Your comments on the planning application: I have lived in the Dartmouth Park area for 40 years and pass this restaurant at least once a day. I was dismayed when they eventually got planning permission for building flats above when there was so much local opposition. Since then they have put in a number of so-called variations, changing what they've already won. This is the latest of a series - dispensing with a sedum roof, one of the factors which may have persuaded Camden to give planning approval to the main scheme. It is outrageous what the restaurant is doing with these variations.

They wear down local opposition who have to respond to each and every one.

They wear down already hard-pressed planners and councillors. Please make a stand against such developers, and insist that they keep to the planning permission they have already got, and stop allowing variations.
