Your comments on the planning application

I have no problem with 152 being converted to a dentist. However, if the plan is to have the dentists chair with drills etc in the small narrow part of the property we will need to have sound insulation put in along the wall to my property as I run my business from home and there is no door I can close to not hear drills, talking, etc etc. I hear every sound through that wall as the people that a few years ago made it into a Sushi place ripped out all insulation so we only have abate brick wall between us. It would ben unbearable to have drills and noise constantly disturbing my work which is mainly over the phone.Late openings would also be an issue
