The majority of basement excavations are proceeded with - without the permission of neighbours. It invariably leads to damage to adjacent properties. This has happened several times in South-Hill Park.

My next door neighbour went ahead with such an excavation - in spite of my warning of subsidence and previous underpinning. Many problems have occurred since with doors refusing to shut, and minor cracks.

It also rendered void my 25 yr. Guarantee from the Underpinning Company. It is of great =,
