Description

Some days ago a very large limb fell during the night from tree number 26, which is an XXL London Plane, on the enclosed map. This limb, which we have not had a chance to inspect, struck an adjacent building but fortunately caused no damage. Since that time the adjacent tree, which is also an XXL London Plane (tree number 25), has been making creaking sounds of an ominous nature. In addition, both trees have canopies too low over the adjacent building site, and these branches are interfering with the construction work. T13 (XL London Plane) also has branches obstructing the construction work.

We advise:

T25 & T26 = 2 x XXL London Plane

- Carry out a full crown inspection, removing all deadwood, diseased or broken branches.
- Cut back to suitable collar remaining stub from fallen limb, and retain for further examination.
- Crown lift low branches currently impeding construction work.

T13 = XL London Plane

- Crown lift low branches currently impeding construction work.

NB - This work is very urgent as there may well be further dangerous limbs overhanging the busy driveway and building site.

✓ All Debris to be removed from site (unless stated above).
✓ Parking suspensions (CPZs) are chargeable to the client and are added at the invoice stage (not VAT chargeable).
✓ Payment required on completion of work.
