I Live in the Basement flat immediately behind the proposed property. I have a narrow patio in front of my flat surrounded by a high wall (holding back the garden above). From inside my flat all my views are of houses or large trees except for one small bit of 'sky line' (my patch of blue)! Unfortunately this will be obstructed by the proposed roof terrace which will be clearly visible from all my windows and will cut what little daylight and sun light I manage to get.

I'm also concerned about noise as the owners have from time to time had very late night parties on the existing back terrace/patio - because we are surrounded by large buildings the noise is amplified. However my main concern is the loss of view & daylight.
