I own [REDACTED] 120 Kingsgate Road development.

I object to the recent planning application for the property / application referenced above. As noted in prior e-mails, any increase in height to the current rear wall (titled as 'Rear Elevation' in the planning documents) will reduce further the limited light entering the living room and kitchen of my flat, potentially reducing its value and standard of living. Whilst the plans are stating a 25cm increase from the current wall height, any increase will impede light into my property. Furthermore, the 25cm increase relates only to a portion of the wall as a second story will be built on the right hand side of the diagrams, which will also impede light penetration into the Beacon House courtyard.

I would be grateful if you could confirm receipt of this e-mail.

Please let me know if you have any questions or would like to undertake light tests from my property.

Yours,
