When will it end?! We live virtually opposite Wittanhurst & like our neighbours we have had to put up with the dust & noise emanating from diggers & all sorts of machinery, & lorries collecting soil. There have also been problems with traffic congestion, loss of mature screening lime trees, and the ^{erected} pavement on that side of the road. The road outside is regularly dug up, with barriers, loss of parking spaces & temporary traffic lights. This has been going on now for 3 years with no sign of an end. The owner's original appeal was only allowed because of their threat to withdraw from the whole project. I don't think that this is a weapon that they can now use at this late stage in the project. Enough is enough! I am strongly against this further application. They should plant the promised semi-mature trees & start enjoying the house & garden & Highgate!!

It has become a blight on this conservation area.

Please continue on extra sheets if you wish

PS: There also seems to be a lack of urgency or uncertainty about what to do with the cratered external earthworks on the West Hill side. Earth seems to be moved backwards & forwards.
