It would be interesting to know the actual measurable volume of a class. Might it be possible to sound-proof the studio? We'd note also that we're concerned on behalf of the funeral director's, J H Kenyon. We probably wouldn't suffer terribly from the music as long as it was reasonably quiet, but it would seem dazzlingly inappropriate for Kenyon's to be trying to comfort grieving families to the sound of dance tracks from the basement. That said, if these concerns are addressed, this is a terrific idea.
