2014/7778/P	John Brunton	28 New Court Lutton Terrace London NW3 1HD	26/01/2015 18:47:02	COMMNT	As I live in New Court Inamed incorrectly as 'Streatley Flats' in your map) I have the strongest grounds to object. The building will enable anyone inside to look directly into my bedroom and kitchen windows. A Two-story building will impede light into both windows and I would be left in the dark unnecessarily for all day. I am also concerned over lights and noise at all hours. From what I can see also I fail to see how foundations for such a tall building can be dug without endangering the wall that maintains the earth from falling towards the gardens and buildings of New Court. While I have no objection to that plot of land being built upon, it is obvious that it would be better suited to a one-storey commercial property, for example an architect's office. I am sure that the plans as set would produce a building that would impair the quality of life of myself and all those who live in my buildings, and urge that planning permission be rejected and other options for use of this land would be explored instead.
