

A photograph of a window with a metal frame. The window has two panes of glass, both of which are heavily textured or frosted, making it difficult to see through. A metal handle is visible on the left pane. To the right of the window, there is a blue metal structure, possibly a door or a frame. On the sill of the window, there is a dark sign with white text. The wall above the window is a mottled green color.

UNITY & PROGRES
CHAPTER
Nº 3723

2011.05.17 12:29

