The Rotunda Building 2014/3145/P

No objection in principle. We note that the adjoining building, 41A Gloucester Crescent, is also in office use, and that, as such, there should be no issues over noise harming local residential amenity. We, nonetheless, think it good practice to require a report on the noise implications of such an installation, including an assessment of the noise generated by the new plant, and the degree of attenuation achieved by the proposed enclosure. We would also expect to see details of the reduced energy consumption by replacement plant, to ensure that the development is sustainable.
