For the attention of Eimear Heavey

Further to my previous email. Due to the sheer volume of documentation submitted with this application I am unable to ascertain the depth of the proposed excavation or the depth of the existing basement as actual measurements are rather scarce on the drawings, can you request these from the applicants agents or is that something we would have to do?

The freehold company would also like to request an extension to the consultation period as everybody concerned has been away for the summer etc and we have yet to appoint an independent surveyor to review and advise us on the proposals as well as seeking clarification on the legal issues I mentioned previously.

Kind regards
