

Drawings are for general arrangement only. Dimensions are to be altered as may be the contractor and any discrepancies are to be resolved in writing prior to commencement of work. Where a drawing is issued by different codes the larger code is to be used to prevail. Drawings are completed under strict instruction and therefore authorized on the condition that the responsibility of adherence is to be observed, not only to legal requirements, but also obtaining required technical clearance with the client.

1. Is the overall strategy
2. Clearly and convincingly defined and written?
