Your comments on the planning application: This new venture has caused chaos with the parking, it seems you can park on double yellows, on corners or even more dangerously near the zebra crossing bend.

It is quite noisy and smelly now that it is getting warmer and I have windows open. I also worry about there being an open and accessible b-b-q left alight on the open corner of the raised level, where a child could easily pull it over and burn themselves.

I do feel that the owners and users are happy to flout the rules.
