Subject: objection re Mortimer estate cladding re.2015/4030

This lady has no computer and has asked me to give you the details to register on her behalf.

Ms May Hedges, 20 Marrick House.

Objections.

1.The cladding will significantly narrow the public balconies and even if this complies with Building Regulations, it will still be difficult for wheelchair users- who need some turning space to manoeuvre, and prams to negotiate.

2. With narrower public balconies - it means in order pass, those like myself who have an array of pot plants-( much loved and carefully tended over many years, which add to the pleasant look of the block both from the balcony and from downstairs where they can be seen)- will have to remove these.

3.In some blocks, there are housebound elderly and disabled people, who love their plants on the public balconies, and to have to take this away from them, in some cases, will remove what little pleasure they have in life.

4. I do not want cladding for these reasons.
