The idea of this property being "refurbished" as I was led to believe is a nonsense. Enlarging a house of 4,500 sqft. to 20,000 sqft is hardly refurbishment. As a family house this is more akin to a country mansion. The disruption to the area, the dirt, the noise will cause misery to all local residents. From my property the plans put forward could cause light problems and ruin the current siteliner, this is not a family property it is a special development. There are two underground rivers one of which runs directly down Frogual. This is why Frogual is called Frogual. Deep excavations for basements may cause unknown structural damage to an
