2014/4610/P	Matthew and Nishi Shirley	Garden Flat 128 Greencroft Gardens London NW6 3PJ	12/08/2014 13:17:38	SUPPRT	We were a bit worried about the description of a two storey building, with visions of a large new house overlooking our garden. However, having reviewed the plans, we see that there seems to be a deliberate effort to keep the existing character and feel of the current structure, which is of course 2 storey already. We have lived with the current building since we moved here and are quite used to it; these new plans look as if there will be very little change to the overall aspect from our side as the exterior size, height and finish don't change much. The garden does not get demolished and nor does the courtyard so we feel no worries about the view over the wall and have no objections to replacing the structure with something so similar. We also do not see a problem with the walkway which will be tucked against the wall and will form a nice connection to the house; the thought of our neighbours no longer having to use an outside lavatory in the 21st Century seems sufficient reason to support this application alone! We feel as well that they are trying to keep things in proportion to the existing building and not put something up which would alter the whole character of our property and so have no objections to these plans.
