

Charles,

I hope I am in time to register my objections to the above planning application. There seem to have been a number of revised plans sent during the holiday period.

I genuinely cannot understand why the principles established at National Appeal – and at no small cost to Camden residents – have been ignored in this application.

I must stress that, as a resident of Reed's Place, I am not opposed to development per se. But I do think the impact on the surrounding area has not been properly taken into account – yet again. Currently, I am being woken every Monday and Tuesday evening from midnight to 2am when the development at 61-63 switches on the lights in the office development. The lights bounce off the open skylights and illuminate my house,

It's a foretaste of what is to come if permanent roof lights are positioned glaring into our bedrooms. I do query why this so-called "office hours" development is illuminated at this time of the early morning and I do trust you will ask the owner of the property why this is so.

Can I ask that residents will, for once, be afforded the same support as the developer? Time after time local residents have had to spend money and time on doing the research work which the planning department of Camden are expected to do on our behalf. Time and again, our work has been upheld by Camden Council and by appeal at National level.

Yours sincerely,
Claire Powell.