15 storeys is very high for the area, and will tower above other local buildings. I would like to see the highest tower commensurate with others locally - i.e. 10-12 storeys maximum.

The high number of dwellings would inevitably bring congestion into the area. Even if most residents would not have cars most of the time, or residents parking, it would still inevitably mean more vehicles in the area - especially perhaps evenings + weekends. I am concerned this would overburden local parking - which at present seems to me to just cope.
