

Dear Charles Thuaire,

I also live in Pond Street and was forwarded an email written by Peter Davey in which he says the following of the above planning application. So I would like to object formally purely as a precaution until more information is available. I appreciate that you have a difficult task in balancing the interests of Pond Street residents and patients of the hospital. But I am sure that a way can be found to do this. I would be delighted if you could let me have a copy of the proposals so that I could share them with the residents and one of us could liaise with you.

Best wishes, Tom Wesel

There are no drawings on the Camden website apart from a ground plan, so it is impossible to see what the scale of the changes/ new buildings will be.

The deadline for comments on the planning application is 2nd January 2014 and I am told that there are no planning officers available to answer queries until 6th January 2014. I have been advised to object as a precaution until more information is available. I am slightly disappointed that the Royal Free Hospital's administration have not thought it necessary to consult us directly. I've left a message with the membership department asking for help with finding out more information.

Dear Charles Thuaire

Peter Davey informed me about the above planning application to which I object on all the same reasons as Peter did.

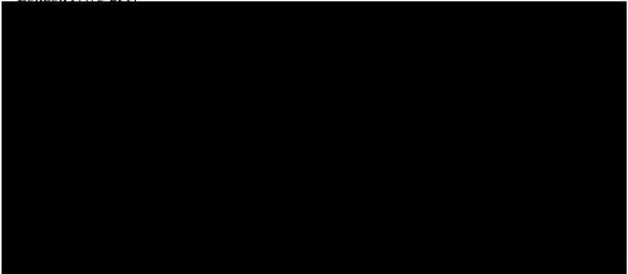

I particularly want to point out the noise element. None of us at no 35 Pond St can ever sleep undisturbed facing the street, even with all double glazing windows closed. The constant ventilation noise is really dreadful and under no circumstances must there be any ventilation added facing facing the street, if at all at the back, where nobody lives.

My husband bought our house in 1946 when there were allotments, were the hospital stands now. (I even still have a painting he made at the time looking onto the gardens from our top floor).Of course nobody expects the continuation of the situation from 65 years ago. But the Disneyland extension (eg coffee pavilion and new blue neon lighting is not only of bad taste, but makes the walls of all our rooms facing the street look blue!) It is as if one is trying on the hospital side to ignore any amenities we used to have having turned the entrance into an airport reception.

kind regards

Marion Wesel

Marion Wesel-Henrion
35 Pond Street
London NW3 2PN

Dear Charles Thuaire

Peter Davey informed me about the above planning application to which I object on all the same reasons as Peter did.

I particularly want to point out the noise element. None of us at no 35 Pond St can ever sleep undisturbed facing the street, even with all double glazing windows closed. The constant ventilation noise is really dreadful and under no circumstances must there be any ventilation added facing facing the street, if at all at the back, where nobody lives.

My husband bought our house in 1946 when there were allotments, were the hospital stands now. (I even still have a painting he made at the time looking onto the gardens from our top floor).Of course nobody expects the continuation of the situation from 65 years ago. But the Disneyland extension (eg coffee pavilion and new blue neon lighting is not only of bad taste, but makes the walls of all our rooms facing the street look blue!) It is as if one is trying on the hospital side to ignore any amenities we used to have having turned the entrance into an airport reception.

kind regards

Marion Wesel

Marion Wesel-Henrion
35 Pond Street
London NW3 2PN

