I believe given the value of properties in London today, this is the only affordable way of increasing space while ensuring that our community remains close-knit with long term residents. Furthermore, I believe it is unfair not to permit individual houses that are in desperate need of space (due to larger families for example) to build due to another property in the same row not wishing to build. My own example illustrates this well as I am flanked by a corporate landlord on the one side who is unreachable (as he doesn't even live in the country) and a corner house on the other side whose owners are given permission to build massive extensions due to their location! This allows them to live in a better and much bigger space and not me as they don't need an additional floor! I implore you to consider this when approving this application as I believe everyone should be given EQUAL opportunity to improve their living condition!
