Dear sir / madam,

I am emailing to raise my concerns and objections in regards to the planned redevelopment of 6 Erskine Road in Primrose Hill to residential use.

In particular I am concerned that the removal of the triyoga yoga centre on that site will be a significant loss to the local community.

Triyoga contributes greatly to what makes Primrose Hill such a wonderful and unique corner of London - and of course it also generates employment for the individuals who work and teach there. To allow this to be lost to march of rampant commercialism would be a terrible shame - does the area really need another residential development that badly?

Kind regards,
