Please state why you wish to make this amendment:

The glazed panels would have required a steel frame to the edges of the glass in order to provide sufficient strength to the glass. This results in another material being added to the otherwise simple palette of brick, timber and corten that makes up the front elevation of the building. Corten is proposed as it is in-keeping with the language of the rest of the building and reduces another element (glazed panels) to further simply and strengthen the character of the raw materials.
