HELPING US TO HELP YOU: ENGLISH HERITAGE GLAAS CRITERIA FOR CONSULTATION

These criteria should be used by local planning authorities, or planning applicants, as a guide to identify which sites should be referred to GLAAS for archaeological advice at pre-application stage; which sites should have archaeological statements to validate them at application; and which sites require expert advice before and after determination of an application:

- a site in an archaeological priority area (defined in UDP/LDF) where proposed works could affect archaeological remains below ground level,
- all sites on or near a Scheduled Ancient Monument,
- all sites of 0.4 hectares or larger not in a priority area,
- all applications for a scoping opinion for an Environmental Impact Assessment, supported by an EIA, or Environmental Statement,
- all applications where supported by an archaeological desk-based assessment as part of a design and access statement,
