The air-conditioning unit is over-large, white, and very ugly.

It is a real eyesore, which is visible from every south-facing window, and from my garden.

No attempt has been made to mitigate its intrusive appearance, such as a colour which would blend in with the colour of the house to which it is fixed.

It is a blot in the landscape, and my objection is ~~to~~ its usual appearance - if it could be sited lower down it would be less obtrusive.
