham	12-MAR-13	we lose every place that plays our music. please leave the intrepid fox alone
Mr Joss Hill-Finegan	12-MAR-13	Save the Intrepid Fox.
Miss Jessica Mula	12-MAR-13	Please don't let the Intrepid Fox close!That's a very important place for lots of people!
Miss Carolina Perez	12-MAR-13	Thank you I want to express my total disagreement with the closing of one of the best pubs in London: the intrepid Fox. I have been a customer of the intrepid Fox for a while and I cannot enumerate all the reasons why I disagree with your decision, but the main one is without the intrepid Fox, the west end will loose its essence and soul.
Mr James Healy	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is perhaps the most popular bar for fans of rock and metal music in London and should not be destroyed to achieve the completely unrealistic goal of affordable housing in central London.
Mr Chris Kenyon	13-MAR-13	Completly opposing this idea very few good music bars still exist and this should not be turned into houses
Miss Samantha J Patterson	13-MAR-13	Please keep the Intrepid Fox - it's original and I love it there.
Miss Ciara Walsh	13-MAR-13	OBJECT
Baptista Silanes	13-MAR-13	I want enjoy in this pub went I come to London
Mr Tom Shackleton	13-MAR-13	The interped fox is one of the greatest bars in London and cannot close down
Ms Gurinder Lall	13-MAR-13	OBJECTION
Miss Michelle Wake	13-MAR-13	You already moved it out if it's original home...now you want to replace this with retail and chain restaurants? Not very original is it? And this place has history!! So please don't kill it.

The Intrepid Fox is a prime example of pubs being threatened with being shut down that are the heart and soul of so many town centres and communities across London being sold off for flats or other uses.

http://www.camra.org.uk/article.php?group\_id=9173

Mr Chris CN Nelson	13-MAR-13	I think that the Intrepid Fox is an awesome pub and I don't want it to be knocked down for housing. I always go to the Intrepid Fox when I go to gigs in Camden and I feel that it is a key element of the alternative scene in Camden and would be sorely missed. Tourists visit Camden to experience the unique alternative scene there and this brings in a lot of money. The Intrepid Fox is just one unique and quirky pub which contributes to the atmosphere that tourists and locals love. Destroying any of these places reduces the wide range of alternative venues which is one of the truly unique and special things about Camden. If the choice of pubs is reduced then the place will loose its appeal.
Miss Laura H Fraser	12-MAR-13	do not close the fox. it is one of the last icons of true london.
Mr marco cuomo	12-MAR-13	keep the fox where it is!
Miss Roberta Saliani	12-MAR-13	I object to the aforementioned plans.
Javier Garcia	12-MAR-13	I am against this.
Miss Lisa der Weduwe	12-MAR-13	Retain the Intrepid Fox pub that is located on 15 St Giles High St, WC2H
		Can you not simply leave the Intrepid Fox alone? It is bad enough that the original venue got redeveloped, surely it doesn't need to happen again.
		In the same area London has already lost the Astoria, and if the Fox goes then where will music fans go?
Mr Duncan Moore	12-MAR-13	Objection
Morella Karpovaite	12-MAR-13	Long live The Intrepid Fox!
Melissa L Kasilian	12-MAR-13	wicked place london wouldn't be the same!
Mr Arthur Palmer	12-MAR-13	It would be a disgrace to close down one of London's biggest and most unique alternative pubs only to turn it into houses.
Miss Karina Schack	13-MAR-13	I SAY NO!! This pub is now my second home, you can not destroy it!
Miss Daniela DDI De Iacovo	12-MAR-13	This is a unique building as such should be treated with uniqueness. Not with uniformity, like the thousands of coffee shops/flat pack houses that are killing the spirit of London.
Liam Butcher	12-MAR-13	Huh. Another part of Tottenham Court being bulldozed out the way for gentrification. Greeeat.
Ms Emily M Everitt	12-MAR-13

To whom it may concern,

The Intrepid Fox is a London institution for alternative music and lifestyle. This is not only felt and recognised by the hordes of people who regularly pack the place, many of whom come from across the globe to sink a pint at the famous bar, but equally by the media with 'the fox' as it is affectionately known, being featured in a documentary on metal music.

Ms Sherrie A Steyn	12-MAR-13	London has unfortunately lost many music venues of historical significance in recent years and this decision would be another tragic loss for London and its' multiplicity and cultural depth. OBJECTION to the intrepid fox being closed down in london its a well loved haunt for people why ruin london by taking away
Miss Leah Houghton	12-MAR-13	one of its best features this pub is amazing
Miss Juste Taraskeviciute	12-MAR-13	unique place to have fun.

		I object greatly to this planned development! You can not demolish another great pub, as you will not only be demolishing
Miss Leeanne L Hicks Gorev	12-MAR-13	a great metal bar but friendships and years of comradery.
Ms Aoife Greenham	12-MAR-13	save the intrepid fox!!
		A long history in central london. I could never imagine how
Ms Sian Macdonald	12-MAR-13	losing a place such as this would be justifiable.

		ABSOLUTE OBJECTION. The centerpoint cause close to my heart and I have full admiration for everybody's effort towards it, but surely there are enough decrepit buildings and land put to worse use in the area in good need of transforming. Clearly you're overlooking The Intrepid Fox's place in the London alternative and metal music scene as a venue and bar that people travel miles to visit for the music, gigs, atmosphere and decades of history stacked behind it, and the community it serves who are alienated by mainstream pop culture. You'll be doing a lot of good people a great injustice; alternative bars are hard to come by and fast dwindling in numbers, and the people inclined towards them are not the people you should be sidelining even more so. Find a better location, and bear the
Ms Steph E Vickers	12-MAR-13	damage you're doing to a minority in mind. I've been coming here for the last five years every few months to see live, local, talented bands with my friends. I have very fond memories of this place and would love to keep coming back. There are very few places that my friends and I are able to see alternative music in South East London, and this is easily the best of the bunch. Please do not demolish a place that has given me, and should continue to provide, so many great
Mr Chris M Gillon	12-MAR-13	memories.

Mr Peter PWS Shortland	12-MAR-13	Me and my friends enjoy spending our times there and i have made alot more friends in there as well and the staff in there are kind as well. I always go there on the way to a gig to have a small drink as well
Mr Mike RB Hills	12-MAR-13	Such a friendly and unique pub in a sea of sameness - a refreshing change!
holly flood	12-MAR-13	this is an amazing music venue that many people cherish, dont turn it into houses! my friends and myself are regulars at the intrepid fox, and would be sad to see it go!

The Intrepid Fox bar is a London institution and brings a huge thoroughfare of passing trade to the local area every week, especially Thurs - Sun. To lose this bar would equate to significant loss of earnings to the Giles St/Denmark St locale.

Mr Benjamin D Christodoulou	12-MAR-13	What's more, it's a cultural jewel in the tapestry of Soho; it attracts fans (and ultimately, customers) from around the globe.
Miss Gwennan Thomas	12-MAR-13	Do we really need another overpriced development that will affect yet more places of character within this area and doubtless be of minimal benefit to the community? Not in my opinion.
Mrs Kay K Byard	12-MAR-13	Don't do it, we need more live music venues, not less
Mr Carlos C Contreras	12-MAR-13	No way, the Intrepid Fox its an ICON !!!
Mr Rob Jones	12-MAR-13	Who would want to live there?
Zoe Bloom	12-MAR-13	This is a thriving business to get rid of it for housing would be a total disgrace
bob mitchell metalwork	12-MAR-13	please do not do this to a truly great and remarkable venue for all of us need this place as it is, so we can go and relax and de-stress and listen to the one common thing everybody shares in life no matter what your genre and that is music of course thank you
Miss Sascha AL Cooper	12-MAR-13	You get rid of this bar, you take away one of the last remaining alternative bars for mainstream London! It's full of amazing people and memories, don't take it away from us! Even though I live in Brighton, I still love to go here when I'm up in London :)
Mr Dave O'Brien	12-MAR-13	please leave alone
Mr Scott Ashton	12-MAR-13	You can't destroy one of the only places that metal fans can go for houses that will be unaffordable & only lining the pockets of the rich. It's not just a pub the Intrepid Fox is a community.
Miss Lara Galante	12-MAR-13	I object to this planning application as this is a very unique bar (The Intrepid Fox) which is incredibly popular and it would be terrible to lose it.
Mr Tim D Glasson	12-MAR-13	Objection
Mr Richie R Turnbull	12-MAR-13	This place is an icon, its deserves a blue plaque

Ms Sonia Ferrara	12-MAR-13	You can't keep closing down music venues and established drinking holes. I know it is important to house people but where will people go to hang out? We're will the homeless go if not centre point. Please stop! I don't want The Intrepid Fox to be closed, it is part of London's rock history
Mr marco balliana	12-MAR-13	Strongly OBJECT, there doesn't need to be more housing in this area.
Miss Kelly Checketts	12-MAR-13
Miss Jessica S Kemp	12-MAR-13	The redevelopment of this site will lose yet another of London's unique venues further homogenising the area and robbing the city of the character and charm that makes it great to live here. Please do not destroy any more of London's iconic music venues. The Intrepid Fox holds many memories and it would be heartbreaking to lose it again.
Miss Emma C Street	12-MAR-13
Ms Odessa Serpell	12-MAR-13	I have no objection to the lower floors of Centre Point tower being changed from offices to residential, or to the lower floors of Centre Point House being changed to retail and restaurant uses. HOWEVER, I DO OBJECT TO THE REDEVELOPMENT OF THE INTREPID FOX SITE! Whilst affordable housing is an important issue, The Intrepid Fox is a very important cultural site to a specific community, and as such, I believe this deserves some respect and consideration. To whom it may concern
		The intrepid fox encourages hundreds of people to visit this area of the city every night. It generates customers for other establishments in the area for example food and taxi services. The bar is also at the heart of one of London's many diverse communities bringing people from all walks of life, different parts of the world and beliefs together through a love of music and the exhibition of young musical talent. I believe London prides itself on it's rich culture and The Intrepid Fox needs to be recognized as the center point and facilitator of large friendly gatherings of people to celebrate/perform/watch and spend more money in the area than a few residents could.
Mr Ben W Austwick	13-MAR-13	It is the responsibility of the people who make decisions about planning applications that the population of any city has access to a diverse range of entertainment and leisure. The loss of The Intrepid Fox as a live music venue and bar would leave a large void in central London for the people who go there. It would also dishearten many creative young people who would no longer have

		Developing a tower block launch as Centre Point is a retrograde step for housing in London. I believe the impact of living in such dwellings has a negative impact on residents health and well being and object on that basis. I also object because the road layout and traffic levels are dangerous so close to housing. I object that there is not enough green space or play areas. I object to the closure of The Intrepid Fox because it is the only free venue in Central London supporting young musicians, providing a safe and professional environment to learn their craft. I strongly believe that if planning permission is granted, the developers have a duty to find and find an alternative building for the Fox.
Mrs Jan Trethewey	13-MAR-13	It would be a shame to lose such a vibrant and popular music venue, especially since the Astoria was taken down a few years ago for the same reason.
Mr Sergio Ronchetti Carrete	13-MAR-13	Please don't pull down The Intrepid Fox pub! London needs more places like this, not less!!
Andy Blackburn House Of C	13-MAR-13	i love the intrepid fox and i feel that it is a landmark
Mrs lisa k l edgar	13-MAR-13	It is one of the few places in london, that alternative people can have fun and converse with others, and be comfortable in their own skin.
Miss Marie Marshall	12-MAR-13	As well as people who isn't really into that scene, but are curious, are more than welcome to come and chill
		Although I do not live in the area,I spend a lot of time in London, particularly this area and have spent many an hour in The Intrepid Fox.
		It's truly one of the highlights of a London visit for me and many other fans of alternative music. It would be a real loss to the area if this unique venue was demolished to make way for more bland coffee shops and lame eateries. Doesn't London have enough of that sort of thing already? Why does every bit of London have to look like every other bit of London?
		I, and many others, will be hugely disappointed if this decision goes forward. It will be the loss of another great bit of London, along with the Astoria, etc.
Mr James Drury	12-MAR-13

This is inconsiderate! The Intrepid Fox is part of London History. It keeps attracting Londoners and load of turists every year. It's integral part of the city culture and especially the music culture of that particular part of London. Most of the city centre is already sold out to commercial space. The Intrepid Fox is with the Tin Pan Halley one of the few authentic survivors. The Intrepid in the actual location is a venue absolutely unique in its kind and has a cult following. Music History has being done there and keep happening. The Intrepid Fox is a real London Icon and should be saved and protected. It's because of places like the Intrepid that London is famous in the world. I am totally appalled by your plans and ask you to stop and let the Intrepid Fox untouched. For the sake of London and it's real soul.

Miss Sara Teramo 12-MAR-13 This public house has already had to find a new home once, it's surviving this long proves it is a central part of a local sub-cultural community, a tourist attraction and a vibrant example of central London's diverse nature. It would be a tragedy to see excessively expensive high rise housing/offices replace such an establishment.

Miss Louise Bates 12-MAR-13 The area including Denmark street and intrepid fox have a unique identity of which places of similar nature have become gradually decreased over last few years. It would be a great and sad decision to take this away from London. Places like this should be encouraged not destroyed. A road full of "chain" establishments might be a different story but this should stay. It would be a regrettable decision.

Mr Brian Simms 12-MAR-13 Do not close the intrepid fox.

Mr Marc A Weston Redthorn 12-MAR-13 Intrepid Fox is so important to the community!

Mr Chris Drackett 12-MAR-13 I oppose this planning, the venues currently there are valuable to the local culture

Nick Maund 13-MAR-13 I would have thought this was obvious.

Yet more flats for short term gain.

You are KILLING Soho.

Soon nobody will want to live in your cramped ghastly overpriced flats because there will be nothing around there other than other cramped ghastly overpriced flats.

You'll do this anyway...you always do.....weasels.

Mr Leo Stitch 12-MAR-13 Fuck you.

The Intrepid Fox pub is a cornerstone of alternative entertainment for those who work nearby and a haven away from the millions of samey pop-playing bars of the East End for those who prefer to Rock and Roll.

It is our first port of call on a Friday evening with it's friendly staff, pleasant clientelle, amazing hardcore tunage and a reasonable price for a pint. Please don't take it away!!

Miss Vivien Sneesby
Miss Gabriella Persson

12-MAR-13
12-MAR-13

SAVE THE INTREPID FOX

I object to the loss of another central London live music venue following the recent loss of three notable venues in the very local area in recent years.

In principle the idea of affordable housing is great and I do support it but central London should be, and has to remain, a destination area. The places to go and the destination status of the area is being eroded and this should not be allowed.

Denmark Street and surrounding streets have long been the place for musicians to go, purchase and play their instruments but the current plans threaten to remove the venues surrounding the world famous streets.

James De Cort

20-MAR-13

Demolishing this iconic pub is yet another nail in the live music scene of London. Development in this area has already cost the music scene the London Astoria, and now it threatens this pub as well

Mr Andrew Collins Fender N 11-MAR-13

I strongly object to this application. The Intrepid Fox is an important part of the London music scene therefore has recreational value. London has plenty of empty buildings that can be used for housing I don't see how it needs to be an already occupied building.

Dagmar Slavik

12-MAR-13

I would like to register my strong objection to these plans. The Intrepid Fox is one of the few unusual and interesting venues left that caters to the Rock crowd in London.

We were distraught enough when we lost the Mean Fiddler/Astoria 2, please don't take this institution away from us as well.

Miss Kirsty L Warren

12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox is an important cultural site, and a place for people of all backgrounds to meet. It would be unthinkable to remove this diverse environment to replace it with yet more housing.

Mrs Clare Price

12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox is a longstanding musical establishment and a central meeting point for music industry personnel.

Mr Phil P Warren Phil Warren

12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox is the best pub in London, please leave it exactly where it is, thanks.

Mr Damien Hewetson

12-MAR-13

Venues like this are needed to allow a platform for new and upcoming bands/groups to be seen, and to develop. Without these venues our music industry will not continue to flourish, and wonderful opportunities will be missed to harness the new talent that is waiting to be spotted.

Mrs Angela W Marjoram
Mr Darren Spokes

12-MAR-13
12-MAR-13

Save this historic pub

		The Intrepid Fox is unique and valuable as such. It is a vibrant well loved venue for like minded music fans to meet and enjoy their passion. There are not many venues like this in London and those that do exist are rapidly being replaced by bars that do not and could not even attempt to create such a great atmosphere. Whilst it is understandable that there is a need to create more affordable housing it should not be at the expense of a place that brings so much joy and fulfillment to so many people from around this great city (and Europe). We should be ensuring we do not lose a characteristic, inspiring place. That would be a tragedy.
Miss Claire Dorrington	12-MAR-13	you can honestly knock down and get rid of such a great place with an amazing atmosphere for more flats, i get we need the housing but there has to be another settlement that would be better suited, rather than pulling down such a momentous place.
Miss danielle allen	12-MAR-13	Don't destroy culture.
Miss Laura L Murray	12-MAR-13	The intrepid fox offers a very unique experience as a bar in London, one that myself &amp; many colleagues go to many times during our visit from Birmingham it's almost a right of passage &amp; always part of our London itinerary! I really hope this does not fall on deaf ears or ones that do not understand the passion of this very unique Bar!! I wish to be informed of said decision !!
Mr Baz R Forrest M.D	12-MAR-13	The Fox is a very well known and popular alternative pub; It has been a strong venue for up and coming bands to get a foot in the door and it brings in tourism foot traffic from all over the UK and, indeed, the world.
		I strongly object to this redevelopment, as it would remove a central focus point of alternative and metal culture in London, as well as a well known landmark and gathering place.
Mr Richard D Bennett	12-MAR-13	why ?
Mr paul t chambers	12-MAR-13

To whom it may concern

The intrepid fox encourages hundreds of people to visit this area of the city every night. It generates customers for other establishments in the area for example food and taxi services. The bar is also at the heart of one of London's many diverse communities bringing people from all walks of life, different parts of the world and beliefs together through a love of music and the exhibition of young musical talent. I believe London prides itself on it's rich culture and The Intrepid Fox needs to be recognized as the center point and facilitator of large friendly gatherings of people to celebrate/perform/watch and spend more money in the area than a few residents could.

It is the responsibility of the people who make decisions about planning applications that the population of any city has access to a diverse range of entertainment and leisure. The loss of The Intrepid Fox as a live music venue and bar would leave a large void in central London for the people who go there. It would also dishearten many creative young people who would no longer hav

Mr Ben W Austwick

13-MAR-13

Please don't replace the Fox with housing. It's a place dear to many people's hearts. Many bands were given the opportunity to start out by playing there, the people you meet are amazing unique minded individuals and the Fox is an iconic bar for all of us.

Miss Natasha Fernier

13-MAR-13

Once again the public must run to the aid of important landmarks and music venues for which London is rightly revered.

Losing The Intrepid Fox would be a blight on the fringe and creative musical landscape famous the world over.

Surely there is a compromise position that can be found. As it stands I object to the current planning position.

Mr Gareth D` Wax

13-MAR-13

Ms Sue Fisher

13-MAR-13

Please don't shut down this wonderful venue :( Save the fox!!!!

Miss Kim Croucher

13-MAR-13

Absolutely not. The Intrepid Fox is one of the best bars in London for people part of the heavy metal sub-culture.

To lose this bar would be to lose something really special in London. The people there are friendly, they're unique and they host great nights promoting new and upcoming London talent. When places like this close, what suffers the most is the talented musicians who need a place to play so they can get their art out there. The Fox does this brilliantly and closing it down will hurt ordinary Londoners who are part of this subculture and hurt artists who are trying to spread their talent. It's about community!

I've also found it to be one of the safest and most welcoming bars I've ever been into in London. Although, I was once told off there because I was dressed TOO smartly! I had to take my tie off before they would serve me, but it was all in good humour.

I have never ever witnessed any drunken violence or illegal substances being used in the Fox, whereas I have in other places in the area. I was once there on a packed Saturday night when 4 police officers walked in (just doing the rounds, making s

Samuel Y Mezec None
Miss Stephanie Bird

12-MAR-13
12-MAR-13

Stop destroying what makes London great!
This must not be allowed to happen, this is a fantastic venue right by the heart of rock music by Denmark Street etc.. it has a superb community and many people travel from afar just to come to this pub! The developers must not be allowed to push the venue out or to demolish the property

Mr martin thompson

12-MAR-13

The Intrepid fox is used regularly by both local and visitors to the area...vital that it is kept open as a music venue

Ms lorna laird

12-MAR-13

Miss Cristina Raez Ruiz

12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox can not be demolished.

One of the best bars in London, does not deserve to be closed down

Mr Michael Cooke

12-MAR-13

This pub is the heart of the alternative network, it brings so many people to London; its the first place my friends and i head to on a trip down. It would be a massive shame for it to be demolished. Its a part of the alternative scenes history and should valued as that. Gigs and trips to London wont be the same without it. It needs to be kept!

Miss gem g hardy

12-MAR-13

Mrs Arianna Mandrillo

12-MAR-13

Objection !

OBJECTION!

It is a great public house!

Its been opened for 222 YEARS!

That surely says something!

That would literally be like demolishing a castle that's been around for 300 years, to build flats on it.

How can that make any sense at all!

This is a vital piece of history. It has stood the tests of time! It would be ripping away a part of England's history! How is that fair?

Famous celebrities of metal, Rock n Roll, Goth and Punk have Hung out in there! Some with us still and some sadly are not with us.

A LOT of my Friends have spent time in that pub, They could have CHOSE to go elsewhere, but something drew them to go into The Intrepid Fox. This is the comments they have said and told me to write down.

'Well they've had a number of great bands there, The atmosphere is always fun and friendly and we've always had a great time. The bar staff are always friendly and attentive and it's always busy'

Another friend said this

Miss Emma Jane Corrigan	12-MAR-13	'The the way it's decorated is amazing and your eyes are immediately drawn to it, It has an inviting space'
Mr Wayne Higginson	12-MAR-13	I vehemently oppose this development. The Intrepid Fox is part of the charm and culture of this area.
Miss Alice EK Herbert	12-MAR-13	Do not close down this London institution!
Lucy Robinson	12-MAR-13	This is one of a Kind and must remain open! I travel from reading just to visit this pub!
Mr Arturs AV Vaitilavics	12-MAR-13	this is unacceptable
		I oppose the closing of the intrepid Fox for housing development.
		Why do all places people to go for entertainment & relaxation always have to close to develop more housing which'll be stupidly priced & nobody but the rich can afford?
		There are far too many expensive housing developments being built in London at present (just look along the embankment for example).
		Not everybody likes going to the theatre or going into the massively overpriced bars & restaurants in the city & west end.
		Please please please keep the Intrepid Fox open as it provides much pleasure & a different form of entertainment for many many people.

Iain Ayre

13-MAR-13

Mr Mike Hall	12-MAR-13	I object to the demolition of a much loved venue, the Intrepid Fox for the provision of "affordable housing". By all means renovate the exterior, but we cannot afford to lose yet another venue in this area. Can we please stop destroying iconic and well liked West End locations?
Mr James Doggett	12-MAR-13	Don't close the Fox...
Miss cassandra albery	12-MAR-13	Building houses or flats would be dreadfull the intrepid fox is a landmark amd bring in people from everywhere.
Ms Fiona D Cahill	12-MAR-13	Object to intrepid fox being turned into a housing development Removing the Intrepid fox would remove a big draw to that area of london, it is a unique and wonderfully loved place that draws people not just from london but the surrounding area. Myself a resident of Hertfordshire often travel into london just to go to this
Mr James Spayne	12-MAR-13	wonderful place. This is a vibrant bar serving the much undervalued rock community of London &amp; the surrounding area with a rich history in music circles. If this was a run down,loss making pub in an area with urgent need for social housing then it would make sence but it's not!!!! The Intrepid Fox is a much loved beacon for many thousands of people including locals,not so
Mr Glenn Buckland	12-MAR-13	locals &amp; tourists alike.
		The Intrepid Fox is one of the last bastions of the rock and metal scene in London. Over the last 10 years we've lost nearly everything. The Astoria 1 and 2, Sin Night Club, Camden has turned so widely alternative it isn't a hub for anything anymore. The Intrepid Fox is all we've got left. It's famous nationwide as a gathering point for rock and metal fans across the country. It's a part of London's history. It's the heartbeat of a whole community, people who are like one big family who need a home. That home is the Fox. I've been bringing friends from across the UK to spend nights at ther Fox for years. I've spent my last few birthdays in this place. It's holy ground for us rock and metal people. A place we can celebrate our scene. One of the last places left. Don't take it away and tear it down to build
Mr Adam C Lineker	12-MAR-13	more souless purpose built housing. We need this more.
Mr Alexander Whitlock	14-MAR-13	This pub is a great little part of town that needs to be preserved Simply one of the best bars in London. Situated perfectly too. It would be a travesty if we lost such a good bar, we have already
Mr Andy Taylor	14-MAR-13	lost the Astoria. There are all ready too many people in this country, address the population control before you destroy key parts of the
Miss Emma Wagner	12-MAR-13	community.

		I have worked in the West End of London for the past twelve years and while it is still an interesting place, with developments like this it will soon end up being as boring as Kensington or the Kings Road. Surely there should be more to town planning than making money. The Intrepid Fox has already been forced to move once. There is nowhere else like it in the area and it's loss would make the whole of the St Giles are a much less interesting place.
Mr Alexander V Potts	12-MAR-13	This is a classic venue and should be a listed building, There are not enough alternative bars as it is and destroying it, is
Mr Jack M Walsh Skin Inkorç	12-MAR-13	destroying an icon of the generation. Places like The Fox are becoming extinct, making way for main stream bars trendy clubs, flats etc. Rock, metal, grunge, alternative music and it's followers is something to be proud Of, it's who people are. Places like The Fox help people feel comfortable with who they are Instead of feeling like they have to fit in with The trendy scene. It's so important to keep this
Miss Sonja K Fuller	13-MAR-13	Place open.
Dr Michael Pediaditakis	13-MAR-13	Interpid fox is as iconic to London as Big Ben. Please think twice before taking it down.
Mr Mikel Martinez	13-MAR-13	Keep on rocking Intrepid Fox!
		This bar hosts an entire community of people. Demolishing it would be disregarding an entire community and subculture that exists in London. It caters for a niche audience that want to enjoy rock music which is so embedded in the culture and history of London. Housing should not be the priority of this area, as this bar is situated near the Soho a which is primarily a socialising part of town. I only frequent one or two bars in London, The Intrepid Fox being the primary one as it is so
Miss Jenny Finn	12-MAR-13	welcoming, interesting and a hub of entertainment.
Mr erden turgay	12-MAR-13	Objection this is an amazing bar to socialise and hang out with mates the staff are awesome and provide a great atmosphere I oppose of this, killing a well loved pub to build yet more
Mr Chris Finch	12-MAR-13	expensive houses near Oxford Street.
Miss Jessica J Eyre	12-MAR-13	Just no.
Pablo Sierra	12-MAR-13	This is the best bar in all London.
Miss PARIS ANDREA	12-MAR-13	Please don't turn such a brilliant venue into housing. The Intrepid Fox is a landmark for the heavy metal and hard rock community.
Pedro Gomes	12-MAR-13	It must now go down in history.

Soho is known for two things, the gay community and the rock community. It's beautiful that these two groups of people can survive next to each other in a world where they are expected to hate one another.

By knocking down the Intrepid Fox, there will be an adverse effect on economy in the area. Tin Pan Alley, Decadence, Crobar, The Borderline, all these historic landmarks of the area thrive on the draw of The Intrepid Fox. By making this landmark, which has been in the area for years now, disappear you are conflicting with the character of the area. Soho and Tottenham Court Road is known for being an area of business, not an area to live. It creates an imbalance of jobs to homes in the area and threatens the vitality of the area.

Mrs Jeanette Hegarty
saskia sdj de jager

12-MAR-13

12-MAR-13

objection

More houses = more people = more strain on reduced resources. Stop trying to fit every bugger into London!

Rebecca Meadows

12-MAR-13

The intrepid fox is a relevant cultural icon, not to mention a place of seclusion and speciality for a particular group of people.

There are very few establishments dedicated to the rock/alt/metal scene and to remove this is tantamount to destroying a church for a great many of us who like to have our last corner of sanctuary where we can enjoy a night to suit our tastes.

Mr Paul Gravett

12-MAR-13

There are THOUSANDS of other bars in London that cater for more 'vanilla' tastes. Do not remove one of the last places that we feel at home in.

Dr Julien Cornebise
Joanna Lipska

13-MAR-13

12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox is a place of culture and should not be shut down.

objection! Intrepid Fox has so stay where it is

The Intrepid Fox is an important venue, highly valued, in a time when too many of this type of venue have closed.

Mr Matthew P Hazle n/a

12-MAR-13

Miss Hypatia Feliu

12-MAR-13

This place is a London icon, tourists from all over the world always make a stop at the intrepid fox bar as part of their route. The area has already been destroyed thanks to Crossrail, taking out all the music venues we grew up with, there's nowhere else for us to go to in the area. Don't get rid of the Fox, it has a lot of history, and is a big tourist attraction. The area will lose even more money than it has already, and ultimately will cause more shops to shutdown in the area.

Mr Ross Tovell

12-MAR-13

Objection against demolishing the Intrepid Fox.

This is a valuable place for the music scene, and as it is so close to Denmark Street, it has to stay.

There are so many other places, where you can build the flats on, we do NOT want the Intrepid Fox disappearing and replaced by some silly housing estate. We want our Intrepid Fox and we will keep this petition very active.

Every day, the Fox serves hundreds of customers, tourists flock there from all over the world.

Do you really want to lose a musical tourist attraction, risk jobs and happy customers, just in order to create some silly posh flats? Is it really worth it? I do not think so and therefore, a big petition has been started, to save our Intrepid Fox.

This is the only place in Central London where one can enjoy good music, a great atmosphere and meet interesting characters. It is also one of the few live music venues in the area.

Do not destroy this musical landmark.

Objection to the closure of the intrepid fox

This pub is an important establishment serving the needs of a very large and loyal community of punters. Shutting it down will be the sad and unnecessary loss of a great part of central London.

I believe the Intrepid Fox is a unique venue which is incredibly valuable to its community which not only come from all over the country, but all over the world to experience,

Objection to the building of flats and knocking down of what is already there and is part of the community, an area I always visit

According to current proposals Denmark Street and the surrounding area thereof are to be returned to a thriving center of London's music scene. A principal part of this very area involves the local alternative music scene. It therefore appears entirely counterproductive to remove a well established music venue/social space pertaining to this community.

Furthermore, affordable housing can and should be provided.

Albeit in a much more appropriate setting than the rather busy location of New Oxford Street, within the redevelopment of Tottenham Court Road Station.

Too many entertainment venues in central London being turned into other types of use.

Don't close my Favorite pub! I'll be very sad... you already closed the Mean Fiddler!

Mrs Claudia CB Bauch Cust: 12-MAR-13

Mr Keith Foggon 12-MAR-13

Ms Ange I mcdonald barony 12-MAR-13

gemma smith 12-MAR-13

Mr Tim I 12-MAR-13

Mr Kristian Boyes 12-MAR-13

Miss Elizabeth M Colyer 12-MAR-13

Ms Nina Dominikowski 12-MAR-13

Mr Philip Lunn 12-MAR-13

Mr Sam Dunthorne 12-MAR-13

I strongly object to the building which houses the Intrepid Fox being used for other purposes.

Miss Kathryn Rosier	12-MAR-13	We need to keep this much loved venue.
Mr Dan Goddard	12-MAR-13	Fox is the best place in london. Grown up with it, i fully object to keep lobdon unique and full of different cultures and vibrate city not uniform ewe need london to stand out and a place for people who are diffrent to socialise. Camden cant be camden borough without rock venues .
Miss lucy la jinks	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a thriving establishment with a a very large and long standing customer base and a great history.
Mr Des V Glass	14-MAR-13	There are little or no music centric pubs left in central London, and to lose this one with it's rich musical history would be a travesty.
		The Intrepid Fox is a very popular and well loved place for a certain music demographic and is even a tourist destination to those who want to see metal themed bars outside of Camden Town.
		Destroying this for housing would be an abomination and I strongly oppose it.
		There are other places to generate homes, this area of London needs to preserve areas that matter and make money. Every weekend and even on weekdays this place is crammed with people enjoying themselves and security ensure we behave, refurbish the building but don't knock it down to make housing!!!
Miss stacey green	13-MAR-13	This is a terrible idea.
Jenni Dugdale	13-MAR-13	I'm writing to say how important The Intrepid Fox pub is as a bit of authentic old soho and I totally oppose it's being pulled down
Ms Elizabeth C Wood	13-MAR-13	to make way for more housing.
		This establishment is a landmark for the alternative community. It is the first place I visited in London and has remained one of my favourite nights out for years.
Miss Charlie E Ord	13-MAR-13	There would be total outrage if this plan were to be approved let alone the added complication of good people losing their jobs.

The Intrepid Fox has long been a focal point for the alternative community within London. Indeed, it has attracted international visitors. The availability of a live music scene is an important cultural and financial asset to any town, as Feargal Sharkey said

"A successful live music venue, theatre or museum can pull in an audience from miles around. But it isn't just the one venue that benefits.

Local restaurants, bars and shops will all profit from a greater number of people visiting the area - people who might not have gone otherwise" <http://gu.com/p/xgb2p>.

Miss J Clewlow	12-MAR-13	London is in need of such social venues to give its people a sense of community and well-being.
Mr rhys I thomas none	12-MAR-13	Would mean removing a landmark london bar, the intrepid fox OK, I'm currently overseas but use this venue every time I'm back in London. There are fewer and fewer live venues in London catering for smaller bands and the rock music fraternity as it is. This is a great place and should not be allowed to be closed down.
Mr Graham Flaherty	12-MAR-13	YOU CAN'T DO THIS!!!
Mrs Giovanni Luca GLN Nap	12-MAR-13	I SAY NO!!
Miss Michelle Nevill	12-MAR-13	I object to this plan to destroy yet another music venue in London
Mr Mark Reeve	12-MAR-13	It would be criminal to lose the Intrepid Fox pub!
Mr S Z	12-MAR-13	This should not go ahead.
Mr Daniel Hamilton	12-MAR-13	This place is my go to bar, and one of the only good places left in London.
emma anderson	12-MAR-13	Don't destroy The Fox!
Marion Costa	12-MAR-13	My whole Londonner social life is due to the Intrepid Fox. The Intrepid Fox has long been a magnet for lovers of live music. To redevelop the site into housing would detract from the spirit of culture which London is famous for.
Mr Rik Pease	12-MAR-13

It seems the inner city crawl and destruction of prime musical and entertainment landmarks is upon us again.

There's been far too many closures of seminal drinking holes and entertainment venues in central london over the past 5 years, by building on the seats of these establishments property magnates are sucking the life out of these once savvy streets of London and forcing people out of their social 'homes from home'.

This all adds to the catastrophic homogenisation of the 'high street', adds to this horrid 'brand world' most towns and this city prescribes to be in the UK and adds to the pockets of the crooked serial property business magnate.

What have the Candy bros done for London? Apart from made more characterless buildings for the foreign rich to buy and keep empty or to buy to wash their money in.

By turning this plot into another high profit, high-rise for the rich you are letting the moral-free businesses rise and prosper in the face of the majority of londoners.

Nick Clement	13-MAR-13	I oppose. There a so few genuine bars like The Intrepid Fox around anymore. All you ever see are the big chains dominating the high streets. The atmosphere and community spirit found in The Intrepid Fox is second to none, and the Soho area of London
Mr Ben E Gosling	12-MAR-13	would be a far worse place without it. Please do not remove the Intrepid Fox from the site where it sits. It is the only truly cultured and long standing place in London that offers what it does to it's customers. It truly is one of a kind, and removing it would be detrimental to retaining the history and culture of this City.
Mr Darren Gibbard	12-MAR-13	I regularly attend the Intrepid Fox, and would not consider visiting any other site for my leisure activities; a feeling shared by many of it's customers without a doubt. I object to the development of this site. The fox is well known across the globe. I have met Aussies, kiwis, yanks, swedes, Danish, Germans and many other nationalities that have visited the fox and loved it. A fantastic venue for London and for all
Mr Darrell M Green London	12-MAR-13	those bands that play there. Do not close the fox!!!  I strongly object to this development of the Intrepid Fox public house in Soho. London is an ancient city and part of its strong appeal, to tourists and people from around the UK, is its strong history. This is gradually being eroded by developers who will suck the life out of the city. The Intrepid Fox is always busy, even over the past 4 years and is a draw for tourists and visiting celebrities from all over the world.
Ms Danielle Lane	12-MAR-13	Keep the Fox and don't turn London into a bland city!!!

Mr Mark Stuart	12-MAR-13	We need the fox! Sop killing real london We must keep the Intrepid Fox open, its a huge part of London's alternative scene and has been a fantastic place for many years.
Mr Jason Lord	12-MAR-13	Stop closing and changing some of London's famous places. I object to the above proposal for two main reasons. Firstly, there are surplus council properties in Camden (albeit neglected and under financed by the council - perhaps th council should focus on maintaining their current properties!) and therefore the argument for there to be affordable homes is obtuse. Secondly, there IS a need for a range of businesses and entertainment in the area, particularly with the loss of the Astoria. For the area to be economically sound, the council needs to attract a range of customers, and redeveloping The Fox will cut out a large customer base who also contribute to the wider Camden economy.
Miss Georgette L Nummelin	12-MAR-13	The area is slowly losing all it's musical heritage. Having lost the Astoria club nearby, the Intrepid Fox is one of a handful of bars/venues in central London which has already been moved from it's original location is a popular place for a variety of alternative people who help create the cosmopolitan atmosphere of London.
Mr Michael Crowe	12-MAR-13	Objection
Miss Nikki Whitlock	12-MAR-13	This is a fantastic unique pub with a great niche. This isn't just &amp;quot;yet another weatherspoons&amp;quot; but a place of cultural significance. Whilst I am not a Camden resident, I am a frequent visitor to this area for both work and social activities. Please consider my comments below. It is my opinion that the displacement of local businesses related to this application will adversely affect the area concerned. Denmark Street and surround are a hive of activity for the music industry, and the change in character will damage this long standing reputation and reduce trade, both in the goods and service sectors. I would happily receive communication on this subject...
Mr Tom Butler	12-MAR-13	Many thanks, Craig T This area as it is, is of interest to many. The Intrepid Fox is a pub where many meet from around the country and is one of the few 'alternative' pubs left in the city centre.
Mr Craig Taylor	12-MAR-13	More housing not required in this area whereas a legendary venue is ! You've already killed the Astoria :( Always visit when down there.
Miss Carrie Abraham	12-MAR-13	This is a bad idea... Save the Fox!
Mr Carey L Merrison UK1stc	12-MAR-13	Save the Intrepid Fox!
Mr Tim D Pearse	12-MAR-13
Hazel Stenner	12-MAR-13

		I I regualrly visit the intrepid fox and would feel that a valuable piece of cultural and social history has been lost if it was redeveloped into houses. Not only does provide a valuable social meeting point but it is a very lucrative business which offeres
Mr Ben Burhouse	12-MAR-13	fantastic levels of entertainment.
		The Intrepid Fox is a much loved landmark. It would be a sad
Mrs Francesca Wise	12-MAR-13	shame to turn it into housing.
AISSA PESQUEIRA	12-MAR-13	Don't tear down the fox.
Miss rachel cavalier	12-MAR-13	OBJECTION
		The Intrepid Fox is a unique & brilliant place and it's
Anthony Chalmers	12-MAR-13	removal for expensive flats will be a loss to the area.
		This pub is nerver a newsance to the surrounding area. Always maintains a respect for the surrounding area. It has 2 doormen james mack	12-MAR-13	minimum at the weekend. Is safe and well managed
		This venue atracts people from all over the world. And has been host to thousands of great live shows .its a great meeting place for people of all walks of life ..Dont close this great place of
Mr dean d robson	12-MAR-13	british music history
		PLease do not destroy another music venue/pub in London.
		This is a hub for the whole alternative community in London. It means so much to us. Even though I have now moved out of London I still frequent this place on my return visits to the capital. People from all over the country often gather here for
Miss Maria Flynn	12-MAR-13	socials, before and after concerts etc.
		I am in strong objection to the above proposed developments.
		The Intrepid Fox is a home away from home for many Londoners. This would be breaking up a community. I strongly disagree with this proposal. This building has legendary status among our community of family and friends. NO to
Mr James D Holifield	12-MAR-13	redevelopment!!!!
Miss Marie R Brown	12-MAR-13	Dont shut the fox
James Wright	12-MAR-13	Objection
Miss Nana E	12-MAR-13	It's a shame you ant to destroy something as iconic as this bar. I strongly oppose the destruction of a beloved and and iconic site and institution. The music scene doesn't need to be
Sarika Rice	12-MAR-13	destroyed anymore.
		This bar is one of the very few places left you can go to and experience the alternative nightlife. First we had a bunch of clubs taken away from us and now the bars? It's beyond ridiculous. Are you trying to drive alternative culture out of
Mr Jake Slisz	12-MAR-13	central london?!?!?
Mr Aaron Boggs	12-MAR-13	NO!!!
		This is my favourite spot in London. I can't imagine nightlife
Mrs Maria Walker	12-MAR-13	without it!
Mr Marco Pala	12-MAR-13	It's the best pub in London!!!
		Whilst I filly appreciate that space is at a premium in London, the Intrepid Fox is one of London's most diverse bars and is a place most people who've ever visited hold in great sentimental
Mrs Laura Robinson	12-MAR-13	regard.

The current location of "The Intrepid Fox" bar has significant historic and cultural relevance. London has been stripped of Rock and Heavy Metal venues over the last few years, including the legendary Marquee club and the Astoria Theatre which was demolished to make way for a crossrail station. Both of these were situated in Charring Cross Road and no equivalent alternative has been supplied although promises were made by government that this would be addressed. This has meant all suitable venues in London are situated in North London meaning anyone situated south of the river Thames has longer and more expensive travelling to suitable equivalent venues, and having to leave early to get the last trains home. The Intrepid fox has been historicity relevant to the Rock/Alternative scene in London, being first situated in Soho and moving to the end of Denmark street (Tin Pan Alley - a major historic landmark for musicians all over the world). Its history has been associated with major label artists for the last 25 years. The sad fact is that the venues, bars and sites left in Lc

Mrs Helen A Piczak	12-MAR-13	Any attempt to convert this area to "affordable housing" Leave the intrepid Fox alone, stop destroying everything that is interesting about London!
Mr Kevin Wakefield	12-MAR-13	This pub is a landmark that brings people into what is left of Tottenham Court Road.
Mr John J Kinsella	12-MAR-13	I ave some of te most fun and memory making nights in te fox and would hate to see it made into houses!
Miss nikola m kersten	13-MAR-13	I object to the plan. The Intrepid Fox is one of the best and unfortunately very few pubs left for rock lovers.
Mr Enrique Joga	13-MAR-13	It is a much loved bar and an integral part of London life in that area. Please can we keep these places instead of wiping out the good old stuff and replacing it with new builds. Its these places that make people want to visit London.
Miss Connie Ginsberg	13-MAR-13	Soon there will only be places to live and work, and nowhere for leisure time. This development has to be stopped.
David Bromley	13-MAR-13	Objection - it's well loved venue with genuine character, great atmosphere and good location - should not be changed/removed/moved in any way
Ms Chloe E Phipps	13-MAR-13	Objection to redevelopment of centrepoin tower, which will take away yet another music venue to add to the list dwindling cultural centres in north and central london to which this venue(the intrepid fox )and the run of denmark st are the last remaining few
Mr Richard Grealish	13-MAR-13
Terry Jackson	13-MAR-13	The fox is far too important to the community to be demolished This is a travesty. The Intrepid Fox is a vital part of the London Metal community and would be an absolute disgrace if this bar was lost. There must be Brownfield sites available within the borough available for development
Professor Jimmy Bull	13-MAR-13

I'm very disappointed when I heard the news that another great Rock/Heavy Metal pub could end up going because another bunch of flats for people that don't even use them let alone the fact who'd wanna pay over-expensive rent.

Leave the Intrepid Fox alone, it's one of the only Rock/Metal pubs left besides the Devonshire Arms(The Hobgoblin in Camden). Centre Point is throwing out a community of people out of one of the only Metal/Rock pubs left in London.

London is suppose to be a city of equals, not a city where it screws over it's own community for some lackluster over expensive restaurants or flats. Is our so called "fine" community going to fuck a whole community of rockers and metallers alike for a god damn percentage!

Mr Mark Churchill

12-MAR-13

I strongly object to the idea that the Intrepid Fox be turned into 'affordable housing'. London is already running out of genuine, alternative music venues.

Mr Harry A Richmond

12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox is part of our country's heritage and should be preserved.

Antonia B Jacobs

12-MAR-13

Miss Niki Maccorquodale

12-MAR-13

I completely object!! Save the intrepid fox!

Mr Mark Vink

12-MAR-13

I strongly object to this proposal and the demolition plans, AND the affordable housing plans!

Objection. One of the best pubs in london will be destroyed in a bid to build houses in an unsuitable area to live . Keep. Pubs alive.

Mr Robert Valentine

12-MAR-13

This bar is famous even outside UK not just in London. There are not too many of this kind of bars directed to a certain style of audience. When the place is full every evening there is absolutely no point in changing the place. It fits the vicinity perfectly but living in this building: no. Changing it to housing is not a fruitful nor sustainable direction of development.

Miss Heli Kortetmäki

12-MAR-13

Interprid fox cannot disappear from streets of London, there are way too many people who are ydt to experience the fox. It is a beacon for rock n roll music and culture in London. There is no alternative.

Mr benas drabavicius

12-MAR-13

Laura Belial

12-MAR-13

Intrepif fox must survive!

Please don't shut down this pub! It's one of only a few alternative/ metal bars around. Have had many a great night here. Don't make us hang out in a Wetherspoons or O'Neills pleeeasse!

Miss Emmeline Macedo

12-MAR-13

The area in question is a popular social area not only for local people but tourists / visitors from out of town . It has always appeared very popular . A very welcoming establishment . A very characteristic & unique part of town it would be a

Kimberley Pearson

12-MAR-13

Mr Simon D Azari EE

12-MAR-13

shame for this to be lost.

Don't close the intrepid fox!!

Miss Rebecca Carberry WZI	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a much loved London institution and I know they host charity events and are community minded. Why can the affordable housing not be in the Centre Point building? Hello, Intrepid Fox is one of only few alternative places in London. It has an amazing atmosphere and it is absolutely unique! It will be really shame to loose the place like that!!! It is almost all the time full with great interesting people! Safe the Intrepid Fox.
Miss Mikaela Pavlovic	13-MAR-13	Thank you.
Dr Helena Tellez	13-MAR-13	Mikaela Objection Objection - This bar has a lot of history and is still frequented by a lot of alternative Londoners. It would be a shame to relocate the bar. This is a hopeless cause I am sure.
Roxanne Butler	13-MAR-13	They destroyed the Astoria, the fabulous venue latterly known as Sin which the BBC concert orchestra broadcasted from in the 1920s... you're not going to save a pub are you? It's like you all hate the people that actually give Soho any character and you just want more Costa and Subways. Turn London into a soul-less husk and see how long the tourists come.
Mr Mark SJ Ridley	13-MAR-13	We're all doomed. No need to ruin a successful and niche establishment with a fond clientele. Theres plenty of space elsewhere to build,
Mr B Palmer	13-MAR-13	hackney for example. Objection against the redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox site. That venue is a touristic spot for people all over the globe and recently relocated, and probably the most famous rock bar in London. It would be a great loss for the city.
Miss Chiara Cerami	13-MAR-13
Miss Amanda Steele	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a much loved venue that has been successfully running for many years. After the disasterous move to turn the former Intrepid Fox in Soho into flats which never happened can we really justify trying to do the same now? It's a valued part of the music scene around &amp;quot;tin pan alley&amp;quot;.
Adam Harris	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a London ICON and should be PRESERVED. NOT redeveloped. This is a horrible idea. I think it is appalling the fact that people want to get rid of something that has been around for a long time, this place is amazing and it needs to stay !!!!!!!
Ms Lisa Gallimore	12-MAR-13

		Why plan to change an area of London that thrives in it's business when there are SO many areas that NEED development. The Intrepid Fox is the pub I classify as my local, as do so many other people from around London. It is the one pub that all alternative people want to visit when they come to London (UK dwellers and Foreign Visitors). Stop destroying
Miss Jacqueline Taylor	12-MAR-13	good business. The intrepid Fox is one of the few saving graces of alternative culture and to take that away from the ppl for the sake of greed
Adam Clarkson	12-MAR-13	is some what Evil.
Mr Jules Grommers	12-MAR-13	The Fox is internationally renowned and must be saved!
		The Intrepid Fox is a bit of a legendry pub among music fans visiting London and should be saved as it is. I travel to London regularly to see live music and the night is always started or ended at the Intrepid Fox as it is a renown meeting point and
Nigel B Taylor	12-MAR-13	helps bring togther visitors to London from all over the world. OBJECTION I frequently use this proper character pub to meet friends as do others. There aren't many proper non chain pubs
Mr Roy R Marks	12-MAR-13	left
Mr joe a bins	12-MAR-13	Do not make the the intrepid fox into housing This is an absolute outrage! The Intrepid Fox public House must be saved. The pub and the venue are iconic and world renowned!!!! I have met people from all over the world who have visited the venue! These people have visited on recommendations from word of mouth and international websites that advertise the Intrepid Fox as one of London's premier alternative drinking and socialising venue. There have been numerous famous bands to visit. The pub also hosts and helps to promote local bands. I am a Londoner and you would need to travel far and look wide for a pub of this caliber!! From the venue its self to the decor it is an amazing site. I have been a patron since the first day it opened its doors. You would be robbing the area of an alternative venue for friends and industry members from networking. The venue brings national and international revenue to the area! Why is London so keen to destroy iconic buildings and venues from the music map! The Astoria and Mean Fiddler being demolished was a major blow to
Mr Rhys Cabbage	12-MAR-13	fans of rock music in the area and now we are being targeted ag;
		I object to the plasn to redevelop the Intripd fox,its a place for alternative culture and way of life if it weret to be closed would be persecuting alternative music and lifestyle, espically after
Daniel V Marriott	12-MAR-13	closer of the astoria,fire in camden and other such events. Although London is in desperate need of more housing (especially affordable housing), the Intrepid Fox is part of the character of the area and it's redevelopment would be
Mr Luke Giddings	12-MAR-13	detrimental to the borough.

The Intrepid Fox is one of the very few bars of this type in downtown London, and probably the most popular. It is a great venue and a great place for music lovers and musicians to meet. It is also just opposite of Denmark Street's music stores. Closing the Fox would not only affect it's owners and customers, but also the street's entire atmosphere. Number of acts started or first met there and more popular ones still often come around to perform or share a drink.

Kevin Tinland
Mr Milosz Stawarski
Mr Sean p O'Brien
Mrs Keri Spain

13-MAR-13
13-MAR-13
14-MAR-13
12-MAR-13

objection
I do not wish to be contacted
Objection

I love this bar! This is where I met many of my good friends, kissed my boyfriend for the first time many years ago! Everyone who goes there knows everyone else - it's a community and the Fox is the heart of it. (Not the Crobar! Don't make us have to all fit in there!) And everyone knows and loves the staff; the Fox is our extended family. I am sure many will agree - I can go to the Fox on a weekend night alone and guarantee to meet up with friends without pre-arranging it. There are few places in Central London that offer this kind of homely association.

But aside from this -- the Fox is the music based character of Tottenham Court Road. It's referenced in We Will Rock You... it's as much part of the lifeblood of the scene as Denmark Street is -- you want to make the area more music-centric, so don't build houses -- you've built enough apartment buildings there! Keep the soul of central London alive with the fire in its belly of the place we all gravitate to no matter where we've been on a night out; the place we have established a community of like-

Miss Natalie V Rooke
Mr Jon Ribbens
Miss Sorcha G Holland
Mrs Sophie SL Lewis

12-MAR-13
12-MAR-13
12-MAR-13
12-MAR-13

minded souls... Don't judge us for our leather jackets and alterna
I strongly object to any planning application which involves the closure of the Intrepid Fox.
This bar is the only one of it's kind that I've found, can't believe they'd even contemplate closing it down? Ridiculous.
Objection

The Intrepid Fox is an iconic bar of London, a landmark in the metal music scene. It would be a great loss for the metal scene and for the music scene of London in general if it wasn't there

Romulo Soares

12-MAR-13

anymore...
As a regular of the Intrepid Fox and someone who has worked in the West End for the past 8 years I feel I have the right to kindly request you reconsider your decision to rezone the premises for housing. It seems a short sighted decision to raise revenues and a band aid solution to a much larger housing shortage in the Burroughs of Camden.

Mr jerome I Mazandarani Ma
Mrs Anneka D Lundin

12-MAR-13
12-MAR-13

Objection
The Intrepid Fox is an important community pub and one of the few like it left anywhere in England

Mr Jacobus J Bickell

12-MAR-13

Miss zahra z ozkan	12-MAR-13	Would be a devastating loss to many who have shared good memories at the intrepid Fox, popular with tourists coming to London, you would be taking away something very important to the soul of the area
Sean Fleming	12-MAR-13	This is a timeless venue, that is one of the very few remaining bastions of good music. You cannot destroy it.
Mr Rory A Matheson	12-MAR-13	Please don't destroy one of the night spots that makes the area good.

This is an objection to planning application listed above.

Once again, the Council looks to redevelop metal/ alternative/ rock venues for housing and 'city type' establishments. Meanwhile, the places that do cause trouble remain open.

This pub has already been forced out of it' original home and now gets threatened again.

Mr Allan G Dade Musician	12-MAR-13	I sincerely hope that the planning committee will see the damage that closing such venues down will do to the artistic, varied and musical area that north Soho truly is.
Mr erik bottaro	12-MAR-13	andate avanti!
Mr Andrew Miller	12-MAR-13	This application will destroy one of the best bars in the city, please stop turning this city into a ghetto of crass commercialism.
		There's no more 'retail and restaurant' needed in the West End, is there? This should be about NEED, not GREED. There IS a NEED the Intrepid Fox, which is a world-renowned alternative music venue.

'Residential' use: (meaning for rich people, therefore an alienating force). NO wider benefit. 'Affordable housing' is usually a scam to get planning permission, so I reject the obvious argument that this is about helping those in need. There's so much other land-space that could be used, like around Kings Cross and Holborn, instead of a desert of industrial and station buildings, perhaps? Or, in the spirit of need not-greed: why can't all the houses be 'affordable', in lieu of council houses which aren't being built? Isn't Centre Point supposed to be the name of a charity dedicated to fighting homelessness?

Edward Murphy n/a (person	13-MAR-13	Any time I walk the area in question, I suffer because of the lack of natural daylight due to the hi-rise office buildings that have been built next door. They offer NOTHING to anyone, nothing of inherent value, in my opinion. Why encourage abuse of the More housing is needed, but not at the expense of another
Miss Emma L Proctor	12-MAR-13	superb venue when so many are already closing down.

I really dont understand why people want to destroy a piece of the identity of London.

i dont understand why they want to make London a city like many others and dont keep it for what it really is, a fascinating and magical city for many reasons.. but one of the biggest one is for its music culture!!!!!!

So why they have to remove this venue from the map of the most cool places in London??for build something better than this?? dont think so!!!

Lots of people who really love London dont come here just for have shopping and look for mall or similar useless things, but for breathe its air full of freedom, music and art..and there's all this things in that area!!

Miss elisa em marconi	12-MAR-13	so..i didn't get the point!! i really hope nothing will change!! The importance of the Intrepid Fox cannot be dismissed. It is a unique location for people who do not fit into the 'ordinary' perception of society. To remove this bar which is as much as a tourist destination as well as a regular meeting place for those into alternative music, would be a great loss to the area, as well as to the individuals that use it. therefore I object to the
Mr matt liddy	12-MAR-13	development plans on these grounds.
Megan Williams	12-MAR-13	Leave the Intrepid Fox be I am writing because I object to turning the bar, The Intrepid Fox, into housing. Places like this are the cultural capital of our
Ms Jamian Wetlaufer	12-MAR-13	capital, and shouldn't be destroyed. This would seriously damage both the cultural and social aspects of the area, and also the Rock and Heavy Metal music scene in London, which has a long tradition within the area with
Mr Thomas Cullum	12-MAR-13	bars like Crobar, and others nearby. This will further erode real London culture and it is not a welcome move by me. Yes people need places to live but when people are left with nothing to do where they live then what is the point anyway? Flats have already destroyed once vibrant local cultures in many other areas around London, please don't
Mr Glyn Dimond	12-MAR-13	let it happen here now too This pub is now one of the only metal/rock places to go and chill out in London, please stop tearing these places down for homes...we do not need more unaffordable homes in London for rich wankers to enjoy, we need to keep London the way it is, as a place for people to go out, have fun and enjoy the culture. Too many landmarks have been torn down in the name of
Miss Gemma Cordner Ame	12-MAR-13	"development" in that area; The Mean Fiddler, The Astoria, Sin Club among many other small businesses just to "improve" Tottenham Court Road station so that people can travel with ease to the West End which is now being made into flats, Please do not take this place away from us as well!

		Do not close the Intrepid Fox! Do not close the musical instrument shops! These are vital to many musicians & the area is famous because of them! Stop ruining Our city! I have no problem with centre point hse being turned back into housing as long as it's cheap accommodation for the poor. But leave the lower floors & surrounding shops & pub alone. They are vital to the community as a whole & taking them away jessica j Sinclair	12-MAR-13	would be detrimental to the area Thie Intrepid Fox is integral to the London-wide alternative community and provides a place to socialise for people who 'look' different who may be refused entry to other venues based on how they look. It also carries a huge amount of history with it as far as bands and personalities who cite it as 'where they
Mr Nick Southall	12-MAR-13	started'.
		the recent housing erected close to the sight has spoiled the capitals character. The site that is now being threatened with a similar vandalism is a historical part of London's bar and music culture. The Intrepid Fox pub is the core of a large local music community and utilized by hundreds of thousands of tourists. I
Mr Thomas J Holden	12-MAR-13	oppose this proposed building strongly. Please don't turn this into developments....Objection
annelise harris	12-MAR-13
		I am writing to object to plans to turn the local Bar, the Intrepid Fox in to housing. Although the area dose need housing, choice community night spots that cater for live music are important too. They often give the area it's character and are the reason why people want to move to an area. London is a diverse city and too many of it's best venues have been forced to close since the ban on smoking came in due to the change in social
Mr Mervyn Diese	12-MAR-13	habits. It would be really sad to loose another.
		One of the last places of its kind. The quick and bland remake of london's gathering points threatens the collective imagination and creative en devours. The proposed planning permission is 2 a penny in this city and i feel we should all take pride in such places as the intrepid fox which people the world round come to London for.
Alex Cawkwell	12-MAR-13
		I know that this building has been a great attraction for both tourists as well as Londoners alike. Would be appalled to see
Miss Kiran Bhuller	12-MAR-13	such a well known landmark within London be demolished.

The Intrepid Fox is an very popular venue in London for artists I work with, and one of the last truly independent venues (as opposed to pubs that do 'a bit of music', or chains in Camden).

Camden was a hub for culture, but now, following some misfortune (fires and the like) and deliberate action by planners, it is losing this status and purely becoming a 'party town', and as a result, the tourist trade will suffer. I used to be in Camden 3 nights a week; as a result of the recent changes I rarely visit any more, and have moved the artists I represent to South London, where a fantastic scene is growing out of Camden's decline in this respect.

Mr Ric P Rodriguez	12-MAR-13	By all means, I understand housing is important, but at the cost of one of the capital's landmark, iconic places, I think its worth putting to one side. The Intrepid Fox is a place for like-minded people to gather and talk over a drink. Do we really need to replace it with more apartments for people who have no grasp on the realities of money? Taking away one of the last privileges of the working class, only to brandish the ugly face of capitalism? No. This is why I object. I'm fed up of fancy developments, coffee shops and everything else taking away businesses run independently, by people who are genuinely passionate about what they do, not just the pound signs. Yours,
Mr Andy Whittle	12-MAR-13	Andy
Mr John Sanford	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a London landmark. It provides a usefull venue for social interaction and must be preserved. You will soon have no places left to bring in sensible revenue - it'll all be housing - no more is needed!!!!
Mr John Osborne	12-MAR-13	Save our heritage and watering holes Please do not let this go ahead &amp; keep the Intrepid Fox as it is.
Miss Lucy Hoyer	12-MAR-13	it is.
Mr ben darby	13-MAR-13	don't close the fox! As a patron of the premises of the Intrepid Fox and having seen the devastation to local and larger businesses by the planning works that have been going on, I am no longer willing to stand back and say nothing.
Miss Jaqueline M Petersen	13-MAR-13	If the local council wants people to keep coming to Soho, London, etc...they need to keep the places there that have helped put social aspects of it on the map. Important to keep live music venues going for local business,
Miss Mandy Buxton	13-MAR-13	bands and punters.

The Fox is not just a bar, it is a meeting place and a safe haven for many. For some, it is their first introduction to the metal scene in London. Not only that, it is famous throughout the world. The fact its already had to move once is bad enough.

Given the destruction the London Rock and Metal scene has had in the years since The Astoria, Metro and half of Charling Cross Road (a project in which there was a thought to rebuild a music venue to replace The Astoria. And yet, we are still left with a building site) was shut down, it would be a crying shame to destroy such an iconic landmark. Forcing business into other parts of the city would change the make up of central london for the worse. You may belive this is just a bar, but it is so much more than that. It is a meeting point. A place to share a love of music.

Miss Rosa Stanko Green	12-MAR-13	In essence, dont destroy yet another part of London's long and iconic Rock and Metal scene. I strongly object to this, I have had to watch so many places and so many memories ripped from London which is why I moved away. I'm now back and this is happening once again! I feel this venue gives the area character which so much of has already been taken away in recent years.
Miss Jodie R Rowland	12-MAR-13
Mr Drew Cable	12-MAR-13	I like this place, it's a great bar!
		The Intrepid fox is not only a tourist attaction, it is also a much loved bar by the alternative community of the U.K. Isn't there already enough resturants in Central London?! There is now a limited choice of places for alternative people music to go and socialize, as a lot of Londons alternative venues have been closed down in the last few years. And now one of the main bars in the heart of London is threatened? This will effect a substantial amount of people, as the pub is always very busy. This is really saddening and I strongly object to the plans!!
Miss Katie Chappell	12-MAR-13
polly L sephton	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is one of a very few places left thats worth venturing into the West End for.
david bonney	12-MAR-13	I object to this application Yet another popular tourist attraction to be sacrificed to make way for more expensive flats for profiteering idiots with nothing but their own interests and bank balances in mind. Please block this outrageous proposal and keep a shred of diversity in what used to be a culturally diverse area.
Mr Lee Kimber	12-MAR-13
Mr William Wright	12-MAR-13	I object this proposal.
Miss Lisa M Jones	12-MAR-13	Keep our pubs and keep the houses no doubt for refugees OUT
Mr Kevin J Gale	12-MAR-13	I disagree - not suitable Area
Miss Venla Shalin	12-MAR-13	Please let Intrepid Fox stay. Sad to hear a successful & popular pub might be closed down to make way for housing.
Ms Michelle Howard	13-MAR-13

		The Intrepid Fox is a place I always visit when in London. This development would mean a huge loss to the alternative scene of London. I always recommend people to visit there.
Miss Rebecca McMahon	13-MAR-13
Miss Zoe R Boreham 1978	13-MAR-13	don't take away our pub!!
		The Intrepid fox is a VERY popular pub and offers a relaxing way to meet people and friends. There aren't many pubs left in London that caters for our kind of clientele .... It's popular well known place and there is no trouble coming from this place...
Fabienne Salmon	13-MAR-13	Please keep this very unique pub!!!
		The intrepif fox represents a cultural symbol that must be allowed to endure. The Marquee was lost as was the Astoria.
Mr Xose Mourino	13-MAR-13	Enough of this please.
		This development will destroy an iconic music and alternative cultural venue in the heart of London.
Mr Gary Lapslie	13-MAR-13
		do not build here the intrepid fox is a part of our history and community
Miss debbie webb	13-MAR-13
		Please do not close the Intrepid Fox. It is a landmark people from around the world visit. Closing it to provide affordable accommodation in the centre of London doesn't make sense. Another piece of London's culture and point of interest to be demolished? This is a tragedy and makes me ashamed of our capital!
Mr Angel Psiakis	14-MAR-13
		I object to this planning application
Miss Holly M Smith	12-MAR-13
Miss Ema C Grugan	12-MAR-13	This has quickly developed over the years to be a landmark pub. It would be a great loss to commerce and the people to close this down.
Mr Ahmad Khan	12-MAR-13
		I object strongly to the redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox. Haven't we lost enough venues already? Instead of eradicating the West End's culture it should be preserved.
		I have been a regular visitor to the area all my life and have seen some of the most well-loved institutions vanish to be replaced with bland, soulless boxes. The loss of the fox would undoubtedly have an adverse affect on the surrounding businesses. It's a ridiculous idea and should be canned now.
Mrs Trudi Knight	12-MAR-13
		The Intrepid Fox is an awesome alternative pub and should be saved!
Mr Rich Brown	12-MAR-13
		The Intrepid Fox is one of the last rock pubs in London. Reveloping it would be a travesty to London's heritage as a home to rock music an alternative culture. Don't redevelop the site!
Mr Mark Johnson	12-MAR-13
Joe Carter	12-MAR-13	NO
Kira Goldberg	12-MAR-13	Don't close Intrepid Fox!
		by all means have housing above but keep the intrepid fox. It is a landmark for many and has become a second home to the alternative scene. please do not allow our sub culture to disappear.
Miss Nicola Neville	12-MAR-13
Mr Michal Sokolowski	12-MAR-13	Intrepid fox is unique / one of a kind place
		Please save the intrepid fox. There are too many pubs being covnerted into bland low quality housing.
Ms Caroline Hinton	12-MAR-13

Chris J Hunter	12-MAR-13	A bar I always return to whenever I am in london. A hugely popular place to go for any fan of rock music. A decent rock bar is hard to find. Not only is the building amazing and unique to London, it's staff are genuine and don't deserve to loose it. You're not trying to redevelop a building, you're tearing apart a community.
Melanie Bugeja	12-MAR-13	Removing another part of londons heritage,
Mr Michael coyne	12-MAR-13	I object to the closing of the intrepid fox bar
Miss louise L Saville	12-MAR-13	I object to the proposed planning, as there are plenty of retail and restaurant outlets in the surrounding area. This business is very much loved by the people of London and the world over, there are very few places like the Intrepid Fox and really therefore should stay as the alternative and integral heart of Tottenham Court Rd.
Ms Cassie CR Roworth	12-MAR-13
		Im shocked to hear about this proposed plan. The Intrepid Fox and Denmark St are a HUGE part of the music community in London. First crossrail destroy the legendary London Astoria - the ONLY central london live music venue, and now this. This development will further ruin the diversity of London. Fine, turn centerpoint tower into residential but we dont need more empty offices (of which there are MANY across london already) or carbon copy tescos/sainsburys, starbucks/costa etc on yet another street corner. STOP THIS MADNESS!
Mr Jon Hartley	12-MAR-13	I have no objection to the redevelopment of Centre point into residential/retail but surely the Intrepid Fox can be left alone.
Ms Catherine Wareham	12-MAR-13
Ami Kaye	12-MAR-13	.
		I OBJECT strongly to this application as it would entail the destruction of The Intrepid Fox bar, which is an establishment loved my many. It cannot simply be moved to another premises as the location is unique and it would totally lose its character. Please don't take away the Fox, it's an irreplaceable landmark, a place so many people hold dear, and there's nothing that could take its place.
Mrs Helen Raymond	12-MAR-13	Please leave The Intrepid Fox as it is. It is an important part of Londons history and music scene.
Miss Lois S Bentall	12-MAR-13	I object
Miss Isobel Harris Somethin	12-MAR-13
Al Tormey	12-MAR-13

		I strongly object to the redevelopment of The Intrepid Fox. The St Giles area used to house several iconic music venues, which were mercilessly lost to the Cross rail project. This is one of the last venues for the alternative community in central London. It is so much more than a pub to the alternative community , it is a place to meet with friends, who are often spread out over the city. A place to feel yourself and not judged. A place to make new friends who have similar interests, something which can be very difficult in a Metropolis like London. The Intrepid Fox is also famous with the alternative community across the world. Losing this wonderful place would be a very sad day for a much
Ms Alison Palmer	11-MAR-13	maligned alternative community worldwide. Please do not destroy the Intrepid Fox. This pub is an essential part of the London music scene, and has already had to relocate once due to property developers. Forcing it to move again or
Mr Geoff Lamb	11-MAR-13	shut down would be a tragedy.
Mr Matthew Horwell	12-MAR-13	Why consider destroying a profitable business?! Madness! This is the best metal themed bar in London. Greatly done themed pubs are hard enough to come by, and this one has a great international reputation that attracts visitors from all over.
Mr Graham West	12-MAR-13	A crying shame if it goes. The Interpid Fox is a major part of the alternative community. It is a place where people do not feel judged and can be around similar folk. It is always packed out and is a very successful bar and gig venue.
Ms Rebecca Rowden	12-MAR-13
Mr Colin Cassell	12-MAR-13	Stop marginalizing good pubs and great music.
Kieran Lefort Flat 2, Kensin	12-MAR-13	This fantastic niche establishment must not be demolished. Please DO NOT knock down or replace the Intrepid Fox bar. It is a brilliant and unique bar which people can meet up and relax. There are not many of these bar's around therefore we
Miss Leanne M Challis RFIB	13-MAR-13	must keep the Intrepid Fox up and running!!! This is a historic world famous social hub. I cannot express how much i adore the intrepid fox. To close it down would be a
Mr Max Counter	13-MAR-13	travesty!
		Developing a tower block launch as Centre Point is a retrograde step for housing in London. I believe the impact of living in such dwellings has a negative impact on residents health and well being and object on that basis. I also object because the road layout and traffic levels are dangerous so close to housing. I object that there is not enough green space or play areas. I object to the closure of The Intrepid Fox because it is the only free venue in Central London supporting young musicians, providing a safe and professional environment to learn their craft. I strongly believe that if planning permission is granted, the developers have a duty to find and find an alternative
Mrs Jan Trethewey	13-MAR-13	building for the Fox.

		Please DO NOT shut down the Intrepid Fox pub! This is our local bar catered to the metal/rock community that my friends & I are a part of. We cause no trouble in this pub nor in the surrounding areas. Please don't take away our local from us!
Ms Izabelle Durian	12-MAR-13	Flats for the rich few or a club for the regular many? I know which ones the council want but they can fuck right off.
Mr Sam Soheylee	12-MAR-13	worst idea ever.
Mr John Smith	12-MAR-13	Totally disgusting to think this legendary Bar/venue-Intrepid Fox would be destroyed after surviving its move before from its Soho home since way back in 60's and part of UK R'n'R history. Its needed in UK. not to be removed for flats or whatever. The world is going down the pan. and this government is sucking the life out of everything that is good about living here.
Mr Doug D Rumbles GutterG	12-MAR-13

		Please do not do this. The intrepid fox is a cultural landmark, a distinct and almost unique pub amongst so many branded plastic clones. A city and society is not just about the number of its people, but also about common identity, culture, and shared values. Removing yet another way for people to express themselves in the name of profit will simply breed civil unrest. The intrepid fox is a very popular, much loved venue and should be preserved. The last thing we need is more coffee shops and high density housing in London.
Mr Carl Wells	12-MAR-13	fuck the fox close it down its a shithole and the landlord is
Mr V L	12-MAR-13	nightmare
		This has been a long standing venue for alternative music. Where do you think these patrons are going to go? Stop ruining someone else's long time tradition.
Mr Mark Carnaby	12-MAR-13	I object to the closing of the Intrepid Fox on the grounds that it offers a safe haven for the local alternative sub-culture of the area and a warm atmosphere of acceptance.
Mr James E J Faulkner	12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox has been a favorite bar of mine since hitting London.

It has offered the big smoke something different for locals and tourist for years, its has a quirky style and different interest to offer, then your average bars when visiting London, not only that its one of the most friendliest bars across UK.

Its always fun and exciting to go there and show other friends from all over the world and is also a safe place to take them to as unlike other bars in London this one actually feels friendly, no matter what you look like.

I don't know why you'd want to ruin such a unique landmark in London, its taking away the nitty gritty which we Londoners and Tourist Love.

Shame on you, I sincerely hope this doesn't go ahead and you leave The Intrepid Fox as it should be.

Kindest Regards

Miss sinead I lunn IT	12-MAR-13	Sinead Lunn It's one of the last alternative bars in London, that continues to thrive. It also brings in a lot of trade for the surrounding
Miss Charlotte Jones	12-MAR-13	shops/businesses. people visit that area for the music scene.. london is slowly
Miss Liz Figueras	12-MAR-13	loosing a lot of its identity. shame :(
Laura Collins	12-MAR-13	N/A The Intrepid Fox pub is a landmark in London and extremely popular, it would greatly detract from the interest in the area by
Ms Rhiannon Beswick	12-MAR-13	removing that. There are far too many bars closing down we must do what we can to object to this application. Not only will this cost people
Mr Chris P Maltman	12-MAR-13	their jobs but it will be yet another entertainment establishment
Mr Philip Salter	12-MAR-13	that has been closed down and lost forever!!! objection! The Intrepid Fox is a great bar where I regularly meet my
Trevor Johnson	12-MAR-13	friends, watch bands and have a good time. I would be devastated would it be forced to close. Why demolish a popular pub when there are likely to be many
Mr Alex Foot	12-MAR-13	other places more appropriate for development? This is somewhere that people instantly head to, regardless whether they're local or not. The intrepid fox is very successful and unique pub that needs to
Miss Emma E Houlton	12-MAR-13	be saved from development and you stupid developers that think that is possible should think again. It needs to be saved it has been opened for 222 years and brings people together . I 100% OPPOSE all plans to demolish it.

Miss Olivia Kennett	12-MAR-13	I've never been up the fox myself as i'm not from London but I know people and bands who go there regularly and to see another popular music venue go when the industry is very tight in this day and age for more houses is a joke
KT Glitz	12-MAR-13	I wish to object to the proposed demolition of the Intrepid Fox. We have seen far too many important entertainment venues being sold off for housing projects that are never completed. I believe the original Intrepid Fox site still remains uncompleted! Too much has been taken away due to the cross rail no more of london's history should be destroyed
Keisha Hull	12-MAR-13	Too much has been taken away due to the cross rail no more of london's history should be destroyed
Keisha Hull	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is an iconic pub in the city, it would be a travesty if it were turned into housing.
Mr Sam A Costidell	12-MAR-13	Objection
Lyndon R Tok Tommy Guns	12-MAR-13	I object, please do not pull down the Intrepid Fox
Miss Elizabeth Wood	12-MAR-13	Intrepid Fox is a landmark, it's one of the few places in central London that has any soul left to it - demolishing it would be a crying shame.
Ms Ella Hagi	12-MAR-13	Objection to redevelopment of Intrepid Fox site. Keep the Intrepid Fox.
Lucy Bryant	12-MAR-13	I believe closing the pub the intrepid fox will result in a decline in visitors to this area from that particular scene
Mr richard forbes	13-MAR-13	You can't shut the Fox!
Ruth J Ratner	13-MAR-13	I oppose to the decision of the redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox. The venue is a thriving business and people travel from all over the country to visit this legendary and very popular public house.
Miss Suzanne L Chenery	13-MAR-13	I am a regular visitor to this pub and do not want to see it knocked down.
Mr Scott Boyce	13-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a pub of greater character and must not be replaced.
Mr Robert Lawrence	13-MAR-13
Mr Stephen Parker	14-MAR-13	If this means taking the Intrepid Fox pub then I totally oppose this building going ahead. I am a Londoner now living in the U.S. i remember when the original site was taken from us due to building. This pub had history of famous bands writing music in there. Now another site wants to be taken. This is not right especially for the likes of us that like the type of atmosphere and music played there. We keep getting pushed around.
Ms Peta Tait	14-MAR-13	I object very much to this The Intrpeid Fox is a longstanding establishment which I frequented while living in the UK for 8 years and it would be a sad day to see it go. I'd like to take my daughter there when she is old enough.
Helga HR Ribinska	14-MAR-13	This is one of the only places in London where Rocken roll still lives. And important social spot for meny generations.
Mr David S Crowther	14-MAR-13	Save the Intrepid Fox!

		There are enough residential areas in this city already. What we are lacking is culture. The Intrepid Fox is a gathering place for a group of people who have already had numerous venues taken away from them. I refer to the Mean Fiddler, which has fallen prey to the redevelopment of the Tottenham Court Road station area already and the Devonshire Arms in Camden Town, which was taken over by a chain and made into something that to the outsider's eye might still look like the same thing but is in fact very different. Venues like the Intrepid Fox in the centre are what make this city stand out and should be protected for that very reason.
Angelika Padberg	13-MAR-13	Don't you dare closing The Intrepid Fox! Keep the music scene alive! We have enough with the shitty Xfactor and similar crap!
Mr Pako Mugica	13-MAR-13	Stay real! thanks
		I have been going to the Fox for many, many years and have introduced countless friends from London and the UK to what is not only a wonderful place to catch up and have a beer, but is also considered an international attraction to a lot of alternative tourists. Having being moved to this location following a similar thing happening 7 years ago, the Fox reestablished itself and has made an even bigger name for itself with sell out nights, particularly on the weekends.
Miss Lexi Kubiakowska	13-MAR-13	The Fox is a venue of sentimental value for a lot of individuals and relocating again would almost certainly stand a diminished chance, therefore I oppose this planning application. I completely oppose these plans.
Dawn Ablitt Self	14-MAR-13	Why is it, that yet another landmark pub gets pulled apart so that a few more fat cats can own pads in the very centre of London. It's an absolute disgrace!!!
Mr Lee Forster	12-MAR-13	I love this pub, why oh why would you want to close it down ! A classic pub which brings in a good trade and showcases the next generation of bands. Would be a travesty within the uk
Mr Michael C Ready	12-MAR-13	music scene.
Mr Pavel Dirin	12-MAR-13	DO NOT TOUCH THE INTREPID FOX!!!!!!!!!!!!
bronia burlinska	12-MAR-13	p
		This is a terrible idea, London cannot afford to lose yet another great venue for the purposes of redevelopments like this. Already venues such as the Astoria on tottenham court road have closed. London needs more individual places such as the Fox to show the real character of London rather than more generic coffee shops or restaurants. It would be a great loss to the London music scene if the Fox were to be closed down.
Miss Jennifer Williams	12-MAR-13	Also Denmark street is one of the main centers to purchase musical equipment and to lose the shops along this road would be a terrible thing.

Mr Damian C Carruthers	12-MAR-13	This must not go ahead!!! It will ruin the community!! I disagree completely with the planning permission to close the Intrepid Fox and open yet more expensive residencies (here called 'affordable housing provision') thus getting rid of a space where many spend time after work and on weekends enjoying concerts, gigs, and few drinks with friends. The developments will just get rid of yet another place that supports social integration and musical inspiration. Retail, restaurants and residencies are plentiful in the area. Yet another block of more of the same makes no useful improvement to the area, and
Miss Maria Alexandrou	12-MAR-13	minimises diversity.
Ms Lisa D Nash Sun & Stars	12-MAR-13	Keep the Snooty Fox as a live music venue
Mr Iain Dempster	12-MAR-13	The Iconic bar in place just now cannot be lost. This is the best pub I have ever visited in London. The staff, the atmosphere and everything combine to make this a local away from home. I travel to London on business frequently and always make sure I have time to visit. To demolish it would be
Miss Sophie F Meredith	12-MAR-13	pathetic.
Trevor Johnson	12-MAR-13	I would like to object to the provisioning of the Intrepid Fox Plans afoot to make another iconic building/music venue disappear. GB as a whole is losing to many buildings such as this. It has to stop now. The Intrepid Fox has stood for many years and seen many famous people come through those doors. The building should be given 'Cultural Heritage' status, not demolition. I may not live in London but visit many times a year to meet up with friends and seek out good music and visit the
Miss Jacqueline D'arcy	12-MAR-13	Fox when I'm there. Businesses need space too - how about affordable business space for small businesses? No need to change the purpose
Mr Eric Waring	12-MAR-13	then.... The Intrepid fox should be a London Landmark to do with the Heritage of British rock. So many places like this are going. We
Miss Danielle Camus	12-MAR-13	cant afford to lose another place.
Ms Marion Renoux	12-MAR-13	Leave the Fox alone!
Mr Nicholas N Schlesinger M	12-MAR-13	Don't close The Intrepid Fox.
		For as long as I have visited and worked in London, The Intrepid Fox has been vital in my friends birthdays, gatherings and another great choice of where to meet people and introduce
Cynthia Franklin	12-MAR-13	people out of London into the capital's metal music scene.
Miss Nathalie Lotmani	12-MAR-13	Such a great place, keep it! Dont turn this venue into more houses. London loses enough of
Mr David Thompson	12-MAR-13	it's heritage. It's one of the only rock bars left in central London. The Intrepid Fox Bar is part of our history. If anything the bar could use an extra bit of paint here and there and some refurbishment to make it new again. It is a great meeting point and a great bar. DO NOT DEMOLISH IT!!!! You are destroying London't
Ms Cat C.G Gouriou	12-MAR-13	community if you are destroying that bar.

Mr Michael Sherlock	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a significant, popular, well loved and important location for certain sub cultures. It is a landmark of London and people travel far and wide merely to go there. losing the fox would rob London of some of it's important diversity.
Mr Mark Masny	12-MAR-13	This is a very popular and historic venue that has become an established part of the local community. Whilst there are many bars and venues in central London there are very few like the Intrepid Fox that cater for this style of music. I strongly object to this being converted into yet more apartments or office space. A city is not only made of flats and the Intrepid Fox is one of my favourite places in London. To close it down would be a massive blow to the life and soul of the London nightlife.
Dr Stefano Friani	12-MAR-13	Do not demolish the Intrepid Fox!
Miss Rebecca Slatter	12-MAR-13	Stop the development!
Cathrine Samuelsen	12-MAR-13	many people travel far and wide to visit this pub and shops in denmark street for concerts and nights out etc. to close it would be to strip the area of even more of its individuality folowing the loss of the astoria.
lee osullivan	12-MAR-13	the pub is also an important landmark in londons rock and metal scene hosting gigs and other events and does london the area really need any more coffie shops which undoubtedly be put there
Mauro Rock	14-MAR-13	Please don't close Intrepid.
Wayne P Cook	14-MAR-13	Have visited this pub on numerous visits to London. Do not let it close ... Too many pub closures throughout the UK are taking away something good from our communities
Mrs Sharise Hay	14-MAR-13	This is absolutely ridiculous! The Intrepid Fox is a legendary bar and should remain as such! This wouldn't be happening if it was a mainstream bar, would it?!
Dr Felipe Franciosi	10-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a rock scene reference in the centre of London. While many label this venue as a tourist-friendly pub, due to its location, ease of access and opening hours, it is also the regular meeting point for hundreds (if not thousands) of londoners. Destroying this bar means destroying part of the history and legacy of Soho.
Mr Gary J Gammon	12-MAR-13	I dont want to see this venue lost for the sake of low cost housing. This is a first class venue that i travel a fair distance to meet up with like minded people to share good times with on a Friday night. These venues are being swallowed up without thought for the people that use them. Stop the plans and leave the Intrepid Fox alone.
Miss Bailee-Kate B Griggs	12-MAR-13	Please let us keep our little bit of happiness in London. You've already obliterated history with moving the original Intrepid Fox and destroying the Astoria. Just leave us this please - it's the least you can do.

Mr Adrian Anastas	12-MAR-13	This is an iconic pub that is still one of the best alternative, rock and metal pubs in London. It's still frequented by a large number of patrons, and I'd like to raise my objections to this planning application for change of use. Yet again, a popular London venue being moved to make room for more housing where it's - allegedly - needed. I for one can't see how housing in the middle of the West End of London can be affordable?
Mr John Mitchell	12-MAR-13	Maybe it's because the Fox is a pub that has a more interesting clientele – you'll notice that when it's gone, the more gentrified restaurants will be empty as soon as they're opened. The Intrepid Fox had long been a venue for youth culture in London, attracting many visitors to the city. We've already lost live music venues in Charing Cross Road, please let's not have to lose the Fox too.
Mr Steve Handley	12-MAR-13	I object very strongly to this. It's a London landmark!
Miss Michelle M De Vry	12-MAR-13	Please do not close The Intrepid Fox down.
Sherry Rouse	12-MAR-13	It is an institution and people travel from all over the world to visit it. The fox should be left where it is. It's a landmark and a great social place to go. There are very few bars like this in London now.
Miss Emma Haynes	12-MAR-13	OBJECTION! Fox must survive!!!
Mr Matteo MP Pagni None	12-MAR-13
Mr PAUL LAWLOR	12-MAR-13	I oppose the closure of The Intrepid Fox, live music venues such as this are a part of the local live music scenes we have in the UK and I understand many a top band has played this venue. To close it down would be a kick in the teeth for live music at grass roots level and is beyond either logic or common sense. This pub is not just a pub but a part of people's life style. There are too little places like that left already. Most of London's nightlife is aimed at tourists and over-priced! The Intrepid Fox is a part of "The old and original London";.
Ms Chistine D Fabian	12-MAR-13	There surely are other places that can be used for even more offices and high-class restaurants or even affordable housing. There are not enough places like The Intrepid Fox and to get rid of a wonderful place like this would be terrible
Miss Katie A Hayes	12-MAR-13	Intrepid Fox Development
Mr Sam Loynes	12-MAR-13	I am opposed to the destruction of the intrepid fox. I love this pub! It has history and character and I for one am in no rush to see yet another horrid block of flats put up.
Mr Luke Pedliham	12-MAR-13	I object to the redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox site.
Mr Neil Bridge	12-MAR-13

Housing? in the biggest tourist attraction in london? in the UK?
and you want to build HOUSING!?

Are who appointed the ***** *****!? GTFO of your job and go back to being a tesco cashier - seriously, the most stupid

Mr steven azari	12-MAR-13	proposal I have EVER heard!
Miss Mery MM Maggoo	12-MAR-13	Don't close the Intrepid Fox
		The entire building should be affordable housing. No more retail
Mr William Hobson	12-MAR-13	space is needed as plenty sits derelict nearby.
Miss Sabina Lescevic	12-MAR-13	DONT TOUCH THE BEST LONDON BAR
		I think it is disgusting. This bar is a rich part of London and
Mr Adam Stewart London ar	12-MAR-13	musical heritage!
Name Surname	12-MAR-13	Do not demolish the Intrepid Fox
		London, denmark street and tottenham court rd has been and remains an incredibly important hub for alternative music and its subcultures - and is crucial to keeping business in what is possibly the UKs most enduring musical contribution and legacy. Save the intrepid fox!!
		RIP the Astoria and Mean Fiddler. And ofcourse hail satan and Mr Alec F Martin Journeys H	12-MAR-13	all that ;)
		Get rid of this music venue,
Mr Jenner The Arctic Agenc	12-MAR-13	Its underagers heaven
		Please don't demolish The Intrepid Fox! It's just the best pub! I don't live locally to it but me and my friends make special trips to London just to go there. There really is nowhere around like
Matt J Lucock	12-MAR-13	it!
		This is a great pub/venue in a great place in London and is one of the few venues of it's kind left in London. It should not be
Mr Samuel M Walton	12-MAR-13	gotten rid of.
		We want the Lovely Intrepid Fox where it is as it provides a rock
Miss Monica Gimbernat Aler	12-MAR-13	& roll community!!!
Mr DesSussesex E Southon	12-MAR-13	Development is not required

I would like to register my objection to the closing of The Intrepid Fox in order to 're-develop' the building and convert into housing. As a famous Soho landmark, the Fox is one of the last independent and alternative live music venues in the city centre area, and the diversity and culture it brings to the area will be greatly missed if the application should proceed. In a time when more and more popular independent venues (The Astoria, The Gaff, etc) are closing, the few remaining that attract so many to London as a destination should be protected rather than

Miss Eve Scragg	12-MAR-13	destroyed to make way for yet more retail and housing projects.
-----------------	-----------	---

		This is the only decent thing being done in the West End lately, the Intrepid Fox is a horrible noisy venue giving Tin Pan Alley a bad name and it's badly in need of refurbishment. The toilets must be disease ridden judging from the smell. It would be nice, however, if Centre Point's lower floor - to be used as restaurant/retail area - was kept consistent with the music/art surroundings of Denmark Street; wiping that aspect off the area would be a mistake when it comes to tourism.
Miss Cristina Massei	12-MAR-13
		Please do not close the heart of the London alternative scene. The Intrepid Fox is the focal point of everything alternative that happens in London. To lose this will lose a piece of London
Mr Samir Mohamed	12-MAR-13
		I wish to object to this project, this is a great bar that we use every time we are in london, and has great history and heritage This must not happen. A historic pub to be made into 'affordable housing'? By Tottenham Court Road? Really? There are plenty of other places available for 'affordable housing'; Tottenham Court Road is not one of them. Leave the Fox alone, it is the heart of an entire community and a popular tourist draw. How much 'affordable housing' will be made available from a single pub?
Mr simon Baurley	12-MAR-13
		This is a lively and unique pub that servers what is a bit of a backwater urban nightmare. Does it really have to be closed now developers want to turn it into flats that locals probably won't be able to afford anyway?
Mr Miguel Trapezaris	12-MAR-13
		I totally do not support this plan for redevelopment especially of the Intrepid Fox location. There are very few places such as this venue and it is a massive tourist location. It is a corner stone of the alternative community, one that can not be replaced. Should this plan go ahead then it is a certain indication that money and business is more important than the local and already established community.
Mr James Frazer	12-MAR-13
Miss Stefanie Chasseraux J	12-MAR-13	Don't close the Intrepid Fox. PLEASE!!!! London does not need another rough estate, nor does it require any more shop space. There aren't very many places like the fox left and its a kind of discrimination to destroy an endangered species.
Mr Jamie Nye	12-MAR-13	No hunting after the fox ! Unacceptable. One of the few places I actually enjoy in London. Alternative pubs are hard to come by as it is without overweight boardroom men trying to shut them down. London is famous for it's diversity of cultures - don't discriminate now.
Mr Patrick Adams	12-MAR-13

		We love the intrepid fox it's one of those rare gems and if you get rid of it you are ridding London of an incredible institution. I understand there's a shortage in housing but surely there is another solution...
Miss Sandra Bahbah	12-MAR-13	London really need venues like this! I frequent it often while in London. Save the Fox!
Miss Kjersti Kamphaug	12-MAR-13	Please leave this pub alone! There are not many places left like this, if anything it should be listed.
lauren marchant	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox can not be close down as it's a very famous venue and it's been a place visited by tourists and Londoners by many years.
		It would be a very big mistake to give the go ahead to close it down.
Mr Massimo Hidat	12-MAR-13	Please think of us. A community of certain gender followers who group together for the same love should be able to carry on with enjoying this well known place.
Mr Martynas Jocevicius Mar	12-MAR-13
Ms Inger-Lise Svortevik	12-MAR-13	Please save this pub. We love the atmosphere here The Intrepid Fox Bar is History!!! UK is one of the only country in the world that still loves culture and supports music and art in every way.
Mattia Mari	12-MAR-13	Don't let this historic place die!
		The Intrepid Fox is a wonderful establishment that provides a place for a wide range and large number of sub-culture straddling people to enjoy themselves as a community. More 'affordable' housing is not needed in that particular place. Centre Point itself is more than capable of taking on that mantle.
Miss Emma Price	12-MAR-13	The building that hosts The Intrepid Fox pub is beautiful, vibrant, and attracts tourists from all over Europe! It's a modern, attractive bar for people who have nowhere else to go. It's a landmark. LEAVE IT ALONE.
Miss Zerrin M Pamir	12-MAR-13	Is one of the only places that still up and running in central point, safe and well connected, Im completely against make an apartments development there, why? you want concentrate more people living there? you want to ruin all the other business around the area that been serve by the flux of people coming to the Intrepid Fox?
Mr Miguel A Teijido Parra	12-MAR-13	I discovered this pub last year before heading down the road to see Rock of Ages and lived it! There really isn't many places bubbling with character like this-don't knocj it down!!
Miss Penny Vince	12-MAR-13	leave this place alone
tom t martin	12-MAR-13	I discovered this pub last year before heading down the road to see Rock of Ages and lived it! There really isn't many places bubbling with character like this-don't knocj it down!!
Miss Penny Vince	12-MAR-13	Plenty of other places to develop without taking over one of the most loved and popular establishments in London!! I'm a regular visitor when I come down to the capital.
Miss Jenna MacPhee	12-MAR-13

		As a tourist to London, and being lost whilst waiting for a friend, I walked into this pub and was greeted with kindness and true English hospitality. It also seemed to be a place that was surviving the current economic climate. I'm truly surprised to
Mr William F Rousseau	12-MAR-13	see this petition. Absolutely not, this would mean tearing down the intrepid fox, the best metal pub in London!
Mr David Perry	12-MAR-13	What has got into everyone? The Intrepid Fox is a cultural monument to a multi-generational community and a worldwide beacon to likeminded folk the across the globe. To close it would be akin to demolishing the
Mr Daniel Wealands	12-MAR-13	Louvre to develop a new car park. RE : INTREPID FOX more and more venues are gone thanks to crossrail, the pub has history and is a tourist attraction,
		It serves the community and is also internationally famous landmark.
Mr Stuart Tovell	12-MAR-13	If this closes the whole area fails more and ultimately will lead to more business failure and loss of revenue for london It would be an absolute travesty to destroy The Intrepid Fox. Not only is it a vital, thriving part of London's alternative subculture, but it has true character - a thing all too rare amidst the glut of
Mrs Stephanie Smart	12-MAR-13	generic pubs around these days. It would be an absolute travesty to destroy The Intrepid Fox. Not only is it a vital, thriving part of London's alternative subculture, but it has true character - a thing all too rare amidst the glut of
Mrs Stephanie Smart	12-MAR-13	generic pubs around these days.
		I object to this totally. As soon as you move residents in there will be objections to the music/noise level coming from The Intrepid Fox, a venue which is unique and a great place for people who don't want the same bar experience as everywhere in London. The bar has true character and it would be a shame to lose this for the sake of a couple of houses.
Mr Darren Browne	12-MAR-13	This area is so attractive to those of us who visit and use London because of premises like the Intrepid Fox ... please stop putting in uniform and boring developments which detract so much from the character of this part of London, (which my
Mr Chris Mines	12-MAR-13	family used to live in during the 19th Century !!!)
Mr justen doherty	12-MAR-13	fantastic venue, please dont knock it down
Hailey Bunge	12-MAR-13	Do not build houses over this place The Intrepid Fox has long been a focal point for the alternative community within London and plays an important part in bring
Miss Theresa Hk	12-MAR-13	the community together. it is a landmark!
Mr Chris Rowinski	12-MAR-13	I object to the demolition of The Intrepid Fox public house.
Dr Macsen HJ Burgess	12-MAR-13	Please dont shut down the Fox! This should not be allowed to happen to a modern london
Mr carl j major	12-MAR-13	landmark- Intrepid Fox

I strongly object to introducing residential into this non-residential area.

This area has already seen the cleansing of its culture, with the closing of several world class iconic venues including the London Astoria, Mean Fiddler (formerly the LA2), SinClub, etc.

The Intrepid fox has previously been thrown out of its home in Soho under the threat of a residential development - that premises ultimately became yet another beef burger restaurant instead.

Mr Paul Winkler	12-MAR-13	This isn't a suitable area for a new residential development. affordable housing is something that London needs however all that is happening in London, is that a great city is being gentrified for the rich within the UK but more from EU and Overseas. What about all the empty housing in London why not restore these properties? they have character, and that area has enough property development happening. I haven't seen any so called affordable housing only affordable box rooms. This pub was already moved a few years back and getting rid of yet another venue which is part of a community and brings people together, that was the whole point of a pub it was a meeting ground for people young and old, plus the amount of tourists I have seen in there recently it can't be that much of an
Miss Haffeera Cader	12-MAR-13	eye soar people still go there!
Mr Johann Rajakarunanaya	12-MAR-13	It would mean the Intrepid Fox would have to be closed down. As there are very few rock/metal bars around in London, the Intrepid Fox is one of the biggest and most popular, with many famous band members going there too. It is a very popular amongst the rock/metal community, and even with me, as a President of a university rock/metal society, the Intrepid Fox is one of the main places we go to on nights out. To see this close
Dr Benjamin I Leach	12-MAR-13	down will be a sad loss for many in the rock/metal community. Closing of this establishment would be a huge shame, and have a severe negative impact on the character of the area.
Mr Ian A Montgomery	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a great pub and always busy. It should not be demolished to make more housing in an already overpopulated area.
Miss Anna Zurek	12-MAR-13	I, herewith, want to make an objection against the redevelopment of the Intrepid fox site into housing facades. The Intrepid fox is an important part of the area near Denmark street and offers musicians and music lovers a perfect space to hang out. It also gives a certain charm to that area and may help attract more people who are interested in playing as well as appreciating music.

Miss Jodie Shepherd	12-MAR-13	OBJECTION
		Sir/Madam,
		I wish it to be known that I as well as many others, as regular patrons of The Intrepid Fox bar, are firmly opposed to the planned development. This bar has long provided an invaluable social meeting point for alternative communities (of which there are few in comparison to those of the mainstream) and has thus maintained the Camden precinct's famed reputation for diversity and open-mindedness. The closure of such an institution would therefore be an unfair, unnecessary move, and would contradict and damage the said reputation.
Mr Tristan Cole	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a major cultural centre and should be protected at all costs. I strongly oppose any plans that would
Mr William D Evans	12-MAR-13	remove this wonderful venue.
		You cannot allow to have this iconic landmark of the London music industry closed. Its an international meeting point of minded likepeople. London lost already the Astoria, and the Mean Fiddler . London is supposed to be Europeans No 1 Music city - and with all the developments over the past year in that area around Tottenham Court Road, it starts to turn into a sterile and uncharming city centre, with no special vibe or atmosphere
Ms Manuela Froehlich	12-MAR-13	at all. This should not be allowed! Preserve this City and its arts! Yes the Tower should be turned into housing but the social hub of the Intrepid Fox should be kept.
Mr Travis Hodges	12-MAR-13	The Tower should hold the affordable housing rather than a token addition of a few affordable units.
Dr Javier Ortega Santos	12-MAR-13	I think the current exiting building, it has a high cultural value, and it will be impossible to replace it.
Miss STEFANIA PEZZONI	12-MAR-13	I LOVE INTREPID FOX.
Dr Javier Ortega Santos	12-MAR-13	I think the current exiting building, it has a high cultural value, and it will be impossible to replace it.
		Many venues and bars in London have been lost to redevelopment without a replacement provided. If London is supposed to be the capital for the arts and entertainment, how can this be considered a wise move?
Miss Violet Casselden 1988	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is an iconic venue, worldwide. Closing it for the sake of a few flats will make London look like a joke trying to tidy away anything unsightly.
Dr Lawrence Van Haecke	12-MAR-13	This bar is a special heritage for a lot of people. From Britain and abroad. It would be a disgrace to take it down.
		The Intrepid Fox is a somewhat unique establishment, very popular with music fans and one of the few places where like minded people can meet in a dedicated environment, it is known by locals and visitors alike, both in the UK and
Mr Grant A C Meaby	12-MAR-13	internationally, please do not allow the redevelopment to happen

		I would like to register my objection to the closing of The Intrepid Fox in order to 're-develop' the building and convert into housing. As a famous Soho landmark, the Fox is one of the last independent and alternative live music venues in the city centre area, and the diversity and culture it brings to the area will be greatly missed if the application should proceed. In a time when more and more popular independent venues (The Astoria, The Gaff, etc) are closing, the few remaining that attract so many to London as a destination should be protected rather than destroyed to make way for yet more retail and housing projects. Cant close down this iconic venue, so many iconic venues have been knocked down in this area, there will be nothing left of london's amazing night life for locals and vising tourists. Punk,Rock is part of London's musical history and this venue represents that. Don't knock it down!
Miss Eve Scragg	12-MAR-13	Please save the Intrepid Fox. a valuable entertainment source for the London community.
Lucille LEG Graveney Threæ	12-MAR-13	Objection to proposal
Mr Mark Thwaite	12-MAR-13	Objection. This Intrepid Fox is an amazing bar.
Mr Keith A Norrish	12-MAR-13	objection to the change of the intrepid fox
Miss Katherine Stone	12-MAR-13	I object to this development
christopher morris	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox has had a long history, being a base and social hub for alternative music for many years. It was uprooted only a few years ago to it's current location, so to threaten it's security again is a little unfair. Despite the move it remains a one of a kind establishment that caters to a wide variety of people interested in alternative music and is exactly the type of venue that makes London such a vibrant, interesting place. Please don't dilute London.
Mr Jesse Vile	12-MAR-13	It's a well-used pub and a haven for those who enjoy alternative music without being segregated to areas such as Camden High Street.
Mr Tom TJ Jordan	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is an important pub for the alternative music community. Having been a patron as a Londoner and having specifically visited this pub from the Midlands is testament to the popularity and importance of this pub.
Chelsea Turner	12-MAR-13	Any housing in this location will be FAR FROM AFFORDABLE in any reasonable sense of the word. Getting rid of the Intrepid Fox on these grounds therefore appears highly dubious.
Mr Benedict Jephcote	12-MAR-13	I strongly object to this proposal! Redevelopment of the site is not required. The closure of the Interpid Fox would be a severe blow to it's patrons and a great loss to the area. Re purposing the plot to this end, would be a huge loss to London as a whole. Tourists enjoy the diversity that London offers and by forcing this and other 'alternative' businesses away you ruin that. As a patron of this venue, would hate to see it go and cannot see the value in building more houses that most people will not be able to afford.
Mr Adam Parrish	12-MAR-13

		The plan is a terrible idea, tearing down an iconic bar & live venue for greedy real estate developers.
Miss Rhondda A Baty	12-MAR-13	Please don't turn The Intrepid Fox site into houses, it's a great pub, a safe haven for music lovers and a great boost to the economy (they seem to do a very good trade whenever I'm there). It's a fantastic pub that I enjoy visiting. Last time I went there it seemed there were 100+ people, all spending money on beer. There wasn't even a band on, but I've heard it's busier when there is. Please leave it alone, don't turn it into houses, I love the place. Yours sincerely, Jud :)
Mr Jud Vandy	13-MAR-13	This would be a disaster for the music scene in London, as a frequent visitor it's definitely a main reason for my visits as a tourist. The Intrepid Fox is home to some incredible live music, and for it not to exist anymore would be nothing short of a crime. Save The Intrepid Fox and the thousands of lives that are enhanced by its existence!!
Miss Karlie Marland	13-MAR-13	Objection. I object to any proposed change of use for this address.
Mr Scott Anderson	13-MAR-13
Miss Meltem Yumulgan	13-MAR-13	We love this bar and don't want it closed!!!
		It's absolutely appalling that the Intrepid Fox faces being demolished and turned into flats - its original venue suffered the same fate less than ten years ago. The Fox is a part of the musical heritage of London, and if these plans go ahead it means yet another independent business which gives Soho its character is lost to yet more soulless, faceless chain businesses and fancy apartments. All this is aside from the fact that the manager and director of over 20 years is once again facing homelessness and the loss of his business. I hope against hope that these plans are not allowed to proceed.
Miss Sophie Banyard	13-MAR-13	I'd like the Intrepid fox to remain the same
Mr Agoston Trapp	13-MAR-13

Dear Camden Council,

It's highly questionable that this planning application was brought forward as a good idea. This public house offers a service to a specific community in Greater London and the surrounding areas. The Intrepid Fox is known internationally as a meeting point for the alternative and rock community. The council have already gotten rid of the Astoria, The Metro, Sin and The Ghetto and are not being adequately replaced by businesses or venues of the same ilk. The loss of this business will mean a loss of a place where people of the community can congregate, and further losses to businesses like mine who relies upon small bands playing these venues.

Not only that, redevelopment under the guise of affordable housing at a Central London begs me to ask how affordable this housing is compared to average London Wages. If this is for the improvement of the area, the council should respond by providing evidence of the benefits in contrast to keeping the Intrepid Fox as is.

I kindly ask for an objection to the request.

Miss Lesley O'Brien
Matthew Jones

12-MAR-13

12-MAR-13 You've got to be fucking kidding!?

Mr Tim Barretto
Miss Julia Tuominen

12-MAR-13

12-MAR-13

After the removal of so many of the music venues in this area over the past few years. I think it would be of real detriment to the area to lose yet another. The Intrepid fox has been an institution since the sixties and should be celebrated as such. Intrepid Fox MUST stay!

I didn't need to know much about this place but I know there are definitely too many of these important music pubs being targeted though there are few actually supporting the local community as much. More people are getting into music and helping out new artists as well as more going to the pub with a positive feeling, great for the community!

Miss Natalie Davies

13-MAR-13

The pub has a busy, thriving community that has already been forced to relocate once. It is a necessary part of that community and a gathering place for many.

Mr Lee S Robson Private

13-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox pub is part of Central London's identity, I know, I worked in the area - so for all's sake leave one damn part of the musical generations culture standing. And just to make a very important point - there is no affordable housing ANYWHERE in London these days, so the fact that they think they can con everyone by claiming they're intentions are purely for the greater good by putting 'affordable' housing at the tip of the busiest shopping area in the UK is just insulting. Don't let them destroy a much loved pub, leave the Intrepid Fox alone.

Patricia Evans

12-MAR-13

Miss Kathleen Killen	12-MAR-13	I object to the application on the grounds that a substantial amount of the character of the area will be lost and that the development is not necessary.
Mr Fredric Sanabria	12-MAR-13	I'm not a resident in Greater London, but as a frequent visitor I would certainly miss the Intrepid Fox. It is a regular venue for me and my friends on our trips to London.
Mrs Hannah Thackeray	12-MAR-13	This would be a massive loss to the local community and those who visit from further away, and I strongly oppose this proposal.
Mr George W Collins`	12-MAR-13	I have strong objections to the use of this site. Please may this application be re-considered
Harry Nugent	12-MAR-13	I enjoy this pub very much and don't think we need more housing.
Debbie Ballard	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is part of our heritage ... leave it alone
Harry Nugent	12-MAR-13	I enjoy this pub very much and don't think we need more housing.
Rebecca m Southall	12-MAR-13	I object to the Intrepid Fox being closed down in favour of any reuse of the building.
Ms Annalee Jones	18-MAR-13	I am not a London resident but am against this proposal. the bar was packed when we were there, why close a successful business? There are not many of these places left, don't demolish one of the remaining rock clubs
Mr Nicholas Yelland	19-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a unique venue in this area of London and as such should be retained as a great amenity
Miss Katie Tarrant	12-MAR-13	The government are consistently making plans, changes and developments that do not please the public. The Intrepid Fox is a nationally appreciated venue that frequently serves and satisfies a large chunk of your community, all of whom pay taxes and contribute towards society as a whole. Venues and pubs are consistently being shut down by the government and replaced with housing and transport facilities. You can find housing and transport anywhere. What you can not find is the character and individuality that places such as The Intrepid Fox bring, not only to current members of your society, but to tourists and visitors, too. In the eyes of the government, music venues and pubs are not seen to be a necessary asset to society, but I would advise you to take note that the happiness of your people is one of the most necessary assets of all. Save The Intrepid Fox.
Mr Craig Young	12-MAR-13	As a proud patron of the Intrepid Fox, I would like to see the establishment preserved, so i am lodging this objection.
S Jackman	12-MAR-13	This is a landmark public house and its destruction will lower the character of the area
Mr David J Ford	12-MAR-13	There is a alternative bar at the foot of centre point, this is one of the few such establishments in London. Metal is part of England heritage and needs to be kept. Redeveloping the area may mean this establishment may close and not be able to be relocated.

		Intrepid Fox is an a great place which brings people together. It is also a great place to see live music. To see it taken away would be a great loss.
Miss Adacia Bryers	13-MAR-13
Miss Kelly Weston	13-MAR-13	No!

		This venue has helped my friends band get to where they are now! Without that platform they wouldnt have had the chances to play in festival in Europe. You cant close it down!!
Miss Laura M Davis	13-MAR-13
Mr Jay Pearson	13-MAR-13	OBJECTION - The Fox is one of the few decent places in London that attracts both people abroad and celebrities Dear Sirs,

I am writing to you to give my opinion about the redevelopment in the Intrepid Fox site.
I am against this redevelopment in this symbolic place and I think you should consider finding another place less popular for the redevelopment.

Yours sincerely,

Mr Jorge Roncero	13-MAR-13	Jorge Roncero
------------------	-----------	---------------

		Can we please maintain some places of character in this city? This is a colourful pub in an otherwise dreary area. I know, lets have a grey city full of yuppie flats is that the idea? we need to maintain diversity, character and vibrancy in London, or the place will lose its life.
Ms Jacqui JI Jameson	13-MAR-13
Martin Charlton	13-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is an iconic venue and would be a great loss to the social and music scene should it disappear This is an outrage, the intrepid fox is one of the best metal bars in London. Yet for the sake of another low-life, god forsaken tower block. You want to tear it down. I think not! I bring, not only opposition but others to oppose to.

DO NOT LET THIS HAPPEN

Mr Paul Anthony PAA Athert	13-MAR-13	METAL FOR LIFE!
Miss Sophia Foxx	13-MAR-13	I love the Intrepid Fox !! Please dont shut it !!!! i object
Plural of Dr peter I jelley	13-MAR-13
Mr Alex Hawkins	13-MAR-13	Strongly object The proposal would have a serious impact on London's alternative culture.
Mr M Strick	13-MAR-13
		I am against the proposed planning for flats on this location in London. I am a regular at this pub but more then that this part of London does not need more ugly flats over looking the main road. It needs to remain vibrate area rather then everyone being pushed more into Covent Garden which is already over crowed and doesn't cater to everyones taste. The last thing we need is more housing in this area!!!!
Miss christina georgiou NHS	12-MAR-13
Miss K O'Sullivan	12-MAR-13	Don't get rid of the Intrepid Fox

Tamsin Spargo	12-MAR-13	Changing this would damage the nightlife in the area the center point site ha been a meeting place and iconic part of the west end for generations and has been used as a trusted meeting place, the bar / club known as the intrepid fox has and hopefully will continue to be one of londons best gig locations due to the intimate nature of the venue and the history of famous faces to have graced it, to knock it down would desecrate the memory of bands and musicians current and past, memories of some can never be replaced and to deprive future generation of this experience would be a crime, it has also been a great draw to many to the west end providing trade to the bar and to many local places of business including local music stores and cafe's alike
Mr Daniel s Holden	12-MAR-13	There's plenty of buildings that are unused and in disrepair! Don't take away one of our amazing pubs to make more houses
Miss Vicki Clayson	12-MAR-13	when there are plenty of other places to do up! I completely object with the plans to redevelop the site on which the intrepid fox stands. I have been going there since I was 18 (I'm now 23) and always go there either concerts or trips to london. I've even made trips to london with friends specifically to go to the Intrepid Fox.
Mr Steven Dewar	12-MAR-13	This is happening all to often, stop closing down decent pubs and venues just to make more houses! Yet anpther pub lost and probably converted to falts by a developer with no concern for community and services just a quick buck
Mr phil straszynski	25-MAR-13	I am against the idea of Intrepid Fox getting demolished. You need to consider the people like myself who enjoy going there regularly, which is perhaps one of the greatest pubs for the metal community in London.
Mr Adam Chabbi	12-MAR-13	If you demolish this pub then it will be like taking away a second home for everyone that has enjoyed going there throughout the past years. I cannot even imagine how terrible it would be without the Intrepid Fox.
Juliana Almeida	12-MAR-13	Please do not demolish Intrepid Fox. It's one of the best places I've ever been.
Mr Will Richardson	12-MAR-13	STOP LAND-GRABBING FOR PRIME REAL ESTATE AT THE EXPENSE OF BRILLIANT FACILITIES.
Miss Emma Frankel-Thorin	12-MAR-13	Do not tear this down!
Ms Holly E Wales	12-MAR-13	I completely oppose this, I've been visiting the Intrepid Fox for years and it'll be a travesty to see another wonderful rock music establishment be lost. People come from all over the world to visit the Intrepid Fox and meet like-minded people, I've met some lovely people there and have had some great times there as I'm sure so many others have - please reconsider.

The fox is a massive staple for the community. There are so few places in London where one can go to drink and enjoy hanging out in a classic rock pub, and the fox has always been my preference for sure because of the huge amount of space it boasts and also because of its over the top style, capturing the imagination and what metal/rock is about (and not taking it too seriously some the other pubs which come to mind, which attract the most negative crowds!). By closing the fox down you are killing a huge part of the music and rock/metal community, particularly as it is located at the top of Denmark St which is *famous* for it's music shops, and opposite a popular rehearsal studio.

Finally, the fox is a great live music venue which doesn't support pay to play. This is practically luxury - you have no idea how difficult it is to find a venue like that. So yes, this is a big deal and a big mistake!

Mr Daniel D.S Saunders

12-MAR-13

I completely object plans for change of use of The Intrepid Fox. This pub is a very important historical feature and should under NO circumstances be demolished. It is the meeting point of many cultural diversities and brings them together to house a whole community! It is unique in it's design, unlike your everyday Nandos or McDonalds and portrays the true identity of urban London. It would be an utter disaster to stamp out such a legacy as the Fox's and a huge loss for the originality of London. the intrepix fox brings much needed character to an area that has been sanitised by modern developments full of elite business and boring restaurants. it is unique and provides a public service to all. I object to the planning application because it only serves the wealthy.

Miss Courtney P Mates N/A

13-MAR-13

Mr george g bruffton

13-MAR-13

The intrepid fox is one of the last remaining venues in the area that offers such diversity to the area that it would be like cutting out the diversity of London this once thriving area occupied by the likes of sin, and Astoria offered something unique to an otherwise tourist-ized somewhat sole less area. It would be a crying shame for this little bit of real ness to be taken away rom the public

Mr Andy Budden

13-MAR-13

Strongly object to this; the bar is a focal point and encourages new young musicians. Fantastic place with amazing people, to loose this place would be a tragedy

Katherine E Allingham

13-MAR-13

This bar is a part of the London alternative community, please save it!

Miss Sophia Murray

13-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox is the only music venue/pub of its type in the area. It must not be allowed to close. We already lost the Astoria, and there's no replacement in the pipeline fr that. The Fox is an iconic venue for Londoners and for those from further afield. It should stay.

Mr Simon Lucas

13-MAR-13

Mr Tom F Hynes	12-MAR-13	Firmly opposed, it's not worth sacrificing a pub such as the Intrepid Fox with all it's history and fame for the sake of a few more flats. The area was badly hit enough when the Astoria was torn down, to consider doing this to The Fox is outrageous The Intrepid Fox is a world famous alternative/gothic/metal pub that has already suffered one move due to redevelopment of it's original site in Wardor St, Soho.I strongly oppose the planning application on the basis of it would be destroying a well known and well loved landmark.
Mr Eldred Barnard	12-MAR-13	This should not happen, London should not be losing a great pub that is unique, and there is no other place like it. It's not all about the money people.
Mr Paul Davies	12-MAR-13
Mr kevin wright	12-MAR-13	you should be saving valuable points of social contact especially those at the less mainstream and corporate end of the spectrum. The intrepid fox is a valuable social spot for a community of people within the centre of the capital city that has few accessible places based on culture that is not purely driven by commercial impulses. More diversity and less mono culture in a capital city is to be desired. It is in a location beside the most important area connected with popular music over the last 60 or so years in the UK. - this area should be preserved and encouraged to remain and grow. As so many metal lover sent message with objection, I also can't agree with this plan. Because the bar is one of the most amazing metal bar in the world. Although I am a Japanese, but I love an atmosphere at the bar. I think the UK have a wonderful cultural attitude toward all types of music. Many Japanese music lovers love this attitude. That is why many japanese people travel to the UK. Don't you think so? If you will demolish this bar, it automatically means that you show to collapse your own culture. I want you to put this thought before you decide anything.
Akemi Nishimura	12-MAR-13

I write this comment as someone who does not have a personal vested interest in preserving The Intrepid Fox; rather, my objection is more broadly from the perspective of a Londoner. Although it is not a place I frequently visit, I recognise its value for the community (the borough of Camden, and Greater London in general) and would like to tell you a little about why I feel it is absolutely necessary to preserve it.

The Fox is home to people who belong to alternative subcultures. These are people who listen to "scary" music and wear "odd" clothes, mostly musicians and artists. Increasingly, places which welcome these people are shutting their doors, which is a shame because they are also the most friendly and kindhearted people I have met. We aren't talking about "just another London pub"; The Fox serves a much more specific and important function in the community. If you are shaking your head, consider this: at the very least it keeps all the bloody weirdos out of your local.

On a broader scale, remember for a moment that London is an ic

Alice Anokhina	23-MAR-13	Based on these arguments, I strongly recommend that you reject Pubs like this should be kept open, we do not need any more housing..
Mr Paul Sweeting	12-MAR-13	I object to the demolition of The Intrepid Fox. The Fox is one of the most unique and characterful bars in London. It would be shameful to cast aside one of the gems of Soho in order to make way for an extravagant block of flats. Surely, at the very least, a compromise can be reached.
Mr Eoin O'Flynn	12-MAR-13	There aren't many places like this to go and socialize anymore, this development would result in another character pub being torn down. No thanks.
Martin Godfrey	12-MAR-13	Do not demolish the Intrepid Fox - the site is a vital cultural hub for many of London's residents, and is also a legendary symbol around the world.
Leigh Costanza	12-MAR-13	Trying to develop what is an iconic site to thousands of people around the world, a place where people meet and share common interests that other establishments dont cater for would be a travesty and should not be allowed to go ahead.
Mr Dave Morris	12-MAR-13	I would like to object to the request for planning permission.
		The basis for this objection is:
		* The Intrepid Fox (old and new) is an iconic name amongst music fans
		* The Intrepid Fox (old and new) is one of the last venues of the sort in that area, that caters for people that like alternative music
Mr Niraj Patel	12-MAR-13

Mr Julian Rawlinson	12-MAR-13	I object to this plan
Miss Nattalie M Richardson	12-MAR-13	Leave the intrepid fox alone!!!
Rebecca Dilg	12-MAR-13	Intrepid Fox needs to stay!

Please do not demolish the Intrepid Fox. As well as being one of the only pubs of its type in London catering for a specific type of music fan, it also has, a huge amount of history and heritage which I belive should be of consideration.

Once these places are gone they can never come back and the social fabric of London and its history ebbs away.

The Sex Pistols, the Rolloing Stones and countless other bands that are the backbone of the UK music industry and used this and its former location as a watering hole. Please lets protect some elements of what makes Britannia Cool.

Mr Neil Jones	12-MAR-13	I am not from London but come to London on a fortnightly basis and always stop off at the Intrepid. Please lets hang on to this place.
Mr Nils Daniel Lovenberry	12-MAR-13	I object We need to stop the destruction of famous London music venues and bars, it should be a heritage site just like the Astoria should have been.
Mr Chris J Hooley	12-MAR-13	I would like to state that I am opposed to the Intrepid Fox public house being turned into houses.
Mr Keith K A Robinson	N/A	12-MAR-13
Miss Clara Lilley	12-MAR-13	.

The Intrepid Fox is an integral reason of why I come to London, both as a specialist bar and a music venue. It is a shame to demolish a much loved piece of alternative culture in Central London. We have already lost the Astoria and the LA2 for live music, it would be outrageous to lose The Intrepid Fox as well.
Do not take intrepid fox away from us!

Mr Jason Fitt	12-MAR-13
Miss Monica Ravanelli	12-MAR-13

- Affordable housing in this central location - not a chance.
- Thousands of people from across the world flock to this venue every year, not every tourist wants to stare at beefeaters all day.
- The "Alternative" subculture is a dying breed, thanks for trying to crush it even more!

Miss Phoebe McQueen	13-MAR-13
---------------------	-----------

Great place . Not enough of these around. Would be so devastated if it went.
We can't keep closing down decent rock bars for more flats.

Mrs Clare L Ricketts	14-MAR-13	London is losing all its character .
Mr james allsop	14-MAR-13	Unneccesary development

		The Intrepid Fox is a true landmark for the London rock scene, one of a very few places where fans of rock & metal music can meet like minded people in Central London and a place with a reputation far beyond London or even the UK. Certainly not
Mr Christos Kollaros	14-MAR-13	the right choice of site to close down and replace with housing.
Aaron M Dernley	14-MAR-13	Save the fox!
		This sort of drinking establishment must be kept open as it is one of the last few places with character, that is different from the generic pubs and bars around central london. Having already moved from Soho itself, the current location has brought itself much more exposure and even more fanfare. Always attracting new visitors from around the world as well as keeping homegrown lovers of an "alternative" place to drink and socialise. We have lost far to many of these already over the last few years, especially from the redevelopment around
Mr Stuart Walder	14-MAR-13	Tottenham Court Rd station.
		Memories from hanging out with work colleagues from hmv so my objections are for sentimental value and cultural or historical
Tiffany T Subang	14-MAR-13	value due to many bands and famous people being in the pub
Shota Tanimoto	14-MAR-13	????????????????????
Shota Tanimoto	14-MAR-13	????????????????????
		Why are we destroying great places to put in housing when many buildings lie derilict.
		Surely it is better to redevelop an old unused building and there
Mr Darren Rao	13-MAR-13	has recently been many new homes set up opposite. I object to the redevelopment of The Intrepid Fox. The site provides a perfect social gathering for alternative people of London and attracts tourists of the same nature. The Intrepid fox not only invites visitors to its bar but also to explore the surrounding areas of Tottenham court road such as Denmark street, that maybe would not be discovered if they came to dead
Miss Leanne J Bowden	13-MAR-13	end housing. The Intrepid Fox has always been one of my favourite places to visit in London, as it is with many members of the alternative crowd; an important venue for up and coming bands, an attraction for people from all over the city, a place full of memories for so many people. Shutting down the Intrepid Fox for more housing, is not and will
Mr Jon MD Enright Enright & Liz Piechota	12-MAR-13	never be a good idea.
	12-MAR-13	Do not build on the Intrepid Fox, it is a great pub. Please don't take away our classic Alternative venue! I had
Mr Adam P Robinson	12-MAR-13	many a good time there in the past.
Ms Amy Crosthwaite	12-MAR-13	Aren't enough pubs and venues closing?
Mr Tal Fineman	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a fantastic and iconic rock/metal bar that should be allowed to remain where it is!
Mr Calum C.G Griffiths	12-MAR-13	This venue attracts people from all over london and is great addition to central londons music scene,

Alison Duncan-Mercy	12-MAR-13	a piece of historic london will be destroyed
Ms Naseeb Villkhu	12-MAR-13	Please don't take away The Intrepid Fox. The Intrepid Fox is an integral part of the music community, it
Miss Ceri M Harris	12-MAR-13	would be a crying shame to see it go. I object to this planned work as it would be a loss to the community. People flock to this bar from all over London allowing like minded people to mix with others, bringing people together to enjoy themselves.
Miss Polly King	12-MAR-13	Please do not close the intrepid fox. It is a unique pub and
Miss Nicola Genery	12-MAR-13	would be a real loss.
Mrs Hana Shuster	12-MAR-13	OBJECTION The Intrepid Fox is a landmark of the community and should stay where it is, untouched.
Mr Charlston Aslet	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a popular and well-loved pub serving a niche audience and has already been driven out of its previous home. To do so again would be an indecent attack on a specific audience all of whom pay taxes, vote and contribute to the economy just like everyone else. Closing popular pubs to make way for this kind of speculative redevelopment is a surefire way to turn London from a vibrant and unique city into an identikit wasteland of phone shops and building sites, alienating both
Mr Richard Trenholm	12-MAR-13	tourists and locals.  I'm extremely saddened and shocked by this recent news about the possibility of the Intrepid Fox being demolished. This is the best pub/bar in London now in my opinion for people who enjoy and appreciate the rock and metal scene. It's a place where we can all join together to enjoy each others company and I've had plenty of great memories at this place with my friends. It holds a special place in my heart because of it's atmosphere and the great times I've had there and I've got to socialize with really nice similar people to myself, which I don't get much chance to do anywhere else in London nowadays. It would be extremely
Miss Jade Crockford	12-MAR-13	missed if it was to be gotten rid of.
Dr Daniel Munoz	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a London institution popular with locals and visitors alike. There is a great sense of community emanating from the place, and the pub is also an integral part of the musical hub that extends form the nearby Denmark Street. This is a pub of historic importance and its loss would be detrimental to the whole identity and cultural and social life of the area.
Mr Danny Mowatt	12-MAR-13	Wow, yet more of our culture potentially taken away in exchange for... what?.... high street chains and the usual crap you see around every corner?
Mr Chris J Binks	12-MAR-13	Whenever I go to london I always try and visit this place. It's so important to the local music scene and needs to stay!

		I come to London for a reason, and that's for it's unique little places, shops and other attractions that I've discovered over the years.. and I hope there's more to discover before they all get sold off for development! I want there to still be a reason for me
Miss tallulah harper	12-MAR-13	to come to London in 20 years time.
		Leave the fox alone. We are losing music venues left right
Mr Daniek Frake	12-MAR-13	centre and we certainly don't need more houses, shops, offices or cafes in London
		Please don't demolish this one of a kind London music venue so
Mr Gary Newman	12-MAR-13	that the site can be converted to flats.
Jack La-Haye	12-MAR-13	GREAT MUSIC VENUE, DON'T DESTROY IT!
Mr Paul Ashe	12-MAR-13	Objection to this proposed development.
		The Intrepid Fox is an iconic and historical site for people who follow or sympathize with the Rock and Metal culture. It's importance is well known all around the world, with many visitors coming from different countries. Moreover, it well represents one of the multicultural faces of London.
		For all of these reasons, I believe the Intrepid Fox should not be
Mr Marco Angelino	12-MAR-13	redeveloped.
		Opposed to the development of this site into residential
Mr Francis J Boylan Swinton	12-MAR-13	dwelling.
		Hands off our rock pub. It does good business and gives somewhere to meet up with like minded individuals. We've already lost enough places through redevelopment so I believe
Mr Marc M Chapman	12-MAR-13	that the Fox must stay.
Mr adam kyle	12-MAR-13	Keep music alive in this country!
Dru Hall	12-MAR-13	Should remain a pub.
		The interpid fox is a corner stone of culture and diversity. re-establishing this as housing and retail would mean destroying a bar which draws a lot of young alternative people to
Mr Lee J Smith lee magpie s	12-MAR-13	this area.
Shota Tanimoto	14-MAR-13	????????????????????????
Shota Tanimoto	14-MAR-13	????????????????????????
		The Intrepid Fox is a London Legend, and creates reason for people to visit this beautiful capital. It is the place I take every visitor, it has character and gives a sense of the real London.
Miss Joanne Coetser	14-MAR-13	London would not be the same without it!
		Please do not allow this development to go ahead. This public house is a cultural icon in the Metal and Rock community that has already moved once. There are plenty of brownfield sites that could be developed into residential buildings.
		The area has a number of culturally iconic buildings including the Angel pub and the church opposite as well as the famous Denmark Street; famed for its street of musical instrument shops.
		The pub fits the character of the area and deserves to stay.
		Just because the Crossrail station will be here at Tottenham Court Road does not mean that we should allow our culture to
Mr Graham Matheson	11-MAR-13	be destroyed in the name of money.

Mr christopher c mottram	12-MAR-13	The intrepid fox should not be turned into houses is a great establishment that generations have been going to and it will be a great loss to the community and the thousands of people that travel there This is a culturally necessary pub and venue. There has been enough disruption to the TCR area because of the development of the station, please don't remove this pub too
Mr Iain Balloch	12-MAR-13	This is a culturally necessary pub and venue. There has been enough disruption to the TCR area because of the development of the station, please don't remove this pub too
Mr Iain Balloch	12-MAR-13	This is a culturally necessary pub and venue. There has been enough disruption to the TCR area because of the development of the station, please don't remove this pub too
Mr Richard Keogh	12-MAR-13	It is an iconic bar that should remain open. London has enough housing already. Why does it need to be in this location?
Mr Joe J Fitzgerald	12-MAR-13	You can't do this the Intrepid fox is an important part of the London rock scene you take it down there will be nothing left. Big businesses and hawk-eyed developers have no understanding of or appreciation for the character and community that alternative venues like the Intrepid Fox bring to a city. Not everyone who visits London wants to see postcard tourist attractions or go to chain pubs or restaurants, they come here because this city is a hub of creative, open minded people who want less commercial places to socialize. Independent businesses and venues are rapidly disappearing in recent years under pressure from developers and it is making the city a greyer, less hopeful, less attractive place to live in or visit. It is in the council's interest to preserve any locations that are key to London's alternative culture and encourage any public activity or expression that makes the city more colorful or welcoming. People like to see heart and authenticity, not cold commerce. Save the Intrepid Fox. i also love coming 2 london 4 heavy metal concerts. i go to intrepid fox before and after concerts. dont let london become glasgow. were there is no were for heavy metal music fans.
Mr Keith Handley	13-MAR-13	The Intrepid fox is one of few remaining metal pubs in London. It has its history and it's loved for many people around the world!!!!
Mrs Katia Pedersen	13-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is an institution in London! Let's keep it open
Mr Marco MP Piras	13-MAR-13	PLEASE!!!!!! I strongly object to the Intrepid Fox being closed or destroyed as it is a unique venue for many of the people who go there as it is a venue dedicated to playing music that many pubs &amp; clubs won't play very often. On these grounds do I object as a
Miss Lorraine Harrington	13-MAR-13	Intrepid Fox goer. OBJECTION TO THE DEMOLITION OF THE INTREPID FOX. THIS IS AN ICONIC ROCK VENUE THAT PROVIDES A STRONG SERVICE TO UP AND COMING MUSIC TALENT AND DESERVES TO STAY.
Miss CHERYL CAVANAGH	13-MAR-13	Shame to see IF pub shut. And for 'affordable housing'?
Mr Edward Leigh	13-MAR-13	Ridiculous. Save the Fox.

Mr gerald brooks	19-MAR-13	More unnessacary development where are young musicians supposed to play leave well alone Not the Intrepid Fox!
Riikka Salminen	12-MAR-13	I do not care about the Centre Point, but the Fox must stay for future Londoners and tourists. It is the place to feel the rock of London.
Mr John Arthur	12-MAR-13	Said "affordable" housing is likely to be anything but. The Center of London DOES NOT need anymore housing!Demolishing the Intrepid Fox will stop a lot of people(tourists in particular )to come and stay for the night life in the westend!
Mrs veronique mangan	12-MAR-13	This is one of the very few rock pubs in London, with a rich history of famous musicians and music fans alike. The only nearby place to go is The Crobar which is always rammed to full capacity, and this will displace the hundreds of customers that go there every single week.
Mr Charlie CJR Ryan	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a valuable social meeting place for fans of alternative and popular culture alike.
Mr Nicholas Ray	12-MAR-13	This bar is an integral part of London's culture and must not be destroyed by turning this building into housing. Tis must not happen.
Mr Paul P Brigstock Phoenix	12-MAR-13	I wish to oppose this motion and the redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox.
Mr Alan Cowsill	12-MAR-13	Best pub in the area with a mixed crowd...thought it was a multi cultural area?
Mr Paul Karaolis	12-MAR-13	Offer affordable housing? We all know this is going to be the end of space where creative people can gather.
Letizia L Piol	12-MAR-13	Stop gentrification! Save London's uniqueness!!!
Miss Stacey S Hurst	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is part of the community.
		Since the demolition of the Astoria, the last thing that the music scene needs is another iconic venue wiped off the map.
		All the shops in Denmark Street that have furnished musicians for many decades will feel the impact if the Fox is flattened. There will be many bands that will feel the impact to, as well as the loyal customers of the Fox.
Mr steve salmon	12-MAR-13	THIS CAN NOT HAPPEN!!

		The area around Centre Point Tower is a thriving and bustling area, and The Intrepid Fox is a major venue in the area that is very popular venue with locals and tourists alike, that adds the areas character. This proposal is mad because the area in question is totally unsuitable for residential housing because it is a main thoroughfare for revellers returning home and the multitude of bars in the area, and it will simply lead to conflicts of interest between thriving businesses and new tenants that will object to the many businesses operating in the area. All that will be achieved by this proposal is to make it harder for businesses already struggling to make it to the recession, and increase the workload for Camden Council dealing with unnecessary complaints. This whole idea is mad and serves no purpose other than developers. It's time to do your job and protect the existing business that are paying their rates, and keeping the centre of London a thriving cosmopolitan destination.
Mr Alfred Camp	12-MAR-13	I think the Intrepid fox should stay open as it's a brilliant pub, everyone that goes there is always very nice, and it's a great place for bands to play as well.
Mr Ben Green	12-MAR-13
Miss tihana sarkic	12-MAR-13	!
		I object to the redevelopment of the intrepid fox into housing. I lived in London for two years and this pub is a great venue, part of london's culture and heritage, known worldwide. It adds a great sense of community to the area. Turning the intrepid fox into housing would a massive loss for Londoners. I truly believe it should remain as it is, a well-loved, popular, unique, trendy and convivial establishment.
Miss Laure Doucet	12-MAR-13
		Objection you can not do this, please leave this place alone and if you have any appreciation of music you would understand and consider this site as heritage and a place of history
Miss Nina N Bates Higgs	12-MAR-13
Mrs Helen Berry	12-MAR-13	Totally unsuitable area for housing
Ms Tina Cullen	12-MAR-13	I object to this application.
		The Intrepid Fox is a local landmark! It has already had to relocate once so why put them through this again? It is not just a pub, it's an amazing atmosphere. Please keep it.
Jess Hunt	12-MAR-13
Mr Amit Valand	12-MAR-13	I object!
		Please don't let yet another piece of London's diverse culture be wiped out by bland corporations and money hungry landlords. Would be sad to see one of Londons iconic establishments demolished.
Miss VJ Penna	12-MAR-13
Jasper Welzel	12-MAR-13	This is an incredible bar, thats always full of business and never causes any trouble. these sorts of unique bars are hard to come by, so why replace it with something we have 2 metres away on every other street!
Miss Lily Randall	12-MAR-13
Valentina Pisoni	12-MAR-13	I am AGAINST THE DEMOLITION of Intrepid fox bar.
Dr Doug Cartwright The Rhy	12-MAR-13	Hell no!

Ms Gemma Stevenson	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a landmark in itself. Already ousted to its current location do not move it again. Refurbish it yes, but can't it be included in the retail and restaurant facade? Please don't demolish the Intrepid Fox Bar. Whenever I travel to London I make a point of travelling to the Fox. It's not just a bar it's a feeling of family and unity. It's a great place to hang out and feel safe and at home. It would be a great loss to loose such a place.
Mr Stephen Claxton	12-MAR-13	i strongly oppose &amp; disagree with the planned destruction of yet another valued &amp; characterful venue!
Mr Michael mjm McGrath	20-MAR-13	which adds much needed color to the london scene I am quite regular on this pub, my favourite for years.....and I amwritng to ask to not to go ahead with the demolition of the place..!!...
Mr Saul Volpini	12-MAR-13	I am quite regular on this pub, my favourite for years.....and I amwritng to ask to not to go ahead with the demolition of the place..!!...
Mr Saul Volpini	12-MAR-13	place..!!...
Mrs Martine Steel	12-MAR-13	Please do not destroy our London heritage by closing this bar! i think its disgusting that one of the most iconic,historic and popular music and entertainment venues in London,if not the country,is been considered for demolition!
Mr michael n chicken	12-MAR-13	absolutely appalling and very sad.
Mr Allan M I Allan	12-MAR-13	Keep the Intrepid Fox!! Its a great pub that caters to a large section of the community.
Ioanna Iacovides	12-MAR-13	Objection The Intrepid Fox is a bar / meeting point / live music venue for those with a passion for alternative music. These type of venues are now disappearing at an alarming rate and replaced with clone pubs with no soul or atmosphere. People travel long distances (including myself) to visit this bar and feel everything should be done to protect its existence.
		This part of London (Soho) has a long history with music and alternative music, we have already lost The Astoria, The original Marquee Club so please do not let the Fox be demolished as well.
		The Intrepid Fox is a well-run, busy and economically sustainable venue so replacing it with affordable housing so the developer can build million pound apartments is perverse. These new expensive flats do not add anything to the local community. They are normally owned by investors for renting out and sit empty for long periods. Please do not replace a thriving business with desolate clone housing that does not help promote London as the most diverse city in the world.
Mr James A Stockdale	12-MAR-13	This is to petition against The Intrepid Fox, Tottenham Court Road from being demolished for Houses.
Miss Jade L Pearson	12-MAR-13

I am a regular patron of the venue and I object in the redevelopment of Intrepid fox site to anything else but it is current usage.

I doubt that that space would be decisive for the residential plan but its redevelopment will result in the destruction of an iconic venue, centre of alternative music, culture and touristic attraction.

Mr Nick N Realdini	13-MAR-13	Regards, Nik The Intrepid Fox is a safe haven for metalheads and like-minded people who are otherwise shunned or dismissed as 'weirdos'. There is an abundance of overpriced, rubbish bars/coffee shops/department stores etc. that we don't need and could easily be converted into housing. Leave the Fox alone.
Mr Jay White	13-MAR-13	\m/
Miss Beth C Pollard	13-MAR-13	I do not agree this is in the interest of the public
Miss Natalie Brady	14-MAR-13	It's a great social place
Dr Chris Cowgill Roatan	14-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox pub is one of a kind, and should be protected. This is one of the only places in London where Rocken roll still lives. And important social spot for meny generations.
Helga HR Ribinska	14-MAR-13
Linda Fatels	14-MAR-13	I object
		Camden has been a huge part of london history since the dawn of time and attracts a worldwide audience,so to destroy the intrepid fox would be a travesty as a huge alternative group go there as for a night out or a stop over before and after a concert as myself and my girlfriend did last november and are planning to many times in the future.Please do not take this pub away from the vast crowd who love this venue for everything it has to offer for alternative music as there are so few venues left of such caliber let alone bringing more money into london itself. A hub for a community in London, this world famous pub is a great tourist site and generator of revenue for the local economy and a contributor of business rate o the council. The intrepid fox perfectly compliments the adjacent Denmark street with its music theme.
Mr richard rj anchor	12-MAR-13
Miss Rachael Moss	12-MAR-13	Camden is what it is due to the stores and pubs within it. More housing development is not needed and will only deplete the character of the town.
Mr Tobias TIP Perrin	12-MAR-13
		There are few enough metal bars in the entire country without one being turned into flats that will eventually end up housing more immigrants - of which we have have far too many! leave London as it is no more houses are needed in central London.
Miss Louise V Apps	12-MAR-13
Mr richard parkes	12-MAR-13

It dismays me to see yet another popular venue that is reknowned within the london music scene have to close it's doors.

Mr Jonathan McDougall	12-MAR-13	I am impressed with the speed that the developers moved with, since this was only recently reported in the press. It's one of the only places anywhere nearby that cater to the heavy rock inclined that isn't the size of the box. I have so many good memories of this place the thought of it going for more
Stephanie L Joy	12-MAR-13	houses is horrific! Leave the Intrepid Fox alone. We want it left just as it is. Stop destroying historic venues that mean the world to us. You already destroyed the Astoria in Charing Cross, back off! I regularly travel to London and spend as much time as possible
Miss S A	12-MAR-13	here. I object for this bar to be demolished, I travel from a far distance to come to this bar amongst many others that most likely do as we'll, just to get away from it all, and to relax within this great community we have gathered over the years, and I for one will not stand here and let somebody just come down and demolish our society, for us who love
Mr Imran IK Kay	12-MAR-13	Intrepid Fox, this isn't just a bar it's our lifestyle.
Mr Tom Ballard	12-MAR-13	Object. No objection to the change of use from offices to residential of Centre Point but I object to redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox site. This is a historically valuable pub site in an area that has historically been characterised by pubs and other drinking establishments. It would be a shame to change the character of
Mr Matheus van den bergh	12-MAR-13	the area.
David DJ Stevenson n/a	12-MAR-13	I wish to object to the demolition & redevelopment of the Site , containing the Intrepid fox public house . The Intrepid Fox is an important cultural center for London's 'alternative' scene and should not be knocked down simply to
Mr Thomas J O'Toole	12-MAR-13	build accommodation in an already over populated city. This venue is considered part of the historic"tinpan alley" & is quite a tourist attraction. I can attest to that personally & have seen a large variety of different classes of people enjoy the diversity of this venue. I too loose it
Mr Shaun j siddells The strat	12-MAR-13	would be a cultural blow to the magic of Soho.
suzanne poulter	12-MAR-13	bad idea, please dont do it.
Mrs Sandra A Albuquerque	12-MAR-13	OBJECTION. There are very few places for fans of the 'Rock' and 'Metal' genre to take refuge in. The Intrepid Fox is one of these, and for this reason I must state my objection to this part of town being reformatted.

While The Intrepid Fox may not be old enough to be considered a 'Rock Landmark', I feel that it the opposite could be appropriately said in a couple of decades.

Mr James JLV Vaughan Stuc 12-MAR-13 Kind Regards,

Hannah L Lawrence	12-MAR-13	This can not happen
Dr Hendrik Huthoff	12-MAR-13	save the intrepid fox I worked in this area for 7 years and the last thing needed is council housing smack dab in the middle of the busiest, noisiest part of London. A gathering spot like the Intrepid Fox has drawn people off the streets and into a venue where like minded people can meet and share a drink, play some pool and listen to music that is energetic and invigorating. I OBJECT TO THIS,
Mr Mark S Buschbacher	12-MAR-13	KEEP THE INTREPID FOX!
Mr Steve Fisher	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is an important attraction in the area, it brings tourist's from throughout the world to the area and always has. If the developers are required to provide affordable housing to let them put it in Centre Point, not treat people in need of affordable housing a second class citizens to be hidden around the back. The Intrepid Fox provides a valuable service to the "alternative" community and should not be allowed
Mr David Evans	12-MAR-13	to be lost to redevelopment. Leave London's historical buildings the way they are. Any more 're-developement ' & we shall have no heritage to enjoy. Wouldn't London be an empty city without the valuable tourist trade generated from an interest in such buildings as The simon n harvey	12-MAR-13	Intrepid Fox-HANDS OFF!. Objection to destruction. the intrepid fox is a unique 1 of a kind establishment . It is the only good bar left for people who live a
Mr luke lpk kinsella HQH	12-MAR-13	metal life. please do not demolish our bar
Ms Terezia Pop	12-MAR-13	Please don't do this AGAIN with my favourite pub. Would be a shame to lose such a good local businesses/night
Miss Samantha King	12-MAR-13	venues. One of the best live music venues on london and certainly one thats as close to peoples hearts as , say the underworld .It would
Mr Alex aaw Wronski	12-MAR-13	be a crime to turn it into houses !
Mr Sean C Scales	12-MAR-13	Let's see what happens.. Yet another awful money making scheme under the guise of "affordable housing". This is one of the most visited bars in London and so many people will be sad to see this go! How many more bars and pubs will survive in the coming years. We have already lost so many themed pubs like the Eerie chain
Mr Richard Golbourn	12-MAR-13	in London. Sad, sad times ahead! The Intrepid Fox is a venue that deserves to be saved due to the immense well of influence it gives to local area as well as to the bands that find this place as a staging area to launch careers. Please do not destroy this bar and give in to the 'Claim' that more housing is needed instead of redeveloping existing homes
Mr Gary P Stead	12-MAR-13	that are left empty

		Probably the best bar in the UK, possibly the world. People come from far and wide to experience what the Fox has to offer. This must be stopped! There is no lack of residential properties. Culture has to
Miss Rebecca E Wallis	12-MAR-13	sometimes be put before profit. This is the second time this excellent venue is under threat. There are too few alternative venues in London already, we'd
Miss Lisa Broomhall The Loi	12-MAR-13	hate to lose The Intrepid Fox. I come here socially as do many other people out of London. Take this away and not only do I no longer have a reason to come here but won't stay in hotels overnight, spend money in local b&bs, cafes, shops and so on. You will lose a great deal of music history should you tear this down and for what...
Miss Roxie Robinson	12-MAR-13	Two flats? The Intrepid Fox is one of the most famous and popular pubs. The name itself is known all around the world. It would be a
Elric EDN Newby	12-MAR-13	tragedy if this place was to go.
Miss ANGELA DIETMAN	12-MAR-13	OBJECTION! The central area of London has already lost so much of the
Miss Samantha Hall	12-MAR-13	diversity and character that made the city a cultural hub.
Miss Sarah Coutanche	12-MAR-13	PLEASE DONT DO IT!!!!
Miss Victoria Mead	12-MAR-13	While I agree we need more housing, tearing down the Fox is not the way to go about it
Mr Eddie Sharkey	12-MAR-13	This is a brilliant pub with a great community and atmosphere. It's one of a kind and should not be demolished ever.
Mr Liam Fisher	12-MAR-13	Objection of the planned closure of the intrepid Fox. There are few venues aimed at the type of music played at the Intrepid Fox, it is one of the few (and only one of size) in Central London & provides a valuable service to those of us that love rock music.
Mr Geoffrey White	12-MAR-13	Rather than repurposing the Intrepid Fox to become housing, why not use empty or out of use office blocks in the surrounding area? While London no doubt needs more social & affordable housing destroying a thriving business is no way to go about it. pubs like the intrepid fox need to be protected not built on,too many of our pubs and music venues close every week as it is,please rethink this proposal it would be a terrible shame to
Mr Wessleyjon Wallace-Dob	12-MAR-13	close this place !
mac tee Hollywood and Vin	12-MAR-13	it isnt needed Please don't demolish The Intrepid Fox-Centre Point has
Miss Faiza Hansraj	12-MAR-13	already lost so many venues :-(

		I am writing to object to your plans to demolish The Intrepid Fox. For me The Fox is becoming the most important venue for alternative music and culture in London and for the city that spawned such great talents as The Rolling Stones & Iron Maiden do you not think this is hugely Important? A venue that brings people together over something they love and that aids in showing the brilliance of how diverse London really is should not be taken away now should it? I have lived in many places around the world and London has always remained my favorite however in recent years I have seen a huge decline in venues for alternative music. The Astoria, a historical building and one where I have fond memories of seeing many great bands is now gone. The LA2 next to Astoria, another great band venue and great rock club -gone. The metro round the corner from both these, another fantastic place for smaller crowds and mid week Rock, Punk and Metal music - gone. The venue Sin next to where The Fox is now - gone. Why do you see it fit to take away what we love? Rock & Roll, Punk and Metal are all a huge p
Mr Ink D	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a one of a kind venue, and to lose it would be tragic!
Ms Jennifer Caverhill	12-MAR-13	Save The Intrepid Fox!!
Miss Jade Corrick	12-MAR-13	This is the only amazing pub in london do not want to lose this place
Mr sean Atkins	12-MAR-13	If you love this bar, then please help stop this happening by raising an objection. Camden was saved from development because people didn't want it, we can do the same with the Intrepid Fox.
Mrs Jacqueline J Jackson	12-MAR-13	Objection
david hunnibell	12-MAR-13
		You can't do that, if the Intrepid Fox goes where will I go to have a few drinks & meet people of a like mind. There are very few alternative pubs in that part of London & even fewer after Ben Crouches got redesigned into a wine bar.
Mr Valnir Cabrenudr	12-MAR-13	This is a great place that is a cultural hub! Really adds to the area and it's musical heritage
Miss Tara Staunton	12-MAR-13	I disagree with the Intrepid Fox and are demolition.
Lucía Iñarrea	12-MAR-13 cause that bar is awesome !! stop ruining the metal scene. there are enough offices in london, an houses in central would be way too expensive for people to actually wana live in
Miss rachael singleton	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox must live on!
Dave Daveson	12-MAR-13	Even though I live in Leicestershire, when I come to London one of my favourite places to spend an evening is the Intrepid Fox.
Mrs Tanya Westphal	12-MAR-13	And i would like it stay this way.
		I strongly object to the redevelopment of the Intrepid fox site, this area is slowly being destroyed by redevelopment and the life and soul of the west end is going, first classic music venues are destroyed and torn down and then bars where many enjoy a social time. These redevelopments are killing off an area that use to be a wonderful and creative one.
Ms Juju O'Grady	12-MAR-13

There are not that many pubs in London who cater predominately for lovers of metal and rock music. This scene adds to the attraction and diversity of our capital. The Fox is located at the end of one of the most famous musically related streets in the world, and therefore is ideally placed. As with the musically historic Astoria, the gradual erosion of this city's musical landscape will aid in destroying the character and appeal of the best city in the world.

Mr Ryan Olive

12-MAR-13 Please reconsider.....

Miss Lucy Currie

12-MAR-13

This place means more to me than any other location in London. It has helped me throw thick and thin. The Intrepid Fox... This popular bar has been part of Soho's culture for years and years. It has already once been forced to move from its original location in Wardour St, to the property below Centre Point where it has once again become home to 100's of people, a regular visitor's destination and a lively and well respected music venue.

Mr Andy A Hadley

12-MAR-13

Please don't allow this important part of Soho's vibrant culture to be destroyed as so much else has and is being...

This is the only place that still feels original in London. With music shops and original bars. Yes they may seem outdated and shabby but it has that feel that Brick Lane or Camden use to be before it got cleaned up and commercialized.

Alternative scene is dying out and there are hardly any unique or original places to go out or see smaller rock bands play.

Fox is an integral part of the scene and it is ideally located to pop over after work. I don't see why we should relocate to Camden or any other further location to have a drink. London has enough fancy places and areas.

Instead of putting away anything that is less flashy and catering for the upper class why not save the music street and the Fox and help it stay part of central London tourist attraction and alternative scene home.

Miss VJ Batkeviciute

12-MAR-13

More and more English pubs are disappearing and The Intrepid Fox has a long history in London's West End (albeit in two different locations). It would be a tragedy to lose this London

Mr David West

12-MAR-13

landmark.

Although I believe that affordable housing is something that the borough would benefit from, closure of the Intrepid Fox would have a negative impact on small businesses in the surrounding area who benefit from the establishment's passing trade. I, as someone who regularly commutes into London just to visit the Intrepid Fox, am strongly opposed to this planning application.

Miss Rina Mansey

12-MAR-13

Mr Marino Ficele

12-MAR-13

Leave it alone

the Intrepid Fox is an historical and cultural meeting point for the rock underground scene in London.this place is the second home of milion of people and I can't imagine Tottenham Court road without it.new housing development?may we know how &quot;affordable&quot; the rent will be?this must be a joke.London is plenty of empty buildings and offices that can be developped for housing matters, I dont' see why one of the most rappresentative place for the metal underground scene have to disappear.

Miss Pamela PS Signorini
Dr Ainara Aguadero

12-MAR-13
12-MAR-13

Raise objection for this planning application

I don't think The Intrepid Fox should be redeveloped! It is a place where things happen! It bring business to the area. By removing it you will loose a lot of the customers that go there.

Please reconsider your decision of replacing the venue and keep it there!

Miss Jessica J Laurent

13-MAR-13

Thanks

Kerry Sampson
Anita Chappell

13-MAR-13
13-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox is one of my favourite things about London and the three years i lived there i was there A LOT! Save the Fox!!!!
I don't like this idea at all.

Though I live a little way away, I frequent the Intrepid Fox for drinks and small gigs whenever possible, and the scene there is fantastic and would be sorely missed by a great number of people should it go. There's no need to replace one of London's most iconic and attractive little rock venues with yet more unaffordable housing!

Miss Marysia M Goldstein
Jessica J De Jesus Tradewi

12-MAR-13
12-MAR-13

Object!

Mr Jeremy Cusworth

12-MAR-13

I object to the request that the Intrepid Fox be turned into housing.

This piub ruins the environment of calm surrounding area's with loud drunk and sometimes trashy people. I have nothing but praise for it closing down.

Miss sofia n noreen

12-MAR-13

I am totally against the plans to change the area in this way, there are far too many resadential areas in london that are newly developed, it is keeping locals away and out pricing them.

The Intrepid fox is a London landmark and would be sad to see it go.

The people that go to this place would feel out of place in most usual bars, its gives the people of th world who have never fitted in, somewhere to go and feel like part of something.

Miss Candice Copley First 12-MAR-13 PLEASE SAVE THE FOX

		The Intrepid Fox is a world renowned pub, the loss of it from this area will have a negative impact on the number of tourists visiting the area.
Mr Adam Skelton	12-MAR-13
Mr Chris Drackett	13-MAR-13	Intrepid Fox is so important to the community! Should not close the venue, it is a brilliant venue. Not only is the location great, it serves well and provides live music, something which is unfortunately becoming an uncommon thing these days.
Mr Ahmed Ali	13-MAR-13
Mr Benedict S Moss	13-MAR-13	We are in dire need of more housing. This venue is a one of a kind in London and not only provides a safe and social environment for 'alternative' music fans but is essential to the growth and cultivation of grass roots music in the London area.
Mr Andy G Brook	14-MAR-13	it would be devastating to lose this corner stone of the London music scene This is a great institution to save from this plans. The Intrepid fox should not be closed. first: it's a great attraction for foreigners. Second: joins a lots of different kinds of people together and creates a unique space for them in central london.
Mr miguel riveiro	14-MAR-13
Ms Elaine Reader	14-MAR-13	I don't want to lose the Intrepid Fox! After the loss of The Astoria and many other venues and clubs in the area, fans of Rock music have had their options for places to go severely limited. We can't really afford to lose more. The Intrepid Fox is renowned as an excellent place for Rock fans to go. The music, both live and DJ'd and other events here such as stand-up comedy are excellent. More than that you have the unique decor and friendly atmosphere that you get there that make The Fox so close to many people's hearts. Losing this pub would destroy a part of London's culture and diversity. There is a real sense of community at this venue. I remember being there with a friend and he accidentally left a very expensive camera lens in the downstairs bar for at least an hour. It was still there when we went back to look for it. I truly doubt in any other establishment locally that someone wouldn't have made off with it. I can't think of many other reasons for me and other people with the same interests to visit this part of London if 'The Fox' gets turned into yet more unoccupied office blocks and soulless, tax-d
Mr Paul Scally	12-MAR-13
Mr James S Ready	12-MAR-13	A lengendary place that should be left alone!
Mr Samuel Edwards	12-MAR-13	Do not demolish the Intrepid Fox The Intrepid Fox is a long-standing and historical meeting place for many alternative Londoners. We have already been put through a relocation for an ill thought out business venture, and we do not need any further retail places in that area, especially in this economic climate and especially not at the expense of this institution.
Ms Sharon Irvine	12-MAR-13
Mr Sam p keenan	12-MAR-13	save the intrepid fox!
Mr guy lucas	12-MAR-13	i object

Mr Lukasz Kilichowski	12-MAR-13	OBJECTING Intrepid fox is a unique place that attracts attention and many people from different countries go to intrepid fox and make it one of the places to visit in London. it's very central location and keeps the area alive.
Miss Svetlana Purisova	12-MAR-13	The fox is an important cultural landmark and should not be
Mr Richard Lambert	12-MAR-13	&quot;developed&quot; I object to you closing/knocking down/rebuilding anything in place of the intrepid fox bar. It has history, it is a great place to go & one of the last few remaining places of its kind. Not everybody wants a fancy wine bar!!!!
Miss Kathryn Brown	12-MAR-13	Interpid fox cannot disappear from streets of London, there are way too many people who are ydt to experience the fox. It is a beacon for rock n roll music and culture in London. There is no alternative.
Mr benas drabavicius	12-MAR-13	A well known London landmark. It would be a great loss to lose a building of such character within the city.
Miss Kara Buller	12-MAR-13	I find it difficult to comment on this without knowledge of why it is being done. I think most will be in this boat which is a shame as most objections can only be 'I love the intrepid Fox, please don't close it'. And the decision may disregard any such statements, which it shouldn't due to the lack of information. Therefore all I can say is; I love the intrepid Fox. Please don't
Dr Ben Williams	12-MAR-13	close it. The Intrepid Fox is a nationally appreciated venue that frequently serves and satisfies a large amount of people. Venues and pubs are consistently being shut down by the government and replaced with housing and transport facilities leaving no jobs and nowhere to spend out money which does
Miss Julia Howe	12-MAR-13	not help the economy. The site of the intrepid fox should be considered as sacred ground for londons gradually shrinking rock and heavy metal scene, as most are aware it was us plucky brits who invented heavy metal, it would look bad if the ambassadors of this fine music was to come into a decline, there must come a point when something sacred and loved becomes an institution instead of being bulldozed for another concrete boring structure.
Mr keir j thomas Dirty mike a	12-MAR-13	Integrity should always come before profit. I am objecting to the demolition of &quot;The Intrepid Fox&quot; as it is a much valued London venue for smaller bands, a real landmark in the city. It would be a tragic loss to the music culture of London, at a time when bands are struggling to
Mrs ALAYNE TAYLOR	12-MAR-13	survive. I wish to wholly object to the proposition of building housing over the current Intrepid Fox site. The Intrepid is an integral part of Soho's social scene and, quite frankly, this corner of London
Mr Nicholas Fisher	12-MAR-13	simply does not require 'affordable' housing.
Mr Joe Dodd	12-MAR-13	we cant let another independent bar close ! Please do not approve planning for these houses. The intrepid fox is a vibrant place that is known internationally. Do not
Mr Ryan m Walton	12-MAR-13	destroy it!

The Intrepid Fox is a popular and well-loved pub serving a niche audience and has already been driven out of its previous home. To do so again would be an indecent attack on a specific audience all of whom pay taxes, vote and contribute to the economy just like everyone else.

Closing popular pubs to make way for this kind of speculative redevelopment is a surefire way to turn London from a vibrant and unique city into an identikit wasteland of phone shops and building sites, alienating both tourists and locals.

Miss Kati Koskinen
Cat Williams
Miss sam field

12-MAR-13
12-MAR-13
13-MAR-13

Objection to the redevelopment of Intrepid Fox.
objection

Although I am not a Londoner, it is a regular venue whenever I visit and always appears busy and popular. it is also one of very few good pubs that cater for their particular clientele and it would be a shame to lose it.

Mr Jon D Woodhead

13-MAR-13

I believe that removing Intrepid Fox from Centre Point, is removing a historically known place. I don't believe in creating affordable housing in Centre Point, any housing you create there will be expensive and only available for people with high income.

Miss Ewa M Lachowicz

13-MAR-13

Please save the bar that's part of the real London image and heritage!

Hannu Kalliolahti

13-MAR-13

I would very much like these premises to remain the way they are, as it is an important community gathering place, and generally a pleasant establishment.

Mr Daniel A Baune

13-MAR-13

This would be a travesty. The Intrepid Fox is so much a part of money and so many other peoples past. I couldn't ever gprs tp London without a pilgrimage to The Intrepid Fox. Many a good day and night spent enjoying the hospitality and atmosphere in this world renowned watering hole.

London has already lost to many iconic sites related to the world of alternative and heavy rock music losing another one would be terrible.

Not everyone goes London to see Buck House or Beefeaters! Some go expecting to find evidence of our musical and cultural history beyond the average tour guides route!

Mr Gregorio Massara

13-MAR-13

London has already lost too many iconic sites related to the world of alternative and heavy rock music losing another one would be terrible.

Miss Ausrie Felice

13-MAR-13

I heavily disagree with the proposals for change of use of this Local landmark steeped in musical cultural history.

Mr Kieron allender

13-MAR-13

It would be a national cultural tragedy to lose this arts venue (The Intrepid Fox.)

Mr Phil Geraghty

13-MAR-13

It truly is a landmark for many of us.

Mr Adam Gibbs	13-MAR-13	The intrepid fox is one of the best bars in London, it would be crazy to get rid of it!
Ms Candice B Kruger	13-MAR-13	Objection Dear Camden Council,  With all due respect, You're destroying everything that tourists come to see in London. The Intrepid Fox is a massive, well-known establishment people travel from outside the UK to come and see, bringing money to the city in the process, and you want to make cheap houses?  There is a lot of space in London (I live in Haringey and god knows that area needs gentrification), why are you hell-bent in stabbing yourselves in the foot? It won't make the area any more respectable, if anything it will make it more desolate and less safe.  Respectfully yours, PB
Mr Pablo Bellinghausen	19-MAR-13
Mr Kalle Roxner	12-MAR-13	Do not ruin one of the best bars in london! The Fox is one of the best bars ever. Always going there when im coming to london!
Mr Tom Benwell	12-MAR-13	I am against the Intrepid Fox site being developed as I am a regular of this unique bar.
Helena Stroud	12-MAR-13	We definitely, definitely do not want the Intrepid Fox pulled down.
Salomé Salazar universalq	12-MAR-13	objection
Emma Peryer	12-MAR-13	Objection to above request
		It's a well known fact that to enjoy an alternative venue you must be 'in the spirit of Soho and be open-minded. However, it is fair to say that the Intrepid Fox is a pretty friendly place and the door policy isn't strict. Acceptance in any case is very forthcoming there. In fact, many tribes mingle over the two floors: goths and hard rock fans share breathing air with the metal added, genres becoming mixed as the night progresses. Most patrons may be mean-looking but they are all polite never be afraid to say hello – that's unusual for a bar in this locale.  This is a part of Soho and London history, pride and a tourist point with tens of thousands flocking there yearly from outside the City. Just at the end of the legendary Denmark Street, it's known all over the world as the heart and soul of the alternative scene in the UK! To lose it would be an injustice to what is a major part of Soho's soul!
Mr David Fowler	12-MAR-13

		really, honestly your going to turn one of the fewest alternative establishments in to flats and shops, there must be better locations with in london which arnt being use/abandoned to develope shops and flats. i dont think it fair, all alternitave night clubs are closing down like the one that was under London astoria. why shut shuch a popular one down for others benefits when we have no where else to go, you will have a huge battle on your hands if u try and proceed. or is just coz we are metelers was cannot claim that your not being PC i.e if it was a gay/religious establishment you wouldnt propose this and we
Mr steven akinlade	12-MAR-13	are easy to fobof
Mr Tero Pikala	12-MAR-13	Interpid Fox is an institution. Please don't destroy it! a great place that shouldn't be destroyed. Also its not the ideal place for housing, as its in a tourist area and so the intrepid fox belongs in this area
Miss elizabeth haylock	12-MAR-13
		This is an amazing venue, that caters for an under-represented minority. It is one of the only bars in all of central london that has absolutely no dress code. In all my years of going there, never once have i seen anyone turned away from the doors (except for when someone is far too drunk). There are also serious health and safety concerns that if you shut down this bar, the Cro Bar a few streets away (which already is bursting at the seams with patrons most weekends) would suddenly have 3 times as many people going there, People flock from every corner of our fine city to go there, personally i live way out in E18 and i still consider the fox to be my local. Please dont let this haven be replaced with yet more of the
Mr Daniel Gronner	12-MAR-13	same soulless rubbish.
Mr ROBERT I WARD	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox must stay as an iconic London venue.
Mick Lee	12-MAR-13	Don't shut down the Intrepid Fox!!! If you keep building houses for yuppies and arseholes you will throttle the life out of the city. Why don't you build flats in that
Miss Emma Gritt Journalist	12-MAR-13	shitty chav bar at the top of New Oxford St? Please do not close the intrepid fox, it's a wonderful pub that has been closed once before. However is a unique and great
Mr Craig A Baldwin	12-MAR-13	place to gather.
Mr Liam Clarke	12-MAR-13	I love this pub, you can't start taking our pubs for flats. This is one of the only original bars left in this area, a true rock
Miss Anika Scharlock	12-MAR-13	bar which is needed close to Soho. There has been more than enough building /construction /development in the immediate vicinity of the above area making traveling by public transport, an tireless effort in recent years! That, combined with the fact that there is a very vibrant & world famous music alternative music bar, which would
John Gunne	12-MAR-13	be lost by the "development".

Big businesses and hawk-eyed developers have no understanding of or appreciation for the character and community that alternative venues like the Intrepid Fox bring to a city. Not everyone who visits London wants to see postcard tourist attractions or go to chain pubs or restaurants, they come here because this city is a hub of creative, open minded people who want less commercial places to socialize. Independent businesses and venues are rapidly disappearing in recent years under pressure from developers and it is making the city a greyer, less hopeful, less attractive place to live in or visit. It is in the council's interest to preserve any locations that are key to London's alternative culture and encourage any public activity or expression that makes the city more colorful or welcoming. People like to see heart and authenticity, not cold commerce.

Mr James Taylor
Mr Adam Evans

12-MAR-13 Save the Intrepid Fox.
12-MAR-13 Objection

I object to this plan as the venue that is meant to be destroyed and rebuilt is an important and integral part of the landscape in Tottenham, court road area, there are far few places as unique as the Intrepid Fox in the city of London and the replace such a venue would be a great loss to the city and area it is in.

R Naor

12-MAR-13

There will be no life left in London if such places are continually taken away from us for housing. This is a very popular venue and one that many of the alternative genres appreciate. Unlike alot of public houses, alternative fans do not generally smash places up or put themselves in hospital through their own stupidity. Many are well educated and just want to have a release somewhere they enjoy. This is what stops them acting like the more mainstream people who are a damage unto themselves. Please don't close down one of the last remaining venues for the more modest drinker. There are other sites and other places for housing developments!

Mrs Louisa Parker-Nelson N 12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox is culturally significant & appeals to a wide variety of people including international visitors. While considered alternative it is one of the few venues I frequent regularly. Usually as an escape from the poisonous venues/populace of Leicester Square & West End. The area has a great deal of character but this is being eroded. For example, the newly built yet incongruous construction next door is a joke.

Mr Michael Hearne

12-MAR-13

I object to this. This is an area of cultural significance to the alternative community. this is not an area suitable for housing anyway.

Mrs lauren a whittaker
Tommy Jacobsen

12-MAR-13
12-MAR-13 Save the Intrepid Fox

		The Intrepid Fox is a fine live music establishment and pub in London and has attracted many fans the world over. It would be a shame to lose it and will disappoint many people, myself included. London has lost many original music venues over the years, including the Astoria, please don't let The Intrepid Fox be one of them.
Rosanne Liu	12-MAR-13	I object to these plans as the destruction of the Intrepid Fox would be a huge loss to an already badly damaged area. The importance of venues such as the fox, the astoria, the la2 etc is far greater than a block of flats and a restaurant
Mr nick widdowson	12-MAR-13	The Intrpeid Fox is central to the alternative scene in Soho, and is valuable to the night life there. I strongly object to its redevelopment,
Miss Indianna C Jones	13-MAR-13	Save the Intrepid Fox, if offers this area of London a unique PH for social diversity.
Mr Andy D Lewis	13-MAR-13	This is the best alternative pub in London. Places like this are dying out. Lets keep this one going. Its one of the many few places left that are decent. Don't get rid of this place!
Mr Benjamin B Wright	13-MAR-13	Objection
Billy Nieminen	13-MAR-13	I am completely against the redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox site. This building serves an important cultural purpose to London by supporting the alternative music scene. The bar is world renowned among the world of heavy metal and rock music and acts as an important tourist attraction for visiting fans of such music.
		Given the venues close proximity to other venues such as The Crowbar and 12 bar club, it plays an integral role in the formation of an 'alternative 'neighbourhood'. An area where musicians and artists, young, fun loving people come together to watch live music and to socialise. This could be considered similar to New York City's lower east side, Berlin's Kreuzberg, Toronto's Queen street w to name but a few.
		London is famous for some of the greatest alternative music groups of all time, The Rolling Stones, Iron Maiden, The Sex Pistols, The Clash. To destroy the Intrepid Fox is to attack that very culture from which such acts were created and thrived, it is to also have an negative impact on the future of London's alternative music scene.
Mr David W Billinge	13-MAR-13	OBJECT The Intrepid Fox is a historical establishment as part of London's lengthy musical history. It is known around the world as on of THE places to go for Rock Music and therefore brings in tourism.
		Coupled with it's location right near Denmark Street it is also an integral part of England's musical heritage and is a key meeting point for native musicians too.
Mr Darren Beasley Skynful	13-MAR-13

The decimation to the London rock scene in Soho that was brought by Crossrail was enough for us to stomach. With the closure of Sin, the London Astoria and the LA2, along with other key shops, bars and restaurants in the area, there has been enough closures to last a lifetime.

The Intrepid Fox has already been moved once due to failed redevelopment and now a burger bar stands where it once stood and had such a huge history, playing host to the greats from Jimi Hendrix to Bob Marley.

Ms Jennifer Scott	12-MAR-13	It should be left in peace and the heart of Soho - the music enthusiasts - should be allowed to stay.
Mr Timothy A Chilvers	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a pillar of subculture that will be destroyed if this goes ahead.
Mr Andrew Harker	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is one of the most sociable and nicest areas to congregate with friends. Please do not deny us this wonderful pub.
Mr Chris Varnham Nebula N	12-MAR-13	Please keep Intrepid Fox open!
Miss Roberta Saliani	12-MAR-13	Objection

Hello

I, and many others I'm sure, would like to strongly object to this. It would be nothing short of vandalism, to destroy a cultural venue like Intrepid Fox.

The Fox caters for huge metal scene and not only that, it is a friendly place that accepts, and welcomes everyone with an open mind.

We need more venues like this as opposed to destroying them.

Mr Boris Pavicevic	12-MAR-13	Thank you for your time. The small peices of London that give it character have been quickly dissapearing at an alarming rate. DON'T let this become the next victim!
Mr Chris Andrews	12-MAR-13	SAVE THE FOX!
lawrence lh harrington	12-MAR-13
Mrs Julia May	12-MAR-13	I do not want the Interpid Fox bar to be demolished We need to protect our pubs, they are a vital part of our heritage this venue adds character to the area rather than it being a faceless corporate mess
Mr robbie drake	12-MAR-13	I object to the close of The Intrepid Fox bar to create houses. It's a small business that many people like and a great music venue for upcoming talents.
Mr Alex Mugica	13-MAR-13
Mr Daniel R Leatherdale	13-MAR-13	I fully object to the closing of the Intrepid Fox to be turned into houses/flats/offices. The place is a legendary rock bar in the area, the unique tourist place has attracted people from all over the world and would be a cultural tragedy if it was to close.

Intrepid fox has and always will be a british landmark for rock and roll, its something we should be proud of, and given the recent collapse of many music venues it is something not to be taken lightly!

These plans will affect an incredible ammount of people, from the peopel who work there, to musicians, tourists and locals.

Mr Tom T Harrison	13-MAR-13	Save 'The Intrepid Fox' by stopping turning into the houses!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
Mr Lukasz Makawczyk	13-MAR-13	Objection
Mr Hector Carreno	13-MAR-13	Objection
Mr Hector Carreno	13-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a much valued and needed live music venue in Central London. With the exception of the Tottenham and 100 Club there is NO WHERE else for rock and metal enthusiasts to drink and enjoy live music. I along with many others STRONGLY object to the proposal to demolish the Fox. This should not be allowed!!!
Mr Daniel Mattin Self employ	13-MAR-13	you took away the Astoria and now you want this? Shame on you. It's the ONLY rock pub in central London. It attracts a LOT of tourists who spend money in the surrounding area. London is about diversity. What's diverse about every sodding pub being an All Bar One. You should protect independent niche pubs, they add to your city but you are too short sighted to see this.
Miss susan Murray	12-MAR-13	GROW UP.
Mr T Anderson	12-MAR-13	This is unsuitable
Mr Richard R Milligan	12-MAR-13	I object to this proposal
Mr simon hunter	12-MAR-13	Leave the intrepid fox alone.
Mr David J Posada	12-MAR-13	No no no!
Miss Georgina RS Barrett	12-MAR-13	Opposing redevelopment of Intrepid Fox, not refurbishment of facades. I strongly object to this development.
Ms Michelle Key-Lewis	12-MAR-13
Miss Justine Bixby	12-MAR-13	OBJECTION!!! the intrepid fox is a cultural institution that should be protected
Alex Lort Phillips	12-MAR-13	and repected The Intrepid Fox is the only rock club left in central London-
Miss Heather Monro	12-MAR-13	don't let it go Please do not destroy this unique and remarkable inn down just
Mr Mark B Shelley n/a	12-MAR-13	to build more cookie-cutter flats.
		By removing the Intrepid Fox not only will you be destroying a landmark, history but also the hopeful future musicians potential careers and the community built inside the Intrepid Fox. I do not wish to write an essay on the matter so shall bluntly say I object strongly as affordable house provisions is inevitably an oxymoron considering the location.
Miss Laura Bowman	12-MAR-13

		So you want to close yet another decent bar, to make way for more housing? I have to strongly object to this. True I may not get down there as much as I used to, but I still want to have that option the times I do visit London. How about you go and do up the ramshackle dwellings that already are houses, and make them livable. Rather than destroying entertainment venues that give some semblance of a life to the people. The country is already heading down a depressing path, I for one find it rather bleak that you're trying your best to suck all life out of... well. Life. To many of these places have bit the dust already. It's time to make a stand and say no more. LEAVE THE FOX ALONE!!! Don't ruin the character of Soho by closing down an iconic pub! (Intrepid Fox) London does not have enough alternative venues as it is!!
Mr Stuart J. Prowse	13-MAR-13	Oppose to the proposed planning;
Miss Elisabeth ESK Kerner	13-MAR-13
		The area, and especially The Intrepid Fox add to the surroundings of Denmark Street as a unique establishment.
Mr Jeroen Thijssen	13-MAR-13	It would be an utter disappointment to change this unique environment into yet another office zone.
		The intrepid fox is a great social establishment, tearing it down in order to erect more housing development is not something I'd agree with. There are various amounts of wasteland that can be used for housing, please use an alternative
Mr Andrew Tate	13-MAR-13	Objection
Mr K Bass	13-MAR-13	First the Astoria, now the Fox. Camden Council seems to be doing it's utmost to rid the Camden borough of every good
Miss Louisa Austin	13-MAR-13	cultural landmark it has ever possessed. Please re-think! The Intrepid fox is a fantastic bar for those of us who follow an alternative lifestyle, in a world of blandness and banality it's a
Mr Adam Wheeler	13-MAR-13	welcome oasis in the west end!
Miss Domiziana talarico	13-MAR-13	You just cannot do this!
		If further housing is being provided, which is, in itself, a good thing, then a pub is still needed. The Intrepid Fox caters for a
Karl Grey	13-MAR-13	specific clientele that should not be ignored.
Mr Filippo FM Monticelli	13-MAR-13	The fox is one of the best rock/metal pub in london, ut would be a shame to close it!
Miss gaynor griffin	13-MAR-13	I let you know that I object to the Interpid Fox being closed
Dr Richard Farn	13-MAR-13	Heavily object
		I SRONGLY OBJECT TO THE TEARING DOWN OF THIS
Dr Ali Brown	13-MAR-13	GREAT VENUE!!!
		Too many pubs and social meeting places are being destroyed to make way for shops and flats. To destroy this awesome venue would be a terrible shame and deprive many younger
Miss Shannon L Christie	13-MAR-13	people who have yet to discover this venues hospitality
ANDREW A SIDDALL FOX	13-MAR-13	london needs places like the fox
Ashlin Palmer	13-MAR-13	The intrepid fox should be heritage listed, not apartments.

Mr Lee LL Lunde 13-MAR-13 I OBJECTION the Intrepid Fox is a brilliant pub and it would be a huge mistake to get rid of it.

Over the past 10 years or so, i have noticed a lot of pub closures due to council redevelopment plans, government laws (smoking ban) and loss of earnings because of the latter. As for the redevelopment issue; the Enfield Arms (a tudor building with a heritage listed fireplace) closed a long time ago amid plans to update the adjacent train station and add housing, yet the pub was knocked down and the plot has yet to be developed upon. I fear the same may happen to the 'Fox'.

The Intrepid Fox pub has been a main attraction for rock fans from all over the globe, for many years. It would be such a shame for London to lose yet more of it's culture (be it popular or not [to some!]) by replacing the iconical music bar with cheap housing for scum to thrive in.

Mr mat Wilkinson 12-MAR-13 London is not the wonderfully diverse, cultural, exciting place that it once was. This would be another massive blow to the nail in London's coffin.
Sir,

Mr Michael Carey 12-MAR-13 Having lost the original site for this bar to crossrail it would be particularly unfair for it to be destroyed again in favour of bland shops and flats. It serves a great niche in the rock music community and would be sorely missed by people all around the south east.

Miss Solrun Gudrunardottir 12-MAR-13 The Intrepid Fox is one of the few places left in London that feel like home to so many people, and makes everyone feel welcome no matter their background, personal style or opinions. Why you would pick that place to tear down I cannot begin to understand.

Mr Jonathan P Chiodini 12-MAR-13 To close the fox would be to deprive the community of a much needed hang out. Not everyone in central London wants to go to a champagne or cocktail bar, and the Fox is an important part of London's cultural heritage

This area is surrounded by mostly offices, where people like me work and enjoy meeting with friends in the evenings after a stressful day.

We're running out of cool places to go to and this, The Intrepid Fox is a great and unique place.

Miss Stephanie Cooper 12-MAR-13 Friends from abroad and other parts of England have loved it when I've taken them there.

I work around the corner from The Intrepid Fox at a company called Prime Focus Film. We are more than 200 employees there and in the last year, the Intrepid Fox is the place where we relax after work and even during weekends. It is a unique establishment, a landmark in the musical scene in London. There is no place like it in the whole London and it is an attraction visited by people from all over the world. Places like The Intrepid Fox make London what it is, make London different and unique and not the endless parade of concrete buildings that newer cities are. London needs more places like it, not to destroy them.

Mr Hernan D Barros Prime F 13-MAR-13

I object to the destruction of The Intrepid Fox a part of Londons Character and history .

Miss heather gealy

13-MAR-13

This pub must be kept as is good alternative place to go even if you are not a rock 'n Rock person.

Mar Guerrero

13-MAR-13

That place is even a good place for the truism in central London To whom it concerns,
I raise objection to the planning decisions to alter the Intrepid Fox, I implore you to re-think the 'redevelopment' of the site. As not only does this represent one of the few public houses in that location to supply demand for a specific music scene. This is one of the many reasons I travel into this particular area and as I know a great number of friends and like minded people that also would no longer feel the need to spend time in Central London, if it wasn't for the Intrepid Fox.
Thank you for your time and reconsideration
Yours sincerely
L. Diego

Miss Lulabelle L Diego None 13-MAR-13

This is a much-loved music venue with a unique history London has lost so many decent interesting social venues - not least The Astoria round the corner.

Mr Jonathan Neale

13-MAR-13

Once gone, the landscape becomes ever more sterile. Getting off at Tottenham Court Road would never be the same again.

Mr Lee A Wallser

13-MAR-13

		I wish to formally object to the change of use of the Intrepid Fox. This venue is a valuable local resource, and an attraction for visitors from across the city, regionally and nationally. This venue provides a very important community service being at the heart of this community, and having served in this function for many years. It is an important factor in the recent history of this area, and an important creative and cultural focal point. Not only from a creative and cultural perspective, but also from a sociological, anthropological and financial perspective, this area needs the Intrepid Fox, and will do well into the future. It would be disgraceful of a council, with such a strong reputation as yours, in supporting local communities to go ahead with this proposal.
Mr Adrian De La Court Univ	12-MAR-13	We do not need another residential development in the area. The Crossrail development has already been a disaster, why add even more disruption to the area?!
Sarah Militello	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is an epic place. I've been going there for 10 years, back when it was on Wardour St. Not right that people want to rid us of an amazing place! PLEASE DO NOT TEAR IT DOWN!!!
Ms Lia Ashby	12-MAR-13	Objection
Miss kaja k popko	12-MAR-13	It is a vital part of the vibrant London alternative community.
Mr Ryan O'Sullivan	12-MAR-13	Please do not tear down the Intrepid Fox
Mr Josh Roland	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is an institution and deserves saving
Mr Lorne R Gellissen	12-MAR-13
		Please do not destroy the Intrepid Fox venue! It is a wonderful music venue with a rich history, and deserves to be preserved for those who enjoy alternative music now and in the future.
Nicholas Dunn	12-MAR-13	This is my favorite pub, please keep it as it is.
Miss Felicity Hillen	12-MAR-13	Great bar
Mr Mark N Burd	12-MAR-13	Save the Intrepid Fox
Mr Matthew Ingham	12-MAR-13
		Loss of jobs and loss of a entertainment landmark. Not the best idea. Plus there are many existing run down areas of London that need renovating. Why pick a spot that is being used. And flats in this placement will be expensive. There's already plenty of housing in this price bracket, and the area. Why spread thinly in a saturated market when there's already a good earner?
Mr Jason Trevaskis	12-MAR-13	I have a lot of fond memories of this bar and knocking it down would be a travesty as it has so much history and would be sorely missed in soho
Miss Becki Kremer	12-MAR-13	It is a fantastic place for the underground metal and rock scene.
Vash VM Mahadea	12-MAR-13	There's no other place like it.
		please do not get rid of the intrepid fox as it has to be one of the best places to go in london with character. everywhere is becoming carbon copies and the intrepid fox is different.
Tina Fox	12-MAR-13	Please don't close down this pub. It gives the area some personality. I was very upset at the closing of Ghetto and The Astoria and now I hear about this.
Miss Louise Pomeroy	13-MAR-13

		This is a cool place to hangout and to get rid of it for a place to live is silly. Cool places to hang out are harder to find than finding a cool place to live.
Teresa Spann	13-MAR-13
Mr D Kennedy	14-MAR-13	Keep the Intrepid fox
David Coombes	14-MAR-13	This is an historic establishment and should be protected. To lose The Intrepid Fox would be a tragedy - a well loved and well used bar/venue that is quite unique in that area (and any other for that matter)
Mr Graeme Wall	14-MAR-13	Please do not level the Intrepid Fox bar to build some houses. London is too crowded as it is and there are so few bars like this. I lived and worked 11 years in London and often meet friends there as it as history for many of us. Lots of other sites need developing in my opinion but not this one.
Mr Kevin Parker	14-MAR-13
Miss Gabi Webster	17-MAR-13	This is my favourite pub in Londin and it would be a sad day to see it go as it is very unique! Here in Objection to closure of "The Intrepid Fox" for housing development, i feel the location has a rich musical history that cannot be replaced and said venue should stay as just that.
Mr Mitchell S Sellars	12-MAR-13	An absolute disgrace!! This iconic pub is part of Londons cultural landscape and should not be pushed from pillar to post every time someone wants to redevelop. Affordable housing in the centre of the West End is also a disgrace.
Mr Peter H Courtney	12-MAR-13
Mrs Karen E Stokes	12-MAR-13	I have travelled into London on several occasions to meet friends and we usually end up our evening in the Entrepid Fox, there really is no where else like it in the area. Not everyone wants to sit in an ice white wine bar or coffee shop. Please do not close one of the last great Rock bars.
Ms Tabatha C Fenton	12-MAR-13	This is the only bar in London that plays great music, Has friendly staff, and offers an atmosphere that is extremely unique
		I stumbled upon this bar this past September when I travelled to London for vacation. I immediately fell in love with the people and the atmosphere of this bar. I still miss the bar, it's one of the many reasons I want to go back to London immediately! There are nothing but good people there, both staff and patrons. It would be such a shame to see this place go. So many people consider it home anyway, so we're destroying these people's homes to make other housing? Seems selfish!
Lauren Kubala	12-MAR-13
Miss Cheryl Bryan	12-MAR-13	I oppose this proposition
Dr John Snow	12-MAR-13	Save the Intrepid Fox. No more houses. You would be destroying an iconic public house, which has been open - albeit in different locations - over 200 years.
Lauren Corona	12-MAR-13
Emma Croucher	12-MAR-13	Keep Intrepid Fox

		I, amongst many others I'm sure, object to the plans to demolish The Intrepid Fox. This bar is gem in the heart of London people from different continents come to visit this diverse bar and fall in love with it not to mention our fellow Londoners. There are not many bars left in London like this one and definitely not many that can compete with its standards. These plans have infuriated many people and some of us feel like something is being taken away from us. To get rid of The Intrepid Fox would be a major
Miss Jamie K Sarez-Pinchar	12-MAR-13	mistake.
Mr Harrison Lawson	12-MAR-13	Objection The Intrepid Fox is an iconic London Rock'n'Roll pub, steeped in History and lore. Mick Jagger asked Ronnie Wood to join the Rolling Stones in its previous incarnation, and it is a fitting, well loved bar at the bottom of Denmark st, the home of Guitars in London. To demolish this bar would be nothing short of an outrage, taking away one of the most famous pieces of London's
Mr Alex P Marshall	12-MAR-13	Music History.
Miss Lorena Fernandez	12-MAR-13	Save intrepid fox!!! Camden was saved from development because people didn't
Mrs Leah Lynham	13-MAR-13	want it, we can do the same with the Intrepid Fox. The Intrepid Fox is very important to the cultural history, and cultural diversity of London. It is also very important and significant to me. To take the new premises away when it has only recently moved from it's original location in Soho is unfair and a great shame for the West End. Soon all bars and night clubs will be soul less, personality less chain establishments.
Amy E M Jeskins	13-MAR-13	Please support independent business. There are not enough independant music venues for unsigned
Mr David Johnson	13-MAR-13	bands.
Mr Adam Arlett	13-MAR-13	I object to plans to develop the Intrepid Fox into houses.
Katherine broadbent	13-MAR-13	One of my favorite bars in london! This area is famous for its music scene, a combination of specialist retailers, rehearsal rooms and bars which attracts people from all over London and the rest of the country. The area is thriving in an industry which is struggling so it is important for this area to be protected. Its vicinity to the lights and sounds of tottenham court road make it a retail friendly area and less suited to residential buildings, which are unlikely to be affordable due to their central location abd unlikely to be desireable due to the noise levels in the area. Save businesses
Mr Andrew Simmons	13-MAR-13	where businesses are doing well!! The Intrepid Fox is an integral part of the community and would
Jason Howlett	13-MAR-13	pose a significant lose to London cultural diversity. The Intrepid Fox is an integral part of the community and would
Jason Howlett	13-MAR-13	pose a significant lose to London cultural diversity. its my favorite bar and you cant close it london is dying.....
Mr martin m j churchward	13-MAR-13	as is the country's culture and beliefs and industrys.... I am opposed to the conversion of the Intrepid Fox into living units because it is the last historic pub catering to the alternative
Mr Sebastian Valencia	12-MAR-13	community. Demolishing it would be devastating.

		I think this should not be granted and am vehemently against it going ahead. London has lost so much of it's alternative history and heritage and Crossrail has already destroyed so many cultural venues. The Intrepid Fox is a home away from home for the metal and alternative community in London (and further afield). For the Fox to go would remove any place for locals of London to enjoy rather than another faceless and soul less development.
Mr Joseph Robin	12-MAR-13	The Interpid Fox has a unique place in London's musical and cultural history. Please don't allow it to becem yet another faceless office block.
Mr Graham Hearn	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is an enormously important bar in which can be found tourists from all over the world. It serves a niche - remember that not all visitors to London want to see Buckingham Palace and so on. Central London is not, nor should it be, a centre for housing development, this is counter-intuitive in many ways.
		However, considering the past the Intrepid Fox (and other similar institutions) has had with planning authorities, it would seem that the nature of the place itself is the reason for these proposals, in that it is a favourite of many in the alternative music scene. This scene has lost the Astoria, and bars and clubs nearby to where the Intrepid Fox stands today. The reason for these earlier demolitions was to improve transport links, which is at least understandable. The pretext of creating "affordable housing" in London's entertainment district is ludicrous and deceitful. People in this scene pay taxes and bring tourism into the country, they contribute to society like other people, and want to have their interests respected.
Brian Rossitter	12-MAR-13	Do not destroy the fox, one of London finest landmarks!
Mark Kentfield	12-MAR-13	I do not agree with the proposal
Mr Zigmond Z Heron	12-MAR-13
		This is a very important establishment for an already segregated section of the community. They have already been moved once and have just established themselves again. I have friends that visit from Australia just to go to this bar. I think it is very unfair. The Intrepid Fox pub is a huge part of the culture of the area it is in. In already destroying the Astoria and Mean Fiddler venues, much of the soul of this area has already been unanaesthetically removed. I would object strongly to any more damage being done.
Mrs Kelly Miller	12-MAR-13	Ive not been in The Fox for years since its been that long since ive been in that part of London, but I would like to return someday. Please make this possible.
Mr Kev J Harrison	13-MAR-13	I object to the closure of the Intrepid Fox - one of the last original pubs in London!!!
Mr Paul Ryan	13-MAR-13	Please don't close this site. So many wonderful establishments with amazing history such as the Astoria have already gone in the area. Especially the Intrepid Fox. Places like this keep London's diversity and appeal.
Miss Nicola Moreton	13-MAR-13
Miss Sandeep Dhaliwal	13-MAR-13

		The Intrepid Fox is a rich and vibrant hub of creativity that is much loved within the music industry for artists and fans alike.
Miss Hollie Garraway	13-MAR-13	Please keep it around.
		Stop killing our music history and venues in the North London and the West End.....you have already stolen too much from us
Miss Bess Langdon	13-MAR-13	and this is appalling!
Dave Hutchins	13-MAR-13	Don't close the Fox
		They've already destroyed 4 historic Rock/Music venues around Tottenham Court Road station for these developments. WHEN
Mr David Winkler	13-MAR-13	WILL THIS MADNESS END?
		The intrepid Fox is a local institution with a rich cultural heritage for the music scene. It would have a significant impact on the local community and that of Greater London, as a nexus of
Ms Madeleine Pearce Birkbeck	13-MAR-13	social support and community building.
		Why build more houses where there is a great hub for social
Miss Natasha Morris	12-MAR-13	activity?
Miss Scilla M Secchi	12-MAR-13	London does not need new offices!
		The Intrepid Fox should not be closed down, live music must
Mr Mark Brandt	12-MAR-13	live on!

The Intrepid Fox is the only place in London, away from Camden, that is a welcome haven for the alternative community, a minority group which is often not welcomed by mainstream entertainment establishments.

If this was a Weatherspoons, Walkabout or such other common chain, it would not be missed but The Intrepid Fox is a unique environment that could not and should not be replaced easily.

		Should this planning application go ahead, Central London will lose a little more of it's colour and diverse charm. It would move towards being just another bland, uninteresting city and not the vibrant, multi-cultured (and yes, the alternative lifestyle is a culture all to itself, just very mis-understood) place.
Mr Robert Millward	12-MAR-13	To demolish such an inspiring place should, and im sure will be met with the scorn of the cities alternative crowd. If this appalling proposal became a reality. London and the way its seen by the rest of the world as a multicultural mecca, would loose its best alternative/rock/metal representative. DONT DO
Mr C D J	12-MAR-13	IT!!!
		Please don't turn a iconic pub loved by thousands across the world into another development that will take away from the uniqueness of the area. It already looks like a copy of every
Chloe Bryan	12-MAR-13	other high street in London, the Fox is the only haven left.
		This area should be preserved as it is a popular entertainment & licenced premise that provide for a whole range of
Mr John Gardiner	12-MAR-13	people in a busy tourist attraction of central london
Mr Craig Duris	12-MAR-13	Don't tear down the pub!

Matt M Lintott	12-MAR-13	Me and hundreds of other people go here every week and the only decent rock pub in London why shut it down!
Mr Peter Goldsmith Goldsmi	12-MAR-13	I am strongly opposed to this plan. The Intrepid Fox is a land mark pub. The recnt redevelopment arround intrepid fox looks terribal next to covent garden what are they planning next!
Mr Tom Gough	12-MAR-13	Great bar, cannot be demolished The Intrepid Fox is a popular, vibrant focal point for the alternative community, with a long reputation. The area will be losing some of its colour and personality if this proposal is allowed to go ahead.
Mr Chris J Sparkes	12-MAR-13
Mr Robert Blazek	12-MAR-13	Trying to develop what is an iconic site to thousands of people around the world, a place where people meet and share common interests that other establishments do not cater for, would be a travesty and should not be allowed to go ahead. Affordable?? in Central London?? Joke...
Mr Boris Le Gal	12-MAR-13	OBJECTION!! Are you intending to leave any live venues/muisc pubs in London? Why not focus on immigration then the need for housing is drastically reduced
Mr John Howard	12-MAR-13	The 'Intrepid Fox' must not be demolished!! This is a popular venue which has established itself over the years amongst people of all ages and interests. It is embraced by an entire community of loyal regulars and locals and has visitors from all over the world not to mention some excellent music acts! Demolishing this venue would be a crime against the loyalty and diversity of it's devoted patrons and I sincerely ask you to consider this classic venue and all those that love it!
Miss Natasha Mangion	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is one of the last great bastions of alternative music in central London. Taking away this place would be detrimental to 1,000s of people who frequent this place which, alongside Crobar, has become a mecca for people of all generations worldwide.
Mr Martin Bird	12-MAR-13	My friends and I (former Londoner, still frequent visitor) have been going to the Intrepid Fox since 2008. It's a decent and friendly pub that plays a great range of rock, metal and alternative music, and an established night-spot for many of London's rock and heavy metal scene - and many tourists who also enjoy that type of music. If it dissapeared, it's loss would definately be felt - why remove an interesting and established business?
Miss H Nicklen	12-MAR-13
Mr Chris Nettleton	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox brings a lot of character to the area as the home of the London Rock Music community, and it's loss will be strongly detrimental. I cannot see the projected plans offering anything more than faceless units, and strongly object to them. Camden should rail against all attempts to turn the borough into another faceless urban space, as more than almost any borough in London, it is the music scene that defines it.

Mr Mitchell Davis	12-MAR-13	This is an amazing and popular ROCK venue, an important market, DONT GET RID OF IT!!!
Mr Richard Smith	12-MAR-13	Is a waste of a valuable asset to the area to develop this site intrepid fox as known throughout Europe and possibly further by metal fans a great place and would be a shame to see it go Its always fun and exciting to go there and show other friends from all over the world and is also a safe place to take them to as unlike other bars in London this one actually feels friendly, no matter what you look like.
Mr Ondrej Rafaj	12-MAR-13	please don't tear down the intrepid fox.
Zoe Gauriau	12-MAR-13
Mr Simon McGuinness	12-MAR-13	I do not want to lose the current bars and shops in thi great area This is not an appropriate location for residential buildings, and the business you intend to close will have a colossal impact on the music scene. The Intrepid Fox is a thriving rock/alternative bar that has international fame.
Miss Rachael Bullmore Gen	13-MAR-13	This is the second time Camden Council have tried to remove the Intrepid Fox "in the name of building development" since their original address at Wardour Street. The former address which was also alleged to be for redevelopment has been a failed butchers, a failed pub and a struggling restaurant. why are you hounding this particular licensed business? The Intrepid Fox has been a unique pub/venue that is used by hundreds of people over several years. It's reputation for being a great place for music and a Welcoming and friendly enviroment, not to mention a completely unique venue, within London is known not just within the city of London but also Nationwide not to mention internationally. I have made alot of new friends from overseas and the rest of the country everytime I visit This pub. I completely OBJECT to the planned proposals to close The Intrepid Fox and turn it into residential Accomodation. This is just another example of the greed by developers who do not have any concern for anyone apart from themselves. With the Pub industry on it's knees right now, the industry NEEDS unique venues like this. As the saying goes.....DO NOT FIX SOMETHING THAT IS NOT BROKEN.....
Mr Justin Witt	13-MAR-13	Regards
Matthew Luker	13-MAR-13	Justin Witt Do not destroy more of Londons music scene and culture Intrepid Fox is a unique venture and helps to provide London with its cosmopolitan culture.
K Di Rezze	13-MAR-13	Do we need some more sterile housing in the centre? No.

		Demolishing the Intrepid Fox would be a really bad idea for the Borough of Camden as it brings together a good community of people, as well as visitors from all over the world, which in turn brings money in to the area. Whilst there are bars with similar themes, there are none that are of that size, that accept all people and are good places for the alternative community to go.
Miss Kate Turgoose	12-MAR-13	Please reconsider this plan.
Mr Alex M Lwin	12-MAR-13	This Pub is a major tourist attraction and caters for Londoners too. It is unique and must stand unmolested. Please don't remove the Intrepid Fox, it is one of the only decent pubs left to go to in London. I always have a happy time in there and so do my friends and everybody else who goes in there (if I have not spoken to them I will class them as friends I have not met). Everybody is always so nice and in a happy and relaxed mood. Please don't spoil it and take this pleasure away from many. You will note from my address I am presently in Brighton, but I frequent the Intrepid Fox a lot and I will miss it so much if you take it away.
Miss Sara-Jayne Arnold	12-MAR-13	Please, please don't close the intrepid fox!
Miss sallie dodd	12-MAR-13	Save the intrepid Fox.
Az Haslam Adelphi Group	12-MAR-13
Mr Matthew MJH Harding	12-MAR-13	It would be a great loss if this pub was to be turned into houses!
Miss Alexandra Kopecka	12-MAR-13	Don't knock down the Intrepid Fox pub please. The intrepid fox is a landmark in camden for the alternative community. Its loss would leave a permanent hole in the community.
Hannah Delany	12-MAR-13	We do not want the Intrepid Fox to be torn down for housing!
Michael Peters	12-MAR-13	One of my favorite places to go to when in London, you can't close it down!
Miss Jessica Gwyneth	12-MAR-13	I wish to protest about the redevelopment of 'The Intrepid Fox' music venue. More & more of Londons pubs are disappearing every week & this one serves two purposes on one site. Please don't close it!
Mr Noel Collyer	13-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a characteristic and wonderful place to socialise and mingle, there are few like it and it's one of the few jewels left in Londons social crown. Demolishing it for houses is like blowing up Buckingham Palace to make way for a giant McDonalds. Additionally, homeless charity work takes place in the bottom of the centerpoint tower and these poor sods already have it bad enough as it is. Please, exercise some sense, don't be evil and don't do this.
Mr Daniel Evans	13-MAR-13	This has been a central part to the alternative culture and was an introduction to a lot of my current friends. Lets keep the relevant and not destroy it. I can't put in this comment how much this whole thing saddens me.
Miss Carrie E Baird	13-MAR-13	I love the Intrepid Fox. There's not a pub like it in London.
Mr Robert D Leedham	14-MAR-13
		The Intrepid Fox adds character to the area. Many people are bored of the usual bland faceless pubs and bars - the centre of London needs more different, unusual and original bars like the Intrepid Fox so the site should NOT be redeveloped.
Mr Richard Davison	14-MAR-13

Mr Tony D Chittenden	First V	12-MAR-13	Objection! The Intrepid Fox is a mainstay of the area, a cornerstone which many people use as a place to meet and socialise. Many bands play there, comedy gigs are put on, all of which in an unrivalled atmosphere, unavailable anywhere else! This place has been around for decades. Do NOT demolish another piece of history so you can fit more homes into a tight space. Take it where it's wanted!
Lizi Kiddier		12-MAR-13	Please don't take away one of the few metal/rock clubs in London - more and more are being demolished!
Claire Thomas		12-MAR-13
Mrs Charlotte Rosewarne		12-MAR-13	I object to this proposal.

Mr Simon S Trillo-Blanco		12-MAR-13	The intrepid fox is part of Londons history as its already moved from its original home in soho to close it and demolish it for housing is losing part of our heritage. As London is renowned worldwide for its culture and music industry demolishing the intrepid fox would be another nail in the coffin for alternative music. London has a history please stop trying to destroy it.
Miss Valentina Soricar		12-MAR-13	this cant happen!
Mrs Alison L Cordner		12-MAR-13	Don't shut this down and build houses! This is an iconic venue in London, one of the few left that cater to the Rock/Metal alternative scene.

Moving more and more people into an area and giving them less and less to do only suits to line the pockets of the developers and leaves the wants and wishes of people who use the facility behind.

Mr James M Thomas		12-MAR-13
-------------------	--	-----------	--

Mr J May		12-MAR-13	There are precious few decent rock venues in central London today, we lost the Wardour Street site of The Fox and it's illustrious history due to greed for it to be turned into a burger chain restaurant and it would be a shame to lose it again. The Intrepid Fox is an institution, and a world-famous bar for anyone in the rock/metal/punk subculture. It is the UK equivalent of CBGB's. It was a travesty that they had to move from Wardiur St in the first place. I had the privilege of being the Asst Manager there and it is the job in most proud of. The
Mr Myk Pudlo-Umney		12-MAR-13	Fix needs a stable den! this is an iconic venue for people all over the country, not just London. whenever I go to a concert or theatre in London I visit
Roy r wayman		12-MAR-13	the intrepid fox just to be with like minded people. The Intrepid Fox is one of only two bars in Central London catering to the Heavy Metal and Alternative scene. It would be a great loss to the musical bar-going community for this pub to be
Mr Emilio Pierro		12-MAR-13	lost.
Miss Andrea Hegedus		12-MAR-13	Leave Intrepid Fox existing as it is a brilliant music venue. Getting rid of an amazing establishment so you can build more
Miss Lisa Perry		12-MAR-13	ridiculously priced housing for rich people? NO.

		The whole Denmark street area is a Landmark and should not be changed in any way other than to add to the independent nature of the site. The Intrepid Fox is part of that heritage and the area would become another bland part of London if it was gone.
Mr Dan DM Heard	12-MAR-13	Interpid Fox is already a "landmark" on center point and tottenham court, i strongly disagree with the idea of transforming that place!
Mr Lima	12-MAR-13
Miss G Smith	12-MAR-13	I object to the closure of the Intrpid Fox.
		Centre point and the surrounding area home many loved locations from small music shops to the much affords intrepid fox, with the Astoria already being destroyed it would be terrible to see another infamous location ripped down... Locations that attract many different types of people be it Londoners or tourist.
Miss emma mcloone	12-MAR-13	Save "Intrepid Fox"!
Mr George Lloyd	12-MAR-13	Stop knocking down local landmarks for yet more 'affordable housing' which NO ONE CAN AFFORD! Leave us our pub!
Miss Rachel Moore	12-MAR-13	Leave it alone!
Mr Elliott Sinclair	12-MAR-13	There are very few bars in town that cater for the kind of music that is played in the Fox. It was moved from the famous Soho site to the site you are planning to close down. It is now an iconic site and known all over the world for a fantastic alternative place to drink, watch bands, play pool and socialise!
Ms Fiona McCann	12-MAR-13	Don't do it!
		Affordable housing just off Oxford St? Affordable housing is what the country needs, but there's no way the properties built at the site of the Fox will be affordable - that's a complete lie. Save the pub, it has a long line of history and is part of London life
Mr Steve D Jones	12-MAR-13	The plans would destroy the Intrepid Fox, which is a celebrated part of London's Cultural heritage, in an attack that extends from the loss of other similar venues (Metros, LA2, London Astoria, Ghetto) from the extension of Tottenham Court Road Station. Places such as these are a fundamental part of London's appeal and set it apart as a cultural capital worldwide. Save the Intrepid Fox!
Karen Delaney	12-MAR-13	This is a ridiculous consideration. You will be destroying an institution.
Mrs Donna Lennerth-Jones	12-MAR-13
Mr Simon J Davis	12-MAR-13	I oppose the redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox pub. London has already lost some great hang outs i.e. the Astoria, don't take another one. You should be cherishing places like the intrepid fox that has character and charm not turning them into a generic housing estate.
Miss Danielle Kirby	12-MAR-13

There's no more 'retail and restaurant' needed in the West End, is there? This should be about NEED, not GREED. There IS a NEED the Intrepid Fox, which is a world-renowned alternative music venue.

'Residential' use: (meaning for rich people, therefore an alienating force). NO wider benefit. 'Affordable housing' is usually a scam to get planning permission, so I reject the obvious argument that this is about helping those in need. There's so much other land-space that could be used, like around Kings Cross and Holborn, instead of a desert of industrial and station buildings, perhaps? Or, in the spirit of need not-greed: why can't all the houses be 'affordable', in lieu of council houses which aren't being built? Isn't Centre Point supposed to be the name of a charity dedicated to fighting homelessness?

Any time I walk the area in question, I suffer because of the lack of natural daylight due to the hi-rise office buildings that have been built next door. They offer NOTHING to anyone, nothing of inherent value, in my opinion. Why encourage abuse of the The Intrepid Fox is a culturally significant pub; it would be a huge loss to London if it was closed for yet more bland apartments.
KEEP THE INTREPID FOX!

It's an amazing metal bar, with friendly staff members and clientele. There are not many places in central London to go to for rock and heavy metal music.

Why take it away? It will only deprive us of good music and a great environment to have a drink and let off some steam.

We have more than enough coffee shops and business offices all around London.

Making changes to an internationally known venue and surrounding area to provide 'affordable housing' in the middle of London is beyond ridiculous.

HOW ABOUT FILLING UP THE HUNDEREDS OF ALREADY EMPTY PROPERTYS IN LONDON AND THE SURROUNDING AREAS FIRST BEFORE DESTROYING ICONIC PLACES. TAKING PLACES LIKE THIS AWAY IS REMOVING THE LIFE AND CHARACTER AND REPUTATION OF THE CITY. SAVE OUR LIVE MUSIC VENUES!!

This area should be preserved as it is a popular entertainment & licenced premeise that provide for a whole range of people in a busy tourist attraction of central london, People come from all over to visit and there for should remain at it current location

I object to getting rid of the Intrepid Fox

Edward Murphy n/a (person 13-MAR-13

Mr Jonathan Gold

13-MAR-13

Miss Carolina C Celis Calder 12-MAR-13

Mr Daniel J Butler erraticfocu 12-MAR-13

Miss STACY AKERMAN

12-MAR-13

Mr John Gardiner

12-MAR-13

Mr Connor Meighan

12-MAR-13

Mr Nathan Hammond	12-MAR-13	From what I have read, The Intrepid Fox has been a major part of London's music scene. What is the point in demolishing something when it has already made a legacy?
Catharine Dixon	12-MAR-13	Dont close the Intrepid Fox please!! It's a great pub, there aren't many like it elsewhere, and it would be a great shame to lose it THIS IS OUTRAGOUS, THIS IS THE ONLY REAL METAL BAR AROUND, MY FRIENDS AND I COME TO LONDON AS MUCH AS POSSIBLE (FROM GLASGOW) TO SPECIFICALLY GO HERE, IT'S FANTASTIC AND WOULD BE A REAL LOSS TO THE METAL POPULATION!
Miss L M BROGAN	12-MAR-13
		It seems incredible that such place would be refurbished in order to make new housing. It's one of the only alternative pubs in central London which has a big group of loyal customers. It's even known internationally, if you want to look for the purpose of making money. I'm against the closure of this great place that offers many people the chance of getting some entertainment without having to go through the nightmare of music and style discrimination when getting to other pubs (many people would not be admitted in mainstream pubs because of their clothes or their looks).
Mrs Margarita Rebolledo	12-MAR-13
Mr Jason Davis Pixelate Images	12-MAR-13	The intrepid fox is an iconic establishment that brings tourism and business to an area famed for the music industry.
Mr Andrzej Komarek	12-MAR-13	I like this place...
Ms Claudine S Bowen-Davies	12-MAR-13	Objection. This is a landmark
Mr Alfie Daley	12-MAR-13	Don't do it
		The Intrepid Fox offers something different to so many faceless, 'same-y', venues in London. Turning a place providing alternative entertainment would be detrimental to the Borough of Camden and to London as a whole.
Mr Matt Jones	12-MAR-13
Miss el j kinsey	12-MAR-13	The pub has too much history to be removed
Miss el j kinsey	12-MAR-13	The pub has too much history to be removed
		The Intrpid Fox is perfect where it is! its grown on us, please dont shut it....
Miss danica dsouza	12-MAR-13 places like these are part of the community .not face less office blocks.and thay give young tallent a place to shine.
Terry Willett	19-MAR-13	Objection - too many music venues being demolished now in danger of losing another
Ms Sue Marriott	19-MAR-13
		the Intrpid fox is an incredible touristic attraction and meeting place in London. It can't be turned down.
		Therefore I'm objecting to this proposal
		I'm speaking as a business professional who worked 2 years in London in places like the London Stock Exchange (you can see my business profile at http://it.linkedin.com/in/pierandrea )
Mr Pierandrea PP Pitton Will	12-MAR-13

Ms Phycial Helmet	12-MAR-13	No! Demolishing the Intrepid Fox is ruining an integral part of London's social and music culture.
Liam Saunders	12-MAR-13	NOPE Once again there is more office buildings planned which will sweep aside a lovely pub that is very much a part of the community. It is essential that we keep these places that bring people together not to mention protecting the livelihood of the people who work at the Intrepid Fox. I am in London most weekends and would like to register a strong objection to these plans.
Mr Luke V Sapiets	12-MAR-13	Please don't turn a iconic pub loved by thousands across the world into another development that will take away from the uniqueness of the area. It already looks like a copy of every other high street in London, the Fox is the only haven left.
Chloe Bryan	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is one of the best pubs in the area! Taking it down would be a terrible mistake!
Mr Nathan M Lamb	12-MAR-13
Mr Joe Dimmer	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is an institution for the alternative scene in London and has been moved once already from its original site in Wardour Street. The continued destruction of the culture of Central London/Soho in favour of bland office blocks and residential towers needs to stop. You're killing the West End!
		The Intrepid Fox is the lifeblood of the rock music scene as well as being a highly profitable music venue and tourist hotspot. Please do not sully London's image as a diverse place to explore by putting up yet another housing block. Nobody can realistically afford this housing and the benefits will be reaped by foriegn investors who will not be living in the flats.
Miss Jay Sullivan	12-MAR-13	I'm seriously upset to hear that this is even being considered. I absolutely object to this plan. There are plenty of useable houses boarded up in this city. We do not need more in sacrifice of our beloved bars and clubs! Great social places like the Intrepid Fox are only a few of what we once had. Have you not destroyed enough?
Mr Daniel G Hurry	12-MAR-13	This is a great place, it would be a huge loss to loose it.
Mr Edward Purchase	12-MAR-13	This is awful. Another music venue can not be closed down! soon all there will be left is coffee shops and houses. London and music scene needs the intrepid fox! It will be a sad day if this goes ahead!!
Miss Lucy A Garnham	12-MAR-13	It is an institution. One of the best bars in London. It gives a chance for unknown musicians to showcase their talent as well as allowing others to enjoy it.
Jessica Reolon	12-MAR-13
Mr Fabio F Couto	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is part of London's history and pop culture. Many other venues have been vanished and forgotten. We must stick up to the few remaining traits of rock music in the UK.
Miss Emma c Charters	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a landmark like no other! It's famous the word over.....London cannot loose it!

Dr Lorna Jones	12-MAR-13	One of the few remaining musical centres in the UK. This CANNOT go ahead!
dawn flint	12-MAR-13	we want to keep the Intrepid Fox as it is
Mr Mike Oakes	12-MAR-13	please don't close!!! people flock to london to see all of the alternative drinking venues that you have. Think about it what would Amy Whinehouse have been with out the Hawly Arms. London is full of individuals and should be celebrated not erased.
Miss Rosie A Roberts	12-MAR-13	Ive waves so long to the astoria and i can't bare to say goodbye to the fox! The Council does not seem to care much for the institutions that area of London. With the Astoria already having gone. This more about a money exercise for the Council rather than caring about the area and the reputation it currently has
Mr Mark Bowman Personal	12-MAR-13	OBJECTION
Mr Lagan Purdy	12-MAR-13	There are so few venues like this left. It is unique and popular and will be very much missed if these plans go through
Miss Kharis Daw	12-MAR-13	This is a fabulous venue that we cant afford to loose! It hosts up-coming artists from all across the south and would definately been tragic if it was turned into a development - there are plenty other places that need renovating dont ruin a fab venue!
Miss Michelle McCallum	12-MAR-13	I understand that as part of the development, the Intrepid fox, a well-known music venue and iconic institution in its own right, is to be converted into another use/demolished.  London is an institution woth a rich history, and venues such as the intrepid fox play a vital role in the preservation of its more recent culture. The destruction of the Intrepid fox as a venue is a blow to music lovers everywhere, and a blow to London's already shrinking alternative culture.
Mr Vaughan A Grandin	13-MAR-13	The Intrepid fox venue is an alternative icon and as such I object to the development

Hello,

I am writing today to oppose the application to build more residential property in central London on the site of teh Intrepid Fox pub.

I don't understand why the only building that can be used to create new housing projects are ones that are already in use. There are tonnes of derelict or disused buildings that could easily be used instead of ripping down a building already in use.

My second objection is that this is another step towards ripping the heart and soul out of London and replacing it with chain restaurants and ikea styled accommodation.

That area has already had the iconic Astoria torn down so that they can extend the tube station. Which i'm sure will be helpful with the cross rail but also seems like an excuse to set up ANOTHER starbucks, costa and M'n'S metro.

The Intrepid Fox isn't just a pub, its a tourist attraction for anyone that is into heavy alternative music. Go in on any night of the week and you will hear accents from all over the world. It is also pretty much the only pub/club in central london that is dedicated to this kind of music. There are thousands of bars/club

Mr Paul Wilson
Leanne Garvie

13-MAR-13

13-MAR-13

Stop ruining central London.

The loss if this unique bar would be devastating. Last year, during the building of the Olympics, my colleagues and I spent a lot of time there and still make a point of calling on for a few every time we visit London. My wife is from Serbia, when friends and family from there visit, we make a point of taking them to the Intrepid Fox. The reason being is that it is truly a one off bar, no where else like it in Europe. The decor and friendly staff all make this a very special place to visit. My only regret is that I do not live locally to use it more. The licensed trade has suffered enough in recent years. Please do not take

Mr Ian J Leng
matt finch

12-MAR-13

12-MAR-13

this outstanding bar away from us!

stop killing our pubs!!!

The LAST thing that high street pubs and the music scene (which is dwindling as it is) needs is ANOTHER closing of a venue of this calibre.

Mr Daniel Pealing

12-MAR-13

Leave iconic landmarks alone, why don't you knock down the shops selling junk on Oxford street instead. The west end is the joke of Europe.

Simon Shaffron

12-MAR-13

Miss A D

12-MAR-13

Not cool!!

Miss TAYA UDDIN

12-MAR-13

Save the intrepid fox, an iconic metal and rock pub.

Development of these areas in to residential premises is reducing commercial growth for the short-term benefit of housing.

		There are plenty of undeveloped areas which can be used to better serve the public, but this is not one of them.
Mr James Holloway	12-MAR-13
Miss el j kinsey	12-MAR-13	The pub has too much history to be removed
Mr Spencer Russ	12-MAR-13	Its the best alternative pub in London.
Mr Thomas Cranfield	12-MAR-13	Save the intrepid fox! Great pub
		I feel that The Intrepid Fox add so much character to the road and is a part of the local community. I object.
Miss Francesca R Agati	12-MAR-13
Gary Thomas	14-MAR-13	Don't close the Intrepid Fox pub. It's an important music venue.
		The Intrepid Fox supports a demographic that would keenly feel its loss.
Mr Jolyon Bain	12-MAR-13
		One of the reasons I moved away from London is because of the destruction of any kind of alternative culture by city officials, including the demolishing of the Astoria without any attempt to replace it with a similar size venue. "Affordable" housing in the very centre of the London shopping and partying district seems utterly ridiculous and surely this space is better occupied by a popular and affordable bar that actually offers colour and variety to the local entertainment scene.
Miss Katie Roberts	12-MAR-13
franck pairoys	12-MAR-13	That is one of the only independant and alternatives pubs in london left. It s is strongly needed for our community
		The Intrepid Fox holds many dear memories for me, also it is an landmark in Camden to which many people visit and associate with the area. It would be an unforgivable shame to lose this historic building just to build accommodation in it's place.
Mr James Fletcher	12-MAR-13
		People love the intrepid fox and the surrounding area. it would be a disgrace if it were to be demolished for yet more housing
Miss shauna I white	12-MAR-13
		I am a regular attendee at The Intrepid Fox, it is a great pub for rock and metal fans in a central location. This development would leave us with only one other place to go in central London and that caters predominantly for the rock fan and not the metal music fan and is much smaller that The Intrepid Fox.
Miss Heather Fittell	12-MAR-13
Miss Sarah Meredith SaysSI	12-MAR-13	The intrepid fox is a landmark for many londoners and travelers.
Miss Gemma A Lewis	12-MAR-13	I deeply oppose this proposal.
		I visit the Intrepid Fox public bar every time I'm in London!
		Please dont get rid of alternative music venue's. Its all we have! There's always too many pop music venue's around.
Miss Peita Pateman	12-MAR-13

The intrepid fox is not just a pub, it is a place for cultural activities and art forms for a minority of the community. There are every day fewer places for the alternative community in London, and we feel we have no room in the community that keeps shutting down the few places where we are able to express our interests, culture, and artistic development. This pub is a piece of history, with renowned artists performing there for years. A piece of culture of London and UK, that should not succumb again to government plans which take no account of the minorities. Such fate in the same area was experienced by the venue Astoria, and Sin Club. They have not been replaced or relocated, just disappeared. This can not happen to the intrepid fox. Please take into account the minorities in the community and put an end to this discrimination

Miss Anabel Navarro 12-MAR-13
Michelle Kelly 12-MAR-13 I object to this

What with the cross rail and the large lego-kit buildings increasingly dominating the seven dials/ tottenham court road area, it's getting harder and harder to see the original character of the place. The area is one of the most important in the history of rock, and it would be a crying shame to replace one of the few remaining genuine rock and roll bars in central london with yet another series of tasteless glass boxes that will only serve to remind future generations that the early part of the 21st century was dominated by utterly impersonal buildings designed to look impressive from above. Central London has plenty of shiny apartments for people in suits, and hardly any charismatic bars for people in leather.

Dr Vivian R Allen Royal Vete 12-MAR-13

This a landmark rock pub that people from all over Europe visit , allowing housing to be built over this serves purpose to the public!

Mr Raymond Paul 12-MAR-13

We've lost too many music venues from this part of town in recent years. The Fox itself has already been moved once! While I know affordable housing is a massive concern for London, I feel there are other properties which would provide better for this. Also, the location - while amazing for transport links - isn't the first place I'd want to live.

Would tenants stuff the same problems as those living in surrounding streets like Oxford St?

Please save a valued music venue, which brings in lots of late night revenue for the local food vendors, and look at alternative locations.

Miss Helen Lynch 12-MAR-13

There are very few pubs in London that cater to this genre of music.

Mr Martin J Harvey 12-MAR-13

I strongly object. The intrepid fox is one of the very few bars/pubs that I actually enjoy visiting amongst the otherwise largely pretentious collection of bars and pubs that London has to offer.

Having previously been forced from its original home, to do so again would be nothing short of culturally sacrilegious.

Mr paul Carroll the general p	12-MAR-13	So in summary, Don't Do It!
Mr Dan Mahon	13-MAR-13	I strongly object this Objection on the demolition of the intrepid fox , this is an amazing venue for live entertainment and a great meeting place for alternative people who are getting shunned and pushed further afield in this great city
Mr Lee L Harrison	12-MAR-13	objection
Mr engelbert Hurtado	12-MAR-13	I wish for the original building to maintain its status as a pub, for it remains one of the few places in london that caters for a specific crowd. This place cannot be demolished as it holds too much emotional value.
Mr William Cook	12-MAR-13	Objection
Iza Zoryk	12-MAR-13	Don't knock down the Intrepid Fox, it is one of the last places to have character
Marta Bencomo	12-MAR-13	NO! This bar is brilliant! Too many memories, we don't need to lose an amazing alternative bar in Central London.
Toby Koch	12-MAR-13
Miss Sophie McElhill	12-MAR-13
Ms Antoinette S Scantlebury	12-MAR-13	Can't believe another venue for fans of music is being targeted
		Please do not close down the Intrepid Fox pub in Tottenham court road as it is a hugely popular pub which generates a lot of business. It has a great reputation and is a very unique place. It would be a huge and unnecessary waste of time and money to shut this great pub. Please listen to the public!
Miss Kathy K Barrow	12-MAR-13	This place is a piece of history, please don't shut it down to build more housings.
Miss Nicoletta Ligutti	12-MAR-13	Would prefer to keep the Intrepid Fox!
Nicholas F	12-MAR-13	The Fox is a lively, friendly and popular venue, a great advert for the social side of London AND the rich rock musical heritage of the UK. Also, considering it's excellent location, the housing that would be built there would be anything but affordable and completely strip the Tottenham Court Road area of yet another decent venue.
Mr Andy Clark	12-MAR-13

Can't count the number of awesome nights I've spent in the Fox, no way you should knock the place down. Where else am I gonna go to have a beer and listen to some decent music that isn't a cramped little matchbox?

I can't adequately put how strongly I object to this proposal into words. Mainly because that would involve a lot of swearing, which would be counterproductive. So I will instead say, nay, beg you to PLEASE not do this.

Mr Jamie Fergus	12-MAR-13	The Fox is a great place, let it live on. I would like to raise an objection to this proposal, because I believe it affects the Intrepid Fox bar. This is a unique bar in London and I would be very sad to see it go. I visit the establishment frequently and do not believe the development
Mr David M Hall	17-MAR-13	will be an enhancement to the area or it's unique character. I object to the closure of the Intrepid Fox. It has significant cultural importance and a place in modern British culture, by
Mr Christian Wong	17-MAR-13	virtue of its role in the British music scene.
Mr Shing-Yung Wong	12-MAR-13	I am absolutely dismayed at the news that The Intrepid Fox, which a legendary London rock venue and one of the very few remaining in my city, could be getting destroyed in favour of building new homes. Surely this can be done elsewhere?! I have enjoyed many nights in The Intrepid Fox for many years and yet so many iconic London venues (such as The Hammersmith Palais and Astoria) are being ripped apart. This cannot happen. I object to the plan as business is what is needed in London to create more jobs/revenue not housing. There area number of empty housing projects already around London, because they are not being utilised properly as &quot;affordable&quot;
Miss Samantha Keighley	12-MAR-13	housing. We do not need any more housing or coffee shops in central London. We are in the middle of a recession and high street shops are closing on a weekly basis. Instead leave the one pub that actually makes money because its one of VERY FEW
Ms Heidi Duthie	12-MAR-13	alternative places to go in central London. The Intrepid Fox is an icon. It's one of the few places in London
Mr Joel Berridge	12-MAR-13	that has a unique identity. Please don't change it.
Ms melanie m knight	12-MAR-13	Oppose.
Mr Phillip A Hutchins	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid fox is a social gathering place for London' dying rock scene with Camden Town slowly being taken over by popular music this venue is one of the few places that sticks to its guns and provides a welcoming rock and metal atmosphere to those who love it most. it would be a great loss to London to loose yet another amazing Rock and Metal venue to the likes of developers or popular culture, it would be like knocking down the globe theatre and building a cinema because people prefer to watch movies then go to the theatre
Ms Sadie Kay	12-MAR-13	A stop must be put to these development plans!

Mr Stuart Latache Miss sara kupari	12-MAR-13 12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a truly great rock scene location and to take that away would be like taking away Camden Market. intrepid fox is one of the greatest bars in London.
Ms Karin Wright	12-MAR-13	Save the Intrepid Fox! Any attempt to convert this area to "affordable housing" has to be realistic in its outlook. The site is situated in the middle of London's west end. The area is rich in high end Department stores, one of a kind retail outlets and with the afore mentioned Crossrail link situated less than 100 yards away as well as links to the Northern and Central line underground train lines from the site, all residential properties in this area will instantly become premium apartments, effectively pricing first time buyers and those in rented accommodation out of the market. There is no way this project can provide "affordable" housing. As a big fan of the intrepid fox it was my shock to hear it might be going. A great pub playing the kind of music that cannot be found elsewhere. With the tragic destruction of the London Astoria nightclub some time ago the intrepid fox represents one of the only venues left in the area for quality alternative and rock music. Removing it would be a grand tragedy.
Mr Neil C West	12-MAR-13	Please don't destroy anymore of inner london history and culture. Please don't close this area down as it includes lots of venues including the Intrepid Fox which is one of the last few permanent locations for the alternative scene in London. People who do adapt this lifestyle have been struggling to find places that help others socialise with them and closing down an iconic venue like this will only make things worse.
Mr Calum Conkie Mr Matthew Carey Mr Punter Sp Punter	12-MAR-13 12-MAR-13 12-MAR-13	No! Objection
Mr Pete Halloran	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a great bar/venue with a good sized clientele. The Intrepid Fox is the greatest pub in London. It gets a lot of revenue daily, is a very popular place to visit. It's somewhere where people of a minority can gather in their numerous amounts and chat to one another. If it wasn't for that pub, I wouldn't know the people I do now, wouldn't have the enriched life I have had. It's the one place in London I will go to and feel comfortable no matter what the situation. Don't tear down a piece of something so special for the sake of something that will never have as much heart, or meaning as this pub does to its patrons.
Ms Nicola Brown	12-MAR-13

To close the Intrepid Fox would be a disastrous move for London. Not only would you be destroying a focal point of alternative nightlife for Londoners but you would also be taking away a fantastic sight from tourists visiting.

The Intrepid Fox always has great business, a safe environment and is one of few venues left in Central London with space within it.

Please do not allow this planning application to go ahead as it will be a massive blow to one of London's oldest cultures and already oppressed populations.

Mr Samuel Pierce	12-MAR-13	Thank you for your time Please leave this pub alone, it means so much to myself and everyone I know. You will have so many unhappy people. This is one of the last places that people like me who love alternative
Miss Kylie Gillmore	12-MAR-13	music can hang out.
Mr Gabriel Ralls WCRS	12-MAR-13	This area includes The Intrepid Fox, which is a central cultural point in central London, which in addition to being a regular visiting place is also a place I encourage tourists and friends to visit when they visit London. I strongly oppose to this.
Chris Jefferies	12-MAR-13	This is one of the most unique and treasured pubs in London, loved by one of the capital's most vibrant sub-cultures and it would be a terrible waste to have it turned into houses I strongly object to this as it puts the intrepid Fox at risk of
Miss Jeni clarke	12-MAR-13	closure.
Stacey Breese	12-MAR-13	Objection!
Mrs Emma O'Brennan-Pizer	12-MAR-13	Please don't destroy this venue!
Miss Charlene Wilde	12-MAR-13	OBJECTION!!!

The Intrepid Fox is a marker of the diversity of culture that lives in this city. We are a metropolis of interesting creatures and the more you tear down meeting points and social spaces for this array of cultures the more you decimate London's very soul. For what? To make more space? For whom? As if overcrowding is going to be solved by a collection of overpriced, second-home shag pads for anyone who can afford to live in Centre Point.

Do our city a favour and try your best to stop wreaking havoc on its magnificent array of heterogeneity to pay even more tribute to the top 1% of income earners that barely even live here.

Mr Tom C Moores	12-MAR-13	No such thing as affordable housing in that part of London.
Mr Paul Gallagher	12-MAR-13	save the intrepid fox !!!
Mr tomasz korycinski	12-MAR-13	Leave the fox alone
Mr K Farrell	12-MAR-13

		The Intrepid Fox is a landmark pub - it's more than a pub - everyone who goes there is a huge, amazing family. It's the heart of the hundreds of people who frequent it every week. I met my husband at the Fox, and I know so many other people that have also had their lives made better because of the existence of this place. Having the Fox in the area brings positive diversity and individualism to an otherwise mundane and corporate area, where only the big chains exist and being different isn't deemed important. But it is important - it makes life interesting, and quirky, and fun. It brings happiness to so many people. Destroying the Intrepid Fox will mean the end to this wonderful (and following the destruction of most other non-chain, individual places) unique establishment that should be cherished and held up as an example of what makes London special - not torn down - because diversity has always been what sets London apart and makes people come here. There are thousands of houses in London. There is only one Intrepid Fox. So please, please don't take it away :( The unique character of Soho, one of the UK's most significant tourist attractions and home to the cultural, social and sexual revolutions of the 1950s onwards, simply cannot bear further erosion. Already the Intrepid Fox has been forced out of its original home in Wardour Street to fund the creation of a me-too burger bar and some flats, and now the rampant and unchecked march of short-termist capital interest threatens its existence again. The true character of Soho at its zenith can never be rediscovered, but those last vestiges of individuality and creativity to which it clings, against all of the rapacious, pin-striped, white-Range-Rover-driving odds, should be celebrated and preserved to remind those who stumble upon Soho's faded charms of its genuine global importance as a centre of true societal revolution and cultural significance, especially in the post-war world. Once it is lost it is lost for good and society will be poorer for it. You cannot keep homogenising the world - human individuality and creativity simply will not accept it. The Intrepid Fox is an indelible link to the psychedelic music and art s
Ms Rosie Neate	14-MAR-13	I strongly object to the application to turn the lower area of Centre Point into 'affordable' housing, shops, and restaurants. The Denmark Street area, including the bar The Intrepid Fox, is a significant cultural centre that celebrates the alternative, and should not be homogenized into more of the same commercial enterprises that already dominate the surrounding area. There is no need for a development of this nature, whereas the preservation of cultural diversity is certainly a need. Additionally, I believe the business of the small independent shops, bars and Korean restaurants will be harmed by such a venture.
Mr Ben Jackson	12-MAR-13
Ms Elizabeth A Holdsworth	12-MAR-13	The plans are not a popular decision with the people who actually use and populate this area, and I wish my objections noted.

Mr arnaud mourialme	12-MAR-13	I think the Intrepid fox is a very important part of Soho's famous diversity and culture and therefor should stay .Its the destination for a lot of tourists and people come from all over the world to see it , its a vital part of the London rock scene I wish to object to this development, especially to the proposed demolition of the Intrepid Fox to build housing. This area of London has an historical link with rock music and the Intrepid Fox is now the only local pub which retains this spirit. It is a popular live music venue, and as both the Tottenham Court Road area and the wider Camden area are seeing venues and pubs demolitions for Crossrail and TCR development, I feel that it is better than another area is found for housing. And alternative which should be considered is that one of the retail/restaurant premises considered for the ground floor of the new Centrepont development should be specifically reserved for a new Intrepid Fox.
Miss Victoria A Sharkey	12-MAR-13	Affordable housing is already choking london, don't start knocking down tax payers hang outs for mostly lazy people on benefits.
Mrs gillian C townshend	12-MAR-13	This is London, there is no such thing as "affordable housing provision" The Intrepid Fox is an institution. A brilliant place where individuals can be themselves. Don't do this. Don't kill another place in London where people come to express themselves without judgement. Don't.
Mr David Scullion	12-MAR-13	I object to this application wholeheartedly.
Mrs Caroline Arnold	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a fantastic alternative venue and to lose yet another unique pub/bar would be very sad indeed. London thrives on variety and doesn't need to lose another signature venue. It's a great pub and should be kept as a rock bar!
Charlie Hawkins Faucet Inr	12-MAR-13	Stop closing down our bars and pubs for houses This is a special meeting place of it's kind. I absolutely object to your plans, leave it where it is and as it is.
Ms Angela F Asplin	12-MAR-13	It has already moved home once, this venue is culturally important and part of many shared histories.
Miss sinead nicholls	12-MAR-13	NOOOOOOOOOOOO!!! i object to the removal of another music venue from London. The Intrepid Fox offers a place for smaller and up and coming bands to perform and develop and London's place as a thriving music centre is jeopardised by the removal of venues such as
Mr David Guy	12-MAR-13	this.
Mr sam gregory	12-MAR-13	I love the Fox

		This simply cannot be allowed to happen. There are too many people who would be affected in a negative way to this plan. A popular and well liked bar with a great strong regular clientele should be appreciated and celebrated for the icon it is, not treated as a commodity. A great atmosphere, a sense of community, do these things mean nothing in the mindless pursuit of financial gain?
Miss Kelly Davenport	12-MAR-13
Mr Stuart J Harris	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a great community meeting point The Closure and development of The Intrepid Fox would not only be a loss to the area but a loss worldwide. No matter where I have travelled to around the globe, I have always met at least one person who has visited the fox and spoken of it in high regard and countless more who intend to visit due to it's famed nature. That's the sort of place it is. It's more than a bar, it's a community in it's self and renowned worldwide for being such. Destroying a community in it's self, to build a new one seems ludicrous to me.
Miss Lauren Freeman	12-MAR-13
		This bar is a long standing part of the local community and of of London. It is a place where you can go no matter how you look what you like and who you spend your time with. Tearing it down would be devastating and would affect so many!
Miss Kate Franklin-Willson	12-MAR-13	Please dont! I object to the proposed demolition of the Intrepid Fox and the surrounding areas near centre point. This pub has a great sense of community and is somewhere different for people who go there. People will travel for miles to drink in that establishment due to its individuality. Please do not demolish one of Londons only remaining
Ms angela c hedgecock	12-MAR-13	character pubs. Demolishing the Fox would be destroying of of Londons
Mr Tommie Ts Santala	12-MAR-13	landmarks. After the loss of the astoria and mean fiddler venues to crossrail, please dont take another unique, historic music venue
Mr Chris M Nials	12-MAR-13	away from us.... This is a vibrant and cultural bar that offers locals and tourists laura s mchugh	12-MAR-13	alike a great time.
Mr Stephen Cooper	12-MAR-13	I OBJECT...KEEP LIVE MUSIC VENUES ALIVE The Intrepid Fox is an iconic place that people from all over the world come to. There are plenty of other places that can be looked into for residential use. I think to lose this place would be a shame for Camden, which should be supporting independent
Mrs Alexandra Maniatis	12-MAR-13	businesses.
Mr Paul Pugh	12-MAR-13	I Object to this development..... I object to the destruction of the Intrepid Fox, a vibrant part of
Ms Sonia Kaur	12-MAR-13	London.
Miss Tanya L Traish	12-MAR-13	Objection to the building plans The intrepid fox is central to many people from within and without the metal scene, all people flock to this historic place. shutting it down would be a huge setback to the whole charles a George	12-MAR-13	community and the followers of the pub.

The Intrepid Fox

to close and demolish the Fox would be wrong it is a landmark in the centre of London it is a vibrant bar and home to a lot of local people as well as tourists from all over the world .

if it was taken away it would cause a severe dent in revenue for that area

Mr David Smith

12-MAR-13 please reconsider closing the Fox

I am writing to object to your plans to demolish The Intrepid Fox. For me The Fox is becoming the most important venue for alternative music and culture in London and for the city that spawned such great talents as The Rolling Stones & Iron Maiden do you not think this is hugely Important? A venue that brings people together over something they love and that aids in showing the brilliance of how diverse London really is should not be taken away now should it? I have lived in many places around the world and London has always remained my favorite however in recent years I have seen a huge decline in venues for alternative music. The Astoria, a historical building and one where I have fond memories of seeing many great bands is now gone. The LA2 next to Astoria, another great band venue and great rock club -gone. The metro round the corner from both these, another fantastic place for smaller crowds and mid week Rock, Punk and Metal music - gone. The venue Sin next to where The Fox is now - gone. Why do you see it fit to take away

Mr Ink D

12-MAR-13 what we love? Rock & Roll, Punk and Metal are all a huge part of London's culture. One of the last decent music venues for the alternative metal crowd, ridiculous to possibly consider closing it regardless of prospective planning.

Mr Arthur Gibson

Miss Sophie Hull

12-MAR-13 Do not close this iconic venue

I am a regular visitor to the Intrepid Fox which is currently on this site and am concerned that it will be closed down with this redevelopment. There are few venues like this iconic landmark left in London and it should be left alone. It adds colour and character to the area and it should not be replaced with soulless modern housing and corporate chains of shops and restaurants. This is a historic venue in Soho and I am opposed to it being

Mr Philip Downer

12-MAR-13

redeveloped into a housing block.

Mr Ben Titmarsh

12-MAR-13

Miss Caz Helbert

12-MAR-13

Please don't close down The Intrepid Fox!

Sandra Koch

12-MAR-13

the intrepid fox needs to stay
We've already lost the Intrepid Fox once.

The Marquee's gone, the Astoria's gone. Please leave something in Central London for the music fans.

Mr Alan C Jones

12-MAR-13

This cannot happen. This is a hub for music in London! Camden needs no more houses. The music scene is what keeps the

Mr Lee Tuddenham

12-MAR-13

borough alive!

The Intrepid Fox is a central part of the area's musical heritage and is an embedded part of the rock music culture. London's vibrancy rests on protecting our cultural diversity and not allowing profit margins and vested interests to create a homogeneous landscape without the unique and incredible highlights that draw people to the city.

I oppose the redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox site and question the legitimacy of anyone claiming that they will create lasting low cost housing in such a central location where the temptation and opportunity to turn a fast profit 'flipping' those properties will be overwhelming.

Ms Jane L Ellaway Respondi 12-MAR-13

Mr Logan Jacobs 12-MAR-13

Mr Gavin Compton 12-MAR-13

Mr paul p birkin 12-MAR-13

Mr Richie Hudson 12-MAR-13

Miss Marie E Gustafsson 12-MAR-13

Leave the Intrepid Fox alone!
Because it's a wonderful building which is going to be replaced by something cheap and tacky!!

The Intrepid Fox is the last bastion of alternative culture. Stop Britains streets being homogeonised and keep a sliver of individuality.

Let the Intrepid Fox stay, build around it, if necessary!

This is a ridiculous proposition, we should be supporting local businesses such as the Intrepid Fox rather than taking its home! There are plenty of other locations for affordable housing, oh and by the way why should there be affordable housing in central London when people like me, who work full time, cant live there and have to commute for hours???

Lisa Bennett 12-MAR-13

Too many London venues are being closed, making it ever more difficult for local bands to further their careers, and the followers to see their favourite acts. The Intrepid Fox is a landmark venue, a tourist spot for music fans from all over the world, and should be left as it is.

Ms Sharon Sone 12-MAR-13

Miss Harriet Bensley 12-MAR-13

Please save this bar!

It will significantly change the character of the area and destroy local businesses

Miss Emma Radcliffe 12-MAR-13

Mr Jude JHH Hodgson Hanr 12-MAR-13

Mr Gerard Winter 12-MAR-13

Mr ayush prasai 12-MAR-13

Mr ayush prasai 12-MAR-13

Mr ayush prasai 12-MAR-13

I oppose the planned building work on the Intrepid Fox objection

i object with this plan

i object with this plan

i object with this plan

this is a great little bar and live music venue and are not many like it left now friends band is playing there Thursday and being small new band in a non mainstream style of music need places

Mr andrew hillsdon 12-MAR-13

like the fox

		Do not turn tear down this extremely important public landmark. Thousands across London and across the UK come here to unite with fellow metalers and rockers to enjoy eachothers company and more importantly great music. Yes there may be other pubs in London with the same modus operandi, but none truly meet everyone needs in the metal culture, this place brings many different sub-cultures of metal together under one roof
Mr James Toney	12-MAR-13	and works. Please do not close this place down. OBJECTION....Too many unique, individual establishments are closing down...I travel 80 miles to visit places such as these...I will stop doing so if this continues to happen!!! NO Further
Miss Lucinda Davison	12-MAR-13	notifications or use of my details please.... intrepid fox is best Rock Pub in uk , dont take it away from us many bands have played there and great atmosphere in place
Miss claire I martin	12-MAR-13	its been there for years !!! DONT
Mr Nathan J Brennan	12-MAR-13	You need to keep this unique landmark pub just as it is, where it is! It's a local treasure!
		Including the St Giles High Street pub, The Intrepid Fox, in the redevelopment programme and changing any current state in its management, purpose or infrastructure would be detrimental to the areas reputation as a music centric culture stop for tourists and locals alike. Expect a major admonishment from regulars and music enthusiasts in response to the suggestion of the
Miss Ailsa McKane	12-MAR-13	removal of this infamous venue. The Intrepid Fox is one of the few places in the West End left that appeals to people with alternative music tastes. In its current location it is central and easy to get to. To lose it would
Miss Eva Zacharia	12-MAR-13	be a horrible loss for Tottenham Court road. Love this bar, sure the houses can go somewhere else? seems
Taliss Burton	12-MAR-13	silly, unnecessary etc Let central London stay as it is. If London is not distinct why live
Mr Gary H Gayle	21-MAR-13	here?
		The intrepid fox is a landmark for london, such a great music venue and such a great place to be, I've been there for years, so many tourists come to this iconic place, please don't close it
Mr xavier joubert	12-MAR-13	To carry out this work would destroy the community that resides
William Foster	12-MAR-13	here
		This is the site of one of the very few places left in London which life long music fans like myself have remaining where we can meet and enjoy music together. This proposal will take yet another of our beloved venues away. As Londoners we have already lost so much in the name of "local development" must we suffer another MASSIVE loss?!?! Please leave the Intrepid Fox alone!!!!
Miss Kirsty J McBean	12-MAR-13

Miss Victoria Chalard	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox bar is an integral part of the West End/Soho community. The council should celebrate the diversity of available venues rather than anaesthetise the area by demolishing these valuable and popular commerces.
Mr Lucas R Williamson Shad	12-MAR-13	The Fox is a fantastic place with a lot of history and personal meaning to a lot of people! it would be a real tragedy for the community to lose it, much like with the bull and gate in kentish town being closed to be turned into something else. to destroy this venue would be a real mistake and take away part of the identity of the camden area
Miss Charlotte Wilson	12-MAR-13	I am completely objecting to this. Best bar I've been in!
Kirsty Ellinor	12-MAR-13

I would like to object to redevelopment plans, which will directly affect one of London's most iconic bars, The Intrepid Fox.

Mr Reza Udhin	12-MAR-13	It would be extremely sad to see a real part of London's alternative music scene be lost.
Mr Daniel Miles	12-MAR-13	I object to this planning application.the intrepid fox is a social hub for the local community and Londoners alike. Slowly London is Loosing everything which make it great . every town in the world will look the same boring fashion malls with no way to be different its a shame . the intrepid fox is the last cool pub in London which is different please don't destroy it .

Ms Dollie Mombelli	12-MAR-13	But Also tourist when they come to London they don`t want to see boring buildings and malls they have this at home .
Mr William Stapleton	12-MAR-13	object!

I do not believe that the housing that will go in here will in fact be affordable, and that is a keyword used by developers that are looking for huge profits. Because of Crossrail that immediate area has already lost a lot of unique establishments - please do not allow the Fox to become another casualty.

Mrs K Balgarnie	12-MAR-13	Can you please inform me of the committee date when available.
Mr Charlie C Bagnall	12-MAR-13	I object to the site of the Intrepid Fox being redeveloped for housing
Mr Lee Epthorp	12-MAR-13	I object to this proposal
Mr ashley watson	12-MAR-13	Please don't close this down. Due to issues before - the fox had to move and I actually go to it quite a lot. It's a great hangout that is probably one of the most peaceful pubs - us goths keep to ourselves. There's nowhere like it that's close that's as good as this south of London where all the big bands have gone to as well.
J m	12-MAR-13	Application for demolishing
Daniel E Hine	12-MAR-13	Objection to the change of use of the public house at ground level

I'm totally opposed to that. That would mean that one of my favourite place, The Intrepid Fox, would have to close. And we lost enough Iconic venues in Soho already ( Astoria, Sin Club, Mean Fiddler/Astoria2), for this stupid renovation of Tottenham Court Road Station. London lost enough of its soul for the profit of greedy businessmen.

Gaelle Citharel	12-MAR-13	Just NO!
Miss Faye C Blackman	12-MAR-13	It's a part of London you can't get rid of it
Mr Dani Martínez	12-MAR-13	Cultural interest place
Mr Douglas Kerr SVS Clothi	12-MAR-13	This cannot happen. We need to help small venues like this, its what gives the town its character.
david martin	12-MAR-13	I strongly object to this as it is a great barand very few of its kind are left
Mr Simon D Michalak	12-MAR-13	Once again we see profit being put before culture, diversity & part of London's historic nightlife. Totalky unacceptable. Too much of 'alternative' London has already been destroyed. Don't make the Intrepid Fox, which is a viable business, another victim.
Mrs Angela Eason	12-MAR-13	Iconic central London landmark. You want to keep a huge alternative scene in the capital? Then keep the Intrepid Fox.
Joel Palmer	12-MAR-13
		There are far too many good social venues being closed down every week in favour of residential developments which will only be for very wealthy residents or benefit property developers. I strongly object to this happening with the Fox which is a very busy venue and attracts tourists from all over the world alongside locals and regulars who travel for many miles to visit on a regular basis.
Mr Chris Clancy	12-MAR-13	Objection
Mr Chris Caswell	12-MAR-13	I object to this.
Mr mark williams	12-MAR-13	This is one of my favourite pubs and provides a valuable service to my friends and musical community. Affordable housing? At Tottenham Court Road? You've got to be joking!
Mr Oliver C Winton	12-MAR-13	London is steadily losing all of the landmarks that make it great. Please re-consider this.
Ky Wilkinson	12-MAR-13	I oppose the redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox site, as it is a valuable place for small bands to play, a popular venue and a viable small business bringing diversity and culture to the surrounding area.
Mr Marc A Weston Redthorn	12-MAR-13	Do not close the intrepid fox.
		DO NOT TEAR DOWN YET ANOTHER MUSIC VENUE, WE ARE SICK OF HAVING LESS AND LESS PLACES TO GO
Mr James Whittle	12-MAR-13	AND SEE LIVE MUSIC
Rab Urquhart	12-MAR-13	No to redevelopment of The Intrepid Fox
		The original site of the Intrepid Fox has already been turned into residential properties. This should not be allowed to happen again. I strongly object to your request.
Miss Karen Wright	12-MAR-13

		I object to this planning application because the Intrepid Fox Pub that is currently in this area is a landmark of British &amp; London culture, &amp; is a tourist hotspot. it has a rich history in London, &amp; already it had to move from its originally site to this current area, &amp; survived because of it loyal &amp; supportive customers.. It would be a crime to lose this from London culture just for a couple more flats..
Mr Jonathan Bristow	12-MAR-13	I'll always remember my first visit to London, thanks to the
Miss Sara Collantes	12-MAR-13	Intrepid Fox and all its crew!! The Intrepid Fox is an international landmark for the arts and alternative community.
		An Australian resident, I can confirm that many visitors to London feel that the Intrepid Fox hold significant cultural value and should be protected.
		Please dismiss the section of the planning application which pertains to the Intrepid Fox and allow the internationally famous pub to continue operating.
Mr Matthew A Landolfo	12-MAR-13	I object strongly that this institutial pub should be moved to pave the way for luxury deveelopments that no one who drinks there
Ms Tamsin Pearce	12-MAR-13	would ever be able to afford.
		The closing of well established, small, local businesses is destroying this country, especially when homes are replacing them to accommodate immigrant workers and benefit cheats!!!
EMMA BERRYMAN	12-MAR-13	This venue should not be shut down by any means! I believe the Intrepid Fox should stay. Affordable housing should be built somewhere else, no one could afford a house in the
Ms Manuela Guk	12-MAR-13	West End anyway.
Mr mal bubb	12-MAR-13	stop turning the iconic music venues into flats and shops The Intrepid Fox is an integral part of the London Rock Music scene. Bands and musicians from all over Europe come to play here, and tourists who come to London visit it as part of the musical history of the city. It is a thriving and buzzing live venue and bar at a time when more and more people choose to go out less.
		To turn this site into housing will tear the heart out of Soho's reputation around the World.
Mr Jamie Lailey	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox has been one my favourite places to socialise
Mr Patrick Lee-Delisle	12-MAR-13	for years. You can't just tear it down.
		This is a highly important location for the alternative scene in Camden. To propose demolition is a joke.
Mr Matt Radley	12-MAR-13	We really dont need housing next to central point, what we do
Mr Douglas Allen	12-MAR-13	need is this one of a kind awesome friendly bar.

No! The Intrepid Fox is a great old pub that I've been going to for years! This is extremely upsetting that a place such as this might be taken away for housing.

It's just greed. Why on earth would anyone want the centre of London to look like everywhere else. It's globalisation gone mad.

Please don't get rid of a truly unique place just for profit. What's next?

Ms Kate C Stamp Unit 7b
Ms Andreia Salvador

12-MAR-13
12-MAR-13

Objection!

This is an awesome pub and it can't not be torn down many memories in this place!!

Miss Laura Barnes
Mr Patrick Bowens
Miss Eleanor Green

12-MAR-13
12-MAR-13
12-MAR-13

This should remain as it is, an integral part of London.

NOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Including the St Giles High Street pub, The Intrepid Fox, in the redevelopment programme and changing any current state in its management, purpose or infrastructure would be detrimental to the areas reputation as a music centric culture stop for tourists and locals alike. Expect a major admonishment from regulars and music enthusiasts in response to the suggestion of the removal of this infamous venue.

Ailsa McKane

12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox is an irreplaceable cultural resource in the area and a valuable venue for up and coming musicians to perform. It would be a shame to grind yet another artistic venue under in the quest for property profits.

Ms Lori M Wyndham

12-MAR-13

Please do not do this. We don't need more housing, we need more places to have fun in this dull city. No more housing for immigrants please.

Miss Claire Gregg

12-MAR-13

Another housing/office complex to replace a long standing pub? This is one of the few pubs left from a long list of places we used to go in London to see live music. Please do not let the developers get their hands on another pub. People are really fed up with great old buildings/long standing venues being pulled down to make way for cheaply built housing or unused office space. It is time to stop the unchecked destruction of the facilities providing entertainment for many in the pursuit of financial gain for a few.

Ms Karen McDowell

22-MAR-13

Stop turning everything into houses. Soon enough there will be no places for people to go and enjoy, there are plenty of abandoned places to use!

Kelly Higgins

12-MAR-13

I am writing to strongly object to the change of use of the area occupied by the Intrepid Fox pub. It is an iconic meeting point, and one of the few remaining rock pub in central London. It was already upsetting when it was moved from Soho. Whilst I understand the need for new homes, no "normal" londoner will ever be able to afford to buy one or rent one, so build posh houses elsewhere.

Ms Morgana Fulcheri

12-MAR-13

Mr John Hollands	12-MAR-13	The proposed development will ruin one of London's last remaining cultural landmarks, in the form of the Intrepid Fox music venue. This is also a major tourist attraction, so will negatively impact the area, and the influx of people that wish to view our fine city's nightlife. The Intrepid Fox is widely regarded as an institution. Since its move to this location a few years ago it has gained even more of a reputation as a unique and lively venue in a unique building, not just across the UK, but around the world. To redevelop the site would be to destroy an important part of the city's music and underground culture. I for one do not want this to happen.
Miss Kelly Brown	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox represent a piece of history and culture and as such it is a crime against the minority that has dedicated their lives to such values.
Mr dario salezzari	12-MAR-13
roger C Diss	12-MAR-13	I strongly object and wish to keep the Intrepid Fox!!
Miss Jacqueline Holman	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is one of the best parts of London. Every tourist that comes to visit that I know makes a point to go there at least once. It is one of the few unique bars/pubs that exist in the city that doesn't look like all the others. Save it - there are so many other spots or pubs with less atmosphere and character that could be used for the proposed development! The Intrepid Fox is a popular and well-loved pub serving a niche audience and has already been driven out of its previous home. To do so again would be an indecent attack on a specific audience all of whom pay taxes, vote and contribute to the economy just like everyone else. Closing popular pubs to make way for this kind of speculative redevelopment is a surefire way to turn London from a vibrant and unique city into an identikit wasteland of phone shops and building sites, alienating both tourists and locals.
Mr Christopher Baggett	12-MAR-13
Miss Emma Little	12-MAR-13	This will disrupt the business of The Intrepid Fox that is already established, which many people enjoy to go. It does not need to change, nor be taken from the public.
Ms lauren saunders	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid fox is far more than a bar, it's a community. Since moving to London in 2008 I've regularly visited this bar, it's where I've made almost all of my friends, planned charity events, met my fiancé. Please don't destroy such a wonderful place for the sake of cheap housing - especially when there's so many brownfield sites in and around central London.
Mr Daniel McDonald	12-MAR-13	This venue is important for the culture and diversity of London. It is a world renowned venue that people from all reaches of the world come to visit. Losing this is not only bad for the local music community but bad for business

hollie bennett	12-MAR-13	Objection. The Intrepid Fox is a unique cultural meeting place and should be preserved as such.
Ms Jacquelyn Arnold	12-MAR-13	We need more places like Intrepid Fox, not less.
Miss Francesca Turner	12-MAR-13	As they say, if it ain't broke don't fix it.
Miss AMBER HAYES	12-MAR-13	this place means a lot to me and so many others!
Miss Nicole Howard	12-MAR-13	This place is like a landmark in the London rock scene which is already lacking in places like this!
		 I object to the redevelopment of the site currently occupied by The Intrepid Fox. This establishment is treasured as a thriving music venue amongst many people in London's creative and alternative music community. To replace it with what will no doubt be inaffordable housing would be a great tragedy to those who love and know it well and detrimental to the surrounding businesses.
Miss Jo Moolenschot	12-MAR-13	Please notify me of the committee date.
Mr Pavel Salgado	12-MAR-13	Completely disagree with this proposal of redeveloping the Intrepid Fox Its the only great rock/metal club for the upcoming music scene! Its one of the only rock/metal bars in the UK which is consistently busy and promoting upcoming bands! Great atmosphere!
Mr Jimmy Bradshaw	12-MAR-13	Keep the intrepid fox alive, not many venues of its kind left.
Mr Jag Bahra	13-MAR-13	London must retain its cultural identity.
Miss Nina Diamantopoulou	13-MAR-13	It would destroy this beautiful part of Camden if these kind of changes happened.
Mr Marco Salis	13-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is part of the history of London music and culture. It can't be shut down! I oppose this planning application. After a number of previous redevelopments in the area, the Intrepid Fox is one of only a small handful of bars remaining in central London to cater for the "alternative" crowd. Therefore, I heavily oppose any sort of redevelopment that would rob myself and my community of this much-loved venue and meeting place.
Miss Jacqueline A Ager	13-MAR-13	Really like this business. Please do not proceed with proposed plan to redevelop Intrepid Fox.
Mr Matthew McGuire	13-MAR-13	we all understand the need for housing but this pub is important to a lot of people you keep destroying peoples lives with your developments
Ms margaretta m hopkins	13-MAR-13	Save the pub!!
Mr James K Thomas	13-MAR-13	Its an amazing london location for the alternative masses! Dont be fools, hold it down!
Mr Gordon G Carmichael	13-MAR-13	Don't take away a popular venue for a genre of music, style and character that is sadly under represented. The demise of the Intrepid Fox would be a sad loss and attraction for London's night life especially where being replaced by unfordable housing
Mr Maciej Ogrodnik	13-MAR-13	in an already built up area
Mr Matt Thomas	13-MAR-13	Don't do it

		This pub is intergral to London's alternative history. The Astoria, Mean Fiddler and Metro Club have already been destroyed thanks to the Crossrail project. I am opposed to further destruction of London's alternative culture. I believe the Intrepid Fox should remain where it is.
Mrs Carly D Stewart	12-MAR-13	I think it disgusting that someone is trying to destroy the diversity of London culture by wanting to change this amazing community pub into a bunch of overpriced flats.
Miss Alicja Dziergas	12-MAR-13	Please don't close Intrepid Fox. It is an integral part of London's Soho and a true landmark on the city's map.
Mr Alex Unku	12-MAR-13

		A city is defined by its culture as much as by anything else. London needs a music oriented venue like The Intrepid Fox far more than it needs more affordable housing. I can understand why the developers would want to do this, and it will certainly be in their financial interests to do so. But I don't believe it will be in the best interests of London or its inhabitants.
Mr Tet Tethys	12-MAR-13	I object to your plans of building residential areas on this site; the intrepid fox is my favorite bar in london and I do not want it to have to change location. it is currently situated in a convenient area and matches its surroundings entirely. I implore you to reconsider your plans, thank you.
Mr Connor Roberts	12-MAR-13	The fox is one of the best bars I have ever been to. It's a homing ground for like minded and lovely people, who have a real sense of belonging. It's a great place where I have met some amazing people and formed real friendships.
Miss Hannah R Parvaz	12-MAR-13	Well done for destroying another Iconic landmark, pat yourselves on the back you money grabbers!

You just can't leave things alone can you?!

		OBJECTION
		OBJECTION
Mr Leon STENT	12-MAR-13	OBJECTION!

Miss Jennifer McCarthy	13-MAR-13	I object to the redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox into "affordable" housing - this is an integral part of our community and a lynch pin of the alternative culture of London. We are losing too many great venues in London and I sincerely hope this fantastic pub doesnt follow others.
Danny Sugden	13-MAR-13	There will be nothing left of London soon.
Mr Dominik Gryzbon	13-MAR-13	I object to this development as the Intrepid Fox is a valued entertainment venue in alternative culture.
Mr Thomas Appleton	13-MAR-13	The Interpid Fox is an iconic rock venue and it would be a shame to see it go.

Dr Joseph Baxter	12-MAR-13	I also do not see the need for yet more retail and restuants in the area - indeed these is a block across the road that is for that use and largely empty.
Miss ALBA LOPRIENO	12-MAR-13	i object to the redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox!
Mr Bryan Howesman	12-MAR-13	Leave this place alone!!!

Jonathan E Clarke	12-MAR-13	Save the Fox. The intrepid fox is the centre of the universe and needs to remain the awesome bar that it is. Consider redeveloping an office building that has NO culture around it, i'm sure there's plenty. Also, why does the intrepid fox site need to be part of this? Surely it should be considered separately?
Mr Ryan White	12-MAR-13	I wish to be notified of the committee date. I strongly oppose this planned action. Intrepid Fox is one of my
Miss Jessica Taylor	12-MAR-13	favorite bars! I object to the redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox, as affordable housing is not needed here and the Intrepid Fox serves as a
Mr Shane O'Connor	12-MAR-13	useful community meeting center. I honestly believe this will be a huge blow to the community, this place is one of the only place you can go where it feels like a big family, it's always very busy and never any trouble, it's almost like a landmark for many people and I really urge this planning application to be turned down as the last thing we need is to lose anything like this for the sake of some more residential areas, London is being ruined at a fast pace and it has to stop somewhere, simple fact is that people put their own greed before what's right and that is why eventually people will ruin
Mr Kieron Mccourt	12-MAR-13	what little we have left to enjoy
		I oppose the change of use from a public house to residential use on the following grounds: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Loss of vitality/vibrancy to a commercial street</li> </ol> The buildings current use as a public house ensures there is an active frontage to the street for protracted periods throughout the day, evening and the night. This active use contributes to footfall on the street and ensures the viability, vibrancy and vitality of the street and its associated commercial usage. Residential development cannot duplicate this level of activity and will detract from the commercial viability of the area. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>2. The street is situated in a predominantly commercial/retail area (at ground floor) and the property's conversion to residential use is (i) not in keeping with predominant uses and (ii) will adversely affect the commercial function of the street.</li> <li>3. On a cultural/heritage note The Intrepid Fox public house has been an important part of the alternative music scene for years and is has a global reputation for this. It's continued use as a</li> </ol>
Mr Adam J Nardell	12-MAR-13	pub is important to that scene and will continue to attract visitors The Intrepid Fox and Denmark street are of historical and cultural importance. They are remnants of the music business/scene in the area clinging on while the Astoria and other venues are demolished/close down. Their destruction
Mr Mark Pownall Concerned	12-MAR-13	would be cultural vandalism.

Miss Christine Hillier	12-MAR-13	This establishment is too important to too many people to knock it down and develop on the site. The original pub has already been forced to close down. Don't let this happen again!
Miss Kelly Harrison	12-MAR-13	Too many of Londons venues which are strongly linked to the rock sub culture have already been lost, It would be a travesty to lose another.. No one wants a city full of bland chain restaurants and bars. Diversity is what makes London special. NOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!!! The Intrepid Fox is up there as an icon of music and though the power that be did not recognise that as being a worthy status for the London Marquee Club it should and must recognise that for the Intrepid Fox. I under stand your need to provide homes for people but why does it have to be at the cost of yet another iconic music landmark??? It is sickening that we should have to lose lose another amazing rock club/.music venue just to satisfy the city's obsessive need to create fantastically expensive housing along with a whole host of food and restaurant outlets cause god knows there really arent enough of those in the west end already!!!! Im sure that you will ignore all the emails you receive on this subject because you are beaurocrats and you dont give a shite about the average human being you only care about the money you can make off the site - so I guess I should make plans to say my goodbyes to the greatest rock venue ever and come to terms with the fact that you lot are nothing more than money grabbing shite bags that ruin everything you touch because you c
Mrs Josephine Taylor	13-MAR-13	This venue is internationally renowned and an integral part of the fabric of the area. Shutting it to develop housing does not make sense at this particular location. I object in the strongest possible terms.
Ms Liz Frost	13-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is one of my favourite pubs, please don't demolish it!
Miss Amy Furey	13-MAR-13	I would like to oppos to plans of redevelopment of Intrepid fox site and Denmark Street. This is one of those places that make London so spacial. LOnDon is famous from its music secene and those places are very important to London's music scene. In addition the places have character and are quite unique. Do we really have to transform our cities into monoliths without character where everything looks the same.
Ms Agnieszka Z Hejmrot	12-MAR-13	character where everything looks the same.

		While I am aware of the current housing shortage I believe this can be better met through the Empty Homes councils across Britain are aware of. These should be renovated to a standard where they are habitable again. The area suggested for development houses a well established public house which will
Mrs Kara Gerrie	12-MAR-13	be a great loss to the community.
		This place is loved by so many. The Fox is one of the few reasons I travel to London often and would be more than
Sarah Salmon	12-MAR-13	upsetting to see it go.
		I fail to see the main benefits from this planning request. Office will be turned in to residential apartments that only the rich can afford and will then rent them out while not living within the area.
		There is no need for more retail space simply to have more duplicates of shops which already exist along Oxford Street.
Mr Gary Urquhart	12-MAR-13	Please inform me of the committee date.
		I want to express my objection against the demolition of Intrepid
Mr Riccardo Coccia	12-MAR-13	Fox, which is a culturally important spot in Soho.
		I strongly object to any redevelopment plans that put the Intrepid
Mr Colm Watkins G2 Joshua	12-MAR-13	Fox establishment out of business in that area.
		I object to the Intrepid Fox being redeveloped. There are few places of leisure for people who have an interest in rock music. This is one of the last places that remains. I have already seen other 'rock' pubs and clubs redeveloped and while housing is of importance, we cannot continue to redevelop all places of leisure for this purpose. The enjoyment of life, particularly in these times of hardship, is crucial. This should not be sacrificed
Mrs Sharon Gale	13-MAR-13	for the key purpose of producing more wealth for the few.
		I really hope that this gets rejected as why should we lose another pub in the West End. We have over the years lost the Astoria, the Old Intrepid Fox and many other places so I think you need to realise that London is also for residents and not just some massive tourist attraction. I know we need money in the city for the economy but why should we keep losing our places the Fox has been a part of the London scene so long it's almost legendary. Rockers from all over the country travel to London to experience the "scene" at one of the few remaining bastions of a style of music intrinsically British and copied the world over.
Mr Steven Swan	12-MAR-13	to the money men!!!!
		to close the Intrepid Fox is tantamount to wiping and denying the history of British rock at the grassroots level.
Mr Gary G Laverty	12-MAR-13	I respectfully ask that you reconsider your decision for the good of area and to preserve the unique culture it engenders.
		The Intrepid Fox is an important part of the culture of the West
Mr Chris Dale	12-MAR-13	End. It should not be demolished.

The intrepid Fox means the world to us! It's a huge part of rock/metal culture in London and one of the few places we can be ourselves and be amongst likeminded people. We are a subculture and this is like our place of worship! Tourist come from all over to taste rock culture London has to offer and the intrepid Fox is the centre of that!!! It's presence in that area is vital to the survival of club nights such as Borderline at Nasin. Without the Fox rock Will likely be non existent in central London and that would be incredibly sad. I don't see nearby Crobar surviving alone in that area without Fox and Nasin On it's doorstep. It is taking away from a massive part of London culture!

Miss stephanie j williams 12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox is a landmark. There surely are other areas more suitable for redevelopment in order to offer affordable housing provision.

Miss Isabella Thermes <http://> 12-MAR-13

I strongly object to the closure of a key Central London venue to make way for affordable housing in the middle of an expensive and business oriented area.

Miss Rachel M Marchant 12-MAR-13

To Whom it may concern,

Hi,Me and my friends have been going to the Intrepid Fox for the last five years. It is one of the best alternative places where alternative people can go to, because there is not a lot of places like this in London. Altogether about 4? So if you want to take it away from us, that is just really not fair towards those people, who love to go there, including me! There are hundreds of restaurant in and around Soho, hundreds of places for retail and homes. Why taking away The Intrepid Fox? I want the Intrepid Fox to stay, and my friends do too, so my enemies or strangers, we all want The Intrepid Fox. So please, reconsider your redevelopment plans, the fact that we would have no more Intrepid Fox makes us very disappointed and unhappy. The bar-staff are also my friends, it would mean they lose their job where they've been working for years now. The Fox is a place we cannot lose again, we already lost it once from Wardour Street, this is why I'm asking you Please Please Please, KEEP THE INTREPID FOX FOR US!

Miss Gabriella Stanko 12-MAR-13

It would be such a shame to lose the Intrepid Fox. London has plenty of retail outlets and restaurants but is severely lacking in individual, alternative venues.

Emily Cervi 12-MAR-13

Please don't shut it down!

The area should be left alone! Centre Point is a landmark and an icon of London. The Intrepid Fox is a much loved and frequented bar which is loved by thousands! I have personally been going to the Intrepid Fox for years and it is one of few bars where there is very little trouble and EVERYONE can feel comfortable and welcomed. It's a place that is known across the world and is a 'must visit' for anyone coming to London. Please do not take this away from us too!

Mrs Emma J Drury-Ward 12-MAR-13

Ana Barker 18-MAR-13

Save the Intrepid Fox

Please reconsider your intentions of replacing The Intrepid Fox pub with flats. It may be referred to as 'redevelopment', but what you are doing is destroying an important part of Soho's history.

The Fox is legendary in alternative social scenes, and although I have only been a handful of times I have very fond memories attached to it.

Ms Sara Hepworth 13-MAR-13 Surely there is an alternative site for these dwellings to be built?

The Intrepid Fox is a popular bar that provides a sense of community within an alternative culture. There are few places that provide such a sense of community for like-minded individuals.

I cannot begin to express the sheer size of this community. If I could draw your attention to Camden Town and its association with my own sub-culture, it provides many concert venues and market stalls/vendors for our community. However, there are few places like The Intrepid Fox.

To take the Intrepid Fox away would stab the heart of our lifestyle. London is well-known for its upper-market nightclubs and other venues for other demographics. We should have our own. This bar is our flagship venue, there are very few like it. I am in the firm belief that it serves London, individuals from afar, better than the proposed residential developments.

Mr Shey Rainbow
Andrew Southall

13-MAR-13
13-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox is a London institution.

Miss Elisa Fregoni

13-MAR-13

I support the petition to save The Intrepid Fox from extinction! I think we have to prioritise the maintenance of buildings that are part from the London urbanism and identity and that contribute to spread the culture, against speculation models that just enrich to few, not to the community.

Beatriz Rodriguez

13-MAR-13

Destroying the Intrepid Fox will be a tremendous error. Will destroy a mythic place for culture and tourism.

Mr Francisco F Jordano

13-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox plays a key part in the varied social scene in central London and offers a location where people (who are seen by some as a social minority) can enjoy a socially active lifestyle away from prejudice and judgement.

Mr Ralph Bowman

12-MAR-13

This location is simply not suited to housing development due to its location and I object to this planning activity.

The Fox is a unique and distinctive landmark to the people and tourists of London. One of the few alt lifestyle locations left in the capital. Terrible to see it go.

Lee LJ Hazell WeAreIFP

12-MAR-13

Mr Barry b tate

12-MAR-13

Please save this great rock and roll bar!!!!

Miss Marilena Papagni

12-MAR-13

FUCK OFF THAT'S NOT RIGHT

Mr Morten ML Lockert

12-MAR-13

Let this epic 'landmark' live!

		The Intrepid Fox is a London institution and a massive draw for tourists. I worked in the original Fox so I know how many people it brings in. I also know that there's never trouble in this popular and well run pub. The people have saved the Fox once before, how can Camden even consider that the world would be better without it? It wouldn't. Oh and I'm in not in my 20's now and I STILL love the Fox. People of all ages and backgrounds
Ms Diane HJ McCarogher	12-MAR-13	are welcome, not many places can live up to that! Whilst I have no problem with the majority of this application, I would be very concerned at any change of use that prevented the Intrepid Fox continuing to trade in its existing manner, in its
Mr Owen Blacker	12-MAR-13	existing location. dont tear down this pub to build house, this is one of the best
Miss Karen Reed	12-MAR-13	pubs i go to! Objection . The intrepid fox has been in my life and others for a
lisa g perry nursery	12-MAR-13	many years.
Sarah Salmon	12-MAR-13	Best pub in London, we don't need more office blocks or cafes! Do not destroy the Intrepid Fox, it's such an iconic place. It may not fit in with the modern theme you invision, however it has a place that has always been and should always stay. We are losing more and more places like this to make way for ridiculous developments that arent needed. Dont let this amazing place
Miss Danielle Tobit	12-MAR-13	become another statistic of what used to be!
Mr jason pyke	12-MAR-13	Intrepid Fox pub is an integral part of the nightlife in this area. Too many of the famous clubs, pubs and music venues in this area of London have already disappeared. Strangely for a nation so steeped in traditional values, there is an overwhelming need to demolish anything that gets in its way. The Intrepid Fox is a popular nightspot for a whole variety of people and should be preserved in its current location for the benefit of the area. If living space is favoured over our culture, we will soon have no
James Turley	12-MAR-13	need for either.
		London prides itself on its history and culture. The Intrepid Fox is both historical and cultural, offering somewhere for a niche market to go and enjoy themselves of an evening. Having been there on several occasions when I visit the capital, I can happily state that it's a unique venue and to replace it with office
Mr Iain R Purdie	12-MAR-13	buildings would be nothing short of a disgrace. I would like to raise my objection to the proposed redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox site as this is a landmark
Dr Megan A French UCL	12-MAR-13	establishment for the area. This is a wonderful place to meet up with friends and it is not fair
Mrs Ann-marie A.g Grant	12-MAR-13	to close it, please leave it. When i go to London which is at least once a month this is an
Mrs Andrea Claxton	12-MAR-13	amazing place to meet friends Please don't replace this beautiful pub with housing! It's a fun
Kelly Schonau	12-MAR-13	place to meet up with friends in a great location!

		The Intrepid Fox is a fantastic pub and a London institution (even in its newish location) which is world-famous. It would be a tragedy to lose it!
Mr Ian Westbrook	12-MAR-13
Mr William Preston	12-MAR-13	Please do not close The Intrepid Fox!!!! please don't do it, leave Intrepid Fox as it is, it is legendary bar and lots of people love it!
Ms Aleksandra Matvejeva	12-MAR-13
Mr Tyson Schenker	12-MAR-13	Objection.

The Intrepid Fox is like a second home to me, and is much loved by thousands of others... I am extremely unhappy about any decision that could be made to take away such an iconic and influential place.
The Intrepid Fox is unlike any other bar and music venue and is the one place i feel most at ease in a venue in London having wonderful friends who both work and are regulars there.

Miss Sheri SB Bicheno	12-MAR-13	Please do NOT demolish or close this place!!! :(
Miss Sarah L Adams	12-MAR-13	I strongly object to the demolition of The Intrepid Fox bar.

Really? Again? Can we keep some of London's musical heritage please, somehow? We don't want large venues or O2's what we want is small clubs with intimate environments for bands with minority appeal to play in a central location. Next we'll be losing the rehearsal rooms behind Demark street and turning Denmark street into a music shopping centre. You guys are money led philistines. I work in central st giles, another bland corporate development. The area here is one of the last tiny unspoilt areas of real London. Shame on you and you're homogenisation of our culture and heritage.

Mr clem f pavey	12-MAR-13
Mr Chris Wheeler	12-MAR-13	Outrageous that the pub should be demolished Hi,

I work just a few minutes away.Me and a lot of my work mates socialise here. It's a great place to relax after work. I will be really upset if it is taken down so it can be turned into flats! Please think about the locals.

Sally S Lee	12-MAR-13	Kind regards, Sally
-------------	-----------	------------------------

		I strongly object to this bar (The Intrepid Fox) being turned into housing. Licensed premises are closing at an unprecedented rate all over this country and there is no reason to close yet another one to turn it into housing, especially one which is as popular and well used amongst Londoners and visitors & tourists alike. I especially object as having already moved from Soho The Intrepid Fox has fought hard to rebuild the customer basis and should not have to do so once more. Already The Astoria has been removed, which was very popular and the area should not lose yet another popular venue, not to mention that the closure would mean yet more jobs lost in a time where they
Miss Abigail L Goodwin	12-MAR-13	are already scarce.
Mr Daniel McAuley	12-MAR-13	This pub is amazing and a great place for metalheads to socialise, and there isn't many places to do that left for us!
		The Intrepid Fox is famous nationally, and attracts a large crowd from all over the UK, encouraging social interaction, economic growth and tourism. This place is great for the already culturally significant area, and for the people of the alternative community. I am sure, as a former resident, that there are countless other sites where the appropriate housing could be built that do not require the destruction of a landmark.
Ms Ellie Osborn	12-MAR-13	This bar CAN NOT!!!! Be closed down. It is truly unique and holds too many memories for people!! So many people go there and it's iconic to London. It's ridiculous!! Please do not close it
Miss Kelly-Marie K Cobner	12-MAR-13	down. OBJECTION!!
Mr Martin M Pretorius	12-MAR-13	That Place holds so many good memories! and is a big tourist attraction!!!!
Mr Narden Mooneapillay	12-MAR-13	I OBJECT to this!
		The intrepid fox is an amazing venue there is no other place like it London. It has a whole community around. To remove it would hurt many people and I think its disgusting that such amazing focal place in the Metal industry in London is giving way to some residential blocks. Its not just the venue I resent, this is an area of London that represents the london music scene, with Denmark street just across the road and endless pubs and jazz clubs. If we allow one part of our music industry what is going to other company's doing the same to other venues killing off and very vibrant part our city all for the sake of business. Certain parts of London are running dead as it, why kill it off even further.
Mr Thomas Rawlins	17-MAR-13	As someone who is proud of London I resent what certain business are doing to the lively life of our beautiful city.
Mr Tom T Wiggins	13-MAR-13	Where will all the people go out to if you build on all the pubs and clubs in the west end what are you playing at???? The news stories are telling us that businesses are failing and here is a thriving wee pub (and a brilliant one at that) and you want to knock it down??

Or does having a valid opinion worth taking on board constitute having a fortune to spend on a crap modern build house??? Hundreds walk through those doors every week from all over the world, it's a central hub for visiting bands and is well loved by locals and visitors alike. was knocking down the astoria not enough?

Miss stacey welsh	13-MAR-13	So yes, objection placed. Yet another project which will destroy another Camden Borough's characteristic and charismatic place!
		Why does London have to become a metropolis without character, alternative venues and all those things that make it so special??!!
Ms Ilona Jurgiel Lightpainter	13-MAR-13	Don't destroy the intrepid fox!
Mr Tom M Grindle	13-MAR-13	I object to this wholeheartedly. There is no need for retail and restaurants!
iain douglas	13-MAR-13	Don't close the intrepid fox!!!!
Jennifer O'Brien	13-MAR-13
		The Intrepid Fox is a world renowned historic pub, and has deep roots in the alternative music scene in London, making it a destination of choice of many thousands of rocker and metalhead visitors into London per year. Allowing this planning permission to go ahead would be detrimental to not only the people of this great city, but the visitors from surrounding areas, both close and far afield. With many establishments closing weekly due to lack of funds, to close an undeniably popular pub like the Fox would be a spit in the face of the people who have worked there tirelessly throughout the years, as well as the local, national and international visitors/regulars that the Fox welcomes.
Mr Adam J T McGuinness	14-MAR-13	Please do not go ahead with granting this planning permission. some places are iconic and just shouldn't be touched. Live music places are one of these places.... Yep, surely people need housing.... but maybe if the people who need housing had the opportunity to hear more music, their lives wouldn't be so miserable. Maybe do up 'the fox' and make it more accessible for everyone!!
Ms Jane Heaton-Harris	12-MAR-13

OBJECTION!

It is a great public house!

Its been opened for 222 YEARS!

That surely says something!

That would literally be like demolishing a castle that's been around for 300 years, to build flats on it.

How can that make any sense at all!

This is a vital piece of history. It has stood the tests of time! It would be ripping away a part of England's history! How is that fair?

Famous celebrities of metal, Rock n Roll, Goth and Punk have Hung out in there! Some with us still and some sadly are not with us.

A LOT of my Friends have spent time in that pub, They could have CHOSE to go elsewhere, but something drew them to go into The Intrepid Fox. This is the comments they have said and told me to write down.

'Well they've had a number of great bands there, The atmosphere is always fun and friendly and we've always had a great time. The bar staff are always friendly and attentive and it's always busy'

Another friend said this

Miss Emma Jane Corrigan 12-MAR-13 'The the way it's decorated is amazing and your eyes are immediately drawn to it, It has an inviting space'

Dear Sir or Madame,

I am highly against the plan of redeveloping the Centre Point and Intrepid Fox site. The Intrepid Fox has been a place of amusement and self-reflection for me since I moved to London in 2009. I have been spending 2-3 evenings every week since my relocation to London. I am not the only case. Every week I see the same faces and listen to my favorite music genre. It would be a shame if the Intrepid Fox had to close.

Regards,

Ms Laura Grzeszczak	12-MAR-13	Laura Grzeszczak
G White	12-MAR-13	Keep this venue alive
Mr Antonio Montero	12-MAR-13	I like a lot this place
Miss betty kedzior	12-MAR-13	NO FOR DEMOLITION OF INTERPID FOX !!!!!!!
Simon SLL Longe muscians	12-MAR-13	dont get rid of this fantastic venue
		The Fox also means a lot to a lot of people, and it is extremely
Mr William Toulman	12-MAR-13	culturally significant.
Miss Bianca Paule	12-MAR-13	Save the Fox!

		I'm aware there is currently a housing crisis in the city and we need as much affordable housing as we can. However the Intrepid Fox is one of the few places of its kind in London and I am pretty sure there are a lot of better and unused places in the Council remt which can be utilised for this purpose, without the loss of a bar which does mean a lot to people.
Mr Ali-John Mirsepassi	12-MAR-13	We often come to London and always visit this bar. It is nice to be somewhere that doesn't judge you by how you look. It is a amazing place and it would be a travesty to demolish it. The management and staff clearly love it and work so hard. SAVE THE INTREPID FOX!!!
Mrs Lynne Wood	12-MAR-13	This pub has been a massive part of my life for years. To get rid of it would be terrible. It is also a great tourist attraction for those who are lucky enough to find it.
Miss Hannah Powell	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is an iconic and historic public house which is now the beloved second home of much of London's alternative nightlife community. Turning it into flats would be a huge, hard blow for the community.
Mr Philip Kent	12-MAR-13	I object strongly to losing "The Intrepid Fox" The place is an institution and attracts music fans from the world over.,I know it has a great reputation for a live venue.Not only that its one of the most friendliest bars across UK. I don't know why you'd want to ruin such a unique landmark in London, its taking away the nitty gritty which Londoners and Tourist Love.
Mr Mark M Sears 81 World S	12-MAR-13	This venue is culturally significant.
		Please do not remove or effect the intrepid Fox. It is something for the community. It is a very important landmark to London. People come from all over the world just to be here. You will be taking away a very important landmark. Please reconcider and build elsewhere
Miss Emily Owusu	12-MAR-13
		The Intrepid Fox is, and has always been an a very integral part of the alternative scene in London. It is a community based meeting place for so many like-minded individuals and part of the nation's diverse cultural heritage, so for this reason, I am fully opposed to the re-development of The Intrepid Fox.
Mr DeeJay Armand	12-MAR-13	I suggest the developer offers a commuted sum to repair and regenerate other derelict and run down houses in this borough rather than building additional afforrdable housing on this site. This property and facility is of local interest and should not be lost. There is no need to supply affordable housing on this site, the provision can be supplied off site.
Miss Laura Cant	12-MAR-13	This is an iconic establishment and part of the cultural and musical history of the UK. Please let The Intrepid Fox stay where it is
Ms Joanne Blair	12-MAR-13	support intrepid fox !
gwendoline gc clady	12-MAR-13

Mr Malcolm Callus	12-MAR-13	Do not stop rock music!          We need more of it &amp; music in general.          People who want silence should not live in a city, but in its suburbs!          Although I understand the need for housing, the intrepid fox is the most important venue for culture. It isn't just some pub - if it was then you can take any weatherspoons instead. That area has lost the Astoria - you cannot take another one. People flock from all over the world to see the Cro Bar, Intrepid Fox and denmark street. If you take it away, you take culture away from not just the area - but the whole of london. There is no other venues or areas like this anymore.
Miss Corinna Kearney	12-MAR-13	we want the inrepid fox to stay there laura lf ferraiolo	12-MAR-13	One of the few places for friends and music lovers to meet.
Lianne Sparkes	12-MAR-13	Please do not close this down. This building is more than just a pub. The area has been blighted by new building, and it's bad enough that the Astoria was bulldozed. History, character and local people are nothing to the tourists and high-end residents that are replacing them in terms of priority.
Miss Joanne Blower	12-MAR-13	The intrepid fox is a landmark london venue and has character and history surpassing many newer venues. it is the first port of call for many londoners and visitors alike. the area will lose a lot of its character if the fox is lost.
Mr marc mcgill	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is one of a kind and caters to a group of people that other conventional establishments do not.
Marc Brown	12-MAR-13
Mr Tommy Mitchell	12-MAR-13	Object to the closing of this venues as it is one of the last rock venues left within the west end, and is a great social gathering place, where you are guarenteed to have fun without any kind of trouble that you would normally see within the west end
Miss rebecca R.D davenport	13-MAR-13	DO NOT DEMOLISH THE INTREPID FOX!!!!!!
Miss rebecca R.D davenport	13-MAR-13	do not demolish the intrepid fox! This is a legendary pub which offers something many others bars cannot. Losing this much loved pub would cause huge outrage to many people and I beg that you reconsider plans to close down this establishment.
Miss Maya Matsunaga	13-MAR-13	Do not close the place
Iwona Ib Banach	13-MAR-13	No way!!!
Mr Rafal RSz Szmigielski	13-MAR-13	This is a much loved piece of history I do not wish to see torn down like so many others including The Astoria.
Mr James P Bartlett	13-MAR-13	I strongly object to any further shortsighted development at the expense of the Soho/Tottenham Court Road Area
Mr Jon P Jennings	13-MAR-13	Don't lose another London Landmark.
Mr John Chappell	12-MAR-13	Objection. This is a landmark
Ms Claudine S Bowen-Davie	12-MAR-13

I don't want to see the destruction of a symbol of culture and community for the sake of yet another soulless block of apartments.

Peter Miller	12-MAR-13	Development of the Intrepid Fox should not be part of this proposal.
		"Affordable Housing" to replace the Intrepid Fox - what a joke! As if any housing built here would be affordable unless you are the queen!
Mrs Sarah Stewart	14-MAR-13	London is fast becoming a boring place to go out. The Intrepid Fox attracts visitors and locals because of its uniqueness and individuality. Stop the sterilisation of London and its bars! This is a much loved, established and appreciated venue and music service site by its regular and occasional visitors and it will be a shame if it were to close.
Miss Fatma Osman	13-MAR-13	Please keep it open. Please find alternative locations for new housing. Thank you.
Miss Kirsi Gran	14-MAR-13	No way. Oppos.
Mr Daniel Rios Navarro	18-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a legendary pub and should not disappear!
Mr Andrew Patrick Neldrett	12-MAR-13	I object to the closure of one of the only rock culture sites left in the city of London.
Mr Simon L Lane	12-MAR-13	The Fox is one if the few remaining places for metal heads in London. To lose it would be a huge loss to metal heads as a community, and a large community they are. I've personally spent man a great hour there, and intend to do so in the future! I would like to complain and raise an OBJECTION against Demolishing The Intrepid Fox bar at 15 St Giles High Street WC2H 8LN London, United Kingdom  This place is related to long tradition of Metal, Rock and Punk culture. It is a place of meeting connected with celebration of this music genres and unique place showing the spirit of London - divers, free , creative!  Intrepid fox is a place ,which has to stay ,as manifesto of all goods of this city !
Miss Magdalena Andrzejewski	12-MAR-13	OBJECTION!!
Ms Melissa Williams	12-MAR-13	SAVE THE FOX
Mr James a Yates	12-MAR-13

		This venue is an attraction to so many of us. Intrepid Fox is an worldwide famous institution and every time we spend some friends visit time in London we are there! Can't believe it. That will change the face of London like it happens on so many places in Berlin! The intrepid fox is an integral part of the community that brings together people with a love of music. This cannot be thrown away, please!
bjoern sanden	12-MAR-13
Mr Ben Melchior	12-MAR-13
Miss Olaya González	12-MAR-13	OBJECTION The establishment at this address should not be demolished to make way for newer developments for a number of reasons, but more personally because it is felt by many as a true place of genre definition. The Intrepid Fox is known on a global scale to be a place of true "rock and roll pedigree", frequented by locals, nationals and internationals who specifically choose to journey and visit one of the last remaining icons of the Soho and Central London area for those of a more "alternative" lifestyle. I urge you to reconsider this application and not allow the demolition of a place loved by so many. Do not close the intrepid fox! one of the only good metal bars around!
Mr Dominic P Winchester	12-MAR-13
Mr david lord	12-MAR-13
Mrs Elizabeth Martin	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox offers to a lot of people the chance to enjoy the time off in a place that we like, listening the music that we like, being with the people that we like and in a accesible place to everyone, as another pus cant offer. We cant lose these place. The Intrepid fox is a unique establishment. It should be listed, not destroyed.
Mr Andy Benson	12-MAR-13	Been going to this pub for thirty odd years. To knock it down fir retail space would destroy the character of the area and represent another step towards corporate monoculture. This proposal is, in short, unacceptable.
Alastair A Gordon	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox rock bar is one of the attractions for many people visiting London. We need more souless buildings like a hole in the head. Keep Londons traditional for music alive.
Mr bruce moxham	12-MAR-13	I object to this request. The Intrepid Fox is the last bastion of hard rock and heavy metal bars in central London. Already it has survived one move of premises due to redevelopment. Another would surely kill it altogether. Its current location at the end of Denmark Street helps to define the area as one celebrating London's rich musical heritage. The need and rampant desire to build, redevelop and commercialise must surely be tempered with a wish to preserve one of the last and most important meeting points for rock musicians and fans in Central London.
Mr Jamie Stungo	12-MAR-13	You can't destroy culture, you've taken away so many great places not this one too
Miss Felicity Curson	12-MAR-13	Please don't agree this planning application. It's bad enough that everywhere else is/has been overhauled to make way for more housing
Ms Ema JC Langley	12-MAR-13

Mr Euan Hamilton	13-MAR-13	Great bar, and much loved. There are hardly any bars like The Intrepid Fox in London anymore, it would be a huge shame to see it go.
Mrs Louisa E O'Shaughnessy	13-MAR-13	Please don't build on the Intrepid Fox - it is an important part of the Goth community!
Miss Alison Brown	13-MAR-13	There is no need for more offices and residencies on the location of the Intrepid Fox pub. This pub serves a huge part of the community not welcome in other more 'normal' places. The essence of London is diversity and the West End needs places like the Intrepid Fox to keep it interesting. Don't ruin yet another alternative venue that not only serves the alternative and inspiring crowd at the Intrepid Fox but also attracts tourists from all over the world. This venue is world famous in music circles. Please do not grant this application from yet another commercial company set on making profit.
Mr Adam Bourne	13-MAR-13	My favourite bar in London. Build your housing in Wembley instead, that place needs renovating.
Ms Deborah Dade	13-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox Pub should not be demolished.
Mrs Nicola N Elgar	13-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox venue/public house is one of the few remaining alternative drinking establishments in London/the UK. The marginalisation of this genre of music and the people into it means that this is in fact discrimination, with more and more venues shutting. Every time I have visited the Intrepid Fox, it has been packed to the rafters with a broad range of people all having an amazing time. Everyone is always so inclusive, which is very rare in other types of establishments - no one cares whether you have come straight from work in a suit, or are flamboyant and dressed for a crazy night out. PLEASE don't shut this place down! It's already had to move once before. Stop discriminating against alternative people and protect this fantastic establishment!!!
Mr James Howard	12-MAR-13	This will be the second time this historic and cultural music venue will have pressure put on it to be moved. Affordable housing in this part of London? Don't be fooled, look somewhere else. People from all around the world come and visit this bar when in London. Would be a great loss with very little gained. The Intrepid Fox is one of the last of its kind in London, adding the flair of a music and cultural scene to an otherwise more and more sterile generic concrete block in Central London. It'd be a shame if it were to be torn down, especially within a borough known for its diverse culture like Camden. The Fox is an important part of London's culture. It's essential that it's allowed to stay open.
Mr Achim Regendoerp	12-MAR-13
Mr James Barry	12-MAR-13

		As a fairly frequent use of this drinking establishment, that as far as i know has never had any trouble with rowdy revelers, or high levels of drink related crime associated with it, I can see why this should be shut down, when I dare say there are other pubs within the Borough of Camden with &quot;seedier&quot; reputations that are allowed to stay open.
Mr Alexander Ray	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox should stay!
		I object to this proposal, The Intrepid Fox is one of the best rock pubs in London and it would be a travesty to turn it into housing.
Miss Kim Farmer	12-MAR-13
stephen cribb	12-MAR-13	no
		The Intrepid Fox is is a meeting place for a greatly eclectic mix of people from all walks of life and also from many different countries. It brings a diverse cross section of people together in a very friendly atmosphere. It would be a terrible loss to the area to replace this characterful pub with yet another grey towerblock Affordable housing provision? Really? In Central London!!!! This is a ludicrous proposal. There are hundreds of restaurants and retail outlets within sneezing distance of Centre Point. A general spruce up would be fabulous, as would an extension on to the Intrepid Fox II but not a full-on redevelopment of that whole site (Centre Point House - Intrepid Fox area).
Mr Jonny Maxey	12-MAR-13
		If anything, Intrepid Fox has already been lost from the map once before. The original public house was steeped in history of well over 100 years old, an unbelievable heritage, beautifully stunning architecture and an absolute wealth of history within and you should be ashamed of yourselves for letting it go to the wolves.
		Thankfully the Intrepid Fox found the site right by Centre Point to set up again, but it is not the same as it lacks character and lets face it, is too small, but we love it.
		Let's not stamp out the thriving alternative scene and make the centre of London so clinically insipid!
		What London needs is a healthy dose of inclusion for us alternative types. London is all about vigor, culture, sub-culture,
Miss Yasmin Ryan	14-MAR-13
Sarah Bloch	14-MAR-13	The up on this site is a community hub.
Mr Robert Dix	14-MAR-13	Save the Intrepid Fox!!
Miss faith c Perez	12-MAR-13	Do not shut down intrepid fox!
		The Intrepid Fox is pub long standing social gathering place for sub culture namely Goths and Metal in an area where there is little for them to go.
Patrick N Reed	12-MAR-13

Mr Phil LJL Andrews	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox has been a longstanding culturally rich institution in London and its use should be preserved as a similar establishment adding to the rich folklore of Oxford Street and the surrounding area. This is not an appropriate area for a housing development - and will simply erode this particular area of the LB Camden. I am a former Resident, now living elsewhere but keen to see the Intrepid Fox, or a new incarnation of a similar institution on this site.
OLIVER CONWAY The Ro	12-MAR-13	I believe another set of faceless and expensive flats is not a worthy adage to the Inner city landscape, the intrepid fox is both a unique cultural hub and another aspect of London's fascinating music scene. In terms of tourism a block of apartments will not match the wonderful night outs the intrepid fox offers and safe and friendly atmosphere at the bar. Save Interesting London and do not succumb to the bland cityscape. Is there not enough office spaces and apartments in london and useless coffee shops are in there thousands..... DO NOT take away one of the only places left with personality that attracts people, tourist from allover the world when visiting London ..... I love this place
Ms Penney PS Sambridge	12-MAR-13	We are always losing music venues/decent pubs - Intrepid Fox is a landmark, a tourist attraction as well as an amazing place to meet. Central London already has enough sandwich shops/cafes, etc and there are plenty of other ways of incorporating 'affordable' housing. And I seriously doubt any housing built in that particular area will actually be 'affordable' !! The Intrepid Fox is a renowned venue that is visited by rock and metal fans from all over the country. It is one of the few places in London that caters for this taste in small venue live and DJ music and would be sadly missed if demolished. Please don't take away a popular venue for a genre of music, style and character that is sadly under represented. The demise of the Intrepid Fox would be a sad loss and attraction for London's night life especially where being replaced by unaffordable housing in an already built up area.
Mr Gareth James	12-MAR-13	I think its a shame that London wants to take away all its amazing, unique places and make the whole city look the same....shame on you!
Miss Vanessa V ward	12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox has been a favorite bar of mine since hitting London.

It offers the big smoke something different for locals and tourist. Its has a quirky style and give people of different interest the chance to go somewhere different, than your average bars when visiting London, not only that its one of the most friendliest bars across UK.

Its always fun and exciting to go there and show other friends from all over the world and is also a safe place to take them to as unlike other bars in London this one actually feels friendly, no matter what you look like.

I don't know why you'd want to ruin such a unique landmark in London, its taking away the nitty gritty which we Londoners and Tourist Love.

I sincerely hope this doesn't go ahead and you leave The Intrepid Fox as it should be.

Ms Nicola Werner
Miss Caroline Miskell

12-MAR-13 Kindest Regards
12-MAR-13 I object to this application.

No objection to the re-development of the unused buildings in the area and it would be great to ensure the buildings in the area are used better, but the intrepid fox is a London icon and a busy, highly sucessful pub that actively brings business and people to the area. It just doesn't make sense to bulldoze it. Apart from this, the area is not very appropriate for housing, let alone affordable housing, which i assume would be for families - a) how could it possibly be 'affordable' in that area of town in amongst all the new office blocks and west end shops, there is minimal other residential property, especially family accommodation in the area, surely for a reason - it's been priced out, b) it's not a practical area for family life with the high noise and disruption levels of traffic and people coming and going at all times of day and night. Any housing built here would surely be quickly sublet at a profit to business people, tourists or young single people, and there is hardly a need for more of this type of housing as it seems to be available all over the borough. I do agr

Penny Akester
Ms Emma Daniels

12-MAR-13
12-MAR-13 None

		Music fans worldwide travel to London to support the local economy by visiting iconic rock music bars, clubs and venues, half of which have already closed down due to "development". In the interest of not turning London into a collection of over-expensive glass facades displaying sterile corporate hospitality and upmarket developments and instead keeping London as a living breathing entity, I'm signing an OBJECTION. Additionally, creating "affordable" housing by Tottenham Court Road does not seem a realistic prospect, sorry to say. London is not a great city because of expensive planning developments, it is a great city because of its culture, art and history. Point made.
Mr Markus Pesonen	12-MAR-13	Please do not allow The Intrepid Fox to close. It is a fundamental gathering point for like-minded people in our city's capitol. The Fox is a key attraction to London; I know several people who travel to the city just to see The Fox.
Mr Lucas Chapel DJ	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox music venue is a Northern muso-cultural landmark. Generations of musicians have graced its stage and I'm lucky enough to have been one of them. I believe that to take away the Fox would be to rob the grass-root music industry of a rite of passage.
Mr Simon D Heaven self emc	12-MAR-13	Many thanks, SDH.
Miss kat iles	12-MAR-13	This place needs to stay, there aren't enough alternative pubs/live rock music venues as it is, so leave it be, we rockers need to go somewhere!
		The Intrepid Fox cannot be demolished! Too many Venues are being taken away, we can't let another one go, especially one that's opposite Denmark street which itself is a home Music in central London.
Mr Kieron Fensome-Deane	12-MAR-13	I'd like to be informed of the committee date.
Miss Joanna M Hinson	12-MAR-13	On the understanding that the Intrepid Fox is a busy and viable business which helps to both draw people into the area and offer a service to the existing community, removing such a place for housing will provide abodes (which will NOT be affordable and will be bought up by private landlords and rented extortionately) BUT will remove all community before residents arrive. One of the very few reasons I pay the extortionate train fares to come into London anymore. It seems like all the decent alternative places have been/are being demolished to make way for homogenized buildings that are slowly turning the great city of London into someplace where I'd rather not spend my time or money anymore.
Mr Wesley Grant	12-MAR-13	WHOLEHEARTEDLY OBJECT!

		This is outrageous! As a long standing metal fan and a publican of the Intrepid Fox it has become almost an institution for people to meet others with the same interests. It would a great shame and a hole in society to remove such an iconic establishment!
Miss Natalie McPher	12-MAR-13
Miss June Hartwell	12-MAR-13	.
Miss Genovaite Rozenaite	12-MAR-13	STOP 'THE INTREPID FOX' PUB TURNING INTO A HOUSES DON'T close the intrepid FOX, This is a well established bar in the centre of London, there is no need to close it for housing, people are not going to want to see this bar close. Stop the greed of developers over the needs of local people.
Mr Nathan Hayles	12-MAR-13
Miss Amy Lou Womack	13-MAR-13	Don't close down the intrepid fox!
Mr Matthew Hollars	13-MAR-13	I love the place. Simple enough. Th Intrepid Fox site is unsuitable for affordable housing provision, it is a culturally significant place for many people and should remain what it is.
Anna Plyushteva	14-MAR-13	NOOO!! Coolest bar in London. Best music and everything!
Miss Nat Abrahamsson	14-MAR-13	OBJECTION!!!!
		I do object to the Intrepid Fox site being redeveloped, it is a very important part of the rock music scene in London, and offers up and coming band a unique opportunity to reach potential fans.
Ms Mari Hansen	14-MAR-13	Due to the music profile of the Intrepid Fox exposure here is likely to be more important than at other venues. I object redeveloping the Intrepid Fox site to housing. The Intrepid Fox is a London rock n roll institution and a second home for hundreds of rock/metal fans living in London. Closing it would be a massive blow to the rock music community and remove one of the most unique venues loved by many from the area.
Mr Kalle Kokkonen	14-MAR-13
Mr Julian P Jenkins	14-MAR-13	I strongly oppose this i oppose this as the area is losing its soul with every pub,club and shop that gets closed or converted
Mr Gary Wood	14-MAR-13	One of very few remaining places where people can get to see live music for free.
Vince Atkinson	14-MAR-13	I think this is a great rock pub and icon in the london area and it would be a travesty to replace it with housing. As well as proving detrimental to the look of the area, the planned development is a threat to one of the last remaining social centers for both the local and wider alternative community.
Miss Anneka Hess	14-MAR-13
Debora Aoni	12-MAR-13	Objection.

		This is a pub that people come from all over the world to visit, and is far more valuable to the economy in the long term under it's present usage than as yet more over priced housing that locals cannot afford. Bear in mind that this business was forced out of it's original historic venue several years ago and it probably would not survive another move. Is there no will amongst the authorities to protect London's recent cultural history? The Fox has seen many famous faces and fostered many world-changing inspirations in the Rock scene since the 1960's. It should not be forced under for the sake of a short- term profit! This area has already lost historic and iconic music venues such as Mean Fiddler and the Astoria in the last 5 years. It's time to move somewhere else, and stop picking on the alternative music scene all the time while you're at it!!
Mr Stephen Dixon	12-MAR-13	I never come to London without coming here and it is so sad that this is even being considered.
Mr Matt Fabi	12-MAR-13	There is ENOUGH housing in London and there are plenty of other areas available so develop them instead. Show some respect and have some pride in maintaining an integral part of London's alternative music culture.
Ms Liana Babin	12-MAR-13	I greatly object to this! The Intrepid Fox is an institution! It has great history. How dare you turn it into flats or office space!
Lauren Meads	12-MAR-13	The Fox is one of the last decent alternative venues in Central London and attracts visitors from the world over. It is a unique place and shouldn't be confined to history books like so many other amazing London venues have been in the recent past. Just around the corner from the Fox is the hole in the ground where the Astoria used to be. Destroyed for the sake of another Tube Station. Because London seriously doesn't have enough of those already. Given its location (close proximity to Oxford Street / Tottenham Court Road / Covent Garden) the idea that it will be replaced with 'affordable' housing is laughable. If you're going to attempt to destroy something that many people hold dear to them, at least be honest while you do it. The redevelopment of this block would remove one of London's key pubs for rock music - a venue with history and nostalgia for many people.
		London has become awash with overpriced cocktail bars and to tear down the Interpid Fox would be a great loss.
Mr Phil A Hobbs	12-MAR-13	Phil
Marina Gonzalez	12-MAR-13	Objection
Mr David D Boland	12-MAR-13	one of last remaining pubs of this gendre,an Iconic location should not be lost.

Aine Brewer	12-MAR-13	Do not close the Intrepid Fox! It is loved by many and it is a great pub! I would be gutted. DO NOT LET THIS HAPPEN as it,s good place to live band's we should be keeping music alive
Mr shaun ashley-walters	12-MAR-13
Vicky Fyson	12-MAR-13	This is an awesome bar, don't let it be pulled down! The Intrepid fox which is located there is a great place to go out and the location is very good and central. Please don't turn this into flats!
Veronika Schmidt	12-MAR-13	The loss of the intrepid fox would not only be a great blow to its customers in itself, but would also negatively effect nearby businesses that serve similar audiences. Which would be less inclined to travel to the area.
Mr Thomas Heaven	12-MAR-13	The INTrepid FOx is a cultural centre of considerable importance, with a long and honourable history. It would be a shame for it to vanish into another unwatned office development.
Ms Hilary kear	12-MAR-13
Mr Gavin White	12-MAR-13	Opposed to closing The Intrepid Fox The character of Central London and the West End is dying a slow and intolerable death.. turning into a myopic soup of tordid mediocrity.
		This bar is one of the few landmarks that exists that really makes the West End stand out, and closing it to house a few rich people that would spend a fraction of the year actually IN the property would be nothing short of a crime.
Mr Matthew Ward	12-MAR-13
		Nat many rock places in central london...and Intrepid Fox is one big one. Always when someone comes to visit me is THE place to take that is not in North London
Ms Anelise Couto	12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox is a crucial, essential and unique part of London's diverse cultural scene and so must be saved.

It is one of the few venues for heavy and alternative music fans in London, and as such provides a rare spiritual home for a large number of rock and metal music fans on a regular basis. As such, removing the pub would have a significant negative impact on London's music scene.

London is a big cultural centre for rock, metal and alternative music, since British bands have often pioneered in these genres. The Intrepid Fox, as one of the few dedicated pubs in the country, plays a huge part in London's identity in this scene. The central London location acts as a focal point for this London music scene.

It is therefore essential to preserve this pub, as it has a significant positive impact on London's cultural landscape. The city would be significantly poorer without it - there would be a detrimental impact on an area of British culture where we have a world leading impact.

Mr Jeremy Wilkinson Sony	12-MAR-13	The large number of music fans, who feel uncomfortable in the
Peter McDonald	13-MAR-13	Do not knock down this iconic pub How about turn Centre Point into affordable housing, don't build any more shops and restaurants...there are plenty already there and leave The Intrepid Fox alone?  There was supposed to be a replacement for The Astoria, which never happened, and now you want to take another live music venue away. The Fox is a tourist attraction, it holds great music events for less well-known bands and it's always on my visit list when in London.
Miss Hellen Russell	13-MAR-13
		The Intrepid Fox is an iconic cornerstone in London's alternative culture: one enjoyed by both local and widespread party-goers alike. Not only a cult institution and tourism goldmine, it has hosted gigs and parties in its own right, embraced those who would not have been welcomed elsewhere and, in both incarnations, been a staple in Soho's more interesting nightlife for as long as anyone can remember. With past guests including Lemmy, among others, the closure yet again of the Fox will not only completely imperialise the capital with the mundane and commonplace entertainment that currently dominates it, but will cement a travesty to a crucial social niche. To put such a unique and colourful place to death would be to the irrevocable detriment of London's individuality, vibrancy and character as a
Miss Rhiannon R Marley	16-MAR-13	city.
Mr Josh R Mitchell	16-MAR-13	Don't get rid of the Intrepid Fox

		Why put up a Residential property at this location, surely there are better areas to do this on. The Fox is one of the only True Original Establishments of its kind left in London for the Genre of Rock and Metal, destroying it would not only destroy a landmark but also a popular tourist destination.
Mr Michael M B Bischoff	N/A 12-MAR-13
Mr Lonnie Locascio	USAFE 12-MAR-13	please save the fox!
		This country has a very severe lack of alternative pubs and The Intrepid Fox is up there with the best of them. Please don't allow this fantastic and unique pub to be turned into yet more housing. There are hundreds of Wetherspoons pubs that have no character, no atmosphere, no loyal customers... if you must destroy anywhere, why not one of those?! Support individuality and a truly different experience from the usual boozer!!
Miss Clarissa McCann	12-MAR-13	This is an Heritage site. Its part of our culture, part of our lives, should be grade 1 listed as a Public House always to be named The Intrepid Fox. Not closed down and turned into flats that none of the folk who might actually appreciate them can afford. Stop this NOW, save our cultural Heritage.
Mr Andy C Davis	The Daemc 12-MAR-13	The 'Intrepid Fox' needs to stay! Too many Rock bars/ Rock venues have been closed down. No more!!
Mrs Donna M Anderson	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a recognised, extremely popular and long-standing entertainment venue. It has already been forced to move once before and suffered a s result.
		To remove it from its central location would hugely limit the number of alternative venues for music and camaraderie. The addition of housing would simply strip away a large number of customer and tourists to the immediate area.
Mr Matthew Sibley	12-MAR-13	stop closing music venues what do you expect people to do to paula ryan	12-MAR-13	relieve stress
Ms Eva Farkasne Keller	12-MAR-13	Stop doing it, there are not too many iconic venues left in London. Don't ruin it.
		I object to this proposal. The Intrepid Fox is a stunning old pub with a still vibrant scene. Buildings like this should be preserved not demolished to put, in it's place a new set of buildings that'll no doubt, also come back down again in a few decades, when fashions change. There are empty properties all over London,
Nicole Eddy-Evans	12-MAR-13	make good use of them.
		There is no need for affordable housing on the site of the intrepid fox. this is a prime location in the centre of London. This venue serves an minority community and is a great place.
Mr richard woolliss	12-MAR-13	Do not remove one of the few pubs / bars in London with any character left for another block of soulless flats!
Mr Jamie A Giberti	12-MAR-13	Stop destroying live music.
Mr Gavin J Morton	12-MAR-13	Fox hunting is illegal, please leave this special urban fox alone
Mr Norman J Cesar	12-MAR-13	:)
		I fully support this application
Lucy Steppington	12-MAR-13

		This pub is an institution and it would be really sad to see it run down for housing. The area needs and can support as many pubs as it currently has. Traditional pubs such as this should be saved.
Miss Clare Downie	12-MAR-13
Mr James Terrill FRANTIC A	12-MAR-13	Objection
Steve S Lathwell	12-MAR-13	Underground/unsigned bands and musicians find it hard to make a break. Why take away yet another of our venues? The redevelopment of The Intrepid Fox would be a huge loss to London's famous rock scene. Known worldwide as one of the greatest and authentic alternative rock bars, to turn it into housing would be a crime, and remove with it an important part of England's musical history.
Miss Cayleigh Shepherd	12-MAR-13	NO! I object completely. The Intrepid Fox is an important venue and to consider putting in 'affordable' housing in the middle of town is wrong.
Deborah Cochrane	12-MAR-13	DO NOT Close the Intrepid Fox- Friends and memories are housed there for people across the globe. It would be a travesty if it was to go. You've already taken the Astoria, please don't take the Intrepid Fox too!
Mrs Laura Howard	12-MAR-13	It's a fantastic bar with lots of character and provides a place for alternative and rocker types to hang out and it must not be closed.
Mr Alex Mitchell-Fox	12-MAR-13
		Soho has lost too many music venues from an area of London that was once the heart of global music. Does this part of the Capital really need more housing? Surely there are enough neglected buildings that could and should be renovated before demolishing existing properties! What Soho needs is a retainment of character not a way for a property developer to make money at the expense of history and traditions.
Jeff Gilbert	12-MAR-13	Yours, Jeff Gilbert
Miss Katie Owens	12-MAR-13	There must be a way of achieving this without ruining an iconic and much loved London venue?? Find somewhere else!
Mr Av Myers	12-MAR-13	This is a terrible idea, the bar is fantastic a niche that motivates me to leave the house, there's nothing better
James Stittle	13-MAR-13	Is every council in London on a mission to destroy any character that remains. And a desire to replace it with more soulless chain stores. Developers are killing London bit by bit.
		The Intrepid Fox is a hub for alternative London culture, and by destroying it the council will be showing true disregard for diversity of culture in Central London. The pub is trouble free and is a character filled spot enjoyed by locals and tourists - all fans of rock music and culture. The pub regularly hosts live music and is one of the increasingly few venues in central London for artists to play in. Please do not approve demolition of this important cultural icon in London.
Mr Andy Fairclough	12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox is an integral part of the alternative music scene in London and one of the few establishments of its type remaining.

It's closure will result in the continued erosion of the Capital's culture and history.

The original Intrepid Fox (Soho) was closed down under the guise of a new residential development -
It's now a burger chain

Am praying corporate greed will not force the closure of this London institution for the second time

Mr Matthew T Brewer

13-MAR-13

Dear Sir or Madam

The Intrepid Fox Bar has been for a long time an portant focal point for many people: artists, singers, musicians, creative people, locals, tourists... the list is rather long, but all contributed to the bar's financial success and that of the surrounding shops and restaurants.
Shutting down this bar will not only kill off an important cultural hub of London but will drain the businesses around Centre Point and New Oxford Street.

Please think well if you would like to let this happen.

Kind regards,

Haldun M.

Mr Haldun H Musazlioglu

13-MAR-13

I object to the redevelopment of the intrepid fox, this is a unique and much loved establishment that provides character to this part of London and would be sorely missed. I also fail to see how this location is suitable for housing.

Mr Peter Ford

13-MAR-13

If this bar is demolished it will be an absolute joke to the historic musical culture of London and Great Britain herself. The Intrepid Fox is one of the few remaining public houses dedicated to a thriving musical genre that is absolutely a niche in the market attracting people from across the world to its doors. Proof enough of this is to simply try stepping foot inside on a Saturday evening swarmed with both locals and newcomers.

Ms Jasmine A Jones

13-MAR-13

Please keep our well loved pub. There aren't many places which still keep Metal alive. This pub is on of the best.

Miss Laura E Ralph

12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox is the central hub for the rock and metal music community. To take this away would be another nail in the coffin for the alternative scene. Go and build on an R&B night

Mr Richie Symons

12-MAR-13

club or something, leave us alone

Miss Charlotte Hall

12-MAR-13

I heard a lot of great things about this place, and it would be a shame to see it be lost. I'd hoped to visit one day!

Mr marcus j gordon BDAS	12-MAR-13	the fox is apart of central london a one of very few places aimed for the alternative sub culture that feels marginalised more and more, day by day. don't remove this pub, and build somewhere more suitable further out of central london Objection!!! Please do not remove or effect the intrepid Fox building. It is something for the community. It is a very important landmark to London. People come from all over the world just to be here. You will be taking away a very important landmark. Please
Miss Joanna Krause	12-MAR-13	reconsider and build elsewhere I object to this plan as it would mean the closure of The Intrepid Fox, one of London's best alternative music bars (of which there are very few!). In fact it is only a few years since the Intrepid Fox had to relocate from its original location, due to the same plans....development into flats. London councils do not seem to care about its rock music scene nor does it protect it musical history...
Miss Pauline Wilson	12-MAR-13
Ms carol nelson	12-MAR-13	Objection The Intrepid Fox which would be lost with this development is an integral part of a strong alternative community in London. It's busy, draws tourists as well as regulars and is a lively bustling bar with plenty of custom. Please don't uproot the Fox for
Miss Helen Moyes	12-MAR-13	houses.. I object the redevelopment of this building, the Intrepid Fox is a popular alternative pub and closing it would be devastating for
Ms Mandy M Langel	12-MAR-13	many people.
Mr Robert Ablitt	12-MAR-13	I object to the closure of this venue!!
		You shouldn't be considering knocking it down for new property's, there is not enough places like this so why take away what little we have. I am fuming its my favourite pub which I have recently found and I would like to go again without it being knocked down. You've got enough though London do you really need this site? Don't do this again to this pub.
Mrs Vanessa Ceney	12-MAR-13
Mr David E Dyer	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is renowned not just within London but world wide within the rock/heavy metal sub culture need I say more
Miss Katerina Iacovides	12-MAR-13	I think the Intrepid Fox should be left as it is. Its is a well known venue and there are not many places like it in London.
Anna Di Laurenzio	12-MAR-13	Objection to the proposed planning development This is a really great venue for live music. I visited there last week to support the Tsunami relief fund with some great bands giving up their time to help the effort. I came all the way from Northampton to visit and I would not have otherwise done (visited the area) so had the Intrepid Fox not been there. A cultural fulcrum for the area and a historical meeting point -this
Mr Phil J Sheehan N/A	12-MAR-13	venue MUST be saved!
Miss Kara Buller	12-MAR-13	A well known London landmark. It would be a great loss to lose a building of such character within the city.

Mrs Anneka D Lundin	12-MAR-13	Objection
			This venue must not be allowed to be demolished , it is one of a dissapearing small intamate stage and proving ground for
Mr Keith Jones	13-MAR-13		unsigned and hard working musicians and bands to perform in.
			The Intrepid Fox is an important focal point for the rock community of London and, indeed, the UK. This has clearly been demonstrated in it's ever increasing success after being forced to move location in 2006. This is a community that seem to constantly get the short end of the stick with these planning applications, notably with the loss of the London Astoria venue and more recently with the constant threat to the Electric Ballroom. The area of Denmark Street has long been associated with musicians of London and as such the Intrepid Fox is now ideally located. The Intrepid Fox is central to our community.
Mr Jack McDougall Universi	12-MAR-13
Cassia T Clarke	12-MAR-13	Objection	I've been a patron of the intepid fox for 17 years, losing this iconic bar will not only damage london's reputation for being a multi cultural city, but will also take away one of the best havens for alternative music, and live nusic in the area. It will also prove to me beyond doubt the blatant disregard of the alternative scene by the council and the government. Please don't close yet
Mr James Hunt	12-MAR-13		another alternative music venue! Creating homes but destroying a community of thousands is in very poor taste. The intrepid fox is known world wide. To be threatened with destruction is disgraceful. Many people myself included rely on the Intrepid Fox to keep us going through life's tough times sharing a bond with like minded people is so important to my everyday life.
Mr Lindsay le Griffin	12-MAR-13		Please reconsider these proposals Please do not redevelop this unique and culturally important pub and music venue in an area that has already been decimated to make way for the TCR station upgrade. Let's hang on to what
Mr Michael Counsell	12-MAR-13		we have left! It shouldn't be knocked down it's an amazing pub that people have been going to and enjoying for years. Knocking it down
Miss Kirsty KA Arnesen	12-MAR-13		would be taking away a place that so many people love. I love the Intrepid Fox. It's one of the few decent rock venues in London. Please don't let london become bland. Tourism would be affected if you close down everywhere there is to go out. London is still one of the most cultural cities in the world, take
Miss Elizabeth J Hallworth	12-MAR-13		that away, what's left to visit?? If this bar is demolished it will be an absolute joke to the historic musical culture of London and Great Britain herself. The Intrepid Fox is one of the few remaining public houses dedicated to a thriving musical genre that is absolutely a niche in the market attracting people from across the world to its doors. Proof enough of this is to simply try stepping foot inside on a Saturday evening swarmed with both locals and
Mr Carl alsop	13-MAR-13		newcomers.

Miss pandora mather-lees	13-MAR-13	i love this old traditional pub - do not shut it down it is part of the metal community of denmark st
Mr Lance Curran	13-MAR-13	No need for more houseing! The Intrepid Fox is a beloved gathering place and should be preserved. There are many places to build housing; there is only one Intrepid Fox.
Mrs Sarah Pridgeon	13-MAR-13
Miss calie potts	13-MAR-13	This bar is amazing! Thousand of empty buildings all over the country and still in need to build more! Stop this madness and let the Fox stay where it is!!
Miss Laura Bortolini	13-MAR-13
		The Intrepid Fox is a popular and well-loved pub serving a niche audience and has already been driven out of its previous home. To do so again would be an indecent attack on a specific audience all of whom pay taxes, vote and contribute to the economy just like everyone else.
		Closing popular pubs to make way for this kind of speculative redevelopment is a surefire way to turn London from a vibrant and unique city into an identikit wasteland of phone shops and building sites, alienating both tourists and locals.
Mr Marcell Bolla	13-MAR-13
Sahar Vagan	12-MAR-13	I particularly object to the sale, and change of use, of the venue now occupied by The Intrepid Fox pub. The Intrepid Fox is a unique venue and provides a much-loved haven in an otherwise dense and very built-up area.
Ms Tanya Meditzky	12-MAR-13	I'm not even a fan of heavy-metal, but this place is special. Please don't destroy something so beautiful and iconic, loved by so many people!
Miss Naomi Warren	12-MAR-13
Miss Sian Edwards	12-MAR-13	Furious
Mrs Tracy STent	12-MAR-13	Object to this. Keep this pub going!!! i've visited the intrepid fox since my middle teens and it was always a highlight of a shopping visit to london i would hate to see it close.
Mr jason t durkin	12-MAR-13

"The Intrepid Fox" is a sub cultural iconic establishment that needs to be preserved.

It embodies acceptance and tolerance , which is needed as it is becoming a rarity in modern times.

The establishment unifies those who are traditionally demonised by society because of the way they dress and for their musical preferences.

The borough would benefit more from this sense of camaraderie and kinsman-ship far more than affordable housing ever could.

The spirit of "The Intrepid Fox" is about a haven and a celebration of a lifestyle which encourages the individual to be proud of who they are and not what popular society wants them to be.

Mr Jimmy Cheng Jimbofilms 12-MAR-13

This is the best Rock & Metal bar in London. To lose it AGAIN would be a disgrace. The biggest attraction of this area of London is it's diversity and individuality. To lose the fine establishment that is Intrepid Fox would be to drive another nail into the coffin of the capital's own lovely character.

Mr Jason Bott

12-MAR-13

No to planning permission! Stop killing our lives, we do not live to work, although if it were up to Government we would. One life, live it!

Mr simon ellis

13-MAR-13

THE ENTREPID FOX IS A WONDERFUL BAR WITH WONDERFUL PEOPLE WHO RUN THE PLACE WHERE THE WIERD AND AMAZING VARIETIE OF ALTERNATIVE PEOPLE CAN MEET FOR A GREAT TIME FOR DRINKS AND GREAT MUSIC

CONVERTING THIS ESTABLISHMENT INTO FLATS ,WOULD BE A CRIME

THERE ARE SO FEW PLACES LEFT IN LONDON

IT HAPPEND TO THE FIRST FOX DONT LET IT HAPPEN TO THIS ONE

MARK MME ELLIOTT WINE 13-MAR-13

I would like to object to turning Centre Point in to residential housing.

Mr Johan Eriksson

13-MAR-13

This pub should not be forced to close as so many have over the lat few years. Well published figures show a public house a week has closed since the introduction of the smoking ban. If you cant get enough residential property's out of center point and not enough floor space in the lower levels for commercial properties don't destroy another landmark Public house which itself is a tourist attraction.

Mr a a nonymus
inigo zapirain

13-MAR-13

13-MAR-13

do not close the intrepid fox please

Please save the Intrepid Fox! It's an unique - a real London place!

Hannu Kalliolahti

13-MAR-13

Mr Christopher CM Moore

13-MAR-13

I object because its a great bar.

Mr daniel king

13-MAR-13

this is ridiculous

Miss Rozenn Le Ru	13-MAR-13	You just can't do that! Do not move the Intrepid Fox again. It has already barely survived one move. Another will surely kill it. If you have a
Mr Roelof T van Dyk	13-MAR-13	heart. Leave the fox where she lies. Thanks! Intrepid Fox is a Highlight of any pub, has amazing atmosphere and amazing people, whenever people ask which pub they should check out in London i always say this pub, its well worth
Miss Phili Moore	12-MAR-13	saving!

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am devastated to hear that the site housing the Intrepid Fox public house is to be demolished to make way for a residential plot. This bar is an iconic cultural home for the London music community and helps shape the feel of the area at the end of Denmark St. This is part of the fabric of the area and helps make London individual and attracts devotees of the music scene from all over the World. A residential block of housing will be just another bland structure built for the purposes of enriching (further) Almacantar and Consolidated Developments whilst trampling on the something that makes London what it is.

Please, please, please with all my heart don't let this incredible venue be demolished. The whole area has already lost too much of what makes it great and this will be a futher nail in the coffin and all for a fast buck at the hands of the developers.

I beg you not to approve this application.

Yours Faithfully,

Mr Matthew DL Meredith Live	12-MAR-13	Matthew Meredith
Miss Barbara Francone	12-MAR-13	Please save the intrepid fox! The intended place is an important cultural building within
Daniel Mailer	12-MAR-13	london. The Intrepid Fox is an institution and part of the alternative lauren gwynn	12-MAR-13	history and culture of London. The idea of closing the Intrepid Fox in order to create housing
James C Fraser	12-MAR-13	shows no respect to those who consider such a place to be irreplaceable. This is one of the few drinking establishments left in London that
Miss Angela L Davey	12-MAR-13	caters for those without mainstream tastes in music - it joins together many like minded individuals and is a source of happy memories for many people - it would be a disgrace to see this landmark torn down.

		I used to go to the "old" fox and when ever I visit Londo about 3 times a year my one of my highlights is tog go t Interapid fox!!! I always take there all my friends who with I travel it&#180;s like showing part of Londo&#180;s history for us music lovers &lt;3 ... Let us have it, we need it, we love it !!!
Miss Jocelyn Purdy	13-MAR-13
Miss Pamela Goldsmith	13-MAR-13	Save the Intrepid Fox!!! The power of greed took way Astoria, Club Metro, and many other cool clubs and pubs, nearly killed 100 Club and Camden Town, now it's Dublin Castle and Intrepid Fox! Who's next in line? Is this the plan for a "vibrant" and "diverse" London? Diversity of bloody Costas Coffees and Starbucks and the vibration of the glass boxes called new developments.
Mr Marcus Lombardi	13-MAR-13
Miss Katy warner	13-MAR-13	I object to the Intrepid Fox pub being taken down The Intrepid Fox pub was an important of my life for many years first as a truly alternative pub then as an even more alternative church (meeting in one of their upstairs rooms). I am very shocked that anyone thinks it would be appropriate to knock down this cultural icon and very much hope that those responsible for making this decision will see sense.
Mr Ravi Holy Church of Eng	13-MAR-13	This area is known for it's musical heritage and the Interpid Fox is part of that.
Mr William Howlett	13-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is one of a diminishing few playing live music. What London is becoming is appalling - what's happened to the days of Zeppelin, The Stones and The Beatles? If it wasn't for small live music venues like The Intrepid Fox, we wouldn't even know they existed!
Ms Marianne Harrington	13-MAR-13	By closing this bar for redevelopment will mean another place for alternative people is gone. Let's face it, you wouldn't like us in ask your tourist type pubs lowering the tone would you? Stop this now.
Mr Colin Tyler	13-MAR-13	Thanks.
		I am a regular visitor at the Intrepid Fox and am appalled at the decision to create housing on this site. The Fox is part of the cultural heritage of the area which includes the music shops and bars of nearby Denmark Street. It would be a great loss to its patrons, the local community and the uniqueness of the area were this to be redeveloped. On these grounds I strongly object to this request. Please notify me of the committee date at which this matter will be decided.
Ms Emma Laing	13-MAR-13	This is not a residential area , its a tourist destination surrounded by commercial space, there are already parking and noise issues without introducing residential schemes. The Intrepid Fox is also a cultural music landmark and jobs will be lost
Mr Jeremy Leeor	14-MAR-13
Miss Lisa Wood	14-MAR-13	Objection

		the 'fox is a most awesome venue full of memories for my friends and i. it is an iconic meeting point for catching up and meeting blessed people, share great times and parties. killing this establishment would be beyond a travesty and loss to people around the world, not least london!
Mr jams cooper	12-MAR-13
Mr Roger Balfour	12-MAR-13	Fantastic pub great memories and a rich history. Leave. It. Alone, please!
		The Intrepid Fox is a renowned venue that is visited by rock and metal fans from all over the country. It is one of the few places in London that caters for this taste in small venue live and DJ music and would be sadly missed if demolished. Please don't take away a popular venue for a genre of music, style and character that is sadly under represented. The demise of the Intrepid Fox would be a sad loss and attraction for London's night life especially where being replaced by unaffordable housing in an already built up area
Miss Caroline Dickenson	12-MAR-13
		London has lots of empty houses that can be refurbished and made for living again. The Intrepid Fox is a great and friendly venue which has become a family to most of the costumers who go there regularly, as there is nothing else across London that is anything like the Fox. Therefore I Dunja Kuhn object.
Miss Dunja Kuhn	13-MAR-13
Mr Martin Mickels	13-MAR-13	Objection
		This place is an institution. It was established hundreds of years ago in Soho and is part of London's heritage
Mr Peter Hawkins	13-MAR-13
		Please don't close the bar. It's absolutely amazing and one of the best for the rock scene in London
Mr Caterina Ribechini	13-MAR-13
		I am in opposition to this r.e. the redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox site.
Mr John Cartwright	13-MAR-13
		It would be such a great loss for the Intrepid Fox to be closed.
Miss Freya Boyes	13-MAR-13	Its a favorite pub for so many people I know.
Mr Nikolaj NP Pedersen	13-MAR-13	The best pub in London, can't close.
		This is a place where fine people gather to enjoy good company and share stories, a fine establishment at the heart of the community welcoming many a stranger through its doors!
Mr Darren J Clark	13-MAR-13
		This establishment is an important part of the alternative culture which contributes significantly to the appeal of London and to its international reputation as a centre of interest and creativity.
		London lives through its diversity and history.
		Please do not destroy this in the name of building a soulless block of uniformity and chain restaurants.
Nathanael Underwood	12-MAR-13	Thank you.

The Intrepid fox is a cultural Icon providing many bands and acts a starting point in the London Rock scene. It is an integral bar and space in the london Metal and rock world.

Also the location itself is not suited to more affordable housing. It is in the very center of London and Soho. This is a vibrant touristic energetic area of London that is constantly been encroached upon by building projects. A very important area of London's vibrant heritage is being turned into flats and cheap housing.

Mr Jonathan D R Gibbs 12-MAR-13

Do not destroy the intrepid fox!!! You are ruining small businesses for your own gain

Miss emma Quartermann Bib 12-MAR-13

Firstly, Affordable housing? That's a joke right? The only people that would be able to afford anything around here are the wealthy. Don't treat us like idiots!

Secondly, why? The Intrepid Fox is a bit of a landmark for a lot of people, tearing this down along with your recent war on alternative culture (the Astoria, The Mean Fiddler, The Fly and Club Sin) is nothing short of a joke.

Mr Jonathan Wray 12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox is an institution and loved by many!

Mr Tony Soares 12-MAR-13

I strongly object to its redevelopment!

Miss Beate BK Kjelsrud 12-MAR-13

Objection

Patricia Godoy 12-MAR-13

I object to this!!! SAVE THE INTREPID FOX!!!!

The destruction of this iconic site would reduce the appeal of Camden even further than the destruction of the market already has!

Miss Elinor Skipper 12-MAR-13

Ms melanie howard 12-MAR-13

enough! this is not wanted!

The proposed plans to demolish The Intrepid Fox, an internationally recognized music venue for alternative music in order to build flats in what is quite obviously an extremely busy and noisy part of London is completely and utterly ridiculous.

The music scene of London has already lost The Astoria and Mean Fiddler Music Venues in Tottenham Court Road, two of the greatest music venues in London's modern history and are STILL waiting for the promised replacement venue to come after Boris Johnson's promise to provide a new suitable replacement. And so the plans to demolish yet another iconic alternative music venue for the sake of some pitiful flats which could be situated in a FAR more suitable area of London must be stopped.

Mr Jonathan Lovett 12-MAR-13

There are very, very, very few places that retain their unique character, but the Intrepid Fox is such a place. The Hope and Anchor on upper street used to be known for its individual look, but was turned into a typical 'gastro-pub' and was lost amongst the others in the area.

The Intrepid Fox is one of the last bastions of a unique location on the steps of the clubs and bars of the west end of London which offers more than just drinks and fun. It offers something of an experience.

Although I no longer live in London any more (after 27 years), I grew up there, and the Intrepid Fox holds some special memories for me. I even pop back there occasionally if I am in the area, as I still work in London.

This pub has fans that go further than the borders of the borough and city that it resides in. To remove it in favour of the popular term 'affordable housing' (for whom in Central London, I ask?) would mean losing something of a cultural icon that you probably are not even aware exists.

Mr Marcus Hurley	12-MAR-13	If this goes ahead, it will be one more nail in the coffin of the The Intrepid Fox has through over two decades been a gathering place for music lovers from all over the world. Despite the conviction of it's earlier housing in Soho, through deep dedication and hard work, the owners and it's dedicated friends was able to move the pub and keep the spirit alive. One must not forget the remarkable history that The Intrepid Fox contains. Loosing this piece of history and landmark, would without question be like loosing an important part of London itself. I would also like to draw attention to the issue of non-business related affairs, that not only business related people takes part of the greater London, but also people with interest in culture and music. Hereunder not only commercial culture but also sub-culture and that related. The Intrepid Fox is a great and very important contributor on this marked and will for as long as it exist attract visitors from all over the world to it's remarkable and unique atmosphere.
Mr Endre Forbord	13-MAR-13	Having the opportunity to offer so many unique and different parts of culture, architecture, international cuisines and so on is p
Mrs Angela Corry	13-MAR-13	I object to this planning application on the grounds that it removes a very popular pub - The Intrepid Fox - from a central location where is it well established and has a loyal clientele. A popular pub, a landmark. Please find somewhere else to build
Ms Lindsay Horler	12-MAR-13	houses.

Dear Council

The Bar is a legendary venue for all rock groups and and a place of interest in London for tourist. We do not want this bar to go as it is a remarkable place in a lot of peoples life.

Also how come a housing will be nice to have in the middle of London, affording sounds really funny compare to that location.

Only request is please do not take some happiness away from a group of people as it is really a place where everyone goes with their genuine feelings and attraction to the place, none of us go there only for a drink.

Many Thanks

Mr Shuvro Biswas

12-MAR-13

Shuvro

There are very few dedicated alternative music venues/pubs/bars in London. In fact there are far fewer here than in other major cities in Europe (in my own experience Paris, Berlin, Barcelona and Stockholm have more rock/metal bars). This lack makes the Intrepid Fox important and special beyond the great atmosphere, decor and music played, both live and on the soundsystem. It would be a huge shame and a great loss for the alternative community if the Intrepid Fox was redeveloped. Are there no other sites in London to make houses??

Dr Miranda SC Wilson

12-MAR-13

I am strongly opposed to the development at centre point that will see the closure of the Intrepid Fox. When will this stop? The development of flats in central London by a developer that will make millions from apartments that will cost hundreds of thousands, while the majority, who will never even speak of such money, are moved on to make way. Just across the road, the Astoria was demolished so they could build a train station to make commuting into London easier, now this.

Mr Stuart Robinson

12-MAR-13

Tearing down the Fox to make luxury flats for bankers and oil barons is an affront. Please have the sense to retain some semblance of culture in London and deny this planning application.

Mr John Miles

12-MAR-13

Mr Paul Williamson

12-MAR-13

OBJECTION

This pub is held as a landmark for the rock community and before I moved to London I received many recommendations to visit here from different people I knew. Too many pubs are being closed and the industry is suffering in general, the fact that this is a famous, well-visited establishment and it is targeted for demolition is a joke. Just not a funny one.

Ms Gemma Collins

12-MAR-13

Please do not demolish my favourite bar. Is a temple.

From Argentina,

Agustin Dusserre

12-MAR-13

Agustin

Nicola NB Bellotti

12-MAR-13

OBJECTION

		Please do not redevelop this unique and culturally important pub and music venue in an area that has already been decimated to make way for the TCR station upgrade. Let's hang on to what we have left!
Mr Craig Haylins	12-MAR-13
Mr Michael R Jennings	12-MAR-13	Objection, this is a fantastic social venue
		Live music is dying all over London and the country in general because of situations like this. If you want bands to listen and bands for your kids to listen to then you must not get rid of venues like this. These are the places where bands get to grow and become skilled and develop followings, then go on to play festivals and bigger shows, venues like the Fox are unique and special and need protection. Why does everything with true character get turned into the bland and mundane? It's not right. This place has been a large part of my life over the years and is definitely a landmark in my life and most of my friends, as well as being known as a local landmark in itself. I totally object to it being knocked down for housing.
Mr Will E Richards	12-MAR-13
Mr Roy A Sayers	12-MAR-13
Ms Elenor L Lambert	12-MAR-13	Intrepid Fox is a classic and unique venue. There are not enough of these in London. There are 1000's of disused buildings ripe for redevelopment, these should be considered first! The pub is greatly loved, it's one of the only rock playing establishments left and more offices aren't needed. I'm pretty sure money could be used better elsewhere, like priorities being built for offices that have stopped half way through!!
Gina Sneesby	12-MAR-13
Miss Sara Gousy	12-MAR-13	Do not ruin an excellent area for housing.
Mr Jamie Loak	12-MAR-13	Wonderful iconic London pub! Keep the Intrepid Fox!
Mr Jason Vink	12-MAR-13	I object
		This is one of very few exclusively metal/rock bars in London, it would be such a shame to let it become housing. I have many happy memories there and would hate for this place and places like it to disappear, especially in this economic climate. SAVE THE INTREPID FOX!!!!
Miss Holly M Smith	12-MAR-13
Miss Alexandra Farnese	12-MAR-13	I oppose to The Intrepid Fox being turned into houses. It is my favourite pub in London and lots of people go there to have a good time and see their friends.
		The Intrepid Fox is an iconic site loved and enjoyed by people from all over London and the country, and would be an absolute travesty to see these proposed developments go ahead. The plans need to be reassessed to look at sites which are disused, or actually require development, instead of targeting somewhere
Mr James Ferdinando	12-MAR-13	loved by our community.
Miss Nicola Hegarty	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is one of the key attractions of Soho, closing it is a travesty

I object to the plans to destroy This beautiful unique and successful venue,
A place that makes for a happy night out in great surroundings and atmosphere.

Why destroy it to build more faceless characterless projects.

have you not learned from the previous overbuilding on poor london and the destruction of character, once lost never regained?

Mrs miranda liggins
Ms Vanessa Cavalcante

12-MAR-13
12-MAR-13 Please don't go ahead with that!

I oppose the change of use from a public house to residential use on the following grounds:

1. Loss of vitality/vibrancy to a commercial street

The buildings current use as a public house ensures there is an active frontage to the street for protracted periods throughout the day, evening and the night. This active use contributes to footfall on the street and ensures the viability, vibrancy and vitality of the street and its associated commercial usage. Residential development cannot duplicate this level of activity and will detract from the commercial viability of the area.

2. The street is situated in a predominantly commercial/retail area (at ground floor) and the property's conversion to residential use is (i) not in keeping with predominant uses and (ii) will adversely affect the commercial function of the street.

3. On a cultural/heritage note The Intrepid Fox public house has been an important part of the alternative music scene for years and is has a global reputation for this. It's continued use as a pub is important to that scene and will continue to attract visitors

Ms Louise E A Mumford

12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox serves a unique group of the wider community creating diversity in a sea of conformity. This group has no class divide, no racial divide and can be found worldwide. The Fox itself is attractive to tourists from all over the world, it would detract from surrounding businesses to take away that trade from tourists.

Miss Kelly Anne Freeman 12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox is a culturally significant space, and is a significant financial factor for the local area. There are enough shops in the area, and a dwindling amount of places where people can rest and relax socially in the local area.

Mr Thomas T Perry

12-MAR-13

There are so few alternative places in london do not shut down the Intrepid Fox...it's already moved once, let it remain as it is a

Tara Ealy

12-MAR-13

much needed part of our area!!

Mr Richard Williams	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a highly regarded and valued bar that supports a local scene. I know people all around the world that seek out this bar whenever they are in London and it provides a great meeting place for many like minded people. It is a travesty that this site should be turned into housing and I object in the strongest possible terms. Please stop the development of the intrepid fox building. Its an awesome place to drink and dance and the atmosphere is a good place to let your hair down with friends. Please dont knock it down and ruin nights out and also there arent many fun places to go in the London area as it is.
Miss Michelle L Vella	12-MAR-13	Objection!!!
Miss Mozz M Copper	12-MAR-13
susana pamplona zapater	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox can't be closed! it's been opened for many years. The old Intrepid Fox was forced to close because they wanted to build flats, now this one. There is lot of people who likes it and go there very often, so NO, IT CAN'T BE CLOSED!! Enough, enough, enough with the 'affordable housing' excuse! I am a London resident, I've been working here in the heritage sector for the last 7 years (before that I was a student). Affordable housing is not something I can afford, its is beyond my means as it is many other people in London. So let us abandon that as an excuse to tear down yet another amazing venue. Because while I can't afford 'affordable housing', I surely can afford to have a drink in such an awesome pub!
Mr Stephen White Museum	12-MAR-13
Mr Nik Sampson	12-MAR-13	Please do not throw away one of London's most iconic and truly excellent rock and alternative music bars.
Mr Oliver Woodhouse	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a fantastic pub in a great area of London, why demolish it to make why for flats when it is evident there is plenty of available housing within London at present, particularly in the area of the Intrepid Fox; choose somewhere else.
Miss Amy Peters	12-MAR-13	One of the very few 'rock' venues left in London. You took the Astoria, you can't take this too! That is a ridiculous plan, the site is anything but suitable for housing, and the intrepid fox is a one of a kind bar, with a thriving community and a real relevance. Please bury that stupid proposal.
Dr Tor W Holstein ATOM for	12-MAR-13
Mr Jonathan Kewell	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a truly unique site, it would be a terrible shame if there were no way to work around the building with the new plans.

There are very, very, very few places that retain their unique character, but the Intrepid Fox is such a place. The Hope and Anchor on upper street used to be known for its individual look, but was turned into a typical 'gastro-pub' and was lost amongst the others in the area.

The Intrepid Fox is one of the last bastions of a unique location on the steps of the clubs and bars of the west end of London which offers more than just drinks and fun. It offers something of an experience.

Although I no longer live in London any more (after 27 years), I grew up there, and the Intrepid Fox holds some special memories for me. I even pop back there occasionally if I am in the area, as I still work in London.

This pub has fans that go further than the borders of the borough and city that it resides in. To remove it in favour of the popular term 'affordable housing' (for whom in Central London, I ask?) would mean losing something of a cultural icon that you probably are not even aware exists.

Mr Marcus Hurley	12-MAR-13	If this goes ahead, it will be one more nail in the coffin of the Lived in London for 3 years and this was my favorite bar/pub to go to with friends after work. We went there 3 times a week or more. One of the best bars of it's kind, it's really a part of what makes central London so vivid with character and color.
Mr Antony Magdalinidis	12-MAR-13	Please dont destroy such a beautiful place where beautiful people gather, just so there will be more dull looking houses/flats there.
Mr adam g burbridge	13-MAR-13	Don't close it!

London used to have bucket loads of character, it was once the birth place of pioneering bands, music, creativity, alternative culture etc. People still come to this part of London hoping to experience this but over recent years so many places have been shut down due to some idea of "redevelopment"... this area is famous for music, instruments, guitars and artists and nearby is the Fox, a famous alternative music venue. There will be nothing with any personality left in London if this continues, in the end it will just be one giant Starbucks, then no one will want to go there.

Further to that lots of gay and alternative places and lots of music venues have been shut down in this area and not one opened, including the Only cafe for gay women in London. Seriously if it keeps going in this direction I can't say it is a liberal diverse city anymore, it is just moving towards homogenised rubbish.

Ms Sarah S Wright

13-MAR-13 Please stop it.

The Intrepid Fox provides a great, welcoming, alternative, music venue, and needs to survive in the West End, to avoid Soho becoming too generic. It is a lively, and characterful, pub, and it would be a terrible shame to see it closed once again

Mr Glyn Green
Miss Katie Day

13-MAR-13 (having survived one enforced relocation in 2006)

13-MAR-13 Objection!

This cannot happen. This is Soho, it's supposed to be different and alternative. Not to mention the fact that rock/metal community has less and less places to go to. They're all being closed down across the country one by one. This is our hub, this is our pub. For all from London and surrounding shires. If Centre Point is not needed as offices then by all means, put it to good use - however the Intrepid Fox is very much IN USE and is a meeting point and much loved landmark to many in the London community. Please resubmit this and only redevelop aspects which are not in full use. We already lost a lot of old Camden to fire, and a lot of the small local shops and a beloved music venue in TCR to the new train station. I think that is enough.

Mr Bernard Galewski

12-MAR-13

Thank you.

Ms Rebecca R White
Kathryn Tolfree

12-MAR-13

12-MAR-13

(P.S. Please do not write or call - if you have absolute need to contact me I only give permission for email usage.)
Object to this proposal - re: redevelopment of Intrepid Fox

OBJECTION!

Affordable housing in the west end is a unreasonable idea. The west end is the perfect location for nightlife, bars and entertainment. Not housing.

It's always load, busy, bright and polluted.

Even if you set up a big apartment building and people on benefits move in, there is nothing around there that would make a life on a limited budget easy.

It would make more sense, and be more helpful to build these houses further away from central london, close to supermarkets, markets and open spaces.

Also, the intrepid fox is one of a VERY limited amount of rock-bars in central london. Its a venue that allows artist to express themselves and lovers of rock to unite.

Please reconsider.

Miss Louise Wiklund

12-MAR-13

Thank you for your time.

Mr Bruce Clark

12-MAR-13

There are very few bars in london that offer the fun and music that is offered by the intrepid fox. Please dont demolish it.

Mr Marco Lipani

12-MAR-13

The Intrepid Fox is one of the only alternative venues left in London. It would be awful and tragic should it be closed :(

Miss Lynne Foster

12-MAR-13

Lease dont let this happen....

This is such a unique bar and attraction for the area, to demolish it would be a sin.

The intrepid Fox has been on this location for as long as I can remember, there are plenty of unused brownfield sites in London whether it be vacant housing, small businesses that have had to close thus leaving the building available for purchase, as well as disused office space that could be used for development. I don't understand why an existing establishment has to be knocked down to make room for these flats, surely it would be cheaper to buy the land you require for this project from a brownfield site to develop on instead of this current plan. It makes no sense, from a financial standpoint or a social standpoint i.e the fact is that over the years the patrons of this bar have become a community, it is not so much a bar anymore as it is a vital social hub for all who frequent this establishment. With these factors in mind I request that you leave the Intrepid

Mr Alex J Nicol

12-MAR-13

Fox alone.

The Intrepid Fox is a cornerstone of the alternative music scene in London. We have already seen The Astoria destroyed for the greater development good but this is one step too far. It's not acceptable to create housing on such an important site.

Mr Ian Slack

12-MAR-13

Mr Leigh Harden	12-MAR-13	I think this is outrageous why take down a bar that has brought so many people together it sickens me that the money grabbing government don't care about anything other than money
Mr Funkyal ashton skool of f	12-MAR-13	please do not change this building to residential All the strong arguments have been made already about the demise of artistic and cultural heritage from London. This will be yet another iconic piece of what makes London 'London' - the place that brings millions of tourists to the UK each year.
Mr Robin Williams	12-MAR-13	Homogeneity is not the way forward. How many more of London's rock and roll venues must we
Mr David Williams	12-MAR-13	lose.... This is along standing pub that has already been moved from it's former home in Wardour Street. It's a busy, much loved pub and with the loss of many venues around that area thanks to
Miss Isabella Charlesworth	12-MAR-13	Crossrail, I object to it being redeveloped. Save our live venues! An amazing venue for new and up coming bands to perform to a London crowd. I completely object to the proposal of demolishing this site to make way for so called affordable housing.
Miss Alexandre Bennie	12-MAR-13
Mr Christopher Whitfield	12-MAR-13	I object to your suggestion to yet again shut down the Intrepid Fox. An alternative Mecca that is world renowned, if you were to try and do this to an ethnic social club there would be an outcry.
Mr David S Gonzalez Music	12-MAR-13	NO WAY!! Its an important place to preserve. Any housing on this site, will have to be prohibitave in cost due to the noise reduction that will be necessary, or the diversion of a number of bus routes.
Mr Philip Rogers	12-MAR-13	The current use does not cause any problems for the area. Please keep The Intrepid Fox!
Miss Dawn Marston	12-MAR-13	There are so few places like this left.
Miss Amy I Clark	12-MAR-13	I object to this application
Keith Boltwood	12-MAR-13	Too many bars and pubs are being closed down.As a publican myself I know how important pubs are to our heritage.  The Intrepid Fox is an internationally renowned landmark for fans of alternative music that provides a central meeting place and rendezvous that is ingrained as a part of the heritage of various subcultures.  As it still enjoys packed-out evenings and caters to a range of people otherwise disenfranchised with the Tottenham Court Road area since the closure of Sin and The Astoria several years ago, to close it down or force it to relocate again would negatively impact this community of people who would otherwise be less-inclined to spend their money in this area.
Mr Sean Palfrey	12-MAR-13

		Save the intrepid fox! I've had some great times at this place and I'm sure other people would feel the same! Tottencourt road would never be the same again and I feel you would lose business in surrounding areas. People with the same interests can meet here and places like that are becoming few and far
Miss Charlie Dawson	12-MAR-13	between! Don't do it. This development will mean demolishing part of London's rich alternative music history, The intrepid Fox has been part of London's history for many years now and its somewhat of a landmark, with venues dwindling its one of the last great meeting points for those in the alternative community and losing
Mr Ben Ward	12-MAR-13	that would damage London as a whole
Levi Clay	12-MAR-13	An integral part of the Soho scene!
Mrs Elizabeth Young	12-MAR-13	Objection This is a famous pub in certain circles and a big landmark for people in London, there's a whole community of people from all over the world drawn together by this one place, it needs to
Grace Reeves	12-MAR-13	stay!!
Miss gabby g.w webb	12-MAR-13	dont do it I am objecting to the continued destruction of central Londons entertainment venues. These venues are the reason I and many others come into London. To build another faceless project that will add very little to the
Paul Chilton	12-MAR-13	economy, and nothing to the community.
		You continue to try and rip the soul out of Soho by trying to drive out the eclectic veunes, bars, small indepednent shops by building yet more generic and expensive shops and apartments.
		So much of our national identiy is driven by our music and our sub cultures yet you seem to be doing your best to eliminate this
Mrs Naomi Southall	12-MAR-13	from Central London.
Ms Jessica Hyland	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a unique part of London and it would be an awful shame to lose such a fantastic pub.
Mr Benjamin K Ashby	12-MAR-13	I am against the pulling down and redevelopment of this area. I would rather it stayed as it is!
		Stop ruining our London Rock Scene. Astoria was bad enough but you cant gobble everything up Railways Housing and Olympics you have ruined an entire cultural scence here in
Mr Peter H Magennis	12-MAR-13	London.
		Stop trying to take away what makes london a great city-
Mr Peter Mannas	12-MAR-13	Diversity
Mr Damian L Bundred	12-MAR-13	I object to the redevelopment of Intrepid fox site
Mr Robert A Shaw	12-MAR-13	I heartily object to the plans to redevelop the Intrepid Fox. I think this would be a real shame, I live in Cornwall but love to visit the City and one of my Favourite places to go is the iconic Intrepid Fox.
Mr Philip Watson	12-MAR-13	please don't let this happen!!
Emmajane Punch	12-MAR-13	It's just wrong
Mr Alberto León	12-MAR-13	Only reason I go London for.

Mr David Knowler	12-MAR-13	I strongly object to the 'redevelopment' of the Intrepid Fox to housing.
Ms Susanna Nyberg	12-MAR-13	Objection!
Ms Emma Anton	12-MAR-13	Don't do it! The Intrepid Fox is a much loved pub and one of a kind in London. Big objection!
		Intrepid Fox is very much part of the Metal Culture which is itself very much British. Intrepid Fox is one of those Iconic Pub and more like a pilgrim for people who listen to alternative music and are in alternative culture.
		It needs to be preserved.
Mr Aishvarya Kumar City U	12-MAR-13
Mr Jonathan Hawkins	12-MAR-13	The Fox is a great pub, one of the last few decent places left. Getting rid of it would be an insult.
Mr Chris Oestrich	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is an important cultural Mecca for metal. Respect the religion of metal and leave it where it is.
		Hi
Mr Rune Mosbakk	12-MAR-13	We are a lot of people in Norway who travel to London just to visit 'The Intrepid Fox'. All of us think it's the best rock bar in Europe. There are not many bars like this left in cities around the world. So, please do not demolish it!
Angela Gasparon	12-MAR-13	the intrepid fox is part of London!
		The Intrepid Fox is a valued meeting point for rockers from all around the world!!!!
Miss Maria Palvimaki	12-MAR-13	It would be a great shame and loss not to have it in Soho!!
		I am writing to register a particular objection to the destruction of the Intrepid Fox public house/music venue. The 'Fox' is an iconic feature of the area's live scene and its closure would be a great loss to the local and national rock/metal community. People come from all over the country, and even from overseas, to attend events at the Fox and the resultant revenue and tourism value brought to the local area should be taken into account before the venue is even considered for closure or demolition. Thank you.
Miss Catherine Scolah	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid fox is a Cultural Icon for the music industry. famous Bands from all over the world frequent this establishment. Its name is recognised across the world.
		To demolish this drinking establishment would be on par with converting the Tate gallery into a housing estate.
Oliver M Prewer	12-MAR-13
Miss Kirsty A Lindsay	12-MAR-13	We are closing far to many pubs with character. Please keep this one open.
Miss Cara Johnston	12-MAR-13	OBJECTION!!! this pub is amazing and you never EVER get any trouble!

		The Intrepid Fox is the most iconic alternative music bar in London, and is known across the country (and internationally) for its unique environment for music fans and regular pub-goers alike. Too many establishments like this are being replaced by generic high-street shops and soulless housing. The Intrepid Fox is ingrained in London's culture, and to replace it with yet more of this is not only a travesty but will remove what is both a cult tourist attraction and one of the few remaining sanctuaries for alternative music fans.
Mr Jack Miller	12-MAR-13
		It would be an absolute disheartening shame to see the famous Intrepid Fox close down, as well as a travesty to see it turn into a space for yet more retail/restaurant/housing uses. The Intrepid Fox is an iconic site loved and enjoyed by people from all over the country, and even the world. These plans of development would leave yet another empty hole within London where such strong character of a site once stood. Developments should be made to make our city a better and enjoyable place to work in, live in, enjoy and love, not to depreciate our cultural history.
A Unlu	12-MAR-13	Objection!
Miss Sabina Luczak	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox rock and metal pub cannot be destroyed! it is a wonderful venue for fans of alternative music, immensely popular and would be a huge loss for the city, London does not need more office blocks. The Astoria, an iconic building and awesome venue that housed fantastic gigs and shows for decades was lost under similar circumstances, do NOT let the same thing happen to the fox
Mr Alfie A Bowley	12-MAR-13	Please keep a part of London's history & music scene alive!
Mr David Joseph	12-MAR-13	Please don't let this happen; one of the best things about London is the pubs, and their use as venues for live music.
Miss Naomi Winner	12-MAR-13	Don't kill the live music culture you have here; protect it.
		The restaurants and bars would be a great loss to the area, they provide a variety to the more seedy local nightlife. It is not a residential area, it is an area that is frequented by locals and visitors as the vibrant heart of the city.
Mr Dean Cannon	12-MAR-13	Please build houses where housing belongs. The centre of the west End is not the right place and most definitely not where one of the best, not to mention FEW REMAINING, music venues currently sits.
Mr Lee Peat	12-MAR-13	massive mistake!
Jack Palmer	12-MAR-13	You can not knock something so loved by people, it also brings money into the area, stop knocking down or changing all the alternative places in and around London
Miss Bea McDonald	12-MAR-13	Why get rid of this bar, its always full. serves a good community of people. object strongly to it being demolished.
Mr mark D J Sullivan	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is part of London's rock history and must be saved. Bad enough, the Astoria had to go.
Miss Mareike Schulz	12-MAR-13

		As a regular customer of the Intrepid Fox pub, I feel I must object in the strongest possible terms to the proposals to convert such a vital and vibrant landmark of the rock community into housing. This is not a dilapidated and unused backwater pub, but a much loved venue and meeting place for members of the community both inside and outside of central London - I myself regularly commute from Essex to visit the bar, as do many of my friends. I have never seen the place anything other than busy. To suggest that the location would be better used in any other way is tantamount to cultural vandalism.
Mr Justin Kruyer	12-MAR-13	Please leave the Intrepid Fox alone. I swear planners in this city won't be happy until the place is covered with boxes of flats which will be overcrowded slums within 20 years.
Mr K Farrell	12-MAR-13	Leave it out and go build somewhere else.
Miss Danielle Bennett	12-MAR-13	We need to keep some alternative culture in London, not make more cramped housing estates for a county where we are already over populated.

INTREPID FOX

		I agree the st giles / tottenham court road site needs to be fixed up, but there should be room for this rare breed of pub. it is different to all other pubs in london, and needs to be preserved. you took away the ASTORIA and ASTORIA 2, please dont take away the INTREPID FOX too.!
Mr matthew m wood	14-MAR-13
Miss Deanna Sugden	14-MAR-13	Object!!!! Completely against the redevelopment of Intrepid fox site to offer affordable housing provision!!!
Miss Sabrina S Bonini	14-MAR-13	This pub is part of London's music history and shouldn't be closed down.
Mrs Chloe Omissi	12-MAR-13	Please do not let this pub be closed down to make room for more housing. It is so important to and beloved by many, many people, locals and visitors alike and it would be a crying shame to lose one of the few remaining rock bars in the capital.
Mr Reuben ODonoghue	12-MAR-13	The Fox is a strong part of London's Alternative culture. It would be sorely missed.
alison Scriven	13-MAR-13	this is a good place to go and should not be made into houses as it ruins the community
Miss Claire To	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is a notoruis bar in London famous for its metal / rock music. I therefore am opposed to the proposed development.

		The intrepid fox should not and cannot be knocked down, after about 4years of going to this bar, I have to say it's one of the friendliest, funnest, most interesting and lively bar I've been to and it's by far my favourite in London. The Astoria has already been knocked down which was a wonderful venue very close by. The intrepid fox is part of the essence of Denmark street and a lot of people will be upset and appalled at it's absence.
Miss Grace Sinclair	12-MAR-13
Dr Lylia Leeloo	12-MAR-13	One of the best bar in London!!
		The Intrepid Fox is a memorable rock pub whose removal would be to the detriment of London's night life.
Miss Francesca Mirolo	12-MAR-13	I am in opposition with regards to the redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox public house. This is a classic venue and popular tourist location that is a primary reason that I, and many others, specifically visit London for.
Mr Raymond L Supple	12-MAR-13
Mr Mark Mcinally	12-MAR-13	Iconic establishment. World renowned. I OBJECT!!!
Mr alan hungerford	12-MAR-13	we dont need more overpriced property in central london
Miss Liza Wonga	12-MAR-13	I object to the intrepid fox being turned into a housing block.
Mr maverick rogue	12-MAR-13	no to more housing The Intrepid Fox has it's own lively and vibrant community that would be disbanded and potentially destroyed should these plans go ahead.
		The Astoria, another venue just around the corner, has already been lost to Cross Rail in the last few years. The area may be being 'redeveloped' but at the cost of losing people who come to the area for the long established community spirit and good times!
Miss Christina Bulford	12-MAR-13
		London already has housing.
Mr Lee Smith	12-MAR-13	Intrepid Fox is one of the last good places for alternative night life remaining in London and it would be a shame to see it go.  The Intrepid Fox is a very popular place, it's full of creative and interesting people and art. Despite peoples taste in music this bar remains an attraction in London with many visitors making the trip to Tottenham Court to see the famous bar!
Miss Rebecca C Smith	12-MAR-13	To turn it in to housing would be a very sad loss for London, the UK and music.
Miss Eva EL Les	12-MAR-13	Don't do it, save the Intrepid Fox! This is the 4th pub that's closing in favour of building offices/flats. It's ridiculous that all these alternative music places are being shut down as there will be no where else to go in this area which used to be one of the best areas for an affordable/local night out. I strongly object to this demolition of a great pub and surrounding area.
Miss Lyndsey Compton	12-MAR-13
Mr Simon White	12-MAR-13	Objection

Mr Gary Clarke	12-MAR-13	I object to this historic pub which is a cultural icon of London's West End being forced to move once more.
Mr Paul Trow	12-MAR-13	Please find a more appropriate venue for these redevelopment plans. A unique institution like the Intrepid Fox should NOT be taken away from the punters who value it so highly.
Mr Frank Miller	12-MAR-13	In favor
Miss Helena M Turner	13-MAR-13	PLEASE SAVE THE INTREPID FOX . the fox is an important building for many, losing it would impact a lot of people's lives.
steve lee lee	14-MAR-13	One of the best public house left in London and people travel far and wide to visit already been relocated once and found a great site here
Mrs Elaine Rogers	25-MAR-13	I strongly oppose this application. The Intrepid Fox is a London landmark and needs to be preserved as is.
Mr Paul Marshall	12-MAR-13	Please notify me of committee date we do not need affordable housing in the centre of london ie tottenham court road so close to leicester sq etc, I mean really who is this trying to fool? someone is obviously getting a backhanders here for a development. stop it now! leave the fox alone it's the jewel in the crown of the area the only place worth going to unwind!
Mr Andrew s Donegan	12-MAR-13	The last thing that area needs right now is more housing. We've already lost a few venues for live music there due to Crossrail (we've lost 3 great places and got nothing in return), so please do not support this plan.
Mr Joseph Smith	12-MAR-13
Mr Ian Halliwell	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is one of the best bars in London. It must NOT be allowed to be turned into flats. This is a ridiculous request.
jamie butler	12-MAR-13	.
Miss Dee E Savini	12-MAR-13	Keep a well known public house with great following for live music.
Miss Gloria Lucendo Abad	12-MAR-13	This pub has been a landmark for rock and metal music fans and should stay open!!!!
Richard D Molyneux	12-MAR-13	Please don't destroy yet another part of alternative culture in London! It is a great place to go. I have taken many a friend to this fun and friendly place. I also know that it has a very good music scene with live bands. If it was to go a lot of people would no longer come to this area as this bar is the reason many a person do.
Miss Lisa L Morgan	12-MAR-13

		I would oppose and object the redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox site. This area has already been badly affected by large scale projects. This is an iconic rock bar who has been very popular for years. It has already survived one relocation -from when it was situated in Soho. Also it's location wouldn't be appropriate for "affordable housing" due to the high living costs and busy traffic in an area who is already very congested. London has lost some very good pubs and venues in recent years in the name of "redevelopment". The Intrepid Fox is a one of its kind pub and is much needed and loved by the community who use it. To pull it down and turn it into yet more flats would be a massive loss.
Ms Alik Panitsa	14-MAR-13
Mrs toni scoines	13-MAR-13

With regards to the redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox establishment.

Please consider that if a housing estate is to replace the site of the Intrepid Fox establishment, know that it will only benefit the few (or perhaps even single) person(s) who will profit from owning it. Whereas the Intrepid Fox establishment benefits a whole generation of Londoners and visitors alike. It is a hot spot of our City's culture and social gatherings. To lose it is to lose a valuable part of London's and its citizen's identity.

		With roughly two central London pubs being closed down on a weekly basis, the City appears to be losing its cultural identity, in favour of another nameless restaurant chain or cramped housing developments.
Mr David JJ Campbell	13-MAR-13
Mr Clyde Cw Wernli	13-MAR-13	Intrepid Fox is one of the few places where i can go and relax, where noone will judge me. Its a great place.
Miss Erin R Wigglesworth	13-MAR-13	Objection

		This is a great place of community and friends... And it would be a real tragedy if this was lost! I have been going to this bar since 5 years or more and the idea to flatten such a unique and well loved pub makes me quite sad ..there are young people behind the bar who would be jobless if this were to happen
Miss Libby Vdw	13-MAR-13	...please listen to us all and keep th fox where it is Dont destroy the best rock pub in london please!
michal belzowski	12-MAR-13
		It would be an absolute tragedy to lose such a fantastic music venue
Mr Keiran J Sheard	12-MAR-13

		This is the best pub in London. It's always rammed full of people & must be a hugely successful business. It's the pub of choice for many rock stars when they're in London and has so much history. You CANNOT knock it down!! It's one of a kind! PLs!!!! leave this place open. It is an historical locations for musicians and ppl in the ambient. X
Miss Caitlin Hickey	13-MAR-13
Davide Serlenga	13-MAR-13

Mr Kristian Kotilainen	13-MAR-13	I strongly object to tearing The Intrepid Fox down. Stop destroying all the classic bars that people have enjoyed for years. We do not need more apartments for rich people.
Mr Andi Bridges	13-MAR-13	This bar is close to where I work and I go there to unwind and meet like minded rock fans This venue is an important landmark for many people throughout the country. It is one of several factors that make Camden a focal point for alternative culture. The gradual destruction of alternative landmarks across London is a travesty. Councils and developers should not underestimate the strength of feeling surrounding these buildings.
Dr Ryan J Dougherty	13-MAR-13	Run down areas that are teeming with culture should be rejuvenated not torn down. More and more pubs like this are closing, give us somewhere to go. Not everyone is of the pop/common/chav/upper class. This
Miss wendy d parsley humar	13-MAR-13	a good pub.
Mr Ashley Guest	13-MAR-13	Don't destroy a great music venue.
Mrs Sharon Hearn	13-MAR-13	Far too many historic buildings are being lost Please do not allow building on this iconic site. We have already
Mr chris hall	12-MAR-13	lost the LA2 and Astoria due to crossrail!
Miss Emma Sulway	12-MAR-13	Don't demolish the Fox! The Intrepid Fox bar is a brilliant and ironic place in London and there is no place like it in the surrounding area. It has given so many bands a platform and so many 'alternative' people a place to feel at home it. You must not allow such a treasure to be
Miss Natalie Rickman	12-MAR-13	knocked down. It would be a travesty The Intrepid Fox is an important part of London's musical culture and history and I feel it should be protected not
Mr Matthew Dyer	12-MAR-13	destroyed
Mrs Catherine M Prescott	12-MAR-13	Please don't make the Intrepid Fox relocate again It is a disgrace to be demolishing parts of London for yet more
Miss Mary Braines	12-MAR-13	over priced flats as coffee shops.
Miss Lois D Boreham	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is an amazing place to hang out and is more often than not packed out. It's a safe and welcoming environment for people who are into alternative styles and music and there is always a buzz about the place, especially when events are hosted there. Sure it needs a little fixing up (e.g. the toilets!) but there is no place like it and it'd be a great shame to lose it. Also to consider is that the bar staff would be out of a job which isn't ideal! Therefore I'd like the planning application to demolish the fox not to be granted. Besides nobody has the ability to create affordable housing in Camden! Redeveloping the Intrepid fox would be a true loss to a great international bar and venue. Each time i visit the intrepid fox i meet people from all over the world who have heard about the place and purposely made a visit to check it out. It is the most welcoming bar i can say i visit on regular days in London. Losing the fox would seriously damage a London subculture once
Mr Adam J Parker	12-MAR-13	again.

		London does not need more of its history destroyed to provide "affordable" housing. The whole point of housing in the West End is that it is not affordable. This is a one-of-a-kind venue with a huge heart and an even bigger following - the original has already been turned into a burger bar please do not destroy this one - without the Intrepid Fox I wouldn't have the amazing "family" that I have - family is not
Mrs Sami A Trillo-Blanco	12-MAR-13	"affordable" - family is priceless.
Mr Marco Casarin	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox must stay open and alive Although the conversion of Centre Point tower into residential seems helpful in an area dominated by offices and services, I have to object with the redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox site, being an icon in the area.
Miss Andrea Rodriguez	12-MAR-13	I am completely against the plan to demolish the intrepid fox pub and make into housing. This is a completely absurd idea for such a distinct and reputable public house that has many loyal patrons to be destroyed in the name of squashing more people into London.
Miss Kirsty Haynes	12-MAR-13	I object. There is a definite need in London for affordable housing but how could affordable housing be located so close to Oxford Street? There would be no sense of community or safety for residents. This area is much better suited to bars and shops. It is always crammed with tourists. There are no supermarkets nearby, no provision for children. As someone who is currently looking for affordable housing in the borough as my husband works in Camden I can't think of anywhere more unsuitable.
Mrs Melanie Strong	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is one of a ever-decreasing list of classic venues in the country that cater for the rock music subcultures.
Mr Phil M Page	12-MAR-13	I would like to see the Fox remain or be moved. Extremely important cultural venue The Intrepid Fox would be a terrible loss to the area.
Dr Phil Howard King	12-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox caters to a niche market that have far less venues than virtually any other type of clientele in the whole London area. It should be left as it is for this very reason. Central London does not need housing, Other city centres keep their entertainment / nightlife districts central. London seems intent on driving it to the suburbs.
Mr Stephen J Jones	12-MAR-13
		Fox is a true landmark of London. I am from California, and I have several friends from Germany, Sweden, and Spain. Anytime we visit London the Fox is the first place on list to go. Destroying the Fox is akin to destroying the heart of a dying rock and roll scene in the country that helped develop it.
Tayla Camp	12-MAR-13	please don't destroy the fox! You cannot allow this iconic bar to be closed where else would we meet with like minded people from all over the uk
Ms Dawn Lee	12-MAR-13
Kerry Grist	12-MAR-13	Save it!!
Mr Paul Stygal	12-MAR-13	Objection

		The Alternative Community is slowly being eroded in the West End. There are enough empty buildings in London that could be used instead.
Tara Santiago	12-MAR-13
Mrs Felicitas Fowkes	12-MAR-13	I am strictly opposing this application. I seriously oppose the closing of an important London hotspot for the alternative live music scene. Venues are closing down faster than they are being replaced. The thriving live music scene that is one reason tourists come here, is slowly being killed off by the over-priced gastro-pub and yuppie apartment culture. This is sad and damaging to the creative scenes in London.
		We have seen Astoria closed and not replaced, now the Bull & Gate and The Intrepid Fox are to follow and it's horrendous that developers can be so selfish, lining their own pockets whilst wiping out a special community in one go.
Miss Patrice G Lovelace Nigl	12-MAR-13
matthew burgess	12-MAR-13	cant close the intrepid fox!! too many memories! the thought of it closing almost brings a tear to my eye! The Intrepid Fox Public House has long served London as one of the best venues for alternative scene seekers. As it has preciously had to move locations due to the residents of Soho, I feel it is only right that they have every opportunity to continue trading in their current location. I therefore strongly oppose this planning application.
Miss Geraldine A Williams	12-MAR-13	Intrepid Fox is one of the few important locations for the rock and metal culture in London. Culture is organic, even you build a new similar enterprise in the same site it may not congregate same people there. For this reason demolishing this building might mean you are wiping away a culture from this area of London. This is not only about the Intrepid Fox building, this is about many coincidences that created a life and culture people now are sharing there. Building nice blocks doesn't make a better city. It is the culture and character that people give life, what makes a global city.
Mr Ismail Tozluoglu	13-MAR-13	I wouldn't like to close "The intrepid fox" because it is a very original and marvellous tavern.
Mr Mikel Aranburu	13-MAR-13	NO
Mahen Segrán 20th Century	13-MAR-13	hi
Raffaele R Costantino	13-MAR-13	I object to any redevelopment of the Intrepid Fox site. This bar is the starting place for many of London's heavy rock bands. It's also one of London's best rock venues for crowds and promoters. See in it go would pretty much leave all of London's rock band without a place to play locally.
Thomas Edmunds	13-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox is an institution in London/Camden. It is very important to keep these cultural channels open and stop this globalisation!! The Intrepid Fox brings much needed character to an area that has been sanitised by modern developments full of elite business and boring restaurants. It is unique and provides a public service to all. I object to the planning application because it only serves the wealthy.
Mr H hb Bland	13-MAR-13
Bettina Bestebreur	13-MAR-13
Mr George G Brufton	13-MAR-13

Mr Scott Boyce	13-MAR-13	I am a regular visitor to this pub and do not want to see it knocked down.
Miss CAROLINE E KIDD	13-MAR-13	OBJECTION TO PLANS.
Patricia Camarero	13-MAR-13	I don't want the Intrepid Fox pub to be closing down. It's a very popular pub, part of London musical culture.
Jacqueline Colchester	13-MAR-13	Objection
Miss Clare Edwards	13-MAR-13	Please do not redevelop the highly popular and iconic Intrepid Fox. It is a must - visit on trips to London.
		This is a well known part of the city, distinguishable for its ambient, its outline, its look and feel. If you destroy it, you destroy a part of London, a part that makes it special and different from any other city, anywhere in the world.
Miss Anna Picas Alabau	13-MAR-13
Mr Kevin KM Cox	13-MAR-13	Please Dont Close Down this Great Pub!
Miss Annie A Hildreth SED R	13-MAR-13	The Intrepid Fox rules, leave it alone!
		Why destroy a London landmark?
		Why are all the best places in London being turned into housing to reward and feed corporate interest.
		We've seen enough with the Tube stations refurbishments etc.
		Affordable housing in the middle of Soho?
Mr Daniel L Franco da Silva	12-MAR-13	Really? It aims to offer affordable housing?
		This pub The Intrepid Fox is one of the highlights when i visit London for business. It's also a rare bread of pub and not like all the other carbon copy pups you find on every road.
Mr Chris Ridall	12-MAR-13	Disgusting its even being considered.
		With many disused offices and other spaces I fail to see a reason to pull down a very popular pub, with a thriving community that surrounds it. Would be very detrimental to the area as its so well known and loved. Would be an absolute
Miss Carly Wain	12-MAR-13	shame.
		Area is important to the community. The Intrepid fox is a focal point and brings in a lot of tourists who consider it a 'must' when visiting London. Plus many people come from all over London to visit there. Stop destroying communities and leave all the Miss Isabelle Davis	12-MAR-13	ground-level amenities at Centrepont alone. Please.
		Not many places for the alternative scene, this place is amazing and must stay open. Many people come from a long distance to Laura Woodley	12-MAR-13	go there, including myself.
		London needs these gems, especially in that part of town thats smothered in bland franchises. Can't allow greed head
Mr Fraser Byrne	12-MAR-13	developers to steal the guts and culture out of our city.

Having been a regular at the intrepid fox, and working in the surrounding area for over 30 years, I wish to lodge my objection to the redevelopment.

From being forcefully moved from the heart of SoHo to the new centrepiece home, this institution is now the gateway to Denmark Street - Tin Pan Alley - the home of british music industry.

To cause the loss of this iconic venue to more housng in the area would be a sad loss to the community, area and business trade where people from around the globe make pilgrimages to the Fox to drink where their idols once did.

Mr Jon Randall

12-MAR-13

Louise Haworth

12-MAR-13

This is a great establishment and an important place for the people of London. Do not knock it down!

Don't want it demolished as its the only decent pub for rockers to go without feeling intimidated and its such a well known place.

Miss Jenna Sawyers

12-MAR-13

Jacopo Roncone

12-MAR-13

Sarah Giblett

12-MAR-13

OBJECTION

We need to save our music venues :(

The Intrepid Fox is a fantastic pub that serves as a great venue for live bands and the alternative community. The Fox has also become a great tourist destination

Many smaller music venues seem to be suffering the same fate. It would be a great shame to see this venue close down.

Mr Samuel I carter-brazier Tr 12-MAR-13

Please refrain from turning the Intrepid Fox into housing. It serves a subcultural community in London which gathers there for cultural purposes serves a genuine social benefit.

Miss Lina Hayek

12-MAR-13

This is a mainstay establishment of London for all walks of life and provides a unique atmosphere that should not be replaced. There is no necessity for this whatsoever and it would take away a lot from a variety of communities of London.

Mr Sean B Jones

12-MAR-13

Ms Lindsay Noble

12-MAR-13

I object to this development of a much loved music venue.

This bar is an integral part of the area's nightlife and culture and I don't agree with it being shut down because of development.

Miss Monique Levine

12-MAR-13

Please do not close down The Intrepid Fox AGAIN....it is one of the few and famous alternative venues still existing in London and it is cherished by thousands from here and abroad.

Ms Alexys D Becerra Rock A

12-MAR-13

Miss Hollie Donovan

12-MAR-13

Mr Clarke Seddon

12-MAR-13

I could not be more opposed to this. A travesty!!

SAVE THE INTREPID FOX!!!!

Please do not sacrifice another valued part of the community, The Intrepid Fox, to build yet more (un)affordable houses - it is an excellent pub/venue/meeting place.

Miss Merrila D Cross

12-MAR-13

Tara Scarfe

12-MAR-13

objection

Miss Nadia Abdulgani	12-MAR-13	Objection against closure of The Intrepid Fox This is nonsensical - the destruction of a the Intrepid Fox is the destruction of a venue of great cultural and community significance will be harmful to the community, to culture and to the economy in Camden and beyond. I work in Camden and if this venue is removed I will certainly be spending far less of my after work time and indeed money in the borough. This is a
Mr Anton Shelupanov	12-MAR-13	strong objection. The Intrepid Fox is a place of significant historical interest! It
Mr Robin Card	13-MAR-13	should be protected
Enzo Brischetto	13-MAR-13	SAVE THE FOX!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!! Why destroy the Intrepid fox , one of the last few venues of rock type music culture left in London? We have already see the loss of the metro/hell fire club, Astoria, LA 2, the end to the Feet first Camden Palace night when it turned into Kokos and been rubbish ever since, the Dome Looney Tunes night and others leaving very little non mainsteam cultural centres just bland boring regular and unfriendly pubs , and nightclubs with the usual not allowed in of guy on own, not wearing shoes you cannot dance in, and having to wear trousers, a shirt and have a female with you. if you want to demolish a place to build housing why not one thats no different to 99% of the other places.? More so rock music venues steer young people away from knife, chav, hard binge drinking, and gang culture as these things are non existant in these kinds of clubs, young people learn that postcodes dont matter nor to violent notions of respect, you get t for helpign others and achiviement and creativity, where if you are strong you help others and pick up the heavey stuff not bully Every time I visit London, the Fox is always on my list of places to visit. This unique bar is a haven for a significant section of the community who find it to be a welcoming, accepting environment that enables free expression and is completely different to any other establishment in the country. The bar should not be closed down under any circumstances. Please don't close this pub, enough great venues have been demolished in this area already.
Mr Chris N Rose	13-MAR-13	PLEASE DO NOT KNOCK DOWN OUR PUB
Mr Neil Brown	13-MAR-13	Keep the Intrepid Fox!
Miss Louise Pomeroy	13-MAR-13
Miss sophie boosey	13-MAR-13
Ruth Burtonwood	13-MAR-13

STOP THIS NOW!!! THERE ARE ENOUGH OFFICE/
HOUSING COMPLEXES IN LONDON!!

THERE ARE NOT ENOUGH GOOD VENUES FOR PEOPLE
TO GATHER AND LISTEN TO GREAT MUSIC!!!!!! KEEP THIS RARE GEM FOR WHOLE COMMUNITY TO ENJOY!!!!

Miss Anna Nicolas	13-MAR-13	I OBJECT TO THE PLANNING APPLICATION!!!! The Intrepid Fox is one of the best Rock/Metal pubs in London, in an invaluable useful location. There is barely enough provision for this scene in London as it is; taking away the Intrepid Fox would cause a serious negative impact on this already suffering community.
Miss Lydia Rudman	13-MAR-13	I object to the Intrepid Fox being moved from its current location in Centre Point.
Dr Emma Feltham	13-MAR-13	This is disgraceful
Mr Tom Fisher	13-MAR-13	This is a completely ridiculous idea. The Intrepid Fox is a thriving public house with a high level of turnover and a loyal base of regular customers. Removing it would damage the local output for businesses in the area and to replace it with a housing suite? Insanity. The pub business in the UK is already dying and things like this are the nails in its coffin. I've been going to the Fox for nearly 3 years now and its been a truly amazing venue and a safe haven for people who don't wish to partake in the clubbing lifestyle.
Mr Douglas Radmore	12-MAR-13	Please dont knock the fox down its a great place!
Mr joseph newman	12-MAR-13	I think it is a ridiculous idea to demolish the Intrepid Fox. It is the go to place for all metal and rock fans and fans travel from all over London to go there. It is jam packed every night of the week and even fuller on the weekend. Not only with locals but tourists as well because many European countries have a big rock music following and I am sure with the right publicity it could bring in even more. The problem is big companies trying to get rid of the metal scene but that will not happen, by demolishing venues like the Intrepid Fox the city is only losing money as regulars will just stay at home instead of spending money on travel, food and drink. Do not demolish the Intrepid Fox, it is a staple to the city and to all the people who go there, do not kill London's culture and history just to turn this beautiful and amazingly buzzing city into a collection of cold dead logo blocks.
Miss Lesley-Anne De Abreu	12-MAR-13

It would be an absolute disheartening shame to see the famous Intrepid Fox close down, as well as a travesty to see it turn into a space for yet more retail/restaurant/housing uses.

The Intrepid Fox is an iconic site loved and enjoyed by people from all over the country, and even the world. These plans of development would leave yet another empty hole within London where such strong character of a site once stood.

Developments should be made to make our city a better and enjoyable place to work in, live in, enjoy and love, not to depreciate our cultural history.

A Unlu

12-MAR-13

There has recently been a large residential development on the adjacent site to the east [the orange and green buildings] and if Centrepont Tower is to be converted into residential units, then why should there be a need to demolish The Intrepid Fox for further residential units. There has recently been demolition of several live music and entertainment venues to the west making way for the Crossrail development [The Astoria and Sin nightclub amongst others] and The Intrepid Fox is now being used as a live music venue [albeit an intimate one]. The Intrepid Fox is an iconic and unique venue which brings together many individuals who do not fit in with mainstream culture, it ties in nicely with the adjacent Denmark Street conservation area as it has a similar style and atmosphere to the tattoo parlour, music rehearsal studio, 12 bar live music venue and various music shops along Denmark Street. This area attracts many people who live outside London and who visit regularly because it is a unique and lively area where they feel comfortable and are able

Ms Jennifer L Galler

12-MAR-13

to express themselves as unique and creative individuals. This the wrong place for housing developement.Unsafe for families and wasteful for single occupation,since the type of single person WHO could live here,can not due to the high rents.This is just a money making tax dodge scheme on land values.Reject it.

Miss Martine MH Naylor priv: 12-MAR-13

I love that place! It's part of london's culture for a lot of people!

Mr henrique godinho

12-MAR-13

rob Wild

12-MAR-13

I OBJECT

Mr Christopher Kyrke-Smith

12-MAR-13

Objection to the highest order!

Mr liam Walsh

12-MAR-13

What a waste just for yet another block of flats

Mr Steve D Callen

12-MAR-13

Please save!!!!

This is a great place where lots of my friends work and drink.

All the good music venues are being closed down, first the

Miss Sam Feerick

12-MAR-13

Astoria, now the Fox. Please dont do this.

		Objection. There is no need to demolish yet another commercial building to turn it into a residential area. Intrepid fox is a widely used and respected venue, essential to the music scene of the central London area. Why demolish an area generating money, jobs and recreational entertainment for yet more residential areas.
Miss Sophie Coulson	12-MAR-13
Miss Ausra Lanza	12-MAR-13	OBJECTION. The best place ever to be is Intrepid Fox!!! The Intrepid Fox Bar is a landmark for Rock & Heavy Metal music. It carries a great reputation as being one of the most popular venue's/bars for this genre, and should not be demolished. Please reconsider the proposal to demolish the Intrepid Fox. This is an iconic pub which brings in people from all over London and beyond. There are few alternative pubs with this much character left in London so preserving the Intrepid Fox should really be considered. Thank you. The Intrepid Fox is an iconic and culturally significant landmark in Central London. Its contribution to the local and wider community, both in terms of offering entertainment and maintaining the area's rich diversity, is well known, and it should therefore be preserved. I firmly object, as many others do, the plan to demolish the Intrepid Fox to make way for a new residential building. Dear Sir/Madam,
Mr Dan Mayhew	12-MAR-13
Mr Craig Juhas	12-MAR-13
Mr Hereward Swallow	12-MAR-13
Miss Marissa Griswold	12-MAR-13
		I am writing this letter as I have heard the news about developers are planning to demolish The Intrepid Fox. I would like to let you know that I absolutely disagree with these plans and I wish to strongly object to the demolition of such an iconic venue.
Mr Balazs Farkas	12-MAR-13	Yours faithfully, B. Farkas

I live in Hastings, and i happily spend about £40 on public transport to come up to London every month, to see bands and friends at THE INTREPID FOX...

Its not just any old bar, its a MUSIC venue, its where many of Londons now most popular bands , as well as the lesser known bands, bands who travel from the other side of the country (and other countries) come to share their passion for music.

Coach trips all the way from Hastings are organised, to come to this very venue. People who have little money would still put some aside to make sure they can attend these coach trips.

If people are willing to travel 66 miles just go go to this venue, it certainly says that this venue means a lot to these people, including myself... not to mention the people who live locally.

Many of my friends bands who were close to giving up, created wider fan bases by playing at this venue, because of the wonderful crowd and experience that was had.

Demolishing this building is not just getting rid of a few walls, its demolishing a movement. A movement of musicians and good people.

Its easier to build houses , than it is to build up a movement that

Miss Kate Bruce	12-MAR-13
Mr Jamie I Reed	12-MAR-13	Good location for flats
Mr Tom Brown	12-MAR-13	Lively, individual bar in the centre of London, hardly anything else like it in the area.
Ms Jayne Heath	12-MAR-13	Intrepid Fox is an important part of London Community, and has been for many years. It is a valuable music venue too.
Miss Samantha J White	12-MAR-13	This bar is one of London highlights. When I lived there it was my regular and many happy memories I have shared there. This is a disgrace to the population to tear down one of Londons original amazingly cultural locations.
Mr Daniel McAuley	12-MAR-13	This pub is amazing and a great place for metalheads to socialise, and there isn't many places to do that left for us! The Intrepid Fox is one of the few symbolic places of the underground scenes in London, as well as an attraction for many people both coming from London and outside the country. The whole area is a spot of musical interest, with curtain road being one of the most fascinating streets of the area with its musical atmosphere, the Intrepid Fox is simply part of it! Don't do the same as you did by closing some of the most amazing book stores that have been replaced by ridiculous patisseries and mainstream shopping chains... Charing Cross Road is nearly turning into a new Oxford Street which people do not need as there is plenty of that! Don't kill something so unique and rare and enjoyable!
Miss Jessica Bean	13-MAR-13
Mr Ed Leggatt	13-MAR-13	I strongly object to this. It'd be a great shame to lose such a great piece of London eccentricity.

Mr Peter Turpin	13-MAR-13	The idea of turning a popular social center into a small quantity of low quality housing is insane.
Miss Christina Emery	13-MAR-13	I object!
Kirstie Bradford	14-MAR-13	Objection against change of intrepid fox/location! The Intrepid Fox is one of the few symbolic places of the underground scenes in London, as well as an attraction for many people both coming from London and outside the country. The whole area is a spot of musical interest, with Curtain Road being one of the most fascinating streets of the area with its musical atmosphere, the Intrepid Fox is simply part of it! Don't do the same as you did by closing some of the most amazing book stores that have been replaced by ridiculous patisseries and mainstream shopping chains... Charing Cross Road is nearly turning into a new Oxford Street which people do not need as there is plenty of that! Don' t kill something so unique and rare and enjoyable! Save the Intrepid Fox! Franchises and office redevelopment have poisoned our city's culture and individuality enough already.
Miss Jessica Bean	13-MAR-13
Wil Hart	13-MAR-13
		I visit this venue to watch unsigned young musicians trying to make their way in the world and this is one of a very small number of venues left that support unsigned bands and, therefore, this is one of a small number of opportunities available where bands can be "seen and signed". IT NEEDS TO REMAIN AVAILABLE TO THESE MUSICIANS. The removal of the Intrepid Fox would not be good for the area as It is a Cultural Landmark
Mr Paul Dunlavey	13-MAR-13
Mr Scott Rutterford	13-MAR-13
Jenni Canwell	12-MAR-13	OBJECTION
Mr Ben Welburn	12-MAR-13	London is losing too many music venues.
Mr James R Barry	12-MAR-13	Objection to proposed development.
		This pub is an institution. It has always been at the heart of the metal community throughout England and is known of world wide. Anyone going to London knows they can go there and be amongst like minded people and enjoy the music. It was bad enough that it's already had to move because of development, but to have to do so again could risk losing this pub all together. Whenever I go to London I always stop in there, it's a meeting place where as a female, if travelling on my own is a pub I know I can walk into on my own and feel comfortable to sit on my own and wait for friends. This pub is a huge part of the London experience for an entire music scene, and there aren't any pubs like it. Would be wrong for it be sold off again for the sake of a couple of over priced flats!
Mrs Kerry Stevens	12-MAR-13
Mr David Sharpe	12-MAR-13	NO! This is a landmark pub, we don't need any changes. The intrepid fox is a vital part of the London metal scene and serves humanity better through being a pub then being used for affordable housing
Mr Adam Graves	12-MAR-13

		This is pub is a vital part of the rock community in London and attracting visitors far and wide .
		We already sadly lost the Astoria over the road and this
Mr Dean D Caffrey	12-MAR-13	would be a huge blow .
Mr Joe Duncombe	12-MAR-13	Save the intrepid fox
		The Intrepid Fox is a staple of Central London and offers alot to
Robert Daly	12-MAR-13	the community.
		The Intrepid Fox is a unique pub with a very particular and loyal clientele. We've already had to suffer one move. Please think again. This is a very happy corner of town, and I feel that a change of purpose to the location would damage the area and
Mr Toby R Starbuck	12-MAR-13	dent community spirit.