Dear Sir,

I built a greenhouse at the bottom end of the garden in June 2009. Following receipt of a complaint from one of our neighbours, a planning enforcement officer visited us and took some pictures of the greenhouse in late July. More recently, the Compliance and Enforcement Regulatory Services sent us a letter (ref: EN09/0478) advising us to submit a planning application.

I would like to apologise for not putting a planning application to your services in advance of the erection of the greenhouse. Since I could not find any planning permission for the shed erected in our neighbour's garden on the Council website, I did not think it was necessary to have planning permission for the greenhouse.

I now submit the planning application, together with pictures before and after I built the greenhouse so you can appreciate the improvement brought to the landscape of the garden (at least this is my feeling).

I would be grateful if you could look at this planning application in a positive way.

I would also like to ask you not to publish our contact details (section 14 and 16 of the Householder) under the Data Protection Act.

Should you need further information, please do not hesitate to contact my husband or myself.

Yours sincerely

Isabelle Songeur
