

Left.

The existing gates. Note that they are sited beneath an old sign advertising a former occupier of the site. The gates are in an industrial style in keeping with the former use and the black colour is traditional. Camden Council have nevertheless objected to them.

The new gates will sit in the same location but will be of timber slats.

Below

The existing gates seen from the street. Note that the gradient of the entrance reduces the visual impact and apparent height
